TESTERDAY'S ATTENDANCE.

Totals..... 2,049 Totals..... 3,918

One of the stockholders of the local Players' League team stated yesterday that a meeting had been called for the purpose of making an assessment on the stock for the running expenses of the team. It is said that his notice of a meeting came from Secretary Tener and in it the explanation of why an assessment is necessary was made. The secretary wrote that "upon the late disastrous eastern trip" the receipts only averaged $60 per game. It was expected that the attendance would be large enough to tide the team over the crisis, but the poor showing it had made in the East caused a falling off in the attendance in Pittsburg and the necessity for a meeting became apparent. The rain of yesterday also made matters worse, as a good crowd would have been pres-

THE DISPATCH made an effort to see th moneyed men of the club last night, but was unsuccessful, some not being at home, and Treasurer Kerr was sick and could not be dis-turbed. However, Manager Hanlon was found at the hotel, and gave an explanation of the meeting as far as in his power. He said:

"I did not know of the meeting until Lre-ceived notice of it to-day, and don't know exactly what it is called for. It is something regarding a change. The company was organized as a stock company, and then changed into a limited copartnership. Now they want it made into a stock company again. There is something wrong in regard to the law, but I don't understand it, as I paid no attention to the matter." Mr. Hanlon did not affirm or deny the statement that the average receipts on the trip were but $60 a day. He said the entire matter is in the hands of Messrs, Stone and Potter. The meeting is to be held at Colonel Stone's office at noon to-day. Under the laws regulating a limited copartnership only the face value of the stock can be collected, and therefore to make an assessment on the stock a change to a stock company is necessary. One of the shareholders said last

Rain Prevented Another Slaughter at Exposition Park Yesterday.

A wise providence turned loose the water supply yesterday and helped the local Players' League team "in out of the wet," figuratively speaking, though as a matter of fact they did get a soaking. In the first inning, yesterday, Pittsburg got a run on Hanlon's single and two sacrifices, and in the second another run was ed on Fields' base on balls, Keuhne's single soored on Freids' base on balls, Keutine's single and a passed ball.

The Phillies made three the first attempt, on two singles and errors. In the second inning Maul was put in the box as a great mud horse, and had the rain not prevented further slaughter they probably would have been playing yet. Hallman went out at first, Knell singled and went to third on Griffin's sacrifice. Shindle hit for a bomer and chased Knell across the plate. Pickett singled and went to second on Kuehne's fumble of Mulvey's bunt. Pickett scored and Mulvey located at third on Wood's two-bagger. Both scored on Fogarty's two-bagger and the umpire kindly called the Phillies off and the game was postponed. About 200 people were on the grounds.

Mr. Bonner said that even Mr. Hamlin was convinced that GREENSBURG, July 23 .- Considerable of said that even Mr. Hamlin was convinced that Sunol would win, and that therefore he would decline the race. He could afford to put up $5,800 on Belle Hamlin, however, and get the advantage of having the biggest race of the year on his track and a share of the gate money in addition. It has proved even as Mr. Bonuer said, as shown by this letter received today at the office of the Turf, Field and Farm, and signed by Mr. Hamlin:

"In reply to the challenge which appeared in your last issue, offering to match Belle Hamlin for $10,000 a side, $5,000 forleit, the winner to take the entire stake and gate receipts, respectfully decline to accept, as, in my judgment, the chances are in favor of Sunol's beating Belle Hamlin; besides, if would not put up a ferfeit of $5,000 and run the risk of the mare going wrong. I will, however, match Belle sensation has been created by the issuing of a warrant for the arrest of J. C. Brooks, a Justice of the Peace of Mt. Pleasant, and well-known throughout the county. The information was made this afternoon before 'Squire Keener, of this place, by Andrew Mulasky and Victor Suboroick, alleging that the 'Squire had appropriated $205 belonging to them. They were arrested for a criminal offense sometime ago, and Brooks demanded that sum for ball. The plaintiffs paid the mount into the hands of Brooks, and at the going wrong. I will, however, match Belle Hamlin against Sunol for $5,000 a side, $2,500 last term of court appeared for trial. Then they wanted their money, and it is alleged that Brooks would not refund it. Constable Wash-baigh will arrest Brooks in the morning. Hamilin against Sunol for $5,000 a side, $2,500 forfeit, over any track mutually agreed upon, the winner to take 60 per cent of the earnings and the loser 40 per cent."

It is apparent from this letter that Mr. Hamilin wants to avoid the suspicion of trying to advertise his track through the race. His offer will not be taken up. HELD TO HIGHER COURT.

Rader were together at a neighbor's house. Coe went to the house and found Rader and Mrs. Coe sitting on a bed. He ordered Rader to leave, which he proceeded to do, but he had scarcely stepped out of the door before Coe fired upon him with a gun, shooting him through the abdomen, Rader died in an hour or two after he had been shot by Coe.

