TESTERDAY'S ATTENDANCE.

4,014 Totals. 1.818 The game at Recreation Park vesterday between the Pittsburg and New York National League teams was without doubt the finest game of the season, and probably a better one was never put together in Pitt burg. In fact, there is no record to sho that it is not the only errorless game eve played in Pittsburg. Be this as it may, th spectators were well satisfied that they he received a full quarter's worth of the spot The attendance arose to the number of 1,01 people, and the enthusiasm manifested made sound as Recreation Park used to sound b fore the cruel war began.

A GAME OF FEATURES. The came abounded with feature plays, one inning Pittsburg's outfield each made a ci-cus catch, and the New Yorkers in the sam territory did work that would discourage a aggregation of batsmen, LaRoque played derful second base, even after he split his finger in the third inning. He made a catch back of second base that was considered a sure hit. Berger played short in a manner to as soon as he gets his naturalization papers. But the greatest feature of the game was the magnificent pitching of Kirtly Baker, the star For five innings not a hit was made, and but 16 men had faced him, one going to base on balls. In the sixth inning Tiernan hit for two bases, but went no further. In the seventh Denny made a two-bagger, and was sacrified to third, but the next man struck out and the inning closed. The fourth and last New Yorker that the first was Cantan Glassock who was closed. The fourth and last New Yorker that went te first was Captain Glasscock, who was hit by a pitched ball. The two following men went out on a fly at first and the jig was up. Pittsburg got two hits in the first inning, but both men were caught at third. The second proved better and one run was secured. Berger got a hase on balls, went to third on a passed ball and scored on a hit by Kelty. They went out in one, two, three order in the third. In the fourth Decker hit for a single. He went to second on Berger's hit and to third on Hecker's single, which sent Berger to second. Decker scored and the others advanced on Kelty's sacrifice, and Baker was hit by a pitched bail, again filling the bases. Sunday was given a base on balls, forcing Berger made a double, but his three followers flew out. The League is Here to Stay and Will be

Charltable. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, July &.-Colonel John I Rogers left for Cincinnati, to-day, to join the Philadelphia National League team. Before onel Rogers said he didn't believe there was any truth in the story told by Buck Ewing. So far as the Philadelphia club was concerned it was ahead of the season and was able to take care of itself no matter what happens. The Phillies have no intention of joining the Players' League next year or any other year; in fact, Colonel Rogers did not believe there would be any Players' League next lieve there would be any Flayers League next year, and this talk of Ewing's was one of the expiring bluffs, which must be expected now that the life of the new organization was beginning to ebb away. Mr. Rogers laughed at the idea of amalgamation.

"The Players League would jump at such a chance," said he, but it will never have it. The National League outlined its policy at the be-chance, said he dot will hever have it. The National League outlined its policy at the beginning of the season and there will be no deviation from it no matter what happens. All the League clubs have taken care of themselves so far, but in case any of them need help before the season closes the League's treasury will be open to them. We are in this fight to the death and we will win. That's sure.

EWING TALKS SOME

New York's Captain Tells Who Will be ! the Perpant Race. (SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.)
CLEVELAND, July 3.—Buck Ewing unbos omed himself still further to-day. THE DIS-PATCH correspondent asked him particularly what he thought about the financial outlook

"We're drawing fully as many people as we expected to when we started out. We did not think we'd make any money the first year. The Cleveland Club may lose some money, but I guess all the others will grome out even or abond."

"How about Buffalor" "Well, they've got a very cheap team there. They can play to almost nobody at all and still get through all right. Now you take Sam Wise, and White, and Rowe out of the Buffalos, and who've they got? Nobody. And still they are drawing pretty fair crowds. They beat us two games last week and that helped their attendance some. I don't think Buffalo will be as ant to lose as the Cleveland club." When asked what he thought of the plan to play the Fourth of July games scheduled for Buffalo at Boston he said:

B"!"m against doing anything of the kind because it would injure the attendance for the rest of the season. That's what has hurt the Pittsburg League team." Referring to the Brotherhood pennant race, Ewing said: "There are three clubs in the race. They are New York, Boston and Chicago, Ward's team can't finish above fourth place, and Philadelphia may crowd them out of that. Buffalo is a sure tailender. The Cleveland Brotherhood team would be a pretty good one if it was stronger in the catching department, but it's weak there and that hurts the whole team." "How about Buffalo?" "Well, they've got a catching department, but it's weak there and that burts the whole team." TRI-STATE LEAGUE.

