CORRESPONDENCE OF THE DISPATCH. Boston, September 6,-The eventful season of 1890 is drawing to a close, and one more week will wind up the fun in this city. Our pepulation is less than a half million, but we still lead the country as a baseball center. Think of over 22,000 people paying their little half dollar to see baseball on Labor Day with boat racing. trades union picnics, etc., as counter attrac tions. If every city could support two baseball clubs as Boston has done this season, with 58 conflicting dates, what a graft it would be for the future generation of ball players! We have had both Pittsburg clubs here lately, and more femoralized teams it would be hard to find. I don't mean to say that the players are not happy; I simply mean that neither club has happy: I simply mean that neither club has any confidence when opposed to the strong Eastern teams. Several of Hanlon's best men are on the hospital list, and the team is very weak in batterles. Staley is doing excellent work, but big Tener has been illiand in no condition to do himself justice. He did good work for Anson and he can do it again if he will just play ball and let the finances and correspondence alone. Pitcher Maul gets manled all over the lot at times, but he has pitched some very good games, his chief weakness is wildness. Beckley and Hanlon, when in condition, have played great ball, and young Corcoran has shown himself to be a tipyoung Corcoran has shown himself to be a tip-topper, who will improve with experience. I am rather surprised that Robinson does not smash the lively ball much better than he is loing. He is naturally a hard hitter, but he oesn't seem to connect with the delusive orselvide as often as his friends would wish Hanlon's men dropped three out of four es here, and they were actually surprised

o win a game, as the team they presented was very weak. They bucked against Cincinnati in this city, but they did a good business for a cam so low in the race. A GOOD DEAWING CARD. Comiskey's men have been the best drawing cards in this city, having drawn no less than 5,000 people in nine playing days. They had no holiday and only two Saturdays. Ward's it must be borne in mind that they opened the season and had a heliday-Bunker Hill Day.

The Pittaburg Leaguers failed to create any thusiasm here, and from a Boston standpo the attendance was very small. About 2,000 copie attended the series of four games, only 00 being present at the double game attracon. I guess Palmer O'Neil must be sick of muning up against Chicago as an opposition, or it must have cost him hundreds of dollars in Boston and Brookiyn, Comiskey's men drew into people here in their last series, and the hicagos were all similes when they oked at the schedule and found that looked at the schedule and found that three would daily again with O'Neil's farries in the sweet city of Brooklyn, where forme's League team has things its own way. Not so when Palmer's men reached the town, for Ward's Wonders had nearly 8,000 spectators on Labor Day, while O'Neil's men had to put up three games before 2,000 spectators. The Pittsburg players are not to blame for this sai turn of affairs; they are just as God made them—a decidedly dizzy combination of tinhorn ball players. There are a few men on the team who can play hall, but I am sizing them up as a whole club. I was sorry to hear that Mr. O Neil caught cold while gounning for robbers; how let him po gunning for ball players, and he may meet with more success.

uson, owner of the Cleveland club (P. is feeling happy just now, as he pulled off out $3,000 as his share of the receipts or ther Day. This is really the first streak of ick that the plucky Clevelander has been against this season, and he would have been happier still if Anson's team had not opposed him at the League park. Anson's team was really the best attraction by good odds, but the workingmen patronized the Brotherhood in grand style. The two Chicago games drew over 11,000 people, and Johnson's team drew within 200 of Anson's men. What a picnic Johnson would have if he had the Pittsburg League club as opposition!

PLATING GREAT BALL.

The Boston Brotherhood club are now wind-Ing up the season bere without opposition, and it looks as if Ewing's men will draw good it looks as if Ewing's men will draw good o'clock to sign articles.

"E. C. McClelland." Celly's men fear the Giants more than Brook lyn, and the Yorkers will be more formidable ian ever when Keefe returns to the fold. O'Rourke is all right again and his batting team. The Boston men are playing ball to perteam. The Boston men are playing ball to per-fection, and they never quit until the last man has been disposed of. Keily has been deing magnificent saick work against the Western clubs, and his timely hits have won several games. His gally friends are now thinking seriously of presenting him with a fighting deg, a pair of gaily caparisoned black horses, and a seventeenth century barouche. "Old Hoss" Radbourn who is a great sportymen doe, a pair of gaily caparisoned black horses, and a seventeenth century barouche. "Old Hoss" Radbourn, who is a great sportsman and monarch of all he surveys, is pitching ball that is really surprising the Boston natives. He fields his position in wonderful style, and on several occasions he has assisted a half dozen times to field men out. In the third Cleveland game he somediture in the third Cleveland game he somediture in the home plate. This may be a soft of the men out at the home plate. This means from West Alexander. No particulars were given, and, though a vigilant watch was kept, no person was captured. It has been learned that Samuel Chambers, who resides about three miles west of West Alexander. Was knocked down and robbed of $1.25 while on his way home from the Baltimore and Ohio station at that place. He had been at the Washington fair.