Coe claims he did the killing in self-defense and that Rader drew a pistol on him. A pistol was found on the person of Rader, but it was in his pocket, showing plainly that he had not attempted to shoot Coe when he was himself shot. NINE THOUSAND STATE SOLDIERS

In Their Bright New Uniforms and Glistening Accoutrements

PRESENT A DAZZLING SPECTACLE

IFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. ] " CAMP HARTRANFT, Mr. Gretna, July 23.

Governor Beaver and staff inspected and Issued From the White House-A Check reviewed the National Guard to-day in the presence of about 25,000 people. As the troops swung out past the reviewing stand where the Governor and party were they presented a sight seldom seen in this part of the country. Imagine an army of 9,000 soldiers, infantry, cavalry and artillery, dressed in the brightest and newest of uniforms and equipments, the sun dancing and glistening on the shining accoutrements with flags unfurled and standing out against a stiff breeze, displaying to the best advantage the American emblem. Such was the imposing spectacle presented to the view of the thousands of people assembled to see it. The heavy tramp, tramp, tramp of 18,000 feet kept even time to the roll of the drums, and in all the scene was that of grandeur that will never be forgotten. The parade was formed on the large ground near the Mt. Gretna station.

> FORMATION OF THE COMPANIES. The guard was ordered out at 4 o'clock, and promptly at that hour the men marched by from their respective grounds. Upon arriving on the large parade grounds, they were put in brigade formation with the Third in front. Back of it was the Second and the rest brought up in the rear. When the formation was ended the regulars marched from their camp to the parade ground and took up, positions. They filled the large field on the left, and marching across and in front of the guard, were halted on the right side of the State militia. Each brigade had been formed in lines of masses, and presented a solid front straight across the parade ground. Following the regulars' infantry came artillery, and the cavalry brought up in the rear. The latter stopped in the midst of the parade ground and wheeled into line. The artillery took up their position to the left of the guard and awaited the arrival of the Governor and party. The army did not have long to wait, and in a few minutes the notes clear and sweet from Division Bugler Williams brought them to attention, and when the staff's order was given to march, Adjutant General Hastings, owing to a slight illness, did not appear on the parade ground, but kept close to his tent. THE REVIEW BEFORE THE GOVERNOR.

The Governor rode at the head of the procession, and behind came his staff, with General Snowden and staff, General Snowden in command of the division, which moved with precision and clockwork. The regulars led the parade, and were followed by the Third, Second and First Brigades in this order. Colonel Bush was in command of the regulars, and with the exception of the marching of the infantry, showed up well. Critics say if the regular infantry was put alongside several companies in the guard they would not be "in it." They know how to handle a gun, but lack practice wheeling around corners, and their step is slightly out of time. As each commanding officer passed the reviewing stand Governor Beaver took off his hat. When he saluted the colored company of Philadelphia the applause was deafening. The brigade bands, with all the head of their respective brigades. The appearance of the Second Brigade was the signal for great applause. Brigadier General Wilie rode at the head and sat on his horse as if he and the horse were one. Colonel Smith, of the Eighteenth, and Colonel Perchment, of the Fourteenth Regiment, won great applause for the fine app of their respective regiments. Battery B, of Pittsburg, although the junior organiza-tion, it was said, made the finest appearance among the three companies. TOO MANY COMPANIES. The rumor that a company of the Eight-eenth Regiment will be disbanded before camp breaks continues to cover more ground each day. The regiment has nine compa-nies now, and only three regiments in the State have as many or over. It is the desire to cut down the regiments to eight companies, so as to make a more even forma-tion, and it is said the Western regiment will suffer. Owing to all the companies coming up above the mark at inspection, there is not sufficient ground at present to disband a company. The Fourteenth Regiment has but eight companies and was re-fused permission to organize another. The slight impression the regulars had that the National Guard men knew something about military affairs, was indelibly stamped upon them last night. Two regulars got outside their camp to go on a visit to friends in the N. G. P. some distance away. Returning, they ran into the State Guard, and, as the regulars could not give the why and wherefore of being out so late, they were run into the guardhouse, where they remained all night. A regular arm officer, who was visiting a division head quarters, refused the countersign, saying he could get through the guard all right. He tried it in three different places and finally had to come back or the pass. THE PITTSBURG BOYS PRAISED. The Eighteenth Regiment is taking care of division headquarters to-day. The guard is under the command of Lieutenants Will-iam Doak and H. F. Lowry, two of the best guard officers in the regiment. Lieutenaut Beam, of the United States Army, who is here instructing the men in guard service, says the Pittsburg boys are perfect, and states it is the best service he had since the opening of the camp. This speaks well for the Pittsburg regiment.

