LATE ADDITIONS TO THE HONOR ROLL

[FROM A STAFF COBRESPONDENT.]

LEXINGTON, KY., August 9 .- The recent rains have made the Lexington track

as fast as a bullet, and the horses quartered more base hits than any other man in the Players', National Lengue or American Association.

ALL the Cincinnati cranks are rejoicing over the fact that Bug Holliday has recovered the use of his eyes and bat and is lining the ball out in great style.

The Association contingent has six men among the first 20 batsmen of the Players' League, namely: Orr, Browning, Larkin, Bierbauer, Stovey and Shindle.

JERRY DENNY is not doing his usually good work at third base this season. He has made 33 errors in 67 games. He has fallen off won-derfully, too, in his batting.

derfully, too, in his batting.

BUFFALO and Cleveland are the poorest base running teams in the Players' League, and Pittsburg is not much better. The three teams combined have not stolen as many bases as either Boston or Brooklyh singly.

EX-MANAGER BUCKENBERGER, of the Columbus club, who was discharged last week, has refused to settle with the directors unless paid his full salary to November 1, the date to which his contract holds good, as he claims.

It would perhaps be wrong to say that Stein maliciously robbed the local men of the game yesterday. He doubtless tried to be fair, but of course hung toward his own team in cases of doubt. Thus he injured the home team, probably without any intention to do so.

UMPIRE McDerMott has been relieved by President Young of the National League, and George Strief, an old player, has been appointed in his place. McDermott was instructed to umrire two games at Cleveland, but be wanted him extra compensation and it was refused him.

HARRY STOVEY is playing a strong all-round game, and in base running he is surpassing all previous records. He has stolen 75 bases in 80 games, and 20 in the last 15 games. Harry's record last year in the Association was 115 in 188 games. His rival last season was Hamilton, of Kansas Citys, who stole 117 in 187 games. Hamilton leads the National League with 57 in 76 games.

MISCELLANEOUS SPORTS.

The Next Swimming Contest. The fifth competition for the 120-yard there are going like the wind. The conteur championship medal takes place at the Natatorium Monday evening at 9 o'clock. The four previous winners, P. T. Charles, John Taylor, Charles Isler and J. P. Fox, have been Taylor, Charles Isler and J. P. Fox, have been in steady training the past two weeks, and cach one professes the utmost confidence in his ability to win again. Several other speedy swimmers have entered the race, and it is very probable that the winner will turn up among the new aspirants to swimming fame. If the watch holding has been correct it is certain that the winner will have to cover the distance in about five seconds less than in any previous competition for the medal, which must be won three times by the same swimmer before becoming his absolute property.

Don't Want to Hear Bluffe. A deposit of $25 has been left at this office by Prof. McEwen, of the Natatorium. He says he is tired of hearing the bluffs of people about their swimming abilities. While he is not anxious for a race he is willing to swim any man in Allegheny county a race from one-half to five miles on any course, open water or bath, for $100 a side—open for more. He wants to hear no more bluffing, but if anyone is anxious to meet him the money is ready.

Rellly Comes Back at Corcoran. Eddie Reilly called at this office last night to meet Billy Corcoran but Corcoran did not show up. Reilly says it would be impossible for him to get down to 122 pounds, but that if Corcoran will face him at that weight he will knock him out in four rounds or forfeit $25. There is $25 at this office that Reilly has deposited saying he will make the above good. he will make the above good.

London Chess Tourney. LONDON, August 9.—The thirteenth game of the chess tournament ended in a draw. The score of the match, which will be resumed on Monday, is at present: Blackburn, 5; Lee, 2; draws, 6.

Sporting Notes. LONGRUN, Captain Sam Brown's colt, will not run before Sheepshead Bay.

The ex-boxing partner of Sullivan, Joe Lannon, is about to wed a South Boston maiden. He will probably retire from the prize ring.

SCHWELGER, the great hurdle and all round performer of the New York Athletic Club, is not training very assiduously for the championship meeting. His antics at a recent clam-bake were not conducive to good track work.

THE Chartiers Valley Athletic Club has elected the following officers: President, Dr. D. G. Foster; Vice President, J. A. Evans; Field Manager, Dr. W. R. Foster; Becretary, Andre Peake; Treasurer, H. THE Jennie V filly, as a yearling two years ago, could outwork all Captain Brown's youngsters at Mobile. She is a little delicate thing, however, and Rogers has had trouble with her in more ways than one, Thursday's race being only her second this season. The way she outgamed her opponents was in quite the style of a good one, although she did not have a very good lot to beat, it is true. Chesapeake seemed to find the 20 pounds extra, as compared with his Firenzi race, too much for him.

