GATHERING SHEAVES FOR THE LORD

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 LEBANON, PA., August 17 .- The American Farmers' Eucampment at Mount Gretna, near this city, to-day listened attentively to a remarkable discourse by the great Brooklyn preacher, Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, who arrived here yesterday from the Chautangua, at Piedmont, Ga., where he spoke Wednesday last. The subjectswas one peculiarly suited to the vast audience, being on,"Farming a Gospel Type," I. Kings xix. 19 .- "Elisha the son of Shaphat, who was ploughing with 12 oxen before him, and he with the twelfth."

Representatives of the great farmers' asso ciations from all parts of the country are at the encampment, preparatious for which have been going on for months in advance. The surrounding densely-populated counties of Pennsylvania are also fully represented. To-day's services were held in the open air. An immense choir, from the churches of Lebanon, led the music. Rev. Dr. Talmage spoke as follows:

Farmers of America! Accept my salutation. Our text puts us down into the plow's furrow, where many of us have been pefore. My boyhood passed on a farm, and my father a farmer, your style of life is fa-miliar to me. One of my earliest recollections is that of my father coming in from the hot harvest field exhausted, the perspiration streaming from his forehead and chin, and fainting on the doorsill, and my mother resuscitating him, until, seeing the alarm of the household, he said, "Don't be frightened. I got a little tired, and the sun was hot, but I am all right now." And I re-member mother, seated at the table, often saying, "Well, I am too tired to eat!" The thoroughly rested until they law down in the graveyard back of Somerville, to take the last sleep. mightier ichthyosaurus or megatherium.

THE INDEPENDENT FARMER.

Office seekers go through the land and they stand on political platforms, and they tell the farmers the story about the independent the farmers the story about the independent life of a farmer, giving flattery where they ought to give sympathy. Independent of what? No class of people in this country have it harder than farmers. Independent of what? Of the curculio that stings the peach trees? of the rust in the wheat? of the long rain with the rye down? Independent of the grasshopper? of the locust? of the army worm? of the potato bug? Independ-ent of the drought that burns up the harvest? Independent of the cow with the hollow horn? or the sheep with the foot rot? or the pet horse with a nail in his hoof? Inde-pendent of the cold that freezes out the winter grain? Independent of the snowbank out of which he must shovel himself? Inde-pendent of the cold weather when he stands threshing his numbed fingers around his body to keep them from being frosted? Independent of the frozen cars and the Irozen feet? Independent of what? Fancy farmers who have made their fortunes in the city and go out in the country to build houses with all the modern in provements, and make farming a luxury, may not need any solace; but the yeomanry who get their living out of the soil, and who that way have to clothe their tamilies and educate their children, and pay their taxes and meet the interest on mortgaged farms-such men find a terrific struggle. And my hope is that this great National Farmers' Encampment may do something toward list-ing the burdens of the agriculturist. Yes, we were nearly all of us born in the coun

Noah was the first farmer. We say nothing about Cain, the tiller of the soil. Adam | stalk and mullen stalk will come up. Sow more to look on the face of dear old grand-father. Brush back the gray hairs from his brow; it will never ache again. Put him away in the slumber of the tomb. He will not be afraid of that night. Grand-father was never atraid of anything. He will rise in the morning of the resurrection. Grandfather was always the first to rise. His voice has already mingled in the doxol-ogy of heaven. Grandfather always did sing in church. Anything ghastly in that? No. The threshing of the wheat out of the straw. That is all. CAEING FOR THE LAMBS money; but when the crop had been gath-ered and sold for $100 more than any previ-ous year, then the young man took the hint as to what his father meant when he said there were $100 buried down in that field. Deep plowing for a crop. Deep plowing for a soul. He who makes light of sin will a soul. He who makes light of sin will never amount to anything in the church or in the world. If a man speaks of sin as though it were an inaccuracy or a mistake, instead of the loathsome, abominable, con-suming, and damning thing that God hates, that man will never yield a harvest of use-fulnes.

CARING FOR THE LAMBS. PLOW DEEP AND STRAIGHT.

