PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—The Quakers and the Alleghenies had another little bout at the Philadelphia ball park this afternoon, and again Captain Clements was able to call for the ball and pocket it when the game ended. The game was a far better played one than that of yesterday, and the Pittsburgers did very well, but could not bat quite hard enough. Added to this, the Pittsburgers were robbed of a run, owing to a bad decision by Umpire McDermott. Sales was on third when Hecker went out on a fly to Burke. As soon as Burke caught the ball Sales sprinted for home and got there easily, but McDermott said "Out," declaring that Sales had severed connection with the base ere Burke had caught the fly. The fielding of both teams was clever. Osborne, Sales, Miller, LaRoque, Schriver and Root did nicely. Attendance, 1,133. The score:

Baseball is Labor.

FREDERICK, MD., July 15.—The State of Maryland can have no more professional Sunday baseball. The decision of Chief Judge James McSherry in the case of Manager William Barnie, of the Baltimore Baseball Club, for Sunday ball playing, was rendered this morning. The Judge concludes that baseball playing by men who are under contract at stated salaries is "Sunday work," and therefore comes within the purview of the prohibitory statute. The prisoners were remanded for trial.

Pittsburg's Players' League Team Again Loses to the Brooklyn Men—Tener a Failure at Third—Corcoran Leads the Team's Work.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

BROOKLYN, July 15.—Weak batting and the poorest of fielding accounts for the defeat the Pittsburg (P. L.) team suffered at the hands of Ward's wonders at Eastern Park to-day. Van Haltren made his appearance in the pitcher's box after an absence of about two weeks, and judging from the way he held down the visitors the rest must have served him. Five hits is all the Pittsburgs managed to get, and of this number two were made in the last inning. Tener tried to play third base in the absence of Knethne, but he made a sorrowful failure, fumbling easy grounders. Carroll's work, although rather superabundant, was fair. Robinson played a very loose game. Staley pitched a fairly good game and if he had had any kind of ordinary support the score would have been closer. The Brooklyns outplayed their opponents in every point. Corcoran played a superb game for his side and showed himself to be a wonderful shortstop. Attendance about 400. The score:

RUMORS OF A DICKER.

Conference in League Affairs That May Bring Important Results.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 15.—President Stern, of the Cincinnati League club, has heard many rumors lately to the effect that the Brotherhood intended transferring one of its clubs to Cincinnati and it is well known that such a move would not please the Cincinnati president. It was hinted to night that Mr. Stern might be in the city, and attend the Brotherhood meeting to-day. At any rate, the alleged talk between Messrs. Day and Ewing, at Cincinnati, was only a "blind" to throw the League off the track, and it is now known that Ewing was closeted with Stern while the former was in Cincinnati. Stern has been very sore since the Pittsburg club transferred its games to Brooklyn without his consent, and it is also known that his receipts have fallen far below what he anticipated.

There is another rumor that the Brotherhood intended to transfer its Brooklyn club to Cincinnati and exchange Wood for Ewing.