A GREEN GOODS GAME. windlers Fall in an Attempt to Catch the President's Son. New York, August 9 .- An attempt to swindle Russell B. Harrison, son of the President, by means of the green goods game, made about six weeks ago, resulted yesterday in the arrest of three men who occupied three rooms in the improved tenement at No. 484 Pearl street. The prisoners described themselves as Charles Morton, Joseph Barnard, known as "Hungry Joe, No. 2;" and James J. Daly. In the apartments where they were found there was scattered about circulars and alleged newspaper clippings showing that the priso-ners were well-equipped to carry out their ners were well-equipped to carry out their swindling operations.

The game being worked by the men was first brought to the attention of the Government authorities by a letter received from Russell B. Harrison, who sent to Chief Postoffice Inspector Rathbone, of Washington, a green goods circular which had been mailed to "R. B. Harrison, Helena, Mont." In his letter to Chief Postoffice Inspector Rathbone, Mr. Harrison expressed the hope that the matter would be looked into at once and added a remark to the effect that his reputation had apparently not yet been sufficiently well established to relieve him from the annoyance of receiving such mail

Chief Rathbone sent his assistant, Mr. Ja-

SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATCH. Mr. GRETNA, August 9 .- Robert Coleman, the owner of Mt. Gretna, will have expended at least $15,000 when all the work necessary for the proper accommodation of the Farmers' encampment shall have been completed. About four weeks ago a large force of men began clearing away underbrush to permit the erection of the necessary platforms for the exhibition of agricultural machinery and to open avenues for the accommodation of the tens of thousands of people who are expected to visit the en-campment. From eight to ten acres of wood-land have been cleared of all objectionable material, but no trees were removed unies their sacrifice was unavoidable.

Nearly 80,000 feet of lumber has been used in the construction of the platforms, the flooring of which is plain yellow pine. There are 16 platforms on the ground measuring 32 feet in width and 150 feet in length, placed in position at a cost of about $5,000 and these will be hardly sufficient for the proper display of the machinery that will be on exhibition during machinery that will be on exhibition during the encampment. Over 130 applications for space have been granted, but in many instances exhibitors were required to take less space than they wanted. Some of them desired an 'B ire platform, but had to be content with a length of 60 feet in order that all who have made application might be accommodated. The 16 platforms are said to have a capacity three times greater than those at Williams' Grove.

Manufacturers of, agricultural implements from 20 States have secured space for the display of their machinery. Among those which will have exhibits on the ground are all the New England States and all those contiguous to Ponnsylvania. The great agricultural

New England States and all those contiguous to Pennsylvania. The great agricultural States of Obio and Himois will be among those who will make creditable displays, and so will Georgia, Florida and other distant Southern States. When the holding of the encampment was first suggested fears were entertained of its failure because of the supposed disinclination of many manufacturers to cut loose from Williams' Grove, but to-day its overwhelming success seems sasured. The area cleared for the exhibit is covered with small trees running through openings in the platforms. The foliage is thete, and will afford ample shade to the people who visit the encampment. The platforms are built from one to four feet from the ground, according to the lay of the land, and are located near springs of cool and clear water, for which Mt. Gretna is noted.

An auditorium is in process of rapid erecwater, for which Mt. Gretna is noted.

An auditorium is in process of rapid erection in the encampment ground which will seat about 2,000. It will be a massive structure, covering an area of nearly half an acre. Rev.T.DeWittTalmage will dedicate it on Sunday of next week in the anticipated presence of thousands of people. Many families will camp on the ground during the agricultural exhibition, and hundreds of tents for their accommodation will be supplied from the State arsenal. The campers are expected to number from 2,000 to 3,000.

One of the objections to Williams' Grove has from 2,000 to 3,060.

One of the objections to Williams' Grove has been the presence of fakirs, who swindled the unsuspecting agriculturists. These characters will not be permitted to ply their vocation at Mt. Gretna under any circumstances.

VICTIM OF CHEWING GUM. A Child Dies as the Result of Swallowing n Piece of It.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.] BEAVER FALLS, August 9 .- On Thursday evening the 2-year-old son of William Turner, of Pulaski township, died of a sickness, the symptoms of which puzzled the doctors, and a symptoms of which puzzled the doctors, and a nost mortem examination was held. It was conducted by Drs. Fish and McKinney and the facts revealed that the child had died from the effects of chewing gum. A piece had lodged in its stomach and had adhered to the side, causing inflammation, which resulted in the child's death.

SLEEPING CARS AT A PREMIUM.

Lively Fight Between the Pullman and Wagner Companie CHICAGO, August 9 .- The fight between the Wagner and Pullman companies has made a mess of the transportation of passengers eastbound from Chicago. The Vanderbilt lines, using Wagner cars, have contracts for a large share of the Grand Army of the Republic excursion business and the crush has been so great as to render the Chief Rathbone sent his assistant, Mr. Jacobs, from Washington to this city, and the latter gentieman worked in conjunction with Postoffice Inspectors Hartshorn and Morris, to bring the attempted swindlers of the President's son to justice, with the rethe President's son to justice, with the repassengers for Boston leave Chicago standing in the aisles,

A trip to the various offices showed that it was absolutely impossible to secure sleep-ing car accommodations on any east-bound line for a week to come. In spite of the immense crowds, there is no question that various east-bound lines have indulged in rate-cutting. To such an extent has this cutting been carried that, it is estimated, 20 per cent of the whole business will be done at a cut of from $1 to $8 under the half-fare rate. Thousands of tourists and people with homes in the East have waited till the present time to obtain the benefit of the reduced Grand Army rates. These tickets are so numerous that they will flood the market until their limit has expired.

