SPECIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATOR. BUTLER, August 18.-Inspector Greer's first annual report of the Soldiers Orphans' Schools of the State, under the management of the commission, reveals a very satisfactory condition of affairs. No children have been received into these schools since June, 1887, and, as a consequence, the number of children and schools are gradually decreasing. During the past year the Mercer, Mansfield, White Hall, Mt. Joy and Chester Springs schools were closed. It subsequently became necessary to reopen the latter school, which, together with the Uniontown and Harford schools, is under the direct supervision of the commission, who employ the managers, teachers and help, and furnish all the provisions and supplies. Children who could not be provided for in these schools were placed in St. Paul's Orphans' Home, Butler; the Tressler Home, Loysville, or the Northern Home, Philadel-

Loysville, or the Northern Home, Philadelphia, where the commission pay their board, furnish their clothing, and keep a constant supervision over them. None but children under 12 years of age are kept at the latter place. The health of the children during the year has been remarkably good, and they are exceptionally happy and contented. As a rule the clothing is very good. The supply of food is abundant and well cooked.

The facilities of the Butler Home have been materially improved by the erection of three new buildings. The whole institution is in first-class order. At the Tressler Home, Loysville, a new building is needed, and the appointment of a good male attendant is suggested. Uniontown passed inspection creditably save in the matter of discipline. The Harford buildings are old and insadequate and unsuitable, but they are the best that can be had for the present. The school is highly commended.

The commission has leased the buildings and mended.

The commission has leased the buildings and grounds at Chester Springs, and will have repairs and improvements made which will make this one of the best institutions of the kind in this one of the best institutions of the kind in the State. This school is most fortunately situated, being 30 miles from Philadelphia and convenient to a large number of children. It has 38 acres of ground, commodious and comfortable buildings, and an abundance of excellent water, With Chester Springs, Butler, Uniontown and Loysville repaired and improved the children of deceased soldiers will certainly be provided with good homes, schools and surroundings, and will receive such care and treatment as the people of Pennsylvania demand.

The inspector says: "I think the Legislature should open the door and receive such as are destitute. It is estimated that Pennsylvania, with a population of ever 5,000,000, has about 10,000 dependent children, one child to every 500 population. Would it not be well for the 499 persons to take charge of this child, clothe, feed and educate it, and give it such mental, moral and religious training as would save it from a life of crime and misery, and the State from the burden of its support as a criminal in after years? There are but 1,122 children on the rolls of the Soldiers Orphans' Schools. The list is becoming shorter every month. The number will soon be reduced so that two or three schools will accomdate all. Should the State see fit to adopt the Michigan system of keeping all dependent children, excellent locatious could be secured at Chester Springs and Jumouville," station on the charge of killing fish in French creek, by the use of explosives. The testimony at the hearing to-day brought out the interesting statement that Patton had invented a new method of killing fish, that for cheapness, destructability, and safety, will commed itself to those engaged in the unlawful practice of destroying game fish, if not to those engaged in the legitimate use of explosives.

Patton swore that he had filled a two quart bottle with unslacked lime, and then filled in a little water and securely corked the bottle. This he sunk in a hole where the fish were supposed to be in great numbers, and swaited the result. In a few moments there would be a terrific explosion, and dozens of dead fish would rise to the surface. In this manner French creek was being rapidly depleted of its game fish. Patton was fined $50 and costs.

WILY PLATT'S PLANS

Endeavoring to Arrange a Deal With the County Democracy.

THE MAYOR OF NEW YORK CITY

To be Traded for Five Seats in the State Legislature.

SOME OBSTACLES TO BE OVERCOME

NEW YORK, August 18 .- Another effort s to be made by the Fassett investigating committee next month to shatter the Tamnany wigwam. Searchers have been at work all summer in several of the city departments, and a sensation is promised that will be more damaging than the exposure of Mayor Grant's godfatherly gift of $15,000 to Dick Croker's little daughter. All this means, of course, that Senator Platt is on the warpath against the Tammany braves, and that he has the material with which to wage pretty hot fight against the wigwam. The Republican boss wants Mayor Grant's scalp, and Dick Croker's, too, and he doesn't care whose hands hold the knife so long as he guides its strokes and does the hair raising. Strangely enough he finds the strongest opposition to his plans in his own party, despite the fact that men like Postmaster Van Cott, than whom there is no more experienced judge of local politics, are heartily with him in his undertaking. The postmaster has come out openly in favor of county ticket headed by an independent Democrat, and he quotes the figures of pre-vious elections to prove the folly of trying to elect a Republican Mayor in this town.

