Sturdy Toilers,

CINCINNATI, September 1 .- Labor Day was observed here to-day for the first time, the Legislature at its session last winter baying declared it a holiday. There is not a general observance. Banks are all open and the Chamber of Commerce does not adjourn. Business houses generally are open. Labor organizations and trades unions united in a general parade, which, with unobstructed streets, was half an hour in passing. Probably 3,000 men were in line. They were well supplied with music and banners and made a good appearance. Mayor Mosby and city officers rode at their head. This afternoon a picnic at a Hill Top house with Representative Green, of Cleveland, as orator, will complete the pro-

ONE THOUSAND IN LINE,

A dispatch from St. Louis says: The delightful weather and the Mayor's proclamation declaring to-day a holiday have made the Labor Day demonstration what it promised to be-a great success. Nearly 10,000 union mer were in line, and after the parade they enjoyed the remainder of the day at Schneider's Garden in listening to labor agitators and participating in athletic sports. The best of quiet and order was maintained.

Labor Day is being observed at Kansas City by all of the local trades unions and labor organizations. The Mayor has declared a holiday, and in so far as it is pos-sible it is being so observed. A dispatch from Topeka says: One of the greatest celebrations that has ever taken place in the name of labor is making this a gala day for Topeka. Business has been suspended and great crowds of people were on the streets to witness the morning's parade, which excelled the most sanguine expectations. The procession was 20 squares long and was lined with numerous banners and floats. The parade was reviewed by Governor Humphrev and State and city officials. This is the first official recognition of Labor Day in this State.

Twenty-Five Thousand Turn Out in One Parade in New York and Twenty in Asother—A Legal Holiday in Massachusetts -Philadelphia's Celebration

NEW YORK, September 1 .- Labor Day was celebrated to-day in a grander style than ever. There were two parades, that of the Central Labor Union, which took in the west side of the city, and that of the 401 Smithfield Street, Cor. Fourth Avenue, Central Labor Federation, which stirred up the denizens of the east side. At least 25,000 men turned out in the latter, while the Central Labor Union marshaled about 20,000 men. The Socialists took a very active part in the East Side parade, and came out in force. The reviewing stands were at Union Square and Forty-second Styles street, and Fourth avenue, where a number lowest.

CRIMINAL COURT AT WORK.

The Grind Once More Commenced-A Num ber of Indictments Found-One Little Boy Who Did as He Was Bid-The Trial List for To-Day.

The September term of Criminal Court pened yesterday, with Judge Magee presiding. The first business in order was the calling of the grand jury. The members were sworn, after which A. H. Rowand, Sr., was appointed foreman, and Judge Magee proceeded to charge them. The charge was of the usual nature, requesting an impartial handling of all matters that came before them, and cautioning them to avoid prejudice and outside interference and to preserve secrecy. He remarked in particular concerning violation of the liquor laws telling the jurors that they were not to try cases, only to determine if there was sufficient grounds for determine if there was sufficient grounds for the prosecution.

At the conclusion of the charge the grand jury retired and the Court devoted its attention to receiving constables' returns. Nearly all the constables reported, and the violations returned were about the usual number and scattered among the various districts. Shortly after noon the grand jury made its first return, and court adjourned until this morning.

The true bills returned were: Frank Bedenkovitz, Braid Walton, Arthur Sayers, Owen McNaily, William Weish, larceny; Louis Meyers, larceny from the person; Frank Debold, aggravated assault and hattery; Edward Madison, felonious assault; John fittgerald, malicious mischief; Mary King, keeping a disorderly flouse.

The following bills were ignored: Michael Honan, Bridget Honan, larceny; James Curry, felonious assault; Louis Williams, assault and

FOLLOWED THE JUDGE'S ADVICE. What Happened by Allowing Sympathy to Prevent Paulshment. Charles Herline, a boy about 14 years of age, who was indicted yesterday for larceny, was tried in the Criminal Court last term. He was charged with horse stealing, and the evidence charged with horse stealing, and the evidence against him was positive, but the jury, owing to the boy's youth, found him not gullty. Judge Collier was indiguant at the verdict, and in discharging the prisoner, simply said: "You may go and steal another horse."

The boy did not take "another horse," but it is charged that he followed the judge's advice to a certain extent, and took a quantity of tobacce.

MR. EDWARDS SWORN IN. The New Assistant Postmaster Commence

His Work. A. J. Edwards came home yesterday from Atlantic City, and was sworn in as the assistant postmaster of Pittsburg. Colonel Hudson, his predecessor, has been retained as Auditor, which work he has been attend-ing to for some time. Mr. Edwards was at work yesterday getting acquainted with his new duties. He is a clever young man, very affable and popular.

An important change in the financial system of the postoffice has taken place re-cently, which has virtually created a pleasant and responsible position for a prominent member of the preceding administration. Pittsburg entered a new class in the listing of national offices at the commencement of the present fiscal year, and the fact that it is virtually a United States sub-treasury, with 1,400 offices making monthly returns of $150,000 or more, necessitated the creation of a new office in place of assistant cashier, viz.: "auditor" of the office. To this responsible position, with its attendant salary of $2,000 per year, Postmaster McKean has appointed Colonel T. J. Hadson, late assistant postmaster. Colonel Hudson is a prominent Democrat, but his appointment is of a civil service nature, and will please an army of the colonel and "Shringer". friends and "Spriners."

The Faults and Follies of the Age Are numerous, but of the latter none is more ridiculous than the promiscuous and random use of laxative pills and other drastic cathartics. These wreuch, convulse and weaken both the stomach and the bowels. If Hostetter's Stomach Bitters be used instead of these no-remedies, the result is accomplished without pain and with great benefit to the bowels, the stomach and the liver. Use this remedy when constipation manifests itself and thereby prevent it from becoming chronic. vent it from becoming chronic.

MORE CONVINCING TESTIMONY.

Among the extensive fruit raisers in the mburbs about Pittsburg, none are bester known than Mr. and Mrs. C. Coolbach, of Garrack. In a recent conversation with the writer, Mrs. Coolbach said:

"For a number of years I had been a con stant sufferer from trouble in my head, throat and stomach. I was constantly catching cold. My nose would discharge, and then sometimes be stopped up, so that I could hardly breathe through it at all, and would have to breathe with my mouth open.
"Dull pains in my forchead, over my eyes and across the bridge of my nose made me miserable most of the time.

Mrs. C. Coolbach, Garrack, Allegheny Co., Pa. "I would feel tired and worn out most of the ne. In the morning especially, I would feel as if I had no strength or ambition left. My throat became raw and inflamed. A cough set in and I breathed with labor and difficulty.

There would be an uncomfortable feeling of tightness or oppression across my chest. "But the worst feature of my trouble came on after the catarrh had gained a confirmed hold on me, and had extended until it affected me more or less all over. That was the condition my stomach got into. There would be a feeling of nausea and discomfort after eating. My appetite became fickle. Nothing would seem to taste good. I would sit down to the table feeling very hungry and a few mouthfuls would be all that I could not retain anything on my stomach. I would have dizzy spells and spots would float before my eyes.

"There would be pains in my stomach at night. Very frequently I would have sleepless nights. The trouble steadily grew upon me, and although I imagined at times I was better, on the whole I could see that I was steadily getting worse. on after the catarrh had gained a confirmed on the whole I could see that I was steadily getting worse.

"After I had tried almost everything that could be recommended without getting any relief, I went to Drs. Copeland and Blair.

"Their treatment in my case worked wonders. I eat well now, feel well, sleep well. In fact, I am quite a different person from what I was. I am very glad, indeed, to be able to make this statement."
