They Make Matters Quite Lively for Half a Day in the Great Sunday School Convention.

DONATION TO THE DUNBAR SUFFERERS.

The Assemblage Ends Its Work by Passing Resolutions of General Thanks.

The sixth International Sunday School Convention finished its work last evening. It has been a busy affair, big with vital issues and far-reaching effects. The feature that was his understanding of the matter. of yesterday was the warm, earnest debate on the question of temperance teaching in the Sunday schools. The Executive Committee, after a lively tussle, carried its proposition, which was not as strong as that advocated by the Women's Christian Tempernuce Union.

First at the morning session, the convention took up the meeting of the second World's Convention. William Randolph, o' St. Louis, moved to hold it in St. Louis, at the same time as the seventh International Convention. At the suggestion of B. F. Jacobs this motion was amended so that the convention merely invited the World's Congress to meet in St. Louis in 1893. The motion was then adopted,

A turther subscription of $216 was made to the fund for the families of the Dunbar miners, making $366 in all raised by the convention.

The question of devoting certain Sundays in the year to temperance was then called up, but after some discussion was postponed until afternoon, to allow the Executive Committee to have its proposition printed. Rev. Dr. W. A. Duncan, of New York, spoke on home work, meaning thereby the organized effort of church workers to reach those classes of people who, by reason of their vocations, cannot attend Sunday ser-

TEMPERANCE CONTEST.

A LIVELY DEBATE WAKES UP THE CON-VENTION DELEGATES.

Strong Movement, Backed by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, to Secure Four Sundays a Year for Temperance Lessons-Two Only Are Secured.

Immediately after the devotional services opening the afternoon session, Miss Frances E. Willard, of Chicago, was presented by President Harris, with these words: "Her reputation as a devoted Christian temperance worker is unbounded by continental Miss Willard was received with great applause, and was frequently generally clapped as she spoke. Her earnest, thoughtful address is printed in full on the ninth page of this paper.

When she had finished the convention was ready to discuss the question of temperance lessons in the Sunday school, A motion was first adopted limiting movers of resolutions to five minutes and other speakers to three minutes.

F. R. Loomis, editor of the Chronicle, of Norwalk, O., presented the following:

spoke for the resolution.

B. F. Jacobs, chairman of the executive committee, presented the following, which he moved as a substitute: The Executive Committee having received

SUPPORTED THE SUBSTITUTE. Rev. Dr. McLean, of Ontario, supported the substitute, as did also Rev. Mr. Howe, of Ontario. Miss Lucia Kimball, of Maine, argued for the resolution of Mr. Loomis. Rev. J. Other debaters spoke, on one side and then the other, and it seemed likely that the Executive Committee might be defeated. Bev. W. F. Burns, of Halifax, said: "It is desirable that we should give forth a united deliverance, but is the deliverance recommended by our Executive Committee in advance of what has been done heretofore. The instructions we give to-day will close the century, and we cought to close this period with an advance movement."

He said that if specific lessons were set apart for temperance, then there would come demands for specific lessons on Sabbath desecration, licentiousness and other great evils, so that there would be no end. The whole course of lessons should be de-voted to Christianity, and the whole would earry with it all the parts.

CONSIDERED WITH CARE.

B. F. Jacobs said that the Executive B. F. Jacobs said that the Executive Committee, representing all the States, Territories and Provinces, had considered the matter with care, and had agreed to its recommendation unanimously. The members of that committee were temperance men. He pleaded for harmony. He did not want the newspapers to say that there had been division in a Sunday school convention. He asked that the convention vention. He asked that the convention should consider its brethren in Europe. If America went too fast, Europe could not keep up. He then asked that all the delegates pray for light from heaven. He led in an earnest prayer, asking God to show what was right. The delegates bowed their heads all over the house, and it was a solemn mo-

THE CONVENTION ENDS.

THE SEVERAL DUTIES OF WORKERS IN SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

Resolutions Adopted Thunking the Loca Workers, the Newspapers, the Musicians, President Harris and B. F. Jacobs for Their Contributions to the Convention's Success.