Two men who are supposed to be those who had Mr. Chambers up, were seen on the train. One was a Pittsburg crook. One of them was of medium height and heavy set, with a light collected mustache, and the other was a tall man with a thin face. The watchman at the tunnel saver, for the great third baseman has an albe-bonden bank account.

It looks now as if our League team had but little chames for the covered pennant. The Cheminatis won two cut of three on their fairs visit, and Anson's menget away with two games Cincinnatis won two cut of three on their last visit, and Anson's men got away with two games on Labor Day. The club is again crippled, and at present Brooklyn has a good lead, which will be hard to overcome. Long and Sullivan are on the sick list, and Bennett is suffering from a lame foot. "Linke" Lowe is playing short and doing well. He still leads the country in batting, but his average is beginning to tumble. Clarkson pitches a wonderful game against Cherismath, but he shot his belt and is now a lame duck. Anson's men slaughtered him on Labor Day, when they hammered out 17 bits, when they hammered out 17 hits, of 23. CHARLES J. FOLEY.

A race between these famous distance runners would be one of the foot racing events of question to decide who is the better runner at

they are in good condition.

A New Swimming Record.

SEPECIAL TELEFRAN TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, September 7 .- D. M. Bar ringer, a Philadelphia society man, swam 20 miles in the Delaware yesterday afternoon. He miles in the Delaware yesterday afternoon. He was in the water without rest for nine and one-half hours, and then stopped swimming with reluctance, and only when his friends who accompanied him in boats insisted that he should do so, as night was drawing on, and the tide about to set against him Barringer is 30 years old. There is only one amateur record either in England or America for such a long swim. The record referred to was made by Dr. Paprose on last Monday week. Before that time the only amateur record was for one mile, which distance had been made in 22 minutes and 38% seconds in slack water. Barringer heat Penrose's record.

SULLIVAN'S FATHER DEAD.

The Big Pugilist Now Moures the Loss of Both Parents. PERCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. Boston, September 7 .- Michael Sullivan, the father of John L. Sullivan, died early this morning at Roxbury. His illness was of short duration, too short, in fact, to allow his big son to reach his bedside before death. During his closing hours he frequently asked for John, and said: "I wish I could see him once more, then I could die happy." When the big fellow stood beside his father's dead body he wept

oitterly. Mr. Sullivan was born in Ireland 65 years ago and came to this country in early manhood. Four boys and three girls were born to him, of whom only two sons and one daughter are now alive. Mr. Sullivan was small in stature, and was a staunch admirer of his powerful son.

The Bad Breaks Made by Members of the Party in Congress.

A VERY GOOD YEAR FOR KICKERS.

The Amount of Time Wasted by the Senate on the Tariff Bill.

REASONS GIVEN FOR RECIPROCITY FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, September 7.—The efforts of Republicans to give black eyes to the Republican party go merrily on in both the House and the Senate. Several members have discounted the immortal Samson at his own game. They have slain hundreds of thousands of Republican votes with the jawbone of an ass. The disagreements of Republicans on the tariff and silver bills, the frequent employment of language that is a gross offense against good taste, the bandying of epithets, the attack on the Senate and upon Senator Quay by "Bob" Kennedy, must all have a bad effect on the party in an off year.

Indeed it is quite certain they would not be possible except in an off year. There was the same reason and the same opportunity for kicking in 1888, but members of each party stuck together like a band of brothers. It will be so again in 1892. This is the year when the independent fellows in the dominant party think they can safely show their independence.

The End of the Tariff Debate. It is to be presumed that to-morrow the debate on the tariff bill will be at an end in case, but the fact that there was a doubt, the Senate. It is full two months since it and that a great hue and cry would be raised began, and it has been going on ever since. What with the debates and amplifications of the speeches "withheld for revision," the ariff matter will, at the close of the debate, fill a round 2,000 pages of the Congressional Record. Each day's Record has in it from 15 to 50 pages of tariff matter.