JACK DEMPSEY'S OPINION.

Laughs at the Assertion That He Willing to Meet Sullivan. St. Louis, July 3.—Jack Dempsey, who is in this city with his combination giving sparring, wrestling and athletic exhibitions, was asked a direct question in regard to the oft-repeated assertion that he was willing to meet John L. Sullivan, notwithstanding the difference in their weights. Dempsey laughed and said: "The big fellow would pick me up, turn me over on his knee and spank me. There is only one Sullivan."

Talking about the Far West, he said: "I have settled in Portland, Ore., and expect to live there the balance of my life. I like the climate and the Western people."

"Fighting is dead in San Francisco, they say?"

"Fighting is dead in San Francisco, they say?"

Dempsey chuckled. "The best people of San Francisco," said he, "love pugilism, and it will never die there. I said I would stop the fight between Young Mitchell and La Blanche, and I think I did. I think the people of San Francisco love real fighters. When La Blanche refused to fight me and set to work making matches with inferior men, they weakened on him. Then all are sore at his refusal to meet and give me satisfaction. His actions have convinced me that he never intends to meet me again, and that I will never get a chance to wipe out that single defeat."

"What about Jackson and Sullivan?"

"They are sure to meet sooner or later, and when they do it will be a fight. I am so warm a friend of John L's that my opinion on that score is hardly worth having."

A FIGHTER RENDERED INSENSIBLE.

Slugging Match Stopped and One of Principals Hurt. CHICAGO, July &-Jack Ashton was to mee Frank Glover to-night at Battery D Armory in a hard-glove contest, and 2,000 people assem-bled to witness the puglistic encounter. The police prevented the men from appearing, however, owing to the fact that when the time came another pugllist who had participated in one of the preliminary fights that formed part of the programme was seriously injured.

The unfortunate was Mike Brennan, of Boston, who, in a clinch with Frank Girard, suffered a terrific fall. The back of Brennan's head struck the floor, knocking him insensible He had previously been keeled over repeatedly by smashing right and left handers from Girard. The latter was arrested.

At midnight the death of the injured man was expected at any time. The fight between Girard and Brenoan although a minor affair to the supposed leading number on the pro-gramme, was generally known to be "for blood"

The chief interest was in the single scull shell race for professionals. The old blood showed up for professionals. The old blood showed up well and Ten Eyck won easily. About a half-mile down Conley crossed McKay, foulling him. It had no effect on the result, however, for McKay was out of the race. Toward the fluish Casey and Joyce had a pretty race for second place, the latter winning it, Conley came fourth, McKay fifth and Plaisted way in the rear. Time, 16 minutes, 40 seconds.

WHY SHE LEFT HIM.

Mrs. Rein Liked Theater Going Much Better Than Her Husband-The Forsakes Man All Broken Up Over His Wife's Defection-His Search for Her.

No clew has yet been found to the wife of Jacob Rein, who is supposed to have eloped with John Boff, from Beltzhoover borough, Monday night. Rein was seen by a reporter of THE DISPATCH, yesterday, and showed visible signs of regret at his wife's desertion. Mr. Rein stated that the reports about him abusing his wife were talse, and were given out by malicious persons. Mr. Rein stated, between stifled sobs, that he was willing to forgive his wife if she would return. He said:

"My wife was fond of going to theaters and balls, and I never liked to go to such places with her, but Boff would come to my house and take her, to which I, of course objected. This was why I quarreled with her, and because 1 refused to let her to go with Boff, she left me. She did not own any property, and did not transfer any to me. The property belonged to her mother, but was in her name. This she told me I could sell, in the letter sent to me after she

He stated also that the report that his wife had sued him before Alderman Beinhauer for cruelty was not correct. This proved true upon investigation being made. He placed all his money in the bank in his wife's name, but she did not take any away with her. He is almost certain that Boff is with his wife, from the fact that she packed up all her wearing apparel in a box made by him last week.

