Again, Alexander Selkirk, despite his monarchy over everything within the horizon's circle, was not in the same class with the man who can stand in his front yard and sprinkle the streets and everything else that comes within range of his erratic hose. The superlative complacency of the citizen who floods the shoes of the Wednesday evening visitor of his neighbor's pretty daughter, and then retires to the back yard to snigger, is something awe-inspiring in its intensity,

Having got his neighbors fixed, a petition and an ordinance prepared for the street opening and paving, the citizen will move upon the Councilman from his ward. This is an easy matter. A councilman is only too happy to present an ordinance in Councils. It gets his name into the newspapers, gives him the appearance of being a hard-worked public official, and as it is not necessary that he should deliver a speech on the matter, it saves him from disclosing on the matter, it saves him from disclosing his lack of elecationary talent. Councils having approved the ordinance and the contract for the work having been let by the Department of Awards, the Board of Viewers takes a hand in the matter, and charges up each property holder with his or her share of the expense. Of course there is generally more or less kicking about the cost, but the Viewers' report is finally com-pleted, turned over to the City Attorney for approval. When the work is completed the report is turned over to the City Treasurer, and he proceeds to collect, or at least tries to. Sometimes the Sheriff has to do the collecting, but whoever does it, the money has to be paid.

SHARING THE RESPONSIBILITY.

Property holders are held responsible for the entire cost of the first paving of a street, except under circumstances such as sur-round the Grandview avenue case. Where the paying of a street is of greater benefit to the public at large than it is to the property holders in the neighborhood, the city can assume a portion of the indebtedness. The amount is determined by the Board of Viewers and the City Attorney. The repaying of streets is a matter resting with the Department of Public Works. If the residents of a street find the cobblestones are rising up in their might and over-throwing the unwary and belated pedestrian they may make a kick. It annoys a good citizen who is returning home late at night and endeavoring to balance his plug hat on the rim of his left ear, when he falls over a loose brick and drops his latch-key and three dozen of assorted oaths. If the Board of Public Works fails to heed the complaints of the citizens they may go into court, and if they can prove that it is absolutely necessary that the street be re-payed, a mandamus will be issued upon the chief of the department ordering him to attend to the work within a specified time. The usual way, and probably the best, is to present an ordinance to Councils ordering the repaying. This prevents friction and is not so costly.

not so costly. In grading and regrading streets the abutting property-holders may be assessed benefits or may receive damages, according to the effect of the change of grade upon the property. All the cost, however, must be borne by the property-holders. Thus, where the cost of the work would encode to $5.5 cost front one man might amount to $5 a foot front, one man might receive $5 a foot damages, while his nextdoor neighbor would have to pay $10 a foot for benefits received. Sidewalks have to be laid and paid for by the property-holders, and the material must meet the approval of the Department of Public Works. If the property-holder fails to lay a sidewalk, the department may have the work done and charge it against the property.

granted permission to all Catholics to use flesh meat on Friday next, August 15, the feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin. Thursday, the vigil of the feast, is a fast day. The Holy Father desires that the faithful, as a compensation for this indulgence, recite the rosary according to his intention." The instructions are a little late, and will make little difference here. The reason the use of meat is allowed to-day is a desire to worthily recognize the feast, and on account of the ravages of cholera and "grip" in different parts of Europe.

The Feast of the Assumption is a holy day of obligation, and all Catholics are required to go to mass the same as on Sundays. It is a teast in memory of the Blessed Virgin being assamed or taken up into heaven, both body and soul, after her dissolution or demise, which is a pious and well-founded tradition n the Church.

A FOUR DAYS' PICNIC.

How a German Congregation Get a Trip for Almost Nothing.

On Monday next, the second annual excursion of the Smithfield Steeet United Evangelical Protestant Church will be given under the charge of the pastor, Rev. Frederick Ruoff. The latter left for New York last evening, but will return in time to take the members of his congregation on their four days' trip. About 75 people will go on the excursion, and they will be out from Monday to Friday. A year ago the idea suggested itself to the pastor of the church, to give an out-ing instead of the usual picnic. A trip was made to Put-in-Bay, and it was so suc-cessful that it was decided to have one this year. The total expense of the four days trip will be $10 75 each, which is about as low as it could possibly be. It includes bosting and 'bus rides along Lake Erie. For the past 43 weeks the members of the congregation who intended to go on the excursion have been contributing to a common fund to bear the expenses of the trip. Each one has put into the fund 25 cents per week, and the amount is so small that they would not miss it. Rev. Ruoff says the idea of taking such long congregational trips in this country is entirely new, and a longer one i assured for next year.

NO PASTIME FOR PAINTERS. The War Between the Rival Organizations

Is to be Continued. It seems that the war between the rival painters' organizations is to be continued. According to a Brotherhood painter, men in his order engaged in Morrow's shop on Penn avenue will strike to-day against the Knights painters, and so the fight will be prosecuted until one or the other of the unions obtain possession of the shop. It looks as if the warfare would be extended and likely to continue for a time. It is said that the building trades here de-cided to back up the Brotherhood painters, and in this event a good many new build-ings are likely to have their erection inter-fored with Oo the their erection inter-

Inster Pinsterers and Journeymen Confer-ring About Their Differences.

The committee from the Master Plasterers' Association and Jonrneymen's Union reassembled yesterday and continued their debate as to how a settlement of the differences between them could be effected, without arriving at a conclusion. The proposition advanced by the masters is that the journeymen shall enter into an agreement with them not to work for any masters who do not belong to the association. The journeymen are willing to agree to this—it the associated masters will agree to find employment for the disestablished men. This the masters object to. The con ference will be continued today.

It is claimed people are being driven away from that quarter of the city on this account. The property, it is alleged, is also being de-preciated in value on that account. The result of the traction road in reducing the fare to the East End to 5 cents is pointed to by the citizens as an inducement for the Pleasant Valley company to reduce the fare. The citizens claim that as it is cheaper to operate an electric road than a cable road, the pany has no excuse for charging such a fare.