By the way, did you know that the Record has a Sunday issue? Our good Sabbata-rians who are opposed to Sunday news-papers should begin their onslaughts on the tatesmen who set so vicious an example There is no Monday issue, however, and cept to deliver the Record to members, who, f course, cannot wait till Monday to see how their speeches look in print.

Not a Single Vote Changed. At a modest estimate over 3,500,000 words are contained in this huge bulk of oratory, for the mass is made up principally o speeches. The necessary work of amending and passing the bill could have been done, and less than one-twentieth of that space occupied. I dare assert that not a single vote has been changed by any of the hundreds of speeches that have appeared on the pages of the Record. They have not been made in the interests of the business of the country, but wholly for political effect, or from the mere love of debate, which is a ruling passion with most of the statesmen of the Senate. Much of it has been the most tiresome and aimless debate imaginable, and nine-tenths of the amendments prophave been for mere party effect or for the purpose of wasting time.

This is what Senator McPherson, who wasted more time than any other one man. calls "educating the people." He made his dilatory speeches and motions to impress and emphasize the "villainy" of the tariff bill in the public mind. Mr. McPherson himself has been educated to some extent in the process. He made the startling assertion one day that the labor cost involved in the production of a ton of steel rails was only $1 38. Gradually as light broke on his mind, as table after table of figures on the subject confronted him, he was forced to admit that the cost of labor involved in the Her Position in the Financial World on the production of a ton of steel rails was from $18 to $20, and even more in some instances. Yet all or his former arguments on the metal chedule had been based on such absurd figures as those with which he started out in | ing Houses of the cities named, shows the the matter of steel rails.

He also asserted in speaking on the wool schedule that in 22 years, from 1867 to 1889, the number of sheep in the United States had only increased a little more than 500,-000, and it required a deal of argument to convince him that he had over estimated the number of sheep in the country in 1867 a trifling matter of 18,000,000, With such ignorance as this obtruding in the speeches of a leading advocate of the Democratic view, is it any wonder that a vast mass of the people of the country are convinced that the tariff is robbery?

Sinughtered by the Republicans. It seems to me that the Democratic Senators might well have been content to sit quietly by and listen to the slaughter of the protective theory by the Republicans for protective theory by the Republicans, for that principle has suffered more at this session in the house of its supposed friends than it has in a quarter of a century rom the onslaught of its enemies. New England on the one hand and the great West on the other have been battering down the strong-est bulwarks of the tariff. The Republican leaders have ceased to take the broad view that the country is made up of "localities." and that what is good for the localities must be good for the country, and are coming over to the view of the late Mr. Hancock, in the East End yesterday and broke a leg who dismissed the whole question with a by the [all. It was soon set, and the Canway wave of his hand, saying: "It is a mere lo-

In both Senate and House this session, except with a very few, the sentiment of Re publicans has been made by the narrow and selfish sentiment of their States, Mr. Plumb declared almost in so many words: "—— the country, I'm for Kansas." It is to Kansas he must look for his re-election, and nowadays a Senator's statesmanship is bounded by the necessities of his re-election. With the edifice of the protective tariff thus jostled askew by members of Congress Blaine steps in and gives it a final kick with his reciprocity boot and all that is left of the old protective tariff garment would not commend itself to an old clo' dealer. All the foregoing murderous processes of the Democrats were nothing compared to this.

A Voice From Pittsburg. I have before me a letter from Mr. James H. Mann, Treasurer of the American Ax and Tool Company, of Pittsburg, asking that the position of the company on the reciprocity question be made known to the company of Mr. Mann says: "We have 14 country. Mr. Mann says: "We have 14 large factories in our corporation, and make and ship three-fourths of all the axes made in the United States. We approve of reciprocity as set forth in letters of Hon. James G. Blaine and amendments to tariff bill effort to solicit votes. The men composing now pending before Congress offered by Hon. John Snerman and Hon. A. W. Aldrich. The duty on our goods going into countries north and south of us will average $1 60 per dozen. Germany and England with their cheap labor have secured almost all of the South American, Mexican and West Indian trade. With reciprocity our trade would be increased ten fold, as Amer-ican axes and tools are the best in the world."

