COLONEL HIGGINSON ON HISTORY.

His Lecture Less of an Attraction to the Multitude Than the Tableaux.

SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. LAKE CHAUTAUQUA, August 8 .- The crowd of barbarian spectators in the very height of their excitement over the furiou chariot race of Ben Hur and Messala could not have been wilder than the mass of humanity which tried to crowd into the Amphitheater this evening, to see the "Ben Hur" tableaux. Pious ministers, dignified professors and modest girls made a scramble for their seats that could not have been exceeded by the most enthusiastic college "cape rush." The management have decided that at the close of the first half of the entertainment all those seated shall vacate in favor of those who are trying to balance themselves on boxes or chairbacks or to swing after the manner of a circus athlete from the branches of the trees. But the old-time Chautauquans do not like this idea, for they think that when they come at 4 o'clock, bring their suppers and wait until 8, their rights to a place through-out the full tableaux should remain in-

HIGGINSON ON HISTORY. It is rather of a severe reflection on those who claim Chautauqua as having the finest literary appreciation that so splendid a man as Thomas Wentworth Higginson should have 2,000 hearers, while five times that many are present at the per ormance of spectacular tableaux. His lectures, however, have drawn the very cream of the people, and their only wish is that the genial Colonel and able literary seer of Cambridge will again return to delight them. His last talk was on "How to Study History:" "It has always seemed to me," he said, "credita-ble on the whole to the brains we have transmitted to our children that they dislike the study of history, as it is commonly presented to them. I think the dislike does them credit, and we certainly cannot complain, because in most cases the dislike has been hereditary, whether the brains have been or not. The father and mother are generally very faithful in urging the study of history upon their children.

"The lather brings home from the town library the first volume of the history of the United States and says to his son: 'Here, my son, is the first volume of the history of your country. I wish you would read it, and when you are through with this there are nine more volumes just like it.' Then the father turns to his newspaper and the mother takes up her volume of 'Ben Hur' for her thirty-fith perusal, with a feeling of entire satisfaction that they have done their duty to their son and beir and to historical MISTARES IN TEACHING. "There is too much of a tendency to cram into the head of the child a lot of facts which you cannot easily learn and remem-ber, and much less can be. We know of ool teachers who make a dozen columns fiction interesting. Build up stories and facts about certain events."

Mr. Higginson closed his talk by a very beautiful aliusion to his thoughts as he stood upon the battlefield of Gettysburg. How he imagined that gallant charge of Pickett's splendid soldiery into the very iaws of death. Too often in our celebra tions of the valorous deeds of our heroes we forget the bravery of those who opposed them in stubborn contest. If such bravery as this is manifested in the cause of error when right shall be at stake we do not fear for the welfare of our republic.

Dr. Buckley, editor of the New York

Christian Mirocate, spoke on "The Preventable Causes and Unpreventable Causes of Failure." His principal talk was on the first-named adjective. The doctor is very bright and argumentative and has a generous vocabulary. He seemed of the opinion however, that every one could succeed.
"America is truly a great country, but, for all of that, there are a great many fail-ures in our land. It would be hardly possible to go into an analytical classification of the preventable and unpreventable causes ot failure. Failures are found in almost every family.

PRACTICE AND THEORY. "There are a great many lectures upon 'How to Succeed,' and the best one I ever heard was from a man who had failed in everything else but that lecture. What is it fail in life? If a man went to one town and was harassed by the officers of the law to another and was mobbed and to still another, was thrown into prison, and finally capitally executed, you would say that that man was a failure. But St. Paul did this, and he was a great character. Oliver Wendell Holmes went to England and was received with high favor, but John L. Sulliwan created a much greater sensation.

"When I was in Europe I had hard work to find the grave of George Eliot, but the crowd easily led the way to the grave of the English pugillet, Tom Sayers. I am not going to be grandiloquent, but I shall get down to hard-pan, common sense. When is a man a failure? When he cannot take care of himself; when everything he takes hold or fails; when he is weary of life. Some people are naturally too weak to live. They are neither self-reli ant nor self-supporting. The men is selfsupporting who can take care of himsel when he is directed, and the self-reliant man is he who both directs and supports himself. There are more of the unenergetic class of people, as civilization advances, and they marry young, and one of the same kind as themselves. They have not enough energy to live. In the savage race they usually die before maturity.

