AFTER REED AGAIN.

The Resolution Providing for an Investigation of the Kittery Navy Yard

ADOPTED IN A MODIFIED FORM.

Republicans Declare That the Fresh Charges Brought Against the Speaker Are Only Absurd.

AN AIE-TIGHT ANTI-CHINESE MBASURE

Reported to the House Favorably by a Majority of the Committee.

WASHINGTON, August 5 .- In the House to-day Mr. McKinley, from the Committee on Rules reported (as a substitute for the Cummings resolution) a resolution asking the Secretary of the Navy for the reasons for the increase of the force at the Kittery Navy Yard.

In speaking to the resolution, Mr. Cummings, of New York, said that he rose in defense of public morality and public law which had been menaced by a high public official. The order increasing the force of the Kittery Navy Yard looked as though the design was to use executive power for partisan purposes. He commented on the fact that certain shops of the Kittery Navy Yard had been burned in January, and that the chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs (Mr. Boutelle) had appropriated money for their repair in the naval appropriation bill. He contended (and in support of this contention he quoted from remarks made by Senators Allison and Hiscock) that it was not in the interest of good government, of economy, or of the navy, to reconstruct these shops. Despite the remarks of these two eminent Republican Senators the Secretary of the Navy had ordered an increase of the force at the Kittery yard to reconstruct the shops and to re-pair the Lancaster and the Monongahela. Fifteen years ago a Republican secretary of the pavy had stated that the Lancaster was not worthy of repair, and that the Monon-gahela was in a tolerable condition with a speed of 10% knots. [Laughter.]

A GREAT EVIL. He referred to the great evil which would he referred to the great evil which would result from the introduction of politics into the navy yards; and, going back to the ad-ministration of Secretary Robeson, he com-mented severely upon the action of that official in filling navy yards with partisan friends just previous to Congressional elec-tion. He charged that the Kittery yard was used for political nurroses and quoted was used for political purposes, and quoted figures to show that previous to elections the list of employes was much larger than it was a month or two afterward. A majority of the men came from Maine, the home of Thomas Brackett Reed. He quoted at length from the testimony taken by the Whithorne Committee in 1876 to show that the policy of the Republican party had been to use the navy yards to expedite political ends. This policy was worse than the shotgun policy.

The Committee on Rules had reported (as a substitute for his resolution) a resolution which referred the whole offense to the offender himself (the Secretary of the Navy). The answer of the Secretary would be sent to the Committee on Naval Affairs, the Chairman of which, in an interview in a New York paper had characterized his (Mr. Cummings) resolution as the "most perfect rot imaginable," and stated that when their report came in that would be an end of the

AN APOLOGY NECESSARY. Mr. Boutelle, of Maine, said that he felt like making an apology for auswering the remarkable demonstration that had been made by the gentleman from New York. The gentleman in his search for sensations had worked himself up to a high state of ex-citement over the fact that the Secretary of the Navy had really possessed the hardihood to obey the mandatory instructions of the Congress of the United States.

In the remarks made and in the newspaper comments there was a strong implica-Maine and New Hampshire there was a purpose to practice the colonization method. He suggested to the gentlemas from New York that, though the elections generally were held in November, the Congressional election in Maine was held in September, so that if there were 10,000 men-whether clad in buckram or not-transported to the Kit-tery yard under the certificate of the Secretary of the Navy not one of them could vote for Thomas B. Beed or the Representative from New Hampshire. [Applause on the Republican side.] The constitution of Maine provided that every voter should have a legal residence of three months at the place where he was to vote.

A PARTIAL DENIAL.

The gentleman from New York did him too much bonor in ascribing to him the exact words of a newspaper interview. The gentleman with whom he had had the conversation would bear him out in the state-ment that the whole tenor of his remarks was that the resolution offered by Mr. Cum-mings was that the answer of the Secretary of the Navy would be conclusive to every sensible man. He was free to admit that he did say to the correspondent that he could hardly believe that so bright a man as Amos J. Cummings had perpetrated so stupid a thing. [Laughter.] He had said to the correspondent that when he read the resolution he said to himself and to others, that it bore all the earmarks and imperiec-tions of one of Mr. Springer's characteristic flukes. [Laughter and applause.]
In justice to his colleague, the Speaker, he only desired to say, after all the feeling the gentleman from New York had piled up in his bosom over the alleged packing of the Kittery yard in the interest of Mr. Reed, that the greatest majority ever cast for Thomas B. Reed was 2,432 over his Democratic opponent and 1,628 round majority in 1888, when the navy yard had been packed by a Democratic administration. [Loud applause on the Republican side.]

The resolution was then adopted—yeas,

CHASING THE CHINESE.

A NEW MEASURE WHICH WOULD SURELY EXCLUDE THEM.

The Bill Reported by the House Committee on |Foreign Reintions-Chairman Hist Dissents Because It Violates the Treaty

Obligations.