CARING FOR THE LARDS. The Savior folds a lamb in. His bosom. The little child filled all the house with her music, and her toys are scattered all up and down the stairs just as she left them. What if the hand that plucked four o'clocks out of the meadow is still? It will wave the eter-nal triumph. What if the voice that made music in the home is still? It will sing the plucked home. Put a while space in one When I was a boy I plowed a field with a team of spirited horses. I plowed it very quickly. Once in awhile I passed over some of the sod without turning it, but I did not jerk back the plow with its ratiling clevises. I thought it made no difference. After awhile my father came along and said: "When this will came do: this in't plowed eternal hosanna. Put a white rose in one hand, and a red rose in the other hand, and a wreath of orange blossoms on the brow; the white flower for the victory, the red flower for the Savior's sacrifice, the Why, this will never do; this isn't plowed deep enough; there you have missed this and you have missed that." And he plowed and you have missed that." And he plowed it over again. The difficulty with a great many people is that they are only scratched with conviction when the subsoil plow of God's truth ought to be put in up to the the red flower for the Savior's sacrifice, the orange blossoms for her marriage day. Any-thing ghastly about that? Oh, no. The sun went down and the flower shut. The whent threshed out of the straw. "Dear Lord, give me sleep," said a dying boy; the son of one of my elders, "Dear Lord, give me sleep." And he closed his eyes and awoke in glory. Hence, W Longfallow writing a letter of My word is to all Sabbath school teach ers, to all parents, to all Christian work-ers-plow deep! And if in your own per-sonal experience you are apt to take a lenient view of the sinful side of your na-Heary W. Longfellow, writing a letter of condolence to those parents asid: "Those last words were beautifully poetic. "Dear Lord, give me sleep." ture, put down into your soul the ten com-mandments, which reveal the holiness of God, and that sharp and glittering coulter will turn up your soal to the deepest depths. If a man preaches to you that you are only a little out of order by reason of sin and that you need only a little fixing up, he deord, give me sleep." "Twas not in cruelty, not in wrath That the reaper came that day; "Twas au angel that visited the earth And took the flower away.

So it may be with us when our work is all that you need only a little fixing up, he de-ceives! You have suffered an appalling in-jury by reason of sin. There are quick poisons and slow poisons, but the druggist could give you one drop that would kill the body. And sin is like that drug; so viru-lent, so poisonous, so fatal that one drop is even the bill the sun! done. "Dear Lord, give me sleep." I have one more thought to present. I have spoken of the plowing, of the sowing, of the harrowing, of the reaping, of the threshing. I must now speak a moment of the measure the garnering. Where is the garner? Need I tell you? enough to kill the soul. Deep plowing for a crop. Deep plowing

Where is the garner? Need I tell you? Oh, no. So many have gone out from your own circles—yea, from your own family, that you have had your eyes on that garner for many a year. What a hard time some of them had! In Gesthsemanes of suffering, they sweat great drops of blood. They took the "cup of trembling" and they put it to their hot lips and they cried: "If it be pos-sible, let this cup pass from me." With tongues of burning agony they cried: "O Lord, deliver my soul!" But they got over it. They all got over it. Garnered! Their tears wiped away; their battles all ended; their burdens lifted. Garnered! The Lord of the harvest will not allow those sheaves to perish in the equinox Garnered! for a soul. Broken heart or no religion. Broken soul or no harvest. Why was it that David and the jailer and the publican and Paul made such ado about their sins? Had they lost their senses? No. The piowshare struck them. Conviction turned piowshare struck them. Conviction turned up a great many things that were forgotten. As a farmer plowing sometimes turns up the skeleton of a man or the anatomy of a monster long ago buried, so the plowshare of conviction turns up the ghasily skeletons of sin long ago entombed. Geologists never brought up from the depths of the mountain mighting induces uncompared to the mountain to perish in the equinox Garnered! GATHERING IN THE SHEAVES.

But what means all this crooked plowing, Some of us remember, on the farm, that the sheaves were put on the top of the rack, which surmounted the wagon, and these sheaves were piled higher and higher, and after a while the horses started for the barn; and these sheaves swayed to and fro in the wind, and the old wagon creaked, and the wind, and the old wagon creaked, and the horses made a struggle, and pulled so hard the harness came up in loops of leather on their back, and when the front wheel struck the elevated floor of the barn, it seemed as if the load would go no farther, until the workmen gave a great shout, and then with one hast tremendous strain, the horses pulled in the load; then they were unharnessed, and forkful after forkful of grain fell into the mow. O my friends, our getting into heaven may be a pull, a hard pull, a very hard pull; but these sheaves are bound to go in. The Lord of the harvest has promised it. I see the load at last coming in the door of the beavenly garner. The sheaves of the Christian soll sway these crooked furrows, the repentance that amounts to nothing, the repentance that ends in nothing? Men groan over their sins, Some of us remember, on the farm, that the sheaves were put on the top of the rack, but get no better. They weep, but their tears are not counted. They get convicted, but not converted. What is the reason? I remember that on the farm we set a standard with a red flag at the other end of the field. We kept our eye on that. We aimed at that. We plowed up to that. Losing sight of that we made a crooked furrow. Keeping our eyes on that we made a straight furrow. Now in this matter of conviction we must have some standard to guide us. It is a red standard that God has set at the other end of the field. It is the cross. Keeping your eye on that you will make straight furrow. Losing sight of it you will make a crocked turrow. Plow up to the cross. Aim not at either end of the horizontal piece of the cross, but at the upright piece, at the center of it, the heart of the Son of God who bore in the door of the beavenly garner. The sheaves of the Christian soul sway to and fro in the wind of death, and the old your sins and made satisfaction. Crying and weeping will not bring you through. "Him hath God exalted to be a Prince and to and iro in the wind of death, and the old body creaks under the load, and as the load strikes the floor of the celestial garner, it seems as if it can go no farther. It is the last struggle, until the voices of angels and the voices of our departed kindred and the welcoming voice of God shall send the har-vest selling into the standard the hara Savior to give repentance." Oh, plow up Again, I remark, in grace as in the field there must be a sowing. In the autumnal weather you find the farmer going across the field at a stride of about 23 inches, and vest rolling into the eternal triumph, while at every stride he puts his hand into the sack of grain and he sprinkles the seed-corn all up and down the sky the cry is heard: "Harvest home! Harvest home!"