ANOTHER CLASS OF LAZINESS is that of no mental energy. They are the We find men with great memories, but no recollections. There is another preventable cause of failure, and that is poor health, which so many assume. Nine-tenths of the cases of sickness are preventable. There is a great deal in regularity. Some men gel regularity by continual practice of irregularity. Too many people give up at any little ailment and then die, and such people ought to die. The average man, who is breaking down, breaks down voluntarity.

"Two women beam on me every time they see me. They sent for me once to pray with them, but I told them they were practically fools, and they got up their energy and got well. There are a great many young men who do not get an underpinning. When Daniel Webster first entered the law a man gave him $50 to take hold of a complicated case. He took all of the money to buy books, and worked many days upon the suit $1,500 from a large corporation for writing an opinion based upon the same facts, which took him only four hours. He made an un-derpinning. Presumption kills men some-times, but despair oftener. The centripetal and centrifugal forces should be united. The impulsive man should cool himself, The impulsive man should cool himself, and the sluggish man should develop more energy. Be not too independent, be not too dependent, and thereby abuse your friends, Pepularity is a vapor. The multitude that applauds to-day will hoot to-morrow.

sider that we are here and be prepared to advance with unfaltering hearts and foot-atepa. Don't give up your boys under any circumstances. A mother said to me, 'My boy swears.' 'Madam,' said I, 'it is only the blowing off of surplus energy,' If you have self-conceit you are weak; if you do not have self-esteem, acquire it."

HOSPITALITY APPRECIATED.

A Valued Token From the Venerable Mothe of Minister Reid.

WASHINGTON C. H., O., August &. Mr. John Orr, of this city, came into pos session, the past week, of a peculiar and valuable memento-a quilt constructed of 1,236 pieces. There are 16 squares in the quilt, which comprise 976 pieces. It is not only a curiosity, owing to the great amount of labor spent in making it, but it is really a pretty piece of needlework. That, however, which renders the quilt of such value to Mr. Orr is the fact that Mrs. Reid, mother of Whitelaw Reid, the United States Minister to France, not only made the quilt, but presented it to Mr. Orr as a token of her husband, Dr. Reid, then living at Cedar-ville, Greene county, O., while on their way to visit Dr. Reid's brother, near Green-

It seems that Dr. Reid's vehicle, when approaching Greenfield, was stopped by the mud, and the two travelers were compelled to call upon Mr. Orr to lodge them for the night. Mr. Orr was keeping store at the time about four miles north of Greenfield. He made the unfortunate travelers welcome at his home, and, though he refused on the following morning to take anything for his generosity, the widow of Dr. Reid has never forgotten the matter, and in her 86th year she sends a handsome quilt by Mrs. Jack-son, of Greenfield, who had been visiting her parents at Cedarville, to Mr. Orr with her regards. There is something rather pleasing and novel in the affair, surely. Dr. Reid has long since passed away, while Mr. Orr's wife has died and he is married a second time. The quilt presented by Mrs. Reid to Mr. Orr was all made by Mrs. Reid herself during the last few months, and is a remarkable piece of workmanship for such

THE DAMAGED CROPS

Unsettle the Stock Markets and Send Up the Price of Wheat.

THE GRAIN SUPPLY DECREASED. Pig Iron Quiet, but Steel Rails Soon to be

Advanced in Price. DEPRESSION IN THE WOOL TRADE

NEW YORK, August 8 .- Special telegrams to Bradstreet's corroborate late favorable crop reports from the South and Southwest, and the rather unfavorable grain reports from the West and Northwest. Southern merchants at interior distributing points are ordering with considerable freedom, owing to the size of the yields of cotton, rice and other products. In California wheat is threshing out better than was expected, and it is predicted that, counting 7,900,000 bushels of wheat carried over, the State will have 33,000,000 bushels for export this cereal year. In Nebraska there has been a little improvement in the crop situation, but rain is still much needed. On the firmer tone of the money market, with some manipulation of rates and with the aid of reports of damage to the corn crop, the New York stock market was depressed and unsettled. Prices recovered slightly at the close of the week, though stock speculation continues dull and uninteresting. The wheat markets have been more bullish on crop damage reports, and prices are up 3 1/2. Indian corn has been likewise affected, and gained 3 1/2 per bushel, and oats, out of sympathy, are 5 1/2 bishes.