He will make an effort to bring his wife back. He has had copies of her picture taken, which he will send to the police, with a photograph of Boff.

AMONG BOILER MANUFACTURERS. Local Boards and Advisory Methods Rec ommended as a Means of

SETTLING ALL VEXATIOUS DISPUTES

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. 1 NEW YORK, July 3 .- The first business before to-day's session of the American Boilermakers' Convention was the organization of local boards to control local affairs. In introducing the matter the President alluded to the strike now in progress in Pittsburg. He said that, a matter of fact, the boiler making industry in that city is paralyzed, as but two out of 19 shop are running, and more than 1,500 men are idle. The men struck for nine hours for a day's work with pay for 10. The only two shops which granted the demands of the men are LOCAL BOARDS RECOMMENDED. Mr. Douthett then moved that local boards be formed to conduct local affairs, which boards shall work under the direction of the State Board. The speaker said that in Pittsburg the association included all the boiler shops but two. The motion was so amended that local boards are only recom-mended to be put into operation. It does not matter whether the boilermakers are members of the association or not. They are recommended to hold advisory meetings to come to some amicable arrangement whenever any trouble is thought to be coming on.

Mr. Roban, of St. Louis, said the association should show the Brotherhood that they wanted to conciliate and affiliate with the workingmen. He believed the time had arrived when these shops should be made cooperative, and if profit-sharing was indulged in the labor problem would be solved.

Mr. MacCormack, of Albany, referred to the fact that 15 or 20 years are most men. the fact that, 15 or 20 years ago, most men idled away their dinner hour, but to-day they spend their leisure time in reading th newspapers and storing away knowledge. He spoke about the duties of the local board and claimed that they were absolutely necessary for the maintenance of the associa-tion, and would materially help the manu-THE STRIKE SITUATION. In regard to the strike now on in Pittsburg, Secretary Douthett said that just prior to their leaving for this city a meeting was held, at which it was decided that if the men wanted to strike they could do so. The matter has been discussed quietly among the members of the convention, but no definite action has been taken, and probably will not be until they return to Pitts-burg. The President of the Boilermakers' Union, learning of the hostile action of the convention, sent the following letter to President Lappan. It was read to-day and Secretary Douthett wired Mr. Curran to come and explain:

No. 270 SPRING STREET, NEW YORK, July 2, 1890. To Mr. James Lappan, President of the Bollermakers' Association: DEAR SIR—I see in the papers an account of your convention, and in it you state that the Brotherhood (International Boilermakers) is arrayed against your association. Now, sir, such is not the case. The Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders of the United States and Canada is organized to ele-

United States and Canada is organized to ele-vate and bring about a better understanding with the employer and employe. If your body should Jeem it advisable, I will appear before you and explain the difference. I am, respectfully, THOMAS J. CURRAN, President National Union. Upon a motion Mr. Curran was given the courtesy of the floor. He was greeted with applause and said that the brotherhood was willing at any time to arbitrate all grievances. It was not based upon the theory that they could better themselves by strikes. The order was organized for an educational purpose. He said that the manufacturer had only to look back a few years and see the improvement in the trade of a boilermaker. Speaking of the uniform rate of wages, Mr. Curran said the Brotherhood had wanted such a state of affairs for many years. NO BLACK LIST WANTED. He hoped that the association would not carry out their intention of a "black list." He said that if such a thing was done it would be the death of the organization. The workmen would fight it to the death. In regard to the short work day the speaker said that the repair work around this city was ten, and for new work, nine hours. The brotherhood proposed to reduce each by one hour, and the wages to remain the same. He referred to the strike now on in Pitts-burg, and said it was due to the arrogauce of the manufacturers, who have been urged to meet the demands of the men. He claimed that the men would win in a few days, as overtures were now being carried on that would end the strike. The brotherhood has not made any demand on the Pittsburg Locomotive works, and it is said that if such demand is made it will be refused.

President Lappan said that the idea that the men cannot win their demands are ab-surd. He believed, however, that the strike would very likely be referred to arbitrators. He had no fear of the result. The resolution to recommend the appointment of local boards was put and carried. Secretary Douthett then read his exhaustive report on insurance, which was carried

NEXT MEETING IN ST. LOUIS, The next order of business was that of choosing a time and place where the association will hold its next annual convention.