ONLY WON ONCE. The effort has only once met with success and that was a quarter of a century ago. No Republican has held the Mayoralty since, and there will have to be some tremendous upheavals in matters political if one is to preside over the city's affairs for a good many years to come.

Platt points to the figures of past elections

Platt points to the figures of past elections to sustain his argument that no Republican can win. These show that Tammany Hall controls a full 100,000 votes for any Mayoralty candidate it puts in the field.

All the scandals that investigating committees may unearth cannot make any appreciable break in this solid phalanx of Tammany voters. The Republicans can muster between 60,000 and 70,000, and the County Democracy about the same number. County Democracy about the same number. Neither organization is, therefore, numerically strong enough to overcome the Tammanyites, though together they could do it, with several thousand votes to spare.

MAY BE FRUSTRATED. The opportunity to do it is ripe, and the who put integrity above polities in the se-lection of municipal officers. Yet the plans for a union ticket may be frustrated, be-cause there are a number of Republicans here who are ready to oppose any proposi-tion put forward by Senator Platt, no matter what the results to the party or the community may be. These men entered into an alliance with Tammany last winter, and through the exchange of Federal and local offices managed to gather sufficient strength to kill the World's Fair and our rapid transit measures in the Legislature, and they are now bent on putting a straight Republican ticket in the field this fall so as to insure a Tammany victory. All this to "get even with Platt. TWO IMPORTANT FEATURES. But why? The Platt programme insures two things: Republican Legislature, which means a Republican successor to Evarts; and second, the overthrow of Tammany in this city. The County Democracy, with 70,000 votes behind them, can insure the election of about five Republican Assemblymen, if, on the other hand, the Republicans will unite on a Mayoralty ticket. A union of that sort would command at least 125.000 votes, a figure which no Tammany candidate could touch. Thus, a substantial gain in the Legislature would be made reasonable. sonably certain, a fact which ought to be comforting to the half dozen Republican candidates for Senator Evarts' seat, for there is every indication that the Democrats will not be more than half a dozen votes behind in joint ballot. Of course, the cry is raised that the Platt men are giving away the Mayoralty for half a dozen Assemblymen; but, admitting this, what is lost to the party? Certainly not the

what is lost to the party? Certainly not the Mayoralty, for no sane man really believes a Republican candidate would have the ghost of a chance. The "Straight-outs" themselves don't believe it, though they profess to. Mr. Platt argues that if he can uproot Tammany and gain a few members of the Legislature he is getting ample reward for putting a County Democracy candidate in the Mayor's chair. A DETERMINED INDIVIDUAL.

At any rate, he is determined to try it, and two-thirds of the Republican district leaders are with him heartily. As these are the men who control the convention, it is difficult to see how the "Straight-outs" can hape to thwart him; but they are making great efforts to do so, and the fight for the mastery is growing more bitter every day. It may lead to a bolt from the party convention's indorsement of the union ticket, and nomination of a straight Republican candidate. Then matters would be mixed.

Millions of Vicious Insects Hover Like a Cloud Over the Two Cities-How They Do Their Work-Most Prevalent on the

Both Pittsburg and Allegheny suffered last night with a plague. About dark in every portion of the two cities there were great swarms of white flies or gnats. In many places, and especially about the electric lights, the air was thick with them. It was nothing unusual to see a party of a dozen people walking along the street with a dozen handkerchiefs punching into a dozen pairs of eyes to remove the insects which had taken refuge there. They dropped readily behind collars and made people hot under that portion of their dress. On the bridges they took especial delight in flying into girls' faces and women would be seen hurrying along with handkerchiefs so arranged that they looked like Houri who had just escaped from the harem of some noble Turk.

They had a decided liking for drowning themselves in anything to drink. They were not at all particular and were as willing to perish in the meek and harmless glass of beer as to end their lives amid the glories of a silver fiz.

On the South Side they were particularly many places, and especially about the lories of a silver fiz. On the South Side they were particularly numerous. Dr. Arnholt's office on Carson street became so unpleasant from the visit of the little pests that he was abliged to racate temporarily and dozens of others had he same experience. Toward midnight the flies began to disappear, many of them being killed by coming in contact with the elec-tric lights and under each light the ground was almost white with dead insects.