LIGHT HIDDS AND CALF SKINS OFF

OFFICE OF PITTSBURG DISPATCH, SATURDAY, August 16, 1890.

There has been a very active movement of cheese and creamery butter here this week. Ohio cheese has advanced 1c per pound during the week, and is firm enough to go still higher. The strike on New York railroads did not materially affect prices of New York cheese, but markets here have been strong in sympathy with the upward movement of Ohio cheese. Two of our leading jobbers report sales equal to 3,000 boxes of cheese this week, and more could have been sold if it had been in the market.

Wisconsin Swiss cheese is being gathered in by Eastern speculators in the assurance that prices are bound to be higher. For the first time since the advent of hot weather there has been some inquiry this week for country butter. A week or two ago fair dairy butter was slow at 7 to 80 per pound. Now it butter was slow at 7 to 80 per pound. Now it is active at 12 to 15c. The upward movement of creamery butter has had the effect of bringing oleo once more to the front. The finest grades of Elgin cream-ery are now selling at 24c per pound in job lots. Bumors of 25c could not be traced to a reliable source. The cash buyer would scarcely be turned away empty handed if he offered 25c. A leading dealer said: "This week has been one of the best we have had this season in sales of creamery butter." The drift of the erg market has been upward this week, and prices are firm at 18c for guaranteed stock. In provision lines a fair week's trade is re-ported. At the middle of the week there was a partial recovery from this drop, markets are in-dined to be weak. The consumptive demand has fallen off, as compared with last week, and markets are barely steady. Hogs dropped to $85 for selected one day this week at Chicago, and were slow at East liberty at 4c. Trade in Cerenis.

Reaction in Light Hides. The reaction to the boom in hides and calf-skins, predicted at the beginning of the week, is here. Dealers are not able to secure the prices of a week ago on light stock. Tanners are unwilling to pay last week's prices and dealers are unwilling to come down. Prospects dealers are unwilling to come down. Prospects are that they will be forced to concede. The difference as to values between buyer and seller is about 4c per pound. Time is in favor of the buyer. Heavy hides are steady, but mar-kets are not so active as they were a week ago. Harness and sole leather are still firm at the re-cent advance, and it is not at all probable that the reaction in light hides will reach the fin-ished product, for the reason that the latter did not advance in the same proportion as hides.

was a gardener on a large scale, but to Noah was given all the acres of the earth. Elisha was an agriculturist, not culturing a ten-acre lot, for in my text you find him plowing with 12 yoke of oxen before him, and he with the twelfth. In Bible times th land was so plenty and the inhabitants so few, that Noah was right when he gave to every inhabitant a certain portion of land; that land, if cultured, ever after to be his own D055 @$$101