WASHINGTON, August 5.-Represents tive Morrow, of California, from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, to-day reported to the House his bill to absolutely prohibit the coming of Chinese persons into the United States whether subjects of the Chinese Empire or otherwise. The bill proposes to exclude all Chinese, even those who may hereafter leave the United States and attempt to return, excepting diplomatic and consular officers and commercial agents. The coming of the Chinese to the United States for transit is expressly prohibited. A fine of $500 for each Chinese brought into the United States is provided for the punishment of vessel masters bringing them, and the vessels are to be subject to forfeitures. Provision is also made tor the punishment of persons aiding Chinese to enter the United States by land or otherwise, and for the removal of Chinese found and well with the country.

wise, and for the removal of Chinese found unlawfully in the country. It is further provided that Chinese shall not be admitted to citizenship, and that conflicting treaty provisions shall be abrogated.

In its report the committee, after reviewing the history of past legislation, says that the act of 1882 had not long been in force when it was discovered that a systematic effort was being made to evade its terms of exclusion, and in 1883 there were landed at San Francisco alone 3,014 Chinese, including San Francisco alone 3,014 Chinese, including a large class who were without certificates, but claimed that they were in the country at the date of the last treaty. These were permitted to land under writs of habeas corpus issued by the courts. Many also came in as merchants—an excepted class. The act of October 1, 1888, provided against the return of the laborers, but did not provide against the coming of Chinese laborers who were never in the United States. The bill now under consideration proposes to settle were never in the United States. The bill now under consideration proposes to settle that question. It makes exclusion permanent and thoroughly effective. The report refers to a disposition shown to reopen the question of the propriety of exclusion based on statements that the Chinese are never found in prisons or poor houses and are peaceful and law-adiding. In answer to these statements tables are produced to show that in 10 years 27,165 Chinese were arrested in San Francisco alone, and a statement made by the chief of police is to the effect that the Chinese commit more crimes in proportion to their numer mit more crimes in proportion to their num-ber than any race in the city, that they are vicious and immoral and dangerous to the young of both sexes of other races.

Chairman Hitt presented a minority report dissenting from the favorable action of the majority upon the bill, as he says it is in conflict with a treaty now in force, to which the faith of the United States is pledged, and which declares that "The United States may regulate, limit or sus-pend such coming or residence, but may not absolutely prohibit it."

REPUBLICANS DETERMINED.

ittee Adopts the !Report Unsent

ing Breckinridge. WASHINGTON, August 5 .- It took ten minutes this morning for the House Committee on Elections to adopt the report drawn up by Mr. Lacey declaring that Representative Breckinridge was not elected from the Second district of Arkansas.

This would have been done last week, but This would have been done last week, but the Democratic members did not attend the called meetings and no quorum was ob-tained. By means of telegraphic notices, however, a full attendance of Republican members was obtained this morning, and the report was adopted with but a single dissenting vote against, that of Representa-tive Maish, the only Democrat present.

HEIR TO $12,000,000. SAN FRANCISCO SALOON KEEPER IN

The Story of a Great Estate-People Well Known in Theatrical Circles to Inherit It- The Bert Brothers Are the Fortunate

GREAT LUCK.

ISPECIAL TELEPRAN TO THE DISPATOR. SAN FRANCISCO, August 5 .- A few days ago E. G. Bert was making a comfortable living out of a saloon in the outskirts of the city. To-day he finds that he is heir to an estate valued at $12,000,000. Bert told his story as follows: "My father was French, his name being Etienne Gustave Bert. He emigrated when a young man to Philadelphia, and was known as Ed Bert. There are three of us in the family, Charles, Fred and myself. My father had an uncle in France, who was a very wealthy land owner and manufacturer of champagne, of whom I have often heard him speak, and whose favorite he was. Being born in America, however, we boys took little interest in our great uncle, and had almost forgotten him until the story of his having left a large fortune, to which our father and through him ourselves are direct heirs, come to us.

A lawyer named Schick had a large claim against the estate which he could not collect until it was administered upon. In order to save himself he instituted a search for the heirs and traced my father to Philafor the heir to Philafor the heir the heir to Philafor the heir the heir to Philafor the heir the heir than the found my two brothers. delphia. Here he found my two brothers, Fred and Charles, who are now in the the-atrical business there. He laid the matter them and advised procure proofs of their heirship and claim the estate. Fred, upon this, wrote to his son, Eugene F. Bert, who is a lawyer, to get from our mother, Julia Bert, all the information she can give. Mother knows more of tather's French relatives than we do, because he used to talk with her about them and especially about this uncle, and I think she will be able to furnish proof that will put us in possession of our Etienne Gustave Bert, after living in Philadelphia for several years, came to California in 1849, and was well known in theatrical circles here. He brought out the Royal Japanese troupe, the first Japanese who ever exhibited outside of their native country. With these he traveled through this country and Europe. In St. Petersburg his fame became known to the Emper-or Alexander, who sent his private carriage for him, and in an interview asked for a private performance of the Japs for the imperial family. This was given, and a purse of 5,000 roubles was offered to and a purse of 5,000 roubles was offered to the old gentleman and refused, whereupon the Czar presented him with a diamond ring. His sons have followed their father in the theatrical line, and are well known over the coast as managers of leading theat-rical companies. Fred Bert was for years manager of the California Theater and opera house, and the Oakland Theater, while Charles was treasurer of the California Charles was treasurer of the California
