NOW COMES THE RUSH

Exhibitors Hustling to Get Their Displays in Readiness

FOR THE EXPOSITION OPENING. A Good Showing Will Be Made When the

Signal is Given, To-Night. SOME OF THE INTERESTING SIGHTS

The same energ and push that overcame great obstacles last year in getting things ready in a short space of time for the opening of the Exposition is noticeable this year. At the Exposition buildings yesterday, all was bustle and business from the word go. From morn till night, and all night long, the 1,500 workmen were busy and the different booths are being finished for the opening to-night, as if by magic. It cannot be said that the men worked harder than last year, or that the exhibitors have taken more interest in their displays. The secret lies in the fact that all have had experience from last year's efforts, and the work goes on smoother and more is accomplished in the same time. Again, greater effort has been made necessary by the delay caused by the strike among the workingmen.

A visitor who happened to stroll into the Exposition yesterday morning and then again at night, could hardly fail to be surprised at the rapid transformation. What were blank spaces in the morning were beautifully decorated, articles in place, machinery nearly ready to run, and all showing that the greatest effort possible is being made to have all in place by to-night when the signal for the formal opening shall be given.

True, many of the exhibitors will not bave their displays in a shape that they would like to have official judgment passed on them, but, with few exceptions, to-night will see things in pretty presentable shape. The glasshouse plant was all ready for business last night, the fires started, and all that was needed to complete the scene was the blowers; they will be on hand to-night. EXHIBITORS BUSHING THE WORK.

The machinery in Mechanical Hall is all on the ground, and is being put in place rapidly. At the same time that this work has been going on the employes of the Exposition have been draping the windows with bunting, with very pretty effect. The Westinghouse men were making all efforts possible to get their exhibit in place, and late last night the big electric sign outside the building was draped, and to-night the lights will flash forth. Another novelty of the Westinghouse exhibit will be a scroll of lights that will be lighted with an effect like changes that will be noticed in the main building. The space occupied by Heinz display inst year will be taken up by an ex-hibitor of architectural and mechanical irawings, under the supervision of the Western Pennsylvania Architects' Society. The exhibition of school work will be to the right of the architects' display. City Super. intendent George J. Luckey said vesterday killed; Contractor J. D. One of the novelties in the main building will be a Japanese garden house, built in Japan in pieces and shipped to this country. It is made entirely of bamboo and the fair imitation of a rocky cave with various wanderings and outlets. Steps lead up to the top from the outside, where there is another little bamboo house.

for a more lavish outlay of money than last The booths are all of unique designs and furnished with taste. The decorations of the building are also finer than last year. The new location of the band stand will enable all in the building to hear the music distinctly. Innes' famous Thirteenth Regiment Band arrived last night from New

NATURAL GAS FOR CHICAGO.

A Company Building a Pipe Line From the Indiana Field.

PERCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 CHICAGO, September 2.- If the plans of sertain large Chicago and Eastern capitalists are carried out, Chicago will have a supply of natural gas long before the opening of the World's Fair. The Indiana Natural Gas and Oil Company, which has just been chartered with a capital stock of $5,000,000, is ouilding a pipe line from the nearest available Indiana gas fields. The line has already been built southeast from the Indiana State line at Chicago, through three or four counties. It is the intention to supply the business and residence portion of Chicago.

The supply, of course, will not be as abundant as that of Pittsburg, nor as cheap, and there is a strong likelihood that the charges will be so high that nobody but private consumers can afford to use it, so that it will not place the manufacturers of this city on a level with those at Pittsburg.

Gas will reach here under Standard Oil apprices. At least, the Indiana commany auspices. At least the Indiana company has a directory composed of men who are generally believed to represent Standard Oil interests. They are John B. Cohr, attorney of the Chicago Gas Trust; F. H. Winston, another corporation attorney; Patrick A. McElwan, A. Hayes and Robert C. Bell. Gas territory to the extent of about 75,000 acres has been segured and it is understood that the Column cured, and it is understood that the Colum bus Construction Company, of Chicago, of which C. E. ### ROBBED THE TRAIN SINGLE HANDE D. A Musked Man Holds Up the Cannon Ball pany, is manager, is building the line.

Express. MOBILE, September 2 .- A daring train robbery occurred 40 miles above here this morning. The Louisville and Nashville 'cannon ball' train, northbound, had just pulled out of Flomaton, when a masked man suddenly confronted Engineer Sizer and covered him with two revolvers. The engineer was told to run his engine to Escanaba bridge, where the robber compelled him to stop, and then forced him to break in the door of the express car.

Messenger Johnson stood ready with a pistol, but lowered it when he saw Sizer.

Instantly the hidden robber covered the messenger and then compelled him to hand over the contents of the sale, while the fellow fired some shots to overawe the passen-gers. The masked thief then escaped. The affair looks like the work of the celebrated Captain Bunch or Rube Burrows. A posse is in pursuit of the robber. Charley Cass, the son of a wealthy merchant of Tacoma, Ga, escaped from Sheriff Curry, of that place, while the train stopped at Louisville. Cass was charged some time ago with breaking into the postoffice at Tacoma and was found upon trial to be in-sane. Sheriff Curry was taking him to an asylum at Washington, D. C. The boy caught the officer dozing, jumped off the a train of powder.

There will be a number of new things and train and disappeared among the box cars

SHE TRAVELED TO HADES.

But Her Physicians Don't Think So, and Her Sanity is Questioned.

St. Louis, September 2.-Two physicians filed a complaint in the Probate Court to-day for an inquiry as to the sanity of Mrs. Maria B. Woodworth, the noted evangelist. Mrs. Woodworth has been holding meetings here for several months, and certain members of her audience became possessed of what she terms "the power." Others think the pe-culiar mental and bodily state is due to hypnotism exerted by Mrs. Woodworth and that its effect is most pernicious.

The basis for the inquiry lies in the fact that Mrs. Woodworth has stated that while