OLD TIME AGRICULTURE

They were not small crops raised in those times, for though the arts were rude, the plow turned up very rich soil, and barley, and cotton, and flax, and all kinds of grain came up at the call of the harvesters. Pliny tells of one stulk of grain that had on it between 300 and 400 ears. The rivers and the brooks, through artificial channels, were brought down to the roots of the corn, and to this habit of turning a river wherever it was wanted, Solomon refers when he says: "The King's heart is in the hand of the Lord, and He turneth it as the rivers of water are turned, whithersoever He will." The wild bessts were caught, and then a hook was put in their nose, and then they untranscendental and unorganized forces. What was he sowing? The Lord Jesus What was he sowing: The Lord decade Christ 19 centuries ago planted the divine seed of doctrine. It sprang up. On one were led over the field, and to that God refers when He says to wicked Sennacherib: "I will put a hook in thy nose and will bring thee back by the way which thou camest." And God has a hook in every man's nose, whether it be Nebuchadnezzar or Ahab or Herod. He may think himself very independent, but sometime in his life or in the hour of his death, he will find that the Lord Almighty has a book in his nose. This was the rule in regard to the culture of the ground: "Thou shalt not plow with an ox and an ass together," illustrating the folly of ever putting intelligent and useful and pliable men in association with the stubborn and the numanageable. The vast majority of troubles in the churches and in reformatory institutions comes from the dis-regard of this command of the Lord: "Thou shalt not plow with an ex and an ass together." There were large amounts of property invested in cattle. The Moabites paid 100,000 sheep as an annual tax. Job had 7 000 sheep, 3,000 camels, 500 yoke of oxen. The time of vintage was ushered in with mirth of economics or insurance. They expect to reap in the next world. Oh, no! Now is and music. The clusters of the vine were put into the wine press, and then five men would get into the press and trample out the juice from the grape until their garments were saturated with the wine and had become the emblems of slaughter. Christ Himseli, wounded until covered with the blood of crucifixion, made use of this allnsion when the question was asked: "Wherefore art thou red in thise apparel and thy garments like one who treadeth the wine vat?" He responded: "I have trodden the wine press alone."

AN HONORABLE CALLING.

In all ages there has been great honor paid to agriculture. Seven-eighths of the people in every country are disciples of the plow. A government is strong in proportion as it is supported by an athletic and industrious yeomanry. So long ago as before the fall of say you have it so hard; you might have it worse. You wonder why this great cold trouble keeps revolving through your soul, turning and turning, with a black hand on the crank. Ah, that trouble is the grind-Carthage, Strabo wrote 28 books on agricul-ture; Hesiod wrote a poem on the same sub-ject-"The Weeks and Days." Cato was stone on which you are to sharpen your sickle. To the fields! Wake up! Take off prouder of his work on husbandry than of all his military conquests. But I must not be tempted into a discussion of agricultural all his military conquests. But I must not be tempted into a discussion of agricultural conquests. Standing amid the barvests and orchards and vineyards of the Bible, and standing amid the barvests and standing amid the harvests and orchards and vineyards of our own country—I want to run out the snalogy between the produc-tion of crops and the growth of grace in the goul—all these sacred writers making use of that analogy.

beaust the soul out of the body. Every sick-that analogy. In the first place I remark, in grace as in the fields there must be a plow. That which theologians call conviction is only the plow-share turning up the sins that have been rooted and matted in the soul. A farmer said to his indocent soul. "The son went to buried deep in that field." The son went to rooted and he plowed the field from fence to fence, and he plowed it very deep, and then complained that he had not found the

CROOKED FURROWS.

The largest denomination in this country is the denomination of Nothingariana. Their religion is a system of negations. You say to one of them, "What do you believe?" "Well, I don't believe in infant baptian." "What do you believe?" "Well, I don't believe in the newspace of the scient believe in the perseverance of the saints. "Well, now tell me what you do believe? Well I don't believe in the sternal nunisiment of the wicked." So their religion is a row of cyphers. Believe something and teach it; or, to resume the figure of my text, scatter abroad the right kind of seed. A minister in New York preached a sermon calculated to set the denominations of Christians quarreling. He was sowing net-tles. A minister in Boston advertised that he would preach a sermon on the superiority of transcendental and organized forces to fire. After the sand is thoroughly heated the fire is removed, leaving only the ashes in the hole. The trunk and feet are placed in this hole and covered with leaves, and afterward with hot sand. In two hours they are done. All carcasses of animals which are to be cooked are placed on a block of wood and pounded until every bone is broken, care be-ing taken not to tear or bruise the skin. They are then boiled or roasted on an open wood fire or in hot sand or ashes, without removing the hide or feathers. The cooking is of a very inferior grade, the only spices used being salt and pepper.

side of the stalk are all the churches of Despite the fact that the day was anything but agreeable, yesterday afternoon a large number of people went out on the excursion boats. It would be deviating from the regular routine of some people's lives if they did not make a trip on the Ohio every Sunday. Faces Christendom. On the other side of the stalk are all the free Governments of the earth, and on the top there shall be a flowering millenium after awhile. All from the gospel seed of doctrine. An-other boat has entered the excursion business, such is the demand of the people for a day's rest on the water. There was only one packet boat out in the morning, which carried a good-sized crowd of passengers. The river is still at the height it has been ever since the wickels were raised, six weeks ago. I refer now not to a harrow that goes over the field in order to prepare the ground for the seed, but a har-row which goes over after the seed is sown, lest the birds pick up the seeds, sinking it down into the earth so that it can take root.

Bereavement, sorrow, persecution are the Lord's harrows to sink the gospel trath into your heart. There were truths that you heard 30 years ago that have not affected you until recently. Some great trouble came over you, and the truth was harrowed in, and it has come up. Again, I remark, in grace as in the farm
