

APPEAL TO HARRISON

To Rescue the Federal Elections Bill and Sit Down on Senator Quay.

PATRONAGE TO BE CUT OFF

From Those Members Who Vote With the Pennsylvania Leader.

HOAR AND EDMUNDS NOW AT WORK

They Claim the Majority of the Republicans are With Them.

A BATTLE RAGING WITHIN THE RANKS

Senator Quay called up his now famous resolution yesterday, but an objection being entered action was postponed.

ENLOE WAS ABSENT, AND A HUNDRED PRIVATE PENSION BILLS WERE PASSED.

The Tennessee Obstructionist Was Obligated to Go Home and Left a Poor Substitute—Perkins, of Arkansas, Preceded Himself a Resolving Speaker.

READY TO WRECK EVERYTHING.

They resent his aggressive interference to the extent of being willing to wreck everything rather than give up a management which they have kept in their hands for long years.

AN APPEARANCE OF CONFIDENCE.

The opposition to Senator Quay's plan appear to have gained new confidence today. They profess to feel assured that they have a round majority of the Republicans against the resolution.

ONE CURIOUS FEATURE.

It is curious and suggestive that the administration and the Senators who are now so earnest in pursuit of the elections bill have only discovered the importance of passing the measure within the last week or two.