Last night's session concluded the convention. There was a large attendance. Marion Lawrence, Secretary of the Ohio Sunday School Association, spoke on Sun-day school work generally. He said that the Sunday school must have a purpose, and must know what is to be done and when it is done. The pastor was the superior officer, not the superintendent. When a superintendent's head grew so large that he did not recognize his pastor as his superior officer, he should step out. The pastor's duties were advisory and the super-intendent's executive. The superintendent should be a man of large ideas; high, near his Father in heaven, and low, near to the lowest scholar. He should be of unimpeach-able character, a believer in childhood, have tact, never lose his head and always Resolved, That we most earnestly recommend to the International Lesson Committee that a specific Bible temperance lesson be given quarterly on some other than the review Sunday, in order that the subject of temperance may receive the attention its importance demands, and complications with other subjects be thereby avoided.

He added that temperance should be taught every Sunday. Every lesson contained a moral, Rev. I. B. Mr. Jacobs, at this point, led forward a dozen boys bearing the badges of pages. After a few words of good advice he thanked them heartily in the name of the executive committee for their services and dismissed them with a handshake.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Warden, of New Jersey, spoke of the work of the Sunday school teacher. A PRACTICAL PLAN.

A resolution was adopted commending the home department of Sunday school work, as a practical plan for extending Bible study.
Resolutions were adopted, by a rising vote, giving thanks to all who have contributed in any manner to the success And the Executive Committoe of the International Sabbath School Convention, desiring to extend the use of temperance lessons as widely as possible, and believing that the course marked out by the Lesson Committee will secure this result, recommend the following:

Resolved That the convention approve of the action of the Lesson Committee as indicated the action of the Lesson Committee as indicated the action of the lessons for 1892 And to the results of the various churches for providing for the delegates; the railroads and Transportation Committee; the Chairman of the convention for the Chairman of Pittsburg, the will secure this result, recommend the Ioliowing:

Resolved, That the convention approve of the action of the Lesson Committee as indicated in the selection of the lessons for 1892. And further, that they recommend to the publishers of Lesson Helps throughout the United States and Provinces of Canada, to make the expositions and notes upon the temperance lessons as full as upon other lessons of the quarter, and also to specially emphasize the subject of temperance in all lessons in the regular course where it can suitably be done.

Rev. James Morrow, of Philadelphia, did not like the optional proposition, which gave only two specific temperance lessons in ices on the Lesson and Executive Committees, who, more than any other man, has contributed to the success of the organization and the continuance of the conventions. "God be With You Till We Meet Again," was then sung.

The concluding words were given by President Harris, who spoke feelingly of the ties that were being cemented between North and South, and expressed a love for every man engaged in God's cause. He added: "We part now. Go home and take

HE WAS IN THE BALLOON.

Lady Parachutist Has a Companion or Her Trip.

CLEVELAND, June 27 .- "Estella Le Roy," a Cleveland girl whose real name is Hull, attempted to make her first balloon ascension and parachute jump at | Beyerle's Park last evening. She failed, however, and narrowly escaped serious injury and perhaps death. The balloon was inflated with hot air, and an employe named Ed French was sent inside to keep it from igniting from the fire. He was forgotten, and when the balloon was sufficiently inflated it was cut loose and shot up in the air. French was not prepared for ascensin and began to scramble out. One of his feet caught in the ropes and he hung head downward. After a vigorous struggle he succeeded in extricating himself, when the balloon was about 30 feet from the earth, and after turning two somersaults in the air he alighted on the ground on his face, and was severely injured. The struggles of French loosened the parachute from the balloon, and when at the height of 100 feet it sudand when at the height of 100 feet it sud-

The parachute does not open until it has traversed a considerable distance, and the woman descended with a rush. There was a loud cry of terror and a general stampede. Fortunately the aeronaut fell into the branches of a large tree, and was rescued without sustaining any injury. She was considerably frightened, but declared her intention of trying the feat again.

I would get hoarse at times, my throat was always dry, and I thought I was going into consumption. My stomach troubled me very bad; had nausea, vomiting of food, bad taste in mouth in morning, coated tongue and general detest for food, My sleep was disturbed by horrid dreams, showing that my nervons system was also affected (the doctor said). Cured by Cuticura

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my evesight altogether. It spread all over my bead, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-hended: it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very lichy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending, many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the Cuticura Remedies, and after using two bottles Cuticura Remedies, and after using two bottles Cuticura Remedies, and after using two bottles Cuticura Alesolvent and one box of Cuticura, and one cake of Cuticura Soar, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep sear, but the Cuticura Remedies cured it without any scars. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the Cuticura Remedies. They have saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know of others who have received great benefit from their use.