After a spirited contest, during which the representatives of San Francisco, Chicago, St. Louis and Baltimore made speeches, inviting the delegates to their respective cities, the city of St. Louis was chosen. The time named was the first Tuesday in May.

The report of the Committee on Apprenticeship was then taken up and discussed.

Mr. Curran, of the brotherhood, was invited to speak on the subject. Mr. Hammond made a very friendly motion that was greeted with applause. He asked that a committee of the association meet a commit-tee of the Brotherhood of Boilermakers to confer on the apprenticeship system. Mr. Dundon opposed the motion, claiming that it would necessitate the appointment of committees in different parts of the country, and he moved that the original report only should be adopted. It was decided, how-ever that the report be not adopted now, but the whole apprenticeship system be referred back to the committee of the association, and for them to meet a committee of the Boilermakers' Brotherhood. The convention then took a recess at 1 o'clock and wended their way to the Brooklyn Navy Yard,

Only about one-half of the delegates had returned from their visit to the Brooklyn Navy Yard in time to attend the evening session, which began with a discussion of the merits of the Torrey bankruptcy act, now before Congress. This was construed to mean that the existing insurance companies did not want the association to institute the insurance scheme. The committee reported that it had not been enabled to formulate a plan for the insurance company, and a resolution was oftered providing for the election of a board of trustees to arrange the details of the scheme. The board of trustees, under the report, was to consist of ten members, six of whom were to be mem-bers of the Executive Committee. Work will be commenced at once on the lower lock gate, and will be completed in a week or ten days. The coal fleets in the upper pool are all made up, and everything is in readmess to be brought to this pool at the first good water.

Grand Reunion of the Society of the Army of the Potomac.

ADDRESSED BY GEN. SHERMAN, Who Gives a Bit of Unwritten History Regarding the Grand Review.

BUFFALO NEXT PLACE OF MEETING

PORLAND, ME., July 3 .- The society of the Army of the Potomac had a rainy morning for the opening of their annual reunion in this city. During the forenoon corps meetings were held in the City Hall. Some of the corps were largely represented. Of others only a dozen members or so were present. Secretary of War Proctor was elected President of the First corps. Among the prominent officers who are in attendance are General Sherman, General F. A. Walker, Hon. Horatio King, General Fitzohn Porter, General Selden Connor, General Collins, Colonel Horsce C. King, General Hodges, General Dickinson, Generals Locke, Clarkson, Beale, Vanviel, Goddard, John W. Corse, General Brodhead, Devens and Howard, also officers of the war vessels in the harbor.

Mayor Melchor, of Portland, welcomed the comrades in an admirable address, which was responded to by General Collis. The mention of the names of General Sherman and Hannibal Hamlin by the latter speaker evoked the wildest enthusiasm. The meeting was called to order by General Collis, who presided in place of General Parke. Atter prayer by Rev. Norman Fox, of New York, and music, General Walker delivered the oration, which was an historical review of the Army of the Potomac, ooking backward from the time of its final eview, prior to disbandment.

GENERAL SHERMAN'S SPEECH After the oration of General Walker was finished the Chairman introduced General Sherman, who received a prolonged ovation and spoke as follows:

Comrades of the Arm y of the Potomac and Ladies and Gentlemen of Portland: It is not the food we eat that gives health nd strength, but that which we digest. It is so with the mind. It is not the books we read, or the newspapers either, or even the speeches we hear that enlarge our understanding but those we comprehend and digest. Now my friends, I have had a good deal of experience in my life, and have learned since I have been upon this stage that the grand review in Washington terminated when the Army of the Po-tomac passed. It reminds me of a story General Taylor is said to have told to an applicant for office in Washington who urged his claims from having been at Buena Vista. General Taylor said he had heard of so many things having occurred, that although he thought he was there himself, he had come to thought he was there himself, he had come to the conclusion that he was not there at all. Now I have so many fresh memories of that grand review that I think I was there, and I think that review occupied three days.

