AN ESSAY ON DRINK

Delivered by Father Elliott, of New York, Surprised the C. T. A. Delegates at Their Meeting.

THE PITH OF YESTERDAY'S SESSION

General Master Workman Powderly Did Not Appear, But Sent a Well-Written Paper on Labor.

FRANCIS MURPHY WAS A SPECTATOR,

Pittaburg Ladies Do the Honors for the Visitors at an Evening Reception.

At the convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union yesterday Rev. Father Elliott the head of the Paulists Order in somewhat of a commotion among the lay as well as the clerical delegates. The subject of the paper was "The Church and Intemperance," and before it goes on record Father Ellictt will revise his paper.

He began by saying that the words told of a great natural virtue and a great supernatural good. "It is asked by churchmen," he said "whether the supernatural doesn't and the supernatural doesn't somewhat of a commotion among the lay as General Master Workman Powderly, of the Knights of Labor, who was elected a Workingmen." He said:

"On one of the streets of Pittsburg will be seen a sulcon, the plate-glass front of which is worth $5,000, the bar and fixtures $10,000; the paintings and other decorations are valued at $7,000. Stand guard to the door for 24 hours and you will see New York, read a paper which caused the natural with the supernatural. To have a Christian we must first have the man, and before the supernatural can work, the natural virtues affect the human being. Temperance is the greatest and most necessary of the natural and physical virtues. WARMING UP TO IT. "The lowest degree of Christian life must start with some element of manhood, so, when a pastor finds a drunkard in his parish, he must antagonize it first and before all things else. Drink maddens the intelas the Catholic clergy open their eyes to it the better it will be for the Catholic people. If a priest has a drunkard in his congregation it is his duty to find him out and make him a sober man.

A PRIEST AS A LAUNDRYMAN. "It is not the duty of a priest to be a laundryman, but if my people do not keep TT HOPPER BROS. & Co.. 307 Wood st. themselves clean it is my duty to wash them. It is a sad commentary to see souls going to destruction through the back door of a saloon, and while administering the sacragreat August clearance sales.

Jos. Horne & Co.'s ments with his right the priest should close the door with his left hand. It is an unde niable fact that in too many Catholic communities you will find a handsome and costly pastoral residence surrounded by a drunken congregation."

Quite a number of priests commended Father Elliott for the stand he took and the bold ending of the quoted abstract, while others condemned the paper and said the statements were not correct and should not have been uttered. The convention was prefaced by solemn high mass at 9 o'clock in the morning by Rev. Dr. Wall, rector of St. Paul's. The other officers of the mass were Rev. Father Elliot, ol New York, deacon; Rev. Father Keating, sub-deacon, and Rev. Father Con-way, of the Cathedral, master of ceremonies. Archbishop Cotter, of Minnesota, was in the sanctuary. Rt. Rev. Bishop Watterson, D. D., preached the sermon. The church was crowded with delegates and visitors who listened with rapt attention to the learned

The Mayor stated that, while he was not a total abstainer himself—indeed he liked to drink a glass of beer at dinner—he could fully appreciate the good work done by the total bers in good standing throughout the country were read. Pittsburg showed up well, with 34 societies, having a total membership of 1,248. Nearly every city and town heard from reported a large increase on the past 1.248. Nearly every city and town heard from reported a large increase on the past year. J. Washington Logue, the well-known young Philadelphia attorney, reported for the Quaker City union. His report showed a total of 17,338 members, divided as follows: 53 adult societies, 6,166; Assistant Secretary and Transurer, 46 cadet organizations, 5,785; 37 ladies' societies, 3,598, and 16 girls' unions, with an enrollment of 1,489 members. The applause was deafening as Mr. Logue continued.

THREE THOUSAND NOT COUNTED. "This is about one-third the total member ship of the organization, and does not in-clude about 3,000 persons who are in arrears on the beneficial feature. We are extending the work through the Schuylkill coal region and soon expect to have every little country church studded with a society. I have also the honor to present $6,160 as Philadelphia's contribution to the Father Mathew chair fund. This is 48 per cent of the amount collected so far, and we expect to do better." Letters of regret were read from Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia; Bishop Foley, of Detroit; Bishop Maes, of Covington; Bishop McIntyre, of Prince Edward Island; Bishop Curtis, of Wilmington; Bishop Bradley, of New Hampshire; Bishop Van Dyver, of Richmond; Vicar General Sullivan, of Wheeling; Bishop Katzer, of Green Bay, Wis.; the work through the Schuylkill coal region

ing; Bishop Katzer, of Green Bay, Wia.; Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati; Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, of Boston, ex-President, and others.

While the reports were being read, Francis Murphy, the well-known temperance advocate, appeared in the hall and was ushered to a seat in the parquet. \ He listened closely to the proceedings and showed much interest in the work of the delegates.

at the door for 24 hours and you will see thousands of men passing in and out. Nine-tenths of them will wear the garb of labor; they will be workers in the mills and fur-naces that make Pittsburg famous, and fore-most, in the history of manufactures in the United States. If workingmen can build palaces where liquor is sold, why can they not build respectable homes for themselves? If they can afford time to ruin body, intel-lect and family in the saloon, why can they not devote part of the time to studying the question of industrial emancipation? Why in the land which their labor makes great and wonderful? "Our temperance men are not aggressive enough. They pat the saloon keeper on the back and tell him he is not such a bad fel-low after all. They will not hesitate to en-ter a saloon with a friend and take a 'soft drink' or a cigar. Every act of the organized temperance man's life should be in the direction of uprooting that which makes his society a necessity. There can be no three directions in the temperance cause. There are but two; one leads to a sober life, the other leads to a drunkard's grave. The sincere reformer will work as hard to cause his fellow man to lead a sober life as he will to prevent him from filling a drunkard's or a pauper's grave."

The report of Secretary Nolan showed there were 53,219 members in the organization in good standing. Since the last convention the unions in Baltimore, New York and Chicago ceased to exist.
