

LAUNCHED IN LIFE.

The Brilliant Graduating Exercises of Curry University AT THE BIJOU, LAST EVENING.

Just One Hundred and Twenty-Four Ladies and Gentlemen

RECEIVE THE WELL-EARNED DIPLOMAS

Every seat in the Bijou Theater was filled last evening, galleries taxed to their utmost seating capacity and boxes crowded with a talented, intellectual and cultured audience long before the curtain was raised disclosing to view the stage, which presented an enchanting picture, with its magnificent decorations of luxuriant tropical plants...

The programme was opened with a prayer by Rev. Dr. Whitehead, and a trio-piano performance by Miss Lillian Linnell and Miss Emma Dowerman. The Misses Clara Whitehead and Hattie Adams followed. The young ladies were greeted with round applause, showing that their unity in time and delicacy of touch was appreciated by their listeners.

QUITE A REVELATION. The singing of Miss Nannie Hammer, in "Arie Alo fors' lo" (Traviata), was quite a revelation, and was the signal for a perfect storm of applause.

"Our City's To-Morrow," by Miss Lillian Linnell, was a fine effort, and "The New Year of To-day," as handled by Mr. George J. Campbell, was a very interesting oration.

"The Unexpected," by Miss Anna Louisa Schaefer, proved to be unexpected, as the lines of the poem were written by the young man himself.

"The Heroine of the Mississippi," by Miss Mabel King Linnell, affirmed that in the Republic the Mississippi was opened by Anna Eliza Carroll, who is now an invalid living in poverty, and should receive a pension of liberal proportions.