The first day the Army of the Potomac had the floor and I was upon the stage at that time, as I am now, taking notes of the positions, that I might profit by them. For if you remember, the Armies of the West and did not have a fair reputation for order, drill and discipline. You got your news of us through rebel sources, and we chased them 1,800 miles into your very camps. They had not a very good opinion of our Western armies, and we found that even the authorities at Washington had not a very good opinion of our Western armies. They thought we were rather liable to disorder. Now, I assure you, my friends of the Army of the Potomac, we were a better drilled army than you were. I know it, because I was their Commanding General. Now, let me give you.

which I have not given except to my most inti-mate friends. I was on that stand before Meade was, and, indeed, before President Johnson and the Cabinet had gotten there. Meade came with his staff, as you have heard described, and as he wheeled into the gate of the White House grounds, up came Custer, and some lady flung him a wreath—one of those circular wreaths—and in trying to get it his mare made off with him and he went by like a shot. And Custer was not reviewed at all, and his brigade of cavalry would not have passed muster on the Champ De Mars in Paris. The horses were good, the men were sublime, but not good-looking for review. Now four corps passed in succession, and the intervals between them were too 'arge. I kept my eyes upon them and watched them all the time. And the worst mistake the Army of the Potomac made was that you had two bands loaned you by stay-at-homes in Washington. There were those elegant bands, designed to play music of the highest order and the late operas. You could not understand them, and I don't blame you for it. You did not keep step. Now, the first duty of a soldier is to keep step. Now, the first duty of a soldier is to keep step and dress right and keep his eyes to the front. Now a good many of them turned their eyes and heads around like country gawks, looking at the big people on the stand. Those are little things. You know tehre are tricks in every trade, my young friends.

TRICKS IN WAR TACTICS. viewed at all, and his brigade of cavalry would TRICKS IN WAR TACTICS. I turned to Meade and said: "I am afraid my poor volunteer corps will make a poor appearance contrasted with your wellfed men. And Meade replied: "Well, Sherman, th beople in Washington are now so well disposed toward the army that they will make all allowance. You need not be afraid." Well, that evening I got word from General Auger saying I fit wanted those two bands, I could have them. I said, "Thank you. I think I will stick to my old bands," and I sent word to all my corporal commanders to be 'careful about intervals, according to tactica, and keep your dress to left toward the reviewing stand, and don't let your men be looking around over shoulders. We will give them plenty of time to see the Capitol and see everything after the review is over. Let them keep their eyes 15 baces to front, shoulders square and march in the old accustomed way. They did so, well, after the reviewing was over I contend that your review was over, but mine was not. The two constituted a thing of magnificent proportions, creditable to both. As to the particular that your review was over, but mine was not. The two constituted a thing of magnificent proportions, creditable to both. As to the particular moved those great masses of mon to a common purpose, we need not speak, because history has treated of it for 25 years. But upon the simple question of instruction and discipline we can take lessons to the very last day of our lives. Now General Walker, for whom I nave great affection, as well as profound respect, did not give an account of the cost in human life in furnishing that bold cavalry, nor the great of war. Now, let your children digest these thoughts well and give credit to all aliake, and remember this country extends over the continued to one part, and that there are good people everywhere.

Hon. Hannibal Hamilin was then called for and was greeted with three cheers. He spoke briefly, thanking the society for the people in Washington are now so well disposed oward the army that they will make all allowfor and was greeted with three cheers. He spoke briefly, thanking the society for the reception and expressing pleasure in being Wuchter, of South Whitehall, is exciting increased wonder and attention in the medical profession, and among the inhabitants of this region. The number of visitors at the modest dwelling occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Wuchter has largely increased within the past fortnight. The doctors now declare that the faster cannot survive many days. Mrs. Wuchter has taken practically no substantial nourishment for 90 days. On Good Friday, April 4, she tasted food of a solid character for the last time. Since that time a sup of beef tea, taken at in-tervals of several days, has been her sole source of nourishment. She can't even drink water now, and is failing rapidly. When in normal health, about a year ago, Mrs. Wuchter weighed 136 pounds. Now she weighs less than 55 pounds. Her body has hardly a pound of flesh on it, and when that is consumed, so her physicians say, the end must come. Convulsions rack her withered frame daily. During these spasms her knees draw up to her chin and blood flows from her eyes. Her face becomes dreadfully convulsed and presents a touching sight. AN END TO TOLLS.
