

WANT PEOPLE TAKE IT, Representative Citizens Say Delamater's Nomination is a Bad One, While Others Think Not.

SYMPATHY FOR MAJOR MONTTOOTH.

Claims Made That Pattison, if Nominated by His Party, Will Defeat the Senator from Meadville.

IT MAY BE A STAND-OFF WITH WALLACE.

Differences Might Have Been Settled if Monttooth Had Taken Second Place.

There was a great amount of interest felt in Pittsburgh and Allegheny yesterday over the outcome of the State Convention at Harrisburg. Crowds formed around the bulletin boards, regardless of the torrid rays of the sun, and anxiously awaited the arrival and posting of telegrams from the convention.

As it became evident that Major E. A. Monttooth's boom was not growing, some persons expressed keen disappointment, while others thought it would not be a bad idea for him to accept second place. They held that the salary was an object, and the office need not injure his law practice.

Many Republicans predicted that the nomination of Delamater will disrupt the party, while others affirm that a good man has been selected, who will receive the regular Republican majority.

Democrats, as a rule, expressed satisfaction, as they thought the nomination would result in an independent Republican movement, but others still felt that party would finally rally to the support of the regular nominees.

Some Democrats claimed that Pattison could defeat Delamater, while others asserted that power to Wallace.

Everybody had an opinion to express, and in order to ascertain how the representative people here felt on the matter members of THE DISPATCH staff were turned loose last night to secure interviews from them.

Among the first persons bumped up against was Mayor Gourley, who was out skimming for funds for the Fourth of July celebration.

Senator Delamater is first-class man in every respect and there is no question but he will be elected. The nomination will not give as much satisfaction as if Monttooth was the standard bearer, but factional differences will be laid aside to elect the ticket.

Monttooth is a much stronger man in this section, but the few people who will object will be satisfied if Major takes some other place on the ticket.

AN EASY MAN TO BEAT. T. J. O'Leary, Jr.—Delamater is the easiest man of our quartet to beat, and he is a dead rabbit. The party could not have put up a weaker man, and the Democrats should hold a ratification meeting to signalize their victory.

Pattison will be the nominee of the Democratic Convention, and he will lick Delamater clear out of sight. Why do I think so? Because the nomination of Delamater will cause a split in the Republican party.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

will not find much to choose between Delamater and Wallace.

STONE A STRONG MAN. John H. Kerr—I think Stone would have been the strongest man that could have been named.

Ex-Alderman Kennedy—Hastings is the strongest man that could have been nominated, but I am for Pattison.

J. W. Kinross, Esq.—Delamater will make a good Governor, but I think Quay backing an advantage. Stone would have been my next choice.

Rush Lake, Esq.—Monttooth was my first choice, my first choice, and can beat any man.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—Delamater will be elected. Dr. Swentzell—Wallace will get the Democratic nomination, if he wants it.

Dr. Swentzell—Wallace will get the Democratic nomination, if he wants it. The best man I think Delamater will be elected without doubt. Quay is able to give him the State. My choice was Monttooth.

C. E. Berlinger—I don't take enough interest in politics to understand much about the situation. DELAMATER WILL DO.

E. E. Cotton, Esq.—My choice was Monttooth, but Delamater suits me very well. W. J. Holman, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected.

"Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

Thomas D. Hodgkinson—I'll not vote for Delamater, but I will vote for Monttooth, and there are many Republicans like me in this respect. I would have voted for Monttooth had he been nominated.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected. "Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

Thomas D. Hodgkinson—I'll not vote for Delamater, but I will vote for Monttooth, and there are many Republicans like me in this respect. I would have voted for Monttooth had he been nominated.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected. "Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

Thomas D. Hodgkinson—I'll not vote for Delamater, but I will vote for Monttooth, and there are many Republicans like me in this respect. I would have voted for Monttooth had he been nominated.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected. "Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

Thomas D. Hodgkinson—I'll not vote for Delamater, but I will vote for Monttooth, and there are many Republicans like me in this respect. I would have voted for Monttooth had he been nominated.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected. "Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

Thomas D. Hodgkinson—I'll not vote for Delamater, but I will vote for Monttooth, and there are many Republicans like me in this respect. I would have voted for Monttooth had he been nominated.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected. "Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

Thomas D. Hodgkinson—I'll not vote for Delamater, but I will vote for Monttooth, and there are many Republicans like me in this respect. I would have voted for Monttooth had he been nominated.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected. "Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

Thomas D. Hodgkinson—I'll not vote for Delamater, but I will vote for Monttooth, and there are many Republicans like me in this respect. I would have voted for Monttooth had he been nominated.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected. "Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

Thomas D. Hodgkinson—I'll not vote for Delamater, but I will vote for Monttooth, and there are many Republicans like me in this respect. I would have voted for Monttooth had he been nominated.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected. "Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

Thomas D. Hodgkinson—I'll not vote for Delamater, but I will vote for Monttooth, and there are many Republicans like me in this respect. I would have voted for Monttooth had he been nominated.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected. "Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

Thomas D. Hodgkinson—I'll not vote for Delamater, but I will vote for Monttooth, and there are many Republicans like me in this respect. I would have voted for Monttooth had he been nominated.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected. "Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

Thomas D. Hodgkinson—I'll not vote for Delamater, but I will vote for Monttooth, and there are many Republicans like me in this respect. I would have voted for Monttooth had he been nominated.

