NOT A GOOD EXCUSE.

"The companies might also object that if the pilots were lower than they are now, the paving stones might become loosened and jump up and interfere with the running and construction of the cars. It is the duty of the companies to the cars. It is the duty of the companies to keep the roadbeds of the tracks in proper con-dition. The pilots should also come out more in front of the car and should be made more pointed, like the pilots on a locomotive. As they are now the pilots are nearly square. They have a tendency to push an object along in front of the car instead of throwing it off the track to one side." Mr. Miskemom witnessed the fatal accident on Penn avenue, near Sixteenth street last Friday, and he said that had the car pilot been made with a greater slant it would have thrown the boy off the track with perhaps a broken leg or an arm.

r an arm. Mr. Rugg, Superintendent of the Penn avenue cable road, was seen at his office at Thirty-first street and Penn avenue. When the sub-ject was broached he at once admitted the imitist silver was broached be at once admitted the im-perfections of the present pilots. "We don't suppose they are perfect life preservers," he said. "We have now some-thing in view which may improve them. The present dissatisfaction of the people and the cable companies with the life guards is not con-fined to Pittaburg alone. The same grievances of the public exist in Philadelphia and Chi-cago. Those cities have tried various plans, but none has been found to work satisfactorily. The pilots are not as effective as they should be, but they are as good as those on the electric The pliots are not as effective as they should be, but they are as good as those on the electric cars, and the best that have yet been found. It is the effort of our management to find some-thing as near perfection as can be. But it is almost impossible to get anything to run close to the rail and to conform to the surface of the street and to the line land down by the City Engineer."

"rlow near to the rails do you think the pilot

WHAT IS NEEDED.

"We have got to have something that will nome down to 1 or 1% inches above the rail to be effective. It must also be flexible to ride over any obstruction that is met on the road."

"What do you mean by saying that you must conform to the surface of the road, Mr. Rugg?" "I mean that the roads are unevenly con-structed. The street paying is uneven, We have also to provide for the crossing of railroad tracks."
