SHOOTING A WELL,

Ten Quarts of Nitro Glycerine Has a Most Wholesome Effect on Beck No. 3.

ACTIVITY IN MOON TOWNSHIP.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. CHARTIERS, August 29 .- A ten-quart dose of glycerine in Beck No. 3 had a salutary effect. The first 24 hours after the shot the well produced from 1,000 to 1,200 barrels, and, to use a vernacular expression, is still making a "right smart" production. The production of Vandergrift's Heiser No. 8 has also been considerably augmented by n light shot, and a gauge last night indicated the well was making 15 barrels an hour. This increase of production, however, is not likely to be maintained for any great length of time, and in a few days the wells will settle back to their normal condition. At the Arbuckle well No. 6, on the Arbuckle farm, the contractor is having hard tuck. The well is on top the sand, but further drilling has been stopped on account of losing a bit in the hole, which will require several days' fishing before it is re-

The Miller well on the Scully farm, is producing some oil from the 100 foot, but not enough to pay operating, and in eight or ten days the drill will find the Chartiers sand. On the Martin Cleves farm, J. M. Guffey & Co., are drilling in the 100 foot, with the hole full of salt water. This well is an experimental venture, and is important, as it is located one mile and a quarter west from Chartiers developments. and two miles east of Sill O'Dell & Co.'s wells at Groveton, and, will, in a measure, determine whether there is a connecting link between Chartiers and Groveton, or an extension of the Crafton pool to the north-

Up Moon Run.

Moon Township-The "stilly night" in Stowe, Robinson and Moon townships isn't so stilly these times. The chug-chug of escaping steam from drilling engines sounds strangely up the lonely gorges and glens which, until a year past, brooded in almost primeval silence, especially up Moon run, where 18 months ago one could almost conjure up the presence of satvrs and other mythologic creatures. The best of the rugged old oaks are being sacrificed to make bed timber for oil rigs, and squirrels peep fear-ully from their coverts, evidently won-dering whether they are being served with landlords' notices to quit.

A great deal of nitro-glycerine is being used in the wells these days. The Depp which has a good record, had dropped down to 15 barrels production a day. She has been shot, but had not yet been cleared of the debris yesterday. The Young No. 1, at Forest Grove, has got her third dose. She did not resume her 1,500 barrel flow this did not resume her 1,500 barrel flow this time, but is said to be greatly refreshed by the shaking up. One would suppose her sternal apparatus would be pretty well upset by this time. The Robinson well at Chartiers was shot yesterday morning and began flowing at a 1,500 barrel rate.

well to repay the trouble she has cost. When within 18 or 20 feet of the sand where the stuff was expected, the tools were stuck and the fishing job has consumed enough time to have sufficed for the drilling of a new hole. An attempt to cut the cable at the sinkbar socket resulted in cutting it some 60 or 70 feet above, and much trouble was had to get the remainder out. When the tools were grappled they could not be loosened by jarring, and since then the operators have been spearing. They had gotten within three feet of the bottom of the tools yesterday, and in a few days more hope to be able to tell what the venture is worth. This well is east of No. 1 and not far from the big Robinson gusher.

The big snake at the Murphy well, on the Nier farm, Montour Run, has been quiet of late and the drillers are going down for another sand, which will not have so much sult water as the Hundred-foot. Some peo ple think there is no further use for the serpent's guardiauship, and others think the late cold snap gave it the rheumatism. The party organized two Suadays ago to cap-ture it, has disbanded.

Millerstown to the Front Agnin. MILLERSTOWN-The excitement in the new fourth sand Wiles district is still increasing. Many new locations have been made and new rigs are starting. The extent of the field can only be ascertained as developments progress toward the north and east, owing to the number of dry wells, or generally conceded by practical operators that the field will probably be a second Armstrong Run, as the gravity and color of the dil and appearance of sand are similar to that once famous field.

