	National League, At Pittsburg

Totals 7 108 Totals 5 306 The New York Players' League team can charge Eddie Morris with their first defeat in this series with the Pittsburgs, but they may have others to look after before they leave town. They certainly will if they have to go against such ball playing as was put up by the local team yesterday. O'Day is the only New York pitcher that has any terrors for Hanlon's men, and now that he has been disposed of the boys feel like winners for another time.

The boys put .up a stiff game from start to finish. Manager Hanlon made a splendid catch of a long fly, and Corcoran and Kuehne made several beautiful stops of line drives. While orcoran's home run was a beauty, there is no doubt that Johnson's misjudgment had something to do with his making the rounds. However, Johnson stopped a home run for Carroll and robbed several others of three Carroll and robbed several others of three baggers, so there is no room for censure. He certainly played the best fielding game that has been seen here for some time, having eight put outs, some of them the most difficult of catches. Jocko Fields did a little base running yesterday, which is unusual. In the second inning he singled and scole second, went to third on Shannon's error and scored on Robinson's sacrifice. In the fifth Carroll got to first on balls, to second on a sacrifice and scored on Vaughn's muff of Beckley's fly ball. Hanlon got a base on balls in the sixth and was driven seroes the plate by Corcuran's home run. Attendance, 1911. Score:

WITHOUT AN ERROR.

The Putaburg National Longue Team Pinys a Great Fielding Game, but Failed to Hit at the Right Time-The Score. The Pittsburg National League team put up an errorless game in the field yesterday and did some very brilliant work, but their inability to hit the balls sent over the plate by Smiling Mickey Welsh cost them the game. Wilson is doing splendid work in center field and his great catch was the feature of the game. He would make a good fixture in the outfield if he can keep up his present gait. The local men secured their full allotment

of runs in the first inning. Decker fouled out.
Miller singled. Laroque flew to Welsh.
Hecker's two-barger scored Miller and Berger's single sent the manager home. Osborne flew out.
The visitors also scored in the first. Tiernan got a three-baser and scored on Hornung's sacrifice fly to Osborne. The winning runs were made in the sixth inning. After Bassett had retired at first, Burkett got a base on balls and Glasscock's single sent him to third, He scored on Denny's hit, Glasscock taking second. Henry's single scored Glasscock and advanced Denny, who scored on Clark's hit to middle, after Henry was thrown out at second. Welch went out at first.

The Pittsburg Sprinter Proves Too Much for Grant, of Boston. SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 Boston, July 28.—The Lynn Lasters' Protective Union picnic at Lake Waiden to-day was attended by an immense crowd and great interest was centered in the two running races which were the principal features of the day's sport. The mest important was the two-mile running race in which Peter Priddy, of Pittsburg, and Jim Grant, of Boston, were the chief contestants. These two men are very evenly matched, and the friends of each bet a good deal of money on the result of to-day's test. They had never met before and now Grant acknowledges that he is no match for Priddy at that distance. Boston, July 28.-The Lynn Lasters' Pro that distance.

Grant and Priddy took the lead at once and ran side by side the entire distance until the last eighth of a mile, making a most exciting contest. Then Priddy spurted and crossed the line about three gards ahead of the Boston

UPHAM WAS EASY.

A Five-Round Fight Before the Andobon Athletic Club. NEW ORLEANS, July 28.-Arthur Upham, of NEW ORLEANS, July 28.—Arthur Upham, of New London, Conn., and Bob Fitzsimmons, the New Zealander, fought before the Audobon Athletic Association for a $1,000 purse. The crowd did not see a fight, but it saw Fitzsimmons and was satisfied. The fight could have been finished in the second round, but Fitzsimmons took matters easy. Upham was game, and insisted on fighting after all his chances were gone. Fi zsimmons begged him to stay down, but Upham rose each time just before the ten seconds were up, and Fitzsimmons only struck as often as necessary.

Fitzsimmons played with Upham until the fifth round, when he was sent out by a gentic caress on the chu:

caress on the chip.

A purse will be offered for Dempsey and Fitzsimmons.

With the score tied in the last half of the eighth inning, one man out and two men on bases, the captain of operators made a protest on account of a very just decision of the umpire and refused to finish the game.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) OIL CITY, July 28.-THE DISPATCH correspondent to-day had a very interesting interview with a prominent oil man upon the listing of Ohio oil. The gentleman interviewed has been largely engaged in the production of oil for the past 24 years, and is thoroughly conversant with every phase of the great industry. To the question, "What do you think of the listing of Lima oil?" he replied:
I am decidedly of the opinion that it is a great stroke of policy of the Standard, for the reason that the oil they are now putting cents a barrel, and the price now is 40 cents a barrel. I know the inside workings of the handling of oil, and as the certificates of Pennsylvania oil are reduced to about 7,000,000 barrels which is controlled by the Standard, there is no encouragement for outside parties to speculate on the present limited basis. If 20,000,000 barrels of Ohio oil can be added to the possibilities, it is expected that a new impetus will be given the speculative movement in oil. The Standard hopes to draw in outside parties, as in former years, and it is confidently believed that the Ohio oil can be advanced to 50 or 60 cents per barrel, and unloaded on the trade. During the year of the shut-in movement, and for the subsequent 12 months the brekers and producers were in mortal terror that the Standard would list Ohio oil. The Standard people at that period hooted the idea, and spread broadcast the information that the oil could not be successfully refined and would never be listed. It is a fact that the influences of the great monopoly within the past two months have been brought to bear upon the several exchanges to such an extent that they have been induced unitedly to petition the Standard to do the very thing that for two years previous they have dreaded.