Wm. A. Sipe, Esq.—I think any man that the Republican party would nominate would be elected. "Squire August Ammon—It is a very important matter, as it will determine whether the best man will be chosen or if it is not to prevail, but the weather is too hot for me to take much interest in politics at present.

SOUTHSIDE OPINIONS.

SOME WILL BOLT THE PARTY IF PATTISON IS NOMINATED. The Lotus Club Will Follow the Party Leaders—G. A. R. Men Hurray for the G. O. P.—Wallace Not Favored as a Nominee.

On the Southside the politicians got the news early and could be found in little knots on streets or in the clubs talking it over. There was no hesitancy in expressing opinions, as nearly all seemed to have decided when they would support if such and such a combination won in the political game of checkers. On all hands the nomination of Pattison was spoken of as a sure thing, and the interviews were nearly all based on that probability.

If Wallace was mentioned in the interview, generally shook their heads with an air that said that he wasn't in it, or, if he was, the whole basis of decision was destroyed, and a new combination would have to be made then to meet the case.

THE LOTUS CLUB SATISFIED. Edmund McGary, William Reihlandt, Ernest Colton, candidate for Assembly from the Fifth District Council, John Vogt, Robert Getty and Phillip Hare formed one group to discuss the situation. They are all members of the Lotus Club, a recognized Republican stronghold of the Southside. They expressed general satisfaction with the nomination of Delamater, but would have been glad to see Monttooth get it. However, they will follow the party and its choice, and work for its nominee.

A visit to the clubrooms of Patterson Post No. 1, G. A. R., found the members discussing the news. To a question as to how the G. A. R. stood, they said each could speak for No. 1, as the G. A. R., as an organization, had no one voice. The Republicans in the room said that they were for Monttooth, but would support Delamater, and he was a sure winner. It was conceded that Patterson would make a good fight, but the "G. O. P." would come out on top.

A GREAT MISTAKE. Dr. C. C. Jarrett—It was a great mistake, and if Pattison is elected there will be a big fight. Dr. C. C. Herrman—A good many Republicans will bolt.

Dr. C. C. Jarrett—It was a great mistake, and if Pattison is elected there will be a big fight. Dr. C. C. Herrman—A good many Republicans will bolt. Warden Berlin—I wanted to see Major Monttooth get the nomination. General Sweeney—Delamater is a larger man than I get there, and he will be elected without any doubt.

John Tobin—I think Pattison can whip Delamater. W. F. Wylie—The ticket suits me. I don't think it very strong, but a man would know the temper of the people better had he been at the convention.

A WEAK TICKET. Councilman Thomas Miller—I think it a weak ticket. The Democratic caucus carry Allegheny against Delamater, provided Giles and O'Leary leave the county two months prior to the election. They drive Democrats out of the party.

John F. Ennis—I second Miller's motion. W. J. Brennan—The ticket was conceived in sin and born in iniquity. It is the creation of corruption and represents boodles and bribery.

WILL BE IN LINE. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

There is no question but that honest voters will not go near the polls. With Pattison at the head of the Democratic ticket the unity of feeling in the party will be more complete than ever, and will be in line, while the Republicans are fighting about what they should have done.

MARTIN STEPS DOWN.

The Amalgamated Association Treated to a Big Surprise. MR. MADDEN ELECTED SECRETARY.

William Weibe Retained as President Without Opposition. BOILERMAKERS WANT NINE HOURS.

The Amalgamated Association closed its fifteenth annual session last evening, in the midst of one of the greatest surprises in the history of the organization. Secretary William Martin refused to be a candidate for re-election, and his assistant, Stephen Madden, was elected as his successor.

When the election of officers was held on the afternoon of June 25, the vote was cast without opposition. Nominations were then opened for secretary. A delegate immediately placed the name of William Martin before the convention.

Mr. Martin jumped to his feet and said: "Gentlemen, I must decline to accept this office for another term."

It was like throwing a bombshell into the meeting. The delegates were surprised and the hall was in a commotion.

Detective Coulson was engaged to work up the case. He visited the Hazelton house and searched all the rooms. He was sure that the woman had been arrested once before in Wheeling for abducting, and after being given a hearing, she was released. He incidentally learned that the woman had been arrested once before in Wheeling for abducting, and after being given a hearing, she was released.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman. He took bold chances, however, and arrested the woman.

UNDER THE CARPET.

SLICK DETECTIVES RECOVER A $700 DIAMOND SPARKLER. A Shriener Who Will Remember His Pittsburgh Visit—How a Confession Was Forced From the Thief, Who Stole It—The Young Woman in Jail.

One of the slickest pieces of detective work on record in this city is a case finished by Inspector McAleneas and Detectives Coulson and Robinson yesterday, by the arrest of two young women charged with stealing a $700 diamond pin from a "Shriener" who came here to attend the meeting of the Imperial Council. The man is H. K. Darrag, a well-known railroad official of St. Paul, Minn., and the women are Jeanette Hays and Josephine Soubreck, both of the street in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started back to the first house to trace the stone. The inmates there were indignant and denied all knowledge of the suit. In the house was "Sofey" Soubreck and Jeanette Hays. The man had been well acquainted with the former while employed on the Ft. Wayne road as an engineer six years ago. He was discharged in the third house he missed his $700 diamond suit and started