ordnance experts, of which Rear Admiral invited down stairs and served with as Kimberly is President, met here to-day tempting a repast as could be imagined. The re'reshments in the larder at starting were 2,000 sandwiches, tongue, ham and for the purpose of testing armor plates submitted by three English firms. American makers were invited to send san s of their steel plates, but the Bethlehem firm, the only company from which such large work could be expected, is not yet ready, and consequently the tests will be limited to the all-steel plate from Schneider & Co., a comall-steel plate from Schneider & Co., a comlarder on returning were a few little chicken bones, devoid of meat, a slice or two of pound plate from the same makers, composed of an alloy of nickel and steel, and a combread and some of the wooden plates that the merry crusaders had neglected to throw pound steel and iron plate from Cammel & Co., of Sheffield, England. overboard. More than the usual importance is at-tached to these trials, which are intended to IN THE GROVE. Shortly after 12 o'clock a landing was decide what kind of armor is best suited for ships, as well as for forts, and continental made at Blair's grove, and no sooner was the gang-plank down and the word given than it was filled with the pionickers anxious powers as well as the United States are interested in the results. The plates to be terested in the results. The pintes to be tested are 8 feet by 6 feet and 1014 inches in thickness, with 36 inches of oak backing. The 100-pounder projectiles from a six-inch gun will first be tried, and then 250-pounder to tread the velvety grass and romp beneath the wide-spreading trees that made the grove a most enticing place. And romp they did, to their hearts' con-tent, not in a noisy, disagreeable way, but in such a thoroughly enjoy-able manner that the spirit became conta-gious and affected children of a larger growth. Base balls, foot balls, swinging hammocks and jumping ropes were in bountiful supply and active demand. But the sport was climaxed by Messrs. Wintzel and Linn's Pench and Judy show, which created any neath the wide-spreading trees that made armor-piercing projectile from an eight-inch service gun. The plates are to be carefully examined and photographed after each dis-charge. The trials have attracted an unusually large number of strangers, and it is hoped to finish them before the close of the week.

The Treasurer of Penn Council Jr. O. U. A. M. is Defaulter in the Sum of $600.

"SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH." GREENSBURG, July 16 .- Penn Council No. 106, Jr. O. U. A. M., is practically without funds, ewing to the disappearance of the Treasurer P. H. Lincenbigier, together with all the funds in the treasury. Lincenbigler was given $600 of the Council's money last week, but none of it was turned over to the trustees. On Monday he stated to several members of the Council

he stated to several members of the Council that he was going to attend the State Council at Williamsport and left for that place. When he reached Barrisburg he telegraphed his wife that she would flud a letter in his coat at home explaining why he had left. When a committee called at his residence they found $1 06 in the money box, which was every cent they could find. It is thought that Lincenbigler used some of the money entrusted to his care, and being un-able to replace it, left towa to avoid arrest. It is said the loss will be total, as his bondsman is not worth that amount in property. Lincen-bigler has always terme a good reputation and was well known.