Titley & Co,'s well No. 1 was finished ata depth of 1,620 feet, with a daily production of 250 barrels from the lower pay streak, and is holding up good. The well is over a month old and is still doing 115 barrels. Their No. 2, 200 feet east of their No. 1, reached the first pay streak and commenced formers by the state of 200 barrels are described. flowing at the rate of 200 barrels per day, when drilling was suspended for the want of incilities for taking care of the oil. It is expected that when the well is dritted into the lower pay streak there will be a material increase in the pro-duction. Westermann Bros. & Co, have drilled one producing third sand well down to the fourth on the south end of the Reep farm and have increased its production 35 barrels; and are near the sand on their No. 2 on same farm. Hunter & Cummings have also drilleed one of their third sand wells down to the fourth on the Kamerer, adjoin-ing the Reep, with an increased production of 60 barrels. They have located a new well 50 rods north of their producer. Westermann & Co. have also commenced drilling on their No. 1, same farm. Sheffield & Co., on the Kamerer farm, east of Titley & Co., expect the sand in their No. 1 on Saturday. The same company is also building two new rigs on their lease. Showalter & Hartman expect the sand on the Wiles by Saturday.

Triley & Co. are building four more rigs.

The field is located two and a half miles east of Millerstown on about a 45 degree line from Armstrong Run developments. Owing to the shallow drilling and nearness to railroad faculities, it will be a desirable field in which to operate.

In the Gas Belt.

MURRAYSVILLE-Activity marks the progress of operations in the Murraysville gas field. The companies interested here are desirous of laying in a beautiful supply of the caloric fluid before Jack Frost puts in an appearance, as they don't care to drill in cold weather, besides there is a saving in the cost of operating. The territory is holding up good, and the recent wells completed show only a slight falling off in pressure, so compared with the wells struck when the field was first discovered. The Equitable Gas Company, of Pittsburg, are extending their 24-inch main into the field. This company are drilling an eight-inch hole-all the way down to the sand, which is a little out of the ordinary way of drilling a gasser, but they exnect to be amply repaid by getting a larger flow of gas than is usually obtained in one well. The Saltsburg & Indiana Gas Company are drilling two wells on the Brant Hoover farm; the Pittsburg Plate Glass Co. are drilling one well on the Iddings farm, and are building another rig; also drilling one on the Barnes farm, and have a rig about completed. The Pine Run Gas Company will soon complete a well on the Alex McCutcheon farm, and one on the John Wuster farm. E. M. Hukill is building a rig on the Miller farm, which about winds up present operations here.

EMLENTON-In the Emlenton pool, Vesango county, the volume of work, as compared with a month ago, is not so large. At pared with a month ago, is not so large. At Squaw Valley, the scene of active operations a short time ago, there is only one well drilling, and that one by Peter Curry, on the Dr. Crawford farm. On Ritchey's run, Fuller & Donehue on the Krouse farm, finished a 20-barrel well a few days ago. The same parties on the same property are building No. 2 rig, and will swing the tools in a short time. Dyson & Co., on the Kemery farm, are fishing for a bit in No. 3. Earquhart & Levens have just completed an eightbarrel well on the James Ritchey farm, and Ramsey & McKee have a well in the sand which is showing for an average Ritchey Ramsey & McKee have a well in the sand which is showing for an average Ritchey Run producer. The fourth sand developments at Turkey Run are not as active as they were a month ago. The Venango Oil Company have recently completed a small well on the 'Squire French farm, while Wolfe & Morgan a short time since finished a duster on the J. O. French farm. On the Jones farm Agnew & Co. have a well drilling at 800 feet, and Fox & Panton, on the French heirs estate, are on top of the sand with a fishing job; the same parties will soon start drilling No. 4. Banham & Co. just completed a five-barrel well on the Masters, and Simpson & Co. are drilling a well on the Jones farm.

