THE PITTSBURG DISPATCH, THURSDAY, JULY 10, 1890. per cent each, and others fractional amounts. There were a few advances among the special-ties, and Edison General Electric rose 15. Railroad bonds, sales 953,000; only slight changes were scored except in a few issues. The tone was rather heavy at first, but steadied later in the day. Atchison incomes remained weak throughout, St. Paul and Northern Pa-cific 6s rose 3 to 125. Government bonds have been dull and steady. State bonds have been generally neglected. The Post says: New England was weak be-cause it had been advanced by mere manipula-tion, and the change in the tone of the market to-day made it difficultifor the small speculator to hold it. So far as the reported sale of the road is concerned, there is no more reason to believe that it has been sold this time than there was to believe any of the 20 other similar reports about it in the last two or three years. Those who have given the position of the New England a good deal of consideration do New Haven will venture to take it alone, and that no sale of the consideration do New Haven will venture to take it alone, and the Botore Line people are perfectly satis-fied with the arrangement. The New Haven road is now dependent upon these roads for its lines to Boston, and to cut loose from them and take the New England would only make the other lines build to New York, and so by competition ruin the whole business. The defense offered in evidence the original lease from David Wise to William Hays, it be-ing admitted by defendant that the signature of David Wise was not at the end of said lease, following the closing words thereof. The court admitted the lease in oridence as an unrecorded document, the lease showing Wise let the land to Hays for one-eighth the oil and $20 a year for each gas well, operations to commence in nine months or to pay $1 $3% per month, and ending with the following: "And a failure on the part of said second party to comply with either the one or the other of the foregoing conditions shall work an absolute forfeiture of the lease." E. M. Hukill showed he began operations on the tract in question in May, 1889, and got oil November 25, 1889. In rebuttal Guffy & Murphy showed they had notified Hukill to cease operations on July 15, 1880, stating they had a prior lease. The court gave the plainiffs judgment for posses-sion and costs, but the defendant appealed, with the result above chronicled. thereof, and the lessor leases to another per-son. Held, the first lease is thus avoided, and the second lease is good against it, as the execu-tion of forfeiture, without demand or re-entry. The second lessee may maintain unlawful de-tainer against the first lessee in possession. Thousands of acres have been leased in West Virginia, says the Wheeling Intelligencer, with the stipulation that development was to begin at a certain time, until which time the lessee was to hold by paying rental. For the most part there has been no development, and in hundreds, almost thousands, of cases no rental is heing paid. The decision of the Supreme Court of Appeals knocks this sort of thing squarely on the head, and with it that fine technical quibble that before the land owner can regate possession he must go through an old common law proceeding known as re-entry. The Court hold hat, never having been out of the possession the landlord does not have to regain possession, and that a man cannot be re-quired to enter on himself. aliman Palace Car. 2 ichmond & W. plished other material reductions in many of the extraordinary expenses which were una-voidable in the development of the company's business. Besides the natural increase of business due to the success of our apparatus, and the good business management of the company, there has been opened to us an extended field of electrical enterprise in the furnishing and equipping of electric railways, which we are prepared to enter with apparatus more efficient in every respect than any which has so far been placed in the market by our competitors. Or-ders for this branch of our work are being re-ceived in such quantity that we are justified in anticipating within the next 12 months an ad-dition in volume to our present sales of ap-proaching 100 per cent, without a correspond-ing increase of expense. In fact, the business for the first five months of this year showed an increase of fifty (50) per cent, exclusive of elec-tric street railway work; but, taking that into consideration, an increase of nearly ninety (80) per cent. Owing to the large investment made neces.

Consideration, an increase of nearly ninety (90) per cent. Owing to the large investment made neces-sary to perfect our patent position, and to en-large our manufacturing facilities to meet the continually increasing business, your manage-ment has not deemed it wise to enter this new and profitable field without sufficient means at its command to conduct the business profitably and with due regard to your present interests. It, therefore, takes pleasure in offering to the present stockholders of the company the right to subscribe to the increase of capital stock authorized at the stockholders' meeting held to-day, upon the following advantageous terms: One-half of one share for each share now standing in your respective names on the books

Wall Street Walting for Something to Turn Up-New York as a Market for American Securities - Gas

Trust Stock Declines. NEW YORK, July 9 .- The holidays have passed, the July disbursements are out of the way, and the shifting of loans in consequence of disbursements must now be completed, but the demand for securities expected does not as yet make its appearance. Even in the bond department, where an investment demand is likely to be first felt, there is no more animation or strength than in the share list, and the advocates of higher prices are disappointed, to say the least, and are casting around for an explanation for the failure of the little boom to materialize. The last one offered is that London has as yet had no time to recover from the effects of the monetary disturbances in South America, and in fact those disturbances are not yet past, as the alarming reports from that quarter indicate. When London recovers from hese disturbances they say there will again spring up a demand for American securities nd the expected rise will then occur. The fact remains, however that New York leads the market for American securities, and Londor and the rest of the world follows until there is <text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text> less apathy on the part of domestic speculators, London is not likely to take hold in a large way