In this connection it is a significant fact that before any concerted movement had been made by the exchanges for the accomplishment of this purpose, the Standard had already proceeded to print certificates preparatory to listing Ohio oil. I tell you this is a very nice scheme of the Standard's, and the outcome must put millions into the pockets of the great monopoly. "Don't you see, "continued the narrator, "by issuing certificates for Ohio oil the Standard becomes insured on the general average principle, and instead of carrying the oil at their own risk and expense they will secure both insurance against loss by fire and the privilege of the same storage rates now raid on Pennsylvania oil.

A BOY IN THE BOX. WILLIE STEWART ON TRIAL ON A CHARGE OF MURDER.

Testimony That He Bought Rough on Rats-The Poisoned Soup and the Meat of Which it Was Mage-The Case With the Jury.

William Stewart, Jr., a 15-year-old boy of McKeesport, was placed on trial before Judge Collier yesterday on a charge of murder. The death that led the Coroner's jury to hold the boy for court occurred April 19 last at McKeesport. On April 18 the entire Stewart family was taken sick, immediately after eating some soup, with the one exception of the defendant. He had not tasted the soup. On the attentions to his wife and fired him from the place, at the same time informing him that if he returned he would be filled with lead. It is said that Mrs. Adams was so much affected at this that she tried to commit suicide. Shortly after this Adams was taken ill and the woman made daily visits to his bedside. This morning Adams went to Jeannette, and while absent his wife gathered up her clothing and about $40 and left for Pittsburg. Van Buren, it is said, took the train at Stewart's station, and they went west together.

Adams will not institute a search, but will at once apply for a divorce. They had been married for about seven years and had no family. day following the sickness James, a 6-year-old brother of the defendant, died. An investigation and post mortem examination were made, and the child's body showed the presence of arsenical poisoning. A pint of the soup was analyzed and a large quantity of arsenic was found in it also. It was learned at the inquest that the defendant had purchased a box of rough on rats from John B. Edie, a druggist at McKeesport, the day before, and on this circumstance the boy was held for court.

The trial was opened in the afternoon, the morning session being taken up in securing a jury. District Attorney Johnston, assisted by O. P. Seaffe, Jr., represented the Commonwealth, and Thomas M. Marshall, Jr., and Hon. A. C. Roberts on the defense. Dr. W. B. Taylor was the first witness called. He related that on April 18 he was called to attend the Stewart family, all of whom, with the exception of William, were sick. James, a 6-year-old member of the family, died the following day, and a post mortem examination was held, THE TURNERS' ANNUAL JUBILER. WHEELING, July 28.-Eight cars of Pitts old member of the family, died the following day, and a post mortem examination was held, disclosing the facts that the child's stomach and intestines were inflamed and had all the indication of arsenical poisoning. The witness gave his opinion that the child died from taking that drug.

G. H. Clapp, a chemist, was the next witness. He testified that a bottle containing a pint of soup was sent to him by the Coroner to be analyzed. This was done, and the soup was found to contain considerable arsenic. The witness further stated that rough on rats contained 90 per cent of arsenic. burg and Allegheny Turners, many of them accompanied by their families, arrived at 4 o'clock this afternoon to take part in the anaual Turn Bezirk of the Turners of the Pittsnual Turn Bezirk of the Turners of the Pitts-burg district, and at 7 this evening three cars came in from McKeesport, accompanied by a band of 24 pieces. witness further stated that rough on rats contained 30 per cent of arsenic.

John B. Edie testified that the Stewart family purchased nearly all of their drugs from him, and that on April 18 a boy whom he is positive was William Stewart bought a box of rough on rats from him, stating that it was for Mrs. Stewart, who desired to kill mice.

Agnes Stewart and Mrs. Stewart, the sister and mother of the defendant, testified that William worked in the pipe mill on night turn; that he came home about 6:30 o'clock A. M. on April 18, had his breakfast, and then went to bed and was called about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. On the afternoon of that day the witness had been out; had purchased some meat from Wise's butchershop, and had taken it home to make soup. Mrs. Stewart prepared the meat and put it in the fettle with some spring water. Both were in the room when William was called, and did not believe he had been out of the bed, which is in the kitchen, during the afternoon. When the soup was ready to be esten William refused to partake of it or of the meat, saying that it looked black, as if it had been boiled in rain water. The other, members of the family partook of it, and immediately became sick, and James died on the following day.

W. F. Wise and his brothers, James Charles and John, all of whom are partners in the butcher business at McKeesport, were sworn. None of them recalled having sold the Stewarts any meat on April 18. They testified, however, that the meat they had on that day was good, and that they never kept rough on rats about the store.

The prosecution here rested. The defendant was placed upon the stand. He testified that he had not bought a box of rough on rats at Edie's drugstore, and that he put nothing in the soup. The rest of his testimony was similar to that given by his mother and sister. A large number of character witnesses testified to the good reputation borne by the defendant as a hardworking boy. Court then adjourned until the evening, when counsel on both sides made brilliant arguments, the Judge charged the jury impartially and the jury retired, but at 10:20, having reached no verdict, court adjourned till this morning. pany has been chartered in West Virginia by New York capitalists to control gas plants in every State in the Union.