The Whole Idea in a Natshell. Now, there is the whole reciprocity business in a nutshell. Countries north and south impose a duty of $1 60 per dozen on Mr. Mann's axes. Do not they impose the same duty on the axes of other countries? And if the duty be removed from Mr. Mann's axes, will it not be removed from the axes of every other man who desired to sell axes in countries where we seek a market? Is any one so foolish as to suppose that Bragil will offer any concessions to the United States that she will not offer to England. With the duty on axes removed all round, where will the advantage be to the '14 large factories in our corporation that make and ship three-fourths of all the axes made in the United States,' and which savors mighty strongly of a gigantic trust?

Exactly the same conditions of competition would obtain after the abolition of the duty as obtained before, and British and

BULLETIN OF EVENTS IN THREE STATES

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. BEDFORD, September 7.-The boldes burglary that was ever committed in the county was perpetrated here last night. Deputy Sheriff H. C. Smith, with his wife and younger members of the family, who are out of town, left the house in charge of their oldest son, Grant, who is about 18 years trade will be nothing until the wages of our workmen are reduced to the level of the wages of foreign workmen, and the word reciprocity will continue to be suggestive Grant was awakened last night by two masked men, who were armed with revolvers. In an instant he had a muzzle against the breast of the largest burglar, and pulled the trigger, but the cartridge missed fire, and the two men pounced upon him, knocking the revolver from the boy's hand, and swearing they would fix

Dragging the boy to the bed in the room where they had gagged him, they tied him to the bed-post. After going through the house, the men left. Later neighbors found Smith almost overcome, owing to the position he had been in all slight.

The Deputy Sheriff arrived home to-night, and to THE DISPATCH correspondent said that the burglars had overlooked the money and silverware in their hurry. The money was under the bedtick where they got the cord to tie the boy.

He assures the correspondent of THE SEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. DISPATCH that every Democrat will walk out of the House to break a quorum, the present meager attendance of the House, for the Republicans to secure a nuorum. He is also assured that a number of Republicans, who sympathize with ex-Senator Mahone in his opposition to Langand paid for nearly all the coal on the west bank of the river. They are the same men who originally projected the road on the west side of the river and who own the right of way.

Richard T. Lowndes and Colonel Ben Wilson appear to be the leading spirits in the deal. The appearance of Henry G. Davis in it points very strongly to the revival of the project made public by Mr. Elkins a short time ago of running a branch from the West Virginia Central down the valley to Pittsburg. His Inside Pocket. LFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] WASHINGTON, September 7 .- The Record was hastily scanned this morning by its numerous subscribers in this city to learn if Irwin. the notorious speech of "Bob" Kennedy were in its columns. It was expected that Kennedy would publish it this morning, that a day might intervene between its appearance and any action the House might take in regard to it. Nowhere, however, did Kennedy's name appear. It is inti mated this evening by some of his friends that Kennedy had decided to publish the speech on Tuesday, but just why on Tuesday they could not tell.

While those who know him best say it would be quite in accord with his reckless temperament to publish the speech, it is freely predicted by others that even he discreet enough to keep the manuscript in his pocket.

SPECIAL WEATHER BULLETIN. The Freezing Point Reached in Several Sections of the Northwest. IPREPARED FOR THE DISPATCH.I

The storm that was moving eastward from the Dakotas on Saturday had its center over Lake Superior yesterday morning and last night it was in Canada, continuing its course toward the St. Lawrence Valley. Rain fell in all the States in the Northwest, the Upper and Lower Lake Regions, the Central Mississippl and Ohio Valleys, the Middle Atlantic States and the New England States. High winds prevailed in the lake regions, and to-night there were indications of local storms in the upper part of the Lower Lake Regions in Canada and in the Mississippi and Ohio Valleys. The high pressure with cold weather reached the Central States, the temperature falling from 15 to 20 in all the States west of the Mississippi river It reached the freezing point in Wyoming and Montana and fell below freezing at points further north. Frost occurred in about all the Northwest States north of Colorado and Ne braska. It will be warmer in the Northwest to-morrow, as another depression is forming in Washington and Oregon. In the Ohio Valley and Lower Lake Regions it was warmer, the maximum temperatures reaching into the nineties. The advance of the cold wave will create heavy local rains and severe local storms between the Mississippi and the Atlantic coast