LESS WHEAT EXPORTED. Exports of wheat, both coasts, (and flour as wheat) equal 2,166,263 bushels this week against 2,272,858 bushels last week, and against 2,056,000 bushels in the like week of August, 1889. Cable dispatches to Brad-street's show that the world's wheat stocks decreased 383,000 bushels during July, 1890, while in 1889 they increased 2,835,000 bushels, Grand totals of wheat stocks (in bushels) here, affoat and in Europe on dates given below this year and last, were as follows: 1890—January 1, 115,022,000; April 1, 90,845,000; July 1, 69,185,000; Au-gust 1, 68,800,000. 1889, January 1, 130,-760,000; April 1, 99,382,000; July 1, 66,298.-

000; August 1, 69,133,000. European afloat and American wheat stocks decreased during the seven months ended August 1, 1890, 46,290,000 bushels, as compared with a decrease of 61,627,000 bushels in a like portion of 1889. Stocks of American affoat and European available wheat were larger on the first of each month this year as compared with like dates of 1889 until June, on the first of which month, owing to increased stocks affoat, the world's available supplies were larger than on June 1, 1889, by nearly 3,000,000 busheis. The like was true again on July 1, but on August 1, 1890, the total of these stocks is found to be 331,000 bushels smaller than on the like date last year.

HIDES AND LEATHER STRONG. A feature of the week has been the buoyaney of leather. Boot and shoe manufacturers have not thus far been able to secure a corresponding advance, though it is unlikely that additional orders will be taken at former prices. Hides, too, are strong. Cattle and hogs continue to come forward at the West, the former being 5c per cwt. higher than last week. In hog products there has been an active demand and firm Groceries and hardware staples have shown a moderate degree of activity. Mer-cantile collections, are generally slow, ex-cept at the South where little complaint is heard.

Pig iron is unchanged in price, although a few makers report a better demand. Steel rail makers, after consultation, announce that prices will soon be advanced $1@1 50 per ton; that while new orders are not pressing, the mills are fairly busy. Sales to date are said to be 175,000 tons ahead of lest year. Copper is unchanged in price, with continued tendency toward weakness. Rio coffee is %e higher on good demand and light stocks. Speculation is irregular and prices show little change. Refined augar is 1-16c lower. Drygoods are in increased demand. Business failures reported to Bradstreet's number 151 in the United States this week against 131 last week and 173 this week last year. Canada had 25 this week against 28 last week. The total number of failures in the United States, January 1 to date, is 6,355 against 7,032 in a like portion of 1889. THE STORY DUN TELLS.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of the trade says: Less favorable crop prospects, closer money markets and further delay in action on the tariff bill in the Senate hav increased the uncertainty which retards business. In spite of a sharp advance in wheat, corn, oats, oil and coffee, the general average of prices for commodities is a shade lower than a week ago.

The present state of trade throughout the country appears satisfactory for the season, and reports are almost uniformly confident in tone. Boston shows little present change, but belief in great activity in the fall. Wool is more freely bought. Cotton goods move fairly, and the supension in print cloth works is having the desired effect. Philadelphia notes no improvement in wool and scanty buying of cotton, lower prices being awaited.

Chicago reports smaller receipts than last year of wheat, flour and corn, a heavy decrease in cheese, but a much larger movement of cattle, and of hops, because of fear as to the corn crop. Wool receipts fall fi o a third and hides a quarter, while sales of degrands and alothing are larger than last drygoods and clothing are larger than last year, with prompt collections.

BUSINESS IN THE WEST. St. Louis notes strong trade in nearly all lines, Kansas City a fair trade for the season, Omaha and St. Paul a good trade, and Milwaukee improvement. At Minneapolis the lumber demand is good and flour stronger. At Detroit trade is equal to last year's, and at Cleveland satisfactory, excepting that lake freights are dull and depressed from oversupply of shipping.

Glass and coal are inactive at Pittsburg, but iron stronger.

The crop outlook is on the whole less promising. The speculative news gatherers are making the most of the damage to wheat and corn. Wheat has risen 31/2 cents, with sales of 28,000,000 bushels; corn, 31/2 cents, with sales of 1,000,000 bushels, and oats, 5 cents, while pork, hogs and cotton are un-Iron ore and pig are inactive and weak at Cleveland, but in rather better demand at Pittsburg, where the demand for finished iron is excellent for the season. The same is true at Philadelphia.

