

HUNTING FOR A FARM

The Board of Awards Spends the Day Tramping Through Fields. NO SUITABLE SITE DISCOVERED.

Chief Brown's Reasons Against Going Up the Monongahela. GOOD INVESTMENT ON THE ALLEGHENY

The members of the Department of Awards were visiting the Poor Farm sites all day yesterday. Chief Brown returned home early in the morning and joined the party. Chief Elliot and Bigelow, with Mayor Gouley and the clerk of the department, were the other members of the party.

They first inspected the Kinney farm, which is located on the Edge of the city. The committee were not favorably impressed with it, as it is all hill land and would be subject to the annoyances which caused the desertion of the old farm.

After resting awhile and drinking two gallons of milk, they started for a tour of the 400 acres that compose the farm. It was the unanimous opinion of the department that it was too high for the 400 of Pittsburgh. They pushed through rough, tramped down on and got jagged by rye stubble. Three hundred acres of the farm are bottom lands. The committee was much pleased with the way the farm was situated on the place, and they knew the mills will be in time crowded out. This property is offered at $600 per acre for the bottom land and $575 per acre for the whole tract.

Chief Brown expressed himself satisfied with the amount offered for the Poor Farm. Said he: "I did not expect we could get more than $500,000 for the old farm, but I am perfectly willing to accept $450,000. I feel sure we can buy a farm of the required size, but up a building with all the modern improvements and still have some money left."

"I would rather have the new poor farm located somewhere up the Allegheny river than anywhere else. It would be a good deal to have the Monongahela valley and would have to move again in five or ten years. There they have competing lines of railroads, and transportation rates can be made so low in the Monongahela valley that they would have to move again in five or ten years. There they have competing lines of railroads, and transportation rates can be made so low in the Monongahela valley that they would have to move again in five or ten years.

Controlled in common, in looking over the Poor Farm and vicinity, the department members had been, in common with many others, under a wrong impression about the power to decide which piece of ground should be selected.

The general impression has been that the Chief of the Department of Public Charities made the selection. The department members, however, found that the second section distinctly make the selection. Subsequent sections of the bill provide that the Chief of the Department of Public Charities certify the decision to Council, which has final voice in accepting or rejecting.

Not to find it convenient to leave the city for the summer months the following hints will be found valuable. The hints are: 1. Get up as early as possible; do as little cooking as you can, thereby keeping your house and yourself cool, and the best summer drink will be cold buttermilk. 2. Cover your house with cool and clean matting, hang lace curtains to your windows, thereby letting in the air and keeping out the flies, and where curtains are used, use window shades that will exclude the light and heat. During the day wear a neat gingham dress and for evening put on a cool satinet wrapper, bath every day and get your hair, underwear, face, etc., from Arthur Schendelmyer & Co., who have matings at 8c and 10c per yard, lace curtains at $1 a pair and upward, window shades at 25c a piece and upward, gingham, percales and satines from 10c to 25c per yard. By observing the above hints you will have no trouble getting through the summer. Come to 108 and 70 Ohio st. for cheapest carpets, wall paper and dry-goods in Allegheny.

A NATIONAL MONUMENT

TO BE ERRECTED TO GENERAL GRANT BY POPULAR SUBSCRIPTIONS. Five Cents to be the Limit—Everybody to Have a Chance—Pittsburg as the Site of the Memorial—A Suggestion for Allegheny County.

A monument to be erected to the memory of General Grant, at a cost of $2,500,000, the latest scheme before the American public. The idea is gotten up by Lucius Briggs, a business man in the little town of Glasco in Eastern Connecticut. He does not ask any position greater than that of aiding in his own district the collection of the needed funds. A similar letter giving the details of his plan has been sent to the Governor of this State, and it is not expected in 1881, to those of the States that have since been admitted, and also to the Governors of all the Territories. The scheme is that on Wednesday, October 21, 1881, the President of the United States and Territories, opportunity shall be given every man, woman and child to contribute 5 cents each. That no one, however rich, shall be allowed to give more, except in cases of people being too poor to give even that small amount, then others in the same district or State should be allowed to make up the deficiency.

The territory has a population of 45,000, 000 and at the rate named the collection would yield $2,250,000, giving $250,000 for grading and foundations and $2,000,000 for the monument proper. The money is to be paid to the Treasurer of the United States and the whole supervision of the erection to be placed in charge of the President.

H. H. Bengough, of the City Treasurer's office, thinks the scheme entirely feasible, and especially proper, since New York is called in her efforts. He said only a little organization was needed, and the scheme would go easily. He suggested Schenley Park as a place for the monument, in view of the fact that Pittsburgh does not have any national monument.

W. J. Patterson, of the German American Life Insurance Company, a prominent citizen of this city, has also offered to aid in the collection. He said only one objection, he said, and that was that Pittsburgh should have the monument. We do not have any national monuments here, and yet we have one of the first cities of the country. By the next census we will have taken 500,000 more and have a population of almost a million people. I think we have sent out enough money to build monuments in other cities. If the same plan were carried out in every county we would have as the lowest limit we could have an average collection of 25 cents for each person. This would give us $125,000 with which we could build a monument in every county. General Grant in Schenley Park. The Sons of Veterans, the Veteran Legion and the G. A. R. would all push such a scheme.