Quartermaster Robbins, of the Tenth Quartermaster Roomins, of the Lenter Regiment, is one of the best providers in the guard. He is State Senator from Westmoreland, and in addition to being a good lawmaker, is a first-class soldier. Colonel lawmaker, is a first-class soldier. Colonel North, Division Assistant Adjutant General, and Colonel Krumbhaar, State Assistant Adjutant General, left this morning in a special car for Washing-ton, to escort the President, Major General Schofield, and staff, and other officers who will visit camp. The party will arrive in the handsome palace on wheels, "Cornwall," the private car of R. H. Coleman, owner of the campgrounds and about everything else in Lebanon county. A telegram was re-ceived from the Capitol saying the Presi-dent will leave there about 8 o'clock tomorrow morning. The party will arrive here about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and will witness a review of the troops about DRILL AND INSPECTION. The Second Brigade and a drill this morning. Six regiments turned out and were drilled in all the brigade movements by drilled in all the brigade movements by General Wiley. The boys showed up well and were complimented for their fine appearance. The Eighteenth and Fourteenth Regiments, as usual, turned out big companies, and the men reflected credit on the officers of the regiments. The kitchens, surgical and commissary store departments of the Second Brigade were inspected this morning by Colonel Reed, Surgeon General Major Greenleaf, of the United States Army, Major Sillimau, Division Surgeon Egle, Chief Surgeon of the brigade, and Colonel F. B. Eshleman, of Lancaster.

A JOHNSTOWN SOCIETY. A meeting of the staff officers of the guard who were at Johnstown during the flood and rendered valuable services in the work of relief, was held last night in the commissary department, near the Fourteenth Regiment camp. Colonel Spangler, Commissary General, was chosen Chairman, and Colone Patton Secretary. After considerable dis cussion an organization was effected. All officers of the Guard who were at Johnstown are eligible to membership.

A tribute of respect was paid the press by creating an honorary membership for the correspondents who reported the flood whom the association may elect. A committee was appointed to secure a list of all the officers who were there, and another meeting was held to-night, when the organization was made permanent. Adjutant General Hastings, Chaplain Magnire and others made addresses. That of the Adjutant General was a spontaneous burst of sympathy from the heart of the man who worked day and night to bring order out of disorder. FORGOT THEIR PASSES.

Quartermaster Hubbard, of the Four eenth, had a 20-mile horseback ride to Lebanon and return last night. He sent two of his men to the town for supplies and they forgot to provide themselves with passes. When they got to Lebanon they were arrested and put in the guardhouse. A message was sent to Lieutenant Hubbard, who mounted his horse and rode to Lebanon to have the men released. Captain Penny, of Company G, and his company are playing in hard luck. Two of them were called home yesterday to Pittsburg owing to deaths in their families. Sergeant Oscar Logan left this morning on acount of the death of his mother, and he had no sooner gone than Private Gustave Wendell received a telegram informing him of the death of his grandmother.

Colonel S. W. Hill, of Pittsburg, Quartermaster General, to-day issued the order regarding the departure of the boys for heme. The news was received with great delight by the men of the Guards, who are already tired of camp life. Mount Gretna with its picturesque hills and daler has lost its attractions for them for the time being, and the boys are wishing they could start right away. The Pittsburg regiments

In the Second Brigade, Battery B, of Pittsburg, will leave at 9 P. M. Friday; Fifteenth Regiment at 9:20 P. M.; Sixteenth, 9:30; Tenth, 10 o'clock; Fifth, Saturday morning at 5 o'clock; Sheridan Troop, 5 A. M.; Fourteenth Regiment, 5:30; Eighteenth, 6 A. M. One hundred and thirteen cars will be required to transport the brigade. The first regiment to leave the grounds will be the Ninth, of the Third Brigade, which will depart at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. The Fourth will leave Saturday at 7:30 o'clock; Thirteenth, 8 o'clock; Twelith, 7:30; Eighth, 7:30, and Ninth, Battery C, at 9 o'clock, and the band will leave at 5:45 P. M. It will take 86 cars to transport the bri gade. The cost of transportation for the Guards will be about $22,000. The rate se cured was less than three-fourths of 1 cent per mile, the lowest ever made by the Pennsylvania Railroad.

ASSESSED THE LOTTERY COMPANY. Open Charges as to How the Campaign Funds Were Raised.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 23 .- In a recent anti-lottery mass meeting a speech was made by the Hon. Edward D. White condemning certain New Orleans papers in advocating the passage of the lottery bill in the Legislature. The Times-Democrat today publishes the following: The Times-Democrat charges, and can prove, that the campaign committee, of which Sena-ator-elect White was treasurer, received the ator-elect White was treasurer, received the sum of $10,000 from the head and front of the lottery company, which the Senator disbursed in the interest of Governor Nichols and himself in the last campaign. When the check, which had been solicited, was tendgred to the committee, one member objected on the ground that it came from the lottery company. One of the committeemen then said:

"Gentlemen, let us have no misonderstanding; the money comes from the lottery company."

ing; the money comes are all the pany."

That money was received, turned over to Treasurer White and used in the campaign. Will the Senator-elect dare deny it? It is further charged that this "anti"-saint received from the lottery company the sum of $10,000 to assist him personally in his fight for the Senate. Did Senator White use that money, honestly? The amount is large and could scarcely have been consumed in an honest way.