LOWER PRICES FOR WOOL A contradictory state of things is seen in wool and woolens. Trade is decidedly larger in the lower grades, but lower prices for wool and depression in the manufacture, especially of the all-wool and finer goods, in the belief that delay of the tariff and the heavy imports will prevent improvement this year. The fall of 20 per cent in wool should threaten a great supply of cheaver. abroad threatens a great supply of cheaper goods if the proposed change of duties fails, so that producers hesitate. The copper mar-ket is slow, with some lake sold at 17 cents. Tin and lead are dull.

The outlook depends largely upon the extent of injury to crops, the action of Congress regarding duties, and the foreign complications which affect the demand for gold. Domestic exports of products continue small and imports very large.

and imports very large.

The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number 208, as compared with 189 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 201.

DISAGREES WITH BLAINE.

PROMINENT CANADIAN THINKS HIS BEHRING SEA POLICY UNTENABLE. He Argues That This Government's Position

-Deminion Papers on Trade Relations. OTTAWA, August 8.—In an interview, Hon. William MacDougal, one of the best constitutional lawyers in the Dominion, gives his opinion of Mr. Blaine's position on the Behring Sea question, as set forth by official correspondence lately published. Mr. MacDougal says: "I think Mr. Blaine's contention as to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States over the waters of Behring Sea, is utterly untenaable. I assume that the position of the United States, as represented by the present administration, is fully stated by Mr. Blaine in his letter to Sir Julian Pauncefote of the 30th of June. I have read it carefully, and while I admit the good temper, lucidity of expression and tactical skill he displayed as a politician, I must, as a sometime student of international law protest against dent of international law, protest against his premises, as well as his conclusion."

Mr. MacDougal deals at length with the pretensions which Russia set up in Behring Sea, and cites authorities, including the great American writer, Chancellor Kent, to show that Mr. Biaine's contention is at variance with the universally accepted doctrine of nations. The Mail to-day, in a long editorial, says:
"Secretary Windom's reply to Senator Cullom's resolution of the 16th ultimo, is an intimation that the Treasury Department at Washington intends to deprive the Canadian Pacific Railway of the privilege which it now enjoys of forwarding over its line, in bond to points in the United States, merchandise brought by its steamers from Atlantic ports. It would be silly to affect to regard with indifference the actions and intentions of our neighbors in respect to these matters. And we cannot be surprised at them. So long as we pursue a policy of commercial hostility toward the United States we have no good reason to be aston-ished at nor complain of like treatment of ourselves by them. They have quite as much right to make themselves unpleasant as we have."

The Globe says: "The fount and origin of the hostility of Congress to the Canadian Pacific lies in our railway subsidy policy, which enables American railroads, built by private capital, to assert and believe that they are being assailed by a foreign gov-ernment that has transformed itself into a huge transportation company; in friction generated by the two fishery ques-ions, and in the estrangement which re-striction of trade between two countries, with mutually hurtful tariffs, must always tend to prejudice. At a time like this an advocate of peace is usually stigmatized as a coward or traitor. The Globe is quite willing to insure that reproach, if only it can secure a hearing for so good a cause. Let our Govern-ment, through that of Britain, go boldly to Washington and propose a settle ment of all issues in dispute, upon the basis of closer trade relations. If it fails, Canada will at least have the satisfaction of knowing that she has done her best to promote truer comity. Strong in that consciousness we could face in philosophic and patriotic spirit, worse than Mr. Windom or Congress could do."

DESTROYED THE PLANT.

Fire Wipes Out of Existence a Wheel Works at Ft. Wayne. FT. WAYNE, August 8 .- At 7 o'clock this evening fire caught in the engine room of White's Wheel Works and from the inflammable nature of the buildings and their contents, and remote location of the factory, was speedily beyond control. In an hour's time the entire plant, covering five acres of ground, equipped with costly machinery and surrounded with thousands of dollars' worth of material and stock, was in a bright blaze that illuminated the eastern wards of the city and attracted thousands of speciabrick walls of the main building the de-struction is complete. The works had been sold two months ago to the American Wheel Company of Chicago, which also purchased the N. G. Old's Wheel Works in this city and wheel works in Indianapolis and Terre Haute, Jackson and Kalamazoo, Mich., and several other points. In all probability they will not be rebuilt. The sale to the American Wheel Company was for $500,000. The insurance is $150,000; number of employes, 120.

Are we making 10 and 15 per cent discounts? Our