Thorn Run Wildents. THORN RUN.-Finegan & Downing have weighed anchor at Thorn Rus, and are not only hopeful, but firm in their belief that they are destined to emulate the example of the veteran operator, T. W. Phillips, at Thorn Creek, and make Thorn Run as famous as was ever Thorn Creek. The spot they have chosen to revolutionize the world of oildom is located two miles southwest from Sewickly and about the same distance from Sewickly and about the same distance southwest from Coraoplis. These gentlemen have a well on Thorn Run which has been reported dry, but, from all accounts, the well has been plugged, and never been drilled in. The parties are willing to gamble that there is good oil here, and lots of it, and at no distant day the trade may be greeted with a surprise. Mr. Finegan says Mr. Phillips had the glory of opening up Thorn Creek, but when he makes his ten strike at Thorn Run the honors will be about evenly divided. Mr. Finegan did not commit himself as to when the revelation commit himself as to when the revelation would take place, but the interence drawn from his interview was that it will not be long. That the taith in this territory is backed by works is fully attested by the fact that they have a rig built on the Mrs. Neely farm, one on the Wilson farm and another on the McClinton farm, all of which are located in the vicinity of their plugged

Two Test Wells. MANSFIELD VALLEY-A test well will soon be drilled on the farm of D. N. Lee, at Woodville, one and a half miles south of Drilling will be commenced next MANNINGTON-The correspondent at Mannington was in error stating that there had been 66 wells completed in the Mannington field. As there are only 13 produc-ing wells in the pool this statement would population. leave the inference that the other 43 were dry, when the facts are that only one duster and one gasser is the record of the field.

EAST BRADY—In the Hardscrabble dis-trict the Kangaroo No. 3 has been torpedoed and the showing is for a five or ten-barrel well. Hart Bros. own the well and the Risher Bros. drilled it to a depth of 1352 feet in 14½ days, which is claimed to be the best time in this neck o' the woods.

PENNED IN WITH A MAD DOG. HUNDREDS OF GERMAN IMMIGRANTS THROWN INTO A PANIC,

Savage Bull Dog Attacked by Rables in New York Escapes From His Master-A Crowd of Children Chased-Cornered

NEW YORK, August 29.-There was a wild panie among the 300 or 400 German immigrants who were landed at the Barge Office to-day from the North German steamer Lahn. A large and savage-looking bull dog was attacked by rabies in Battery Park, and entering the Barge Office, which was filled with immigrants, held the entire place in a state of siege for half an hour. Such a scene was never witnessed there before. The dog was first seen at 10:30 o'clock near Castle Garden, A tall, well-dressed man was leading him by a chain. The dog, dusters, on the west and south. It is now a large, powerful brute, with a savage-looka large, powerful brute, with a savage-looking face, at first appeared quiet enough and attracted no attention. He stretched himself out at full length on the walk, but seemed uneasy, and those who watched for the few minutes that followed saw him begin to froth at the mouth, growl and snap at the iron supports of the bench near which he lay. Suddenly he jumped to his feet. The chain was jerked from the owner's hand, and, as it fell to the stone walk, the doe, now thoroughly mad, started off at a dog, now thoroughly mad, started off at a terrific pace for a little group of children terrific pace for a little group of children who were playing in the shadows of the elevated railroad structure.

Some one shouted "mad dog" as the brute started away, and the little girls rushed wildly away, while the animal suddenly changed its route, and dashed into the Barge Office. Upstairs could be heard the busy hum of voices as the newly arrived immigrants filed past the desks of the clerks. Suddenly this hum ceased. Its cause was the dog that now stood at the entrance of the room, with bloodshot eyes and froth covered mouth. He seemed surprised, and for a moment stood still. Then he began to circle mouth. He seemed surprised, and for a moment stood still. Then he began to circle about the room, while the frightened immigrants, not heeding the commands of the clerk, moved back to the room through which they had just entered.

The clerks succeeded in penning the dog into the room and piled chairs and desks about the entrances to it to prevent escape. The dog, enhausted by its long run, lay on the floor panting, and a policeman secured it without difficulty and led it down stairs. For a few moments there was a panic in the building, but the immigrants were finally quieted down and business was resumed.

DUELS IN DELAWARE.

The Law Takes a Would-Be Fighter in

WILMINGTON, August 29 .- After three adjournments the preliminary pearing of Councilman Michael S. Sharkey on the charge of challenging Charles W. Edwards, charge of challenging Charles W. Edwards, a newspaper man, to fight a duel, was concluded in the municipal court this morning. Sharkey was beld in $2,000 bail for trial at the September term of the criminal court. The Delaware statute imposes a penalty of $1,000 fine and three months' imprisonment for the offense and the court has no discretionary power.

