Operations at the Exposition Progressing Better-The Opening Will be Brilliant.

Though the action of the Building Trades Council in withdrawing its members from the Exposition has had a serious effect in retarding the work of preparation, there were indications yesterday that a brilliant opening on Wednesday night next was not, after all, without the bounds of probability. Work was being pushed on all the stands, and all of them are in such an advanced state as to make it possible to finish them within the five working days left at the disposal of exhibitors.

Among the craftsmen at work were several union men who returned, and it was understood that others would jump in to-day and help at the final comp Several employers in different trades talked with last night were emphatic in con-demning the action of the Council in withdrawing its men at this juncture. Without exception, they are known to be friendly to organized labor, and one of them demonstrated this very clearly in a recent strike, but they were all unanimous in declaring that such a policy would only bring the management of the several bodies into disrepute, and earn for them ouloquy and reproach instead of support and sympathy. In Manager J. H. Johnston's letter of the 26th of August, to THE DISPATCH, & typographical error in the last sentence, made that gentleman say, "Let the merchants of this city, etc." It should have read, "Let the mechanics of this city do their duty faithfully, as we are earnestly trying to do OUTS."

PAPERHANGERS ORGANIZE.

They Attach Themselves as a Local Union to the Brotherhood Painters.

An organization of the paperhangers was effected last night at the hall of the Building Trades Council, No. 527 Smithfield street, They were formed into Local Union No. 185 of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators, with 35 members. Officers were elected and at the next meeting representatives will be elected to the Building Trades Council. The union is affiliated with the Federation of Labor and it is expected that in a short time all of the paperhangers of Pittsburg and Allegheny, num-bering over 200, will be in the organization. A number of the various locals of the two cities were present last night and guaranteed their support in building up the organiza-tion. The new union will meet every Thursday night and all of the paperhang-ers are invited to join. The walking delegate of the painters and decorators will also act for the paperhangers.

A Mutual Understanding Arrived at Be tween Moldors and Machinists.

The General Committee of the molders organizations of the district held a consultation with the Executive Board of the machinists on Wednesday evening and entered into an agreement on certain points. There are two firms in this city which are

There are two hrms in this city which are said to have taken an unalterable stand sgainst the demands of organized labor. These are Wharton McKnight, founder, on Penn avenue, and James Beese, machine works. Mr. McKnight did not accede to the generally granted receat demand of the derson. They are interested in a natural gas company, and desire to build a line six miles long from gas territory into Tiffin. For some reason they will not buy new pipe, but have come to Pittsburg to pur-chase a lot of second-hand material from the Philadelphia Company. An effort was made to see them last evening to find out what had been done, but they could not be found.

locked out. The journeymen declare they will not accede to the demands of the masters, and decline to work for employers not in the association. The proportion of the latter to the former is 70 to 30. The non-association employers are re-ported as contemplating the formation of an organization themselves, in opposition to the association. Three or four of the latter's members have withdrawn. THE LAUGH IS ON THEM

The Ormsby Switchmen Sent Back With

Fies in Their Eurs. Some of the switchmen at Ormsby station on the P., V. C., got it into their heads that Yardmaster Baumbaugh had resigned, and that the company intended placing a shortservice man in his place. Without inquiring into the facts they sent a communication to the Superintendent protesting against the appointment, and only then learned that there was nothing in the thing at all, as Mr. Baumbaugh had no intention of resigning. The other railroaders are now laughing at the hasty Ormsbyites. To Convene in New York.
