cals and moderate Liberals. A PECULIAR DEAL IN MALTA.

LONDON, August 2 .- The Daily News recently sent a special correspondent to inquire into the condition of the Macedonia province, which Greece hopes to obtain after the next war in which Turkey may be engaged. The correspondent, in the guise of an antiquarian, gained admission to the prisons and discover ed many unpleasant things, but wisely waited till he was out of the country before publishing anything about them. At Uskub this inquisitive gentle-man found a prison containing 149 cells and 1,811 prisoners, and seems surprised that 15 to 20 unhappy captives should be crowded into one cell only two and a half yards square, and horrified that very few prison-ers lived to serve their sentences in full. He is also indignant that prisoners should be tortured by being stripped, tied to a stake and bitten by ants placed on the naked body, but as Turks often say, European Christians are too fastidious in these mat-ters and too apt to interfere in people's business. The Sultan, who is once more the most worried monarch in the old world, will probably be asked to build new prisons in facedonis or to clean and improve the existing buildings, but he has money neither for building nor for sanitary work.

otoriety she has obtained, and has publicly expressed her opinion that Sir James Han-nen, the most dignified and austere Judge on the English bench, before whom Lord Dunlo's suit was tried, is a dear old chap.

Services in the interval, her price is too high for them. Lord Salisbury is accused of substituting in Malta the canon law for the law of the Queen, of allowing the Pope to decide the validity of marriages, religious or secular, of British subjects, and of conceding to such a decision a retrospective effect, thus empowering a foreign prelate to illegitimize children heretofore legitimate, but above all, and this in Liberal eyes is the crowning infamy, a provision has been indirectly made by which at some future time the Pope shall appoint to Bishopries within the British Empire only nominees of the British Government.

can, which is now being fiercely assauled by

The last named scheme is of course intended primarily for use in Ireland for the purpose of making the Roman Catholic hierarchy obedient servants to the powers that be. Mr. Gladstone made a great speech at the National Liberal Club on Wednesday night denouncing Simmons' mission, and its results, and the attack will be repeated in Parliament next week when the vote for the foreign office comes up for discussion.

A SECTARIAN WAR POSSIBLE.

Some Liberals doubt their leader's wisdom in taking this course, fearing that it may have the effect of fanning the latent fire of sectarian bigotry, but a great constitutional question is involved and must be raised, and Gladstone may be trusted to handle the difficult matter discreetly and in a statesmanlike manner.

The Tories have endeavored to make out that Errington's mission was on all fours with that of Simons, but their efforts to convict the Grand Old Man of inconsistency have so far resulted in an amusing failure. Mr. Gladstone is a master of verbal jugglery when he likes and past master in the art of definitions.

Americans can decide for themselves to which category the following explanation given by Gladstone in the House of Commons instnight rightly belongs. "Sir George Errington bore no diplomatic character whatever, but he undoubtedly conveyed and received information. His mission was not such a mission as to taking advantage of Sir George Errington's residence in Rome to correspond with the Foreign Office and to make known his views."

HE WILL PROVE IT.

The Tories yelled derisively when Mr. Gladstone, sonorous and dignified, finished his explanation. They will probably begin to appreciate the argument when next week, as I am informed, the Grand Old Man will prove from the Government's own "Annual Foreign Office List" that the only Ministers ever accredited to the Vatican have been so appointed by Lord Salisbury, viz .: The Duke of Norfolk, who was sent in 1887, and Simmons in 1889.

The Duke, as far as the world was permitted to know, although given full diplomatic rank and power, merely conveyed Queen Victoria's congratulations to the Pope on his jubilee, but there has always been a suspicion that he brought about the Pope's interference in Irish affairs, and Simmons mission was the price paid for His Holiness complaisance.

Of their scanty legislative store the Government have this week dropped more bills, but we are yet weeks removed from the end of the session.

England and France Must Respect the Monroe Doctrine in Argentine. INT CABLE TO THE DISPATCH.)

LONDON, August 2 .- Some mendacious Parisian journalists who apparently have never heard of the United States or of the Monroe doctrine, set a story circulating yesterday about an Anglo-French agreement to interfere in Argentine affairs by sending fleets to Buenos Ayres and landing troops there. There never was the slightest founda-tion for the story, which on appearance was promptly and authoritatively denounced as a pure fabrication. Something like £200,- a pure aboreation. Something like £200,-000,000 sterling is the estimated aggre-gate of British investments in the Argentine Republic, and the present estimated value thereof is about £150,000,000, but the British Government is perfectly well aware that European interference would neither increase the security or add to the value of these huge investments and Argentine will be permitted to work out its own destiny. A belief is strongly entertained here, among politicians and capitalists alike. that the country will drift into civil war and possibly into anarchy unless President Celman shall speedily retire or be quickly deposed.

The in-debtness has been on record about five year, and during that period the debtor had managed to pay only about $6. The person giving the mortgage was a widow, and she states that she used the money to pay the funeral expenses of her husband. A nante-belium debt is accounted for by a man who states that the money was used to pay for negroes purchased by his father before the war. Perhaps the most remark-able explanation was given by a man who ST. LOUIS, August 2.-J. L. Tacks, and make report to this committee at future meetings. Resolved, That we urge upon the members of this committee to be so appointed the im-portance of making their investigation as thor-ough and as prompt as they reasonably can. There was another set of resolutions presented, not so strong as the above, and the discussion was very heated. Al Martin, who had been slated as a candidate for County Chairman against any McDowell man, said he had heard that Mr. McDowell had been nominated by fraud, and if the resolution adopted went into effect, a Democrat would be the next Congressman.

Major McDowell was present, but the committee was so solid for him from the first that it was decided it would be useless to call on him, and he was therefore not asked to speak. The resolutions adopted were carried by a vote of 21 to 9. There are 30 county com-mitteemen. When the yeas and nays were called for on the resolutions there was not a sound in the City Council chambers, where the committee met, but as soon as the result of the vote was announced a mighty shout went up that was heard all over the city.

Chairman Cunningham has not as yet an nounced his committee of investigation. Major McDowell left for his home at Sharon on an alternoon train, and didn't care to be interviewed.

A dispatch from Sharon says: Mercer county Republicans are jubilant to-night over the action of the Lrwrence county Republican committee in indorsing Major Me-Dowell's nomination. The Major's friends now predict his election by a handsome ma-jority in November, even if a second candidate is placed in nomination. They claim that the Beaver and Butler county committees did not represent the sentiment of the voters, and that his vote in those counties will be much larger than expected.

A WONDERFUL SPECTACLE

In the Lake Prepared for the Odd Bellows' Demonstration in Chicago.

CHICAGO, August 2.-Arrangements are complete for the Odd Fellows' demonstration which commences here to-morrow. A grand stand has been built on the Lake Front Park which is hearly half a mile long and will seat 40,000 people. In the park are long avenues of poles on which hang hundreds of electric lights. When the great spectacular celebrations occur Wednesday and Thursday nights at the conclusion of the ceremony of the decoration of chivalry, the general-issimo will place his foot upon a switch in his tent and the electric lights will instantly be put out. By pressing another switch he will send the electric current through the wires that will fire the first piece of the great pyrotechnic display, causing a mighty cruption of fire from the shore of the lake and sending hundreds o shells into the air. It is estimated that there will be 50,000 Odd Fellows in Chicago by Tuesday.