LAST DAY OF THE GRANGE PICNIC. Lecturer Girard Brown Rakes Up Some Legislative History.

THE SUPREME ISSUE OF THE HOUR

WILLIAMS GROVE, August 29 .- This was the last day of the grangers' pionic and about 5,000 people witnessed its end. Many of these were farmers who took advantage of the comparatively small crowd to examine the machinery with a view to purchases. General A. J. Warner, of Ohio, who is on his way to deliver an address at Gettysburg on the occasion of the dedication of a monument to the memory of the regiment he commanded, made a speech on the silver ques-tion to an appreciative, if not a large audience.

After speaking of the importance of accurate and fixed units of measure of weights, time and force, he said the most importan of all measures, that of values, had received relatively very little attention and its bearing on business was generally very imperfectly understood. The importance of the stability of money was not so great be-fore the creation of long time debta, but now, with the existence of such debts, the effect of the increase of the value of money was far reaching. It not only affected the price of agricultural products, but increased the quantity that must be taken for the pay-

A GREAT CRIME. The demonetization of silver, in 1873, he denounced as a great crime, and as having been productive of many financial ills. Oc-curring at this time, when the national debt was largest, the reduction of the quantity of money added from 33 to 50 per cent to all the debts of the country, and reduced the price of the average of all products, including land, from 25 to 33 per cent. This was the result purely of a change in the measure of values, not in the goods. If this state of things were allowed to go on, population increasing without a corresponding increase in money, prices would necessarily go lower and lower, and money rise higher and higher. higher. General Warner warmly commended Sen ator Cameron for his speech in the Senate in which he said that the fall in prices of products of land was due to the demonetization of silver and for voting for free coinage. Under the inspiration of the new silver bill that metal had risen from 95 to 120, and with it, as silver men predicted, all products, especially agricultural, had increased, wheat and cotton especially. These products in foreign markets came into comproducts in foreign markets came into com-petition with the cotton and wheat of Egypt and India, which were paid for in silver. As rilver bullion increased in value these products rose in price in this country.

SOME LEGISLATIVE HISTORY. In 1887 a bill of great interest to the farmers passed both Houses, but a reconsideration resulted in it being shelved. A hiseration resulted in it being shelved. A history of the lost granger tax measure was then given. In stating that the bill was considered by the Judiciary Committee, Senator Delamater ha smade a mistake as the Finance Committee (of which Senator McFarlane was Chairman), had charge of it. Corporations, through their representatives, resolutely opposed the bill. The opposition was backed by power and money, and every art and artifice were employed to compass its defeat in committee. But no argument was used which had force enough to deter any man from voting for it.

The session being near its end, he made a motion to discharge the Finance Committee and get the bill before the Senate, which was defeated. Senator Brown then spoke of the general revenue act of 1871, and told

WHEAT AND SILVER.

A rise of 20 cents in a bushel of wheat was the result of a rise in silver bullion alone. Nothing, he said, could be accepted as a final settlement of the silver question, but its restoration to its old place as a money metal on a plane of absolute equality with gold, and that the question was not whether there would be too much gold and silver to do the world's business and maintain a money of stable value, but what the world would soon be compelled to do to re-enforce the metals with some other money to prethe metals with some other money to pre-yent the rise of money and fall of prices in the future, as the world had experienced many times in the past. Money was most stable and equitable that approached nearest to supply proportionate to the increase of

of the State Grange, Mr. Rhone remarked that he would touch on some of the statements made yesterday relative to the disposition of the grangers' tax bill. In starting out Senator Brown said that as the Democrats and Republicans had their day at the picnic, it was his purpose that the grangers should have theirs. Ten years ago, he said, the attention of the Legislature was called to a bill contemplating a reform in taxation calculated to relieve the farmers. This measure met with no favor at the hands of the State financial authorities, and secured no legislative consideration. At another session a bill was submitted which was supposed to be exempt from the constitutional objections urged against the first measure. This bill was buried in the Senate.
