of an Experiment.

Dolpre of Labor and Industrial Circles Told in Short and Pithy Paragraphs.

The settlement of the strike at the National Tube Works, at McKeesport, yesterday, and threatened trouble in other trades, has opened up a discussion as to the relative merits of arbitration as a means of settling disputes between capital and labor. The attitude of THE DISPATCH in regard proved by quite a number of labor leaders, who have had personal experiences in arbitrating disputes. John Flannery, of the Trades Journal, and ex-Secretary of the Miners' Union, is a firm advocate of arbitration, on account, probably, of serving as an arbitrator on more than one occasion. When asked if he found it a good way to settle disputes, he said: "Arbitration was first tried in this city in 1883, when there was considerable friction between the coal operators and miners. It was first tried as an experiment and the first committee disagreed. I was Secretary of the Miners' Association at the time and after I had recovered from a three weeks' attack of illness I sent a CHALLENGE TO THE OPERATORS. to meet the miners' committee and form a board of arbitration under the voluntary trade tribunal act, which had at that time just become a law. The prospects were that a big strike would be inaugurated, and as the miners had everything to lose, I thought something must be done quickly. Public opinion was with us and after considerable difficulty the operators met us. John R. McCune, the well-known banker, who is now dead, was chosen as umpire, and Judge Collier fixed up the documents so that the deliberations of the board would be binding. After considerable discussion, Umpire Mc-Cune awarded the miners 25 cents more than they were getting, having split the demand for an advance of 50 cents. The miners went to work, and things ran along smoothly for two years, when trouble occurred again. This time Joseph D. Weeks was the umpire and rendered a good decision in favor of the miners. The latter refused to accept the umpire's award and went on strike.

SORRY FOR NOT ACCEPTING IT. "In a short time they were sorry for not accepting the terms of the arbitrator, and had to return to work at the terms of the operators. We now settle our differences by holding a joint conterence each year, which terence is the outcome of the arbitration] board's proceedings, and from a small begiuning in the Pittsburg district, the idea of holding a joint conference has extended into and covers four States. When anyone tells me that arbitration is not a success I pity him, and think he has not read much. In other trades arbitration has not been given a fair trial, and if it was people would know Master Workman J. L. Evans said: "I have always been in favor of arbitration, we gave it a good show in the street-can

The apprentice question which has been bothering the plumbers for some time was finally settled yesterday. It was decided that the constitution be amended and that a Vice President be elected from each State. This Vice President will be the State organizer and presiding officer of each State Assembly. He shall have power to call a convention of the State locals when a Conference Board shall be appointed which ference Board shall be appointed which shall confer with a like board from the Master Plumbers, and they shall have the power to settle the apprentice question as to hours, time, wages, etc. This will enable each State to deal with the question as suits local feeling. The convention decided to separate the offices of Secretary and Treasurer. There were two applications for membership re-ceived yesterday from Canada; this now makes 53 locals in the body.

night, from Washington, in regard to the alleged Linden Steel Company frauds:

day that there were but 12 plates of the Linden Steel Company which bore forged stamps. The stamp forged was what is known as the inspectors' identification stamp, which is put upon the pieces trimmed from the plates, and upon the pieces trimmed from the plates, and with which the test is made. The person who used the forged stamp placed it upon pieces of plate taken from plates that had been passed, and substituted them for the pieces from plates yet to be tested. The work was very crudely done and was easily detected. None of the plates having forged stamps had yet been shipped, and two of them were easily se-cured and tested. Of the 12 plates in question, 10 were of the requisite quality and 2 fell but a little short. The only motive ascribed for the forgery is that the employe who used the false stamp was in doubt about the quality of his plates, and was determined to have them passed.