A PRINCE WHO BET.

Some Inside History Concerning the Youth of Napoleon III.

Youth's Companion. t Much light will be thrown upon the character and career of Napoleon III. by the memoirs, soon to appear, of Madame Cornu, who was the foster sister, the early playmate and the almost life-long confidante of the last Emperor of the French Certain anticipations of this work have already appeared in Paris. Madame Cornu, whose maiden name was Hortense Lacroix, was the daughter of one of Oneen Hortense's ladies of honor. She was a year younger than Louis Napoleon; she was educated with him at St. Loo and Arenenberg, and was his daily playmate as a child. Madame Cornu has said; "gentle, intelligent, and more like a girl than a boy. When we quarreled, he did not strike me—he bit me, "'I never struck you,' he said to me afterward. "'No,' I answered, 'you never struck me, but how many times you've bitten me!" "Not to strike, but to bite-that was the whole nature of the man.

As he grew older, Louis Napoleon be-eame a tacturn, moody, dreamy, even timid boy, who needed to be actually shaken by his young foster-sister Hortense now and then to bring him to a realizing sense of the world about him. He early became seized with the notion hat he was a creature of fate, and was being impelled to great deeds by an irresisti-ble destiny. He believed that he would fill more pages of history than his uncle, Na-poleon I., and that these pages would actually be more brilliant than those his uncle had filled.

When his elder brother died the idea took possession of him that he must work his way to the throne of France. "To this object," says Madame Cornu, "he would have sacrificed Europe, France, his best friends—his very seif." She declares that he did not possess the moral sense. He even cultivated his moral sense. He even cultivated his morbid, moody manner in order to give the world an impression of sell-contained, contemplative greatness, and trained himself to a trick of holding his eyes hair shut which was not natural to him.

His foster sister Hortense refused to sea.

him for 11 years after he overthrew the liberties of France, so great was her de-testation of that act. After the birth of his son, the Prince Imperial, she renewed her sequaintance with his family, but never entered into political sympathy with him. She had always a suspicion of his purposes and a vivid sense of his cruelties, derived in part, perhaps, from the bites which he inflicted upon her in her childhood.

THE WEEK'S ATTENDANCE.

Everybody likes to see "Old Ause" play ball, and 1,193 people were at Recreation Park yesterday to greet this man, who is supposed to be an honest, conscientious hall player. But before the game was over the 1,193 people in the park and several hundred more on sheds overlooking the fence had yelled themselves hoarse over the work of the old man's umpire. And Anson didn't say a word, as he was evidently well satisfied to have it go his way. McOuade was unable to officiate, and Anson put Stein in to do the work. The game was a very pretty one for four innings, the game at the opening of the fifth being tied. In the last half of the fi th five hits were made off Gumbert and three runs were earned. Then Nagle and Anson were caught off the bases and should have been out, but a wild throw by Miller scored both men and really lost the game.

After this inning Gumbert settled down again and allowed but one hit. Pittsburg took two runs in the sixth inning on Hecker's double, Osborne's triple and La Boque's sacrifice. In the last inning Berger was hit by a pitched ball, and, after La Roque flew out, scored on Sales' three-Here the crowd began kicking on the rank decisions of Stein, and even Billy Sunday lent voice in the objections. The worst confusion prevailed for 15 minutes, when the game proceeded. Gumbert was called out on strikes and Wilson flew out.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. CLEVELAND. August 9 .- It was not Pittsburg's day to win, that is certain, although Bakely was not using much steam. The crowd from Gas Town could not hit the ball safely. None of them struck out, but they popped fly after fly into the air that the Cleveland fielders gobbled up. Cleveland took Staley's measure early in the contest and in the first inning, by good hard hitting, krocked out two earned runs. Corcoran played like a man just out of a ginger factory. Some of his stops were marvelous and he threw the ball beauti-fully. McAleer gave an exhibition of fielding that was of the highest order.

Cleveland began the scoring in the first.

Stricker went out, but Delehanty hit for a base and Brown followed it with a double. Carney's sacrifice scored Delehanty and Brown Carney's sacrifice scored Delehanty and Browning came home home on Tebean's hit. In the third Pittsburg got a run on Visner's single, Beckley's single, and McAleer's fumble.

A base on balls and a wild throw by Staley put McAleer and Radford on the bases in the fourth, and Sutcliffe's sacrifice and Bakely's single sent them home. Browning hit for a base in the fifth and went to third on a passed ball. Staley and Oninn left the home plate un-