The Assistant Secretary of the Navy said to there was an ominous snap, followed by the sound of tearing cloth. The Colonel, who was wearing a sack coat, was forced to bor-row the Mayor's long-tailed Prince Albert to go home in. The party next went to the H. S. A. Stewart farm at Parnassus. The property is held at $700 an acre. It is located on a plateau 50 feet above the river front. The entire party were captivated by its appear-ance, and the Mayor, after his return home, said that if he was wealthy he would own the place within 24 hours for the simple lawyer, District Attorney and Judge, there had not been as large a June term of the Criminal Court as this one, and he had never seen the business of the court so efficiently disposed of. The business was never seen the business of the court so efficiently disposed of. The business was larger and more prompily attended to than be-fore, and he wanted to compliment the Dis-trict Attorney and court officers on the able and harmonious manner in which everything was transacted. District Attorney Johnston was well pleased with the court's acknowledgement of his labors. During the two months of the term 420 cases were disposed of. For the thorough manner in which the cases were handled and the expediting of business much is due to the new system innigurated in the District Attor-ney's office. The testimony in each case was prepared by Clerks Dorente and Johnston be-fore trial, and only the material witnesses were subpomaed, those knowing little or nothing of the case being weeded out. When a trial com-menced, the District Attorney had at hand a statement of all the testimouy and knew what the witnesses could testify to, thus enabling him to bring out the facts in a case clearly and promptly. By this means business was dis-posed of rapidly, saving time to the court and money to the county. All the Judges who have presided in the Criminal Court this year have expressed themselves as well satisfied with the new system. The Court will set to-morrow to impose sen-tences and hear surety and desertion cases. On Monday the argument list will be taken up, fore it is fair to presume that he waited for the cool of the evening. But the members of the Department of Awards go forth on their explorations in the heat of the day, and return to town footsore and dusty from clambering over rocks and tramping along dirt roads, through brake and fen and across sunburnt fields. Yesterday the party consisted of Mayor Gourley, Chiefs Brown, Bigelow and Elliot, Controller Morrow, Colonel J. W. Echols and Mr. H. S. A. Stewart. The two latter gentlemen went along to point The Court will set to-morrow to impose sen-tences and hear surety and desertion cases. On Monday the argument list will be taken up, and at its conclusion the Court will adjourn till the first Monday of September. It is the intention next term to follow strictly the rule laid down by Judge Collier, to the effect that all officers shall make return of their subpeans to the District Attorney, veri-fied by affidavit, except in such cases where the effects are necessary and material witnesses. In the court yesterday Judge Stowe set aside the verdict in the case against J. T. Stewart for maintaining a nuisance, in which the jury brought in a verdict of guilty, in opposition to Judge Stowe's charge. In addition to setting aside the verdict he not prossed the case, thus putting an end to it. out the beauties of their respective farms and their availability for Poor Farm sites. Both gentlemen bear the reputation of being experts in the art of lingual decoration, and it is said that their efforts in that direction yesterday were undoubtedly up to the high standard set by them for themselves. differences in 1886. The men were working 17 hours per day and asked for 12. Ex-Chie Justice Agnew was the umpire and the board was composed of five men, who awarded the employes the 12-hour day. Another case I call to mind was the trouble at the Pittsburg Tube Works about three years ago, which Eccles Robinson and two others settled satisfactorily to the men." STRIKES WOULD BE UNKNOWN.

Ex-Master Workman I. N. Ross said: "I have seen arbitration worked and it has always been a success. The last case I had was at Shoenberger's mill about a year ago, when I settled a trouble after arbitrating it for a whole afternoon. I think it is the proper way to settle all disputes and if it was practiced strikes would be unknown. A great many employers will say they have nothing to arbitrate, but if there is any difference of opinion between employes and employer it should be settled in this way."

The officials of the National Tube Works are greatly in favor of arbitration. At the recent strike of the unorganized men for a 10 per cent increase a few months ago the trouble was amicably adjusted by the arbitration board.

FLINT GLASS COMMITTEE

To Meet and Settle the Wage Scales for the Coming Fire.

The chimney brauch of the Scale Com mittees of the flint glass manufacturers and workers will meet to-day, in the rooms of the association in the Stevensou Building. It is not at all likely that any change of importance will be made in the present scale. A number of "moves" will be made by the other side, but none of them will be enough to quarrel over. The workers will be represented by President Smith, Secretary Dillon, Andrew Koegler, Steubenville, O.; J. E. Flinn, Pittsburg; and James McMullen, of Philadelphia. Among those who will represent the manufacturers are George A. Macbeth, Edward Hogan, of this city, and J. J. Gill, of Steubenville. The committee on the prescription branch will meet August 6th, and the shade branch two days earlier. The former will met at the Monougahela House this city, while the latter committe will meet at Philadelphia.

A NATIONAL TRADES DISTRICT.

Mr. Powderly Asked to Make Good His Promise by Forming One.

John Flannery, ex-Master Workman of L. A. 4907, salesmen, has written a letter to General Mester Workman Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, in regard to forming : National Trades Assembly of all the sales-men's locals in the country. Several years ago, while Mr. Flannery was Master Workman of L. A. 4907, Mr. Powderly promised the salesmen of this city that he would urge the national organipers to stir the members up about forming a National Trades Assembly of Salesmen. Every large city has one or more locals and such an organization would be of incalcu-lable benefit to the clerks. Mr. Powderly has evidently not done anything about the matter.

WHAT PITTSBURG CAN DO.

Another Large Girder Weighing Over 70 Tons Shipped to 'Frisco.

The Keystone Bridge Company, on an count of Carnegie, Phipps & Co., yesterday shipped another large girder to California. and it was probably the largest solid package ever shipped from this city. The girder was 105 feet long and weighed 140,770 pounds, or over 70 tons. It required three cars to haul it.

The girder is to be used in the construc-
