

Grand Army Day at Rock Point next Wednesday will be the grandest event the old soldiers of the vicinity ever experienced. All the news in regard to it will be found in the local columns of to-day's paper. The arrangements are most complete, and no pains will be spared to have every one who attends experience an enjoyable day. Friends of the old soldiers are cordially invited to unite with them and have a good

No Hatred Exists There.

The rising generation of to-day often wonders to what extent the hatred that existed between the North and South during the rebellion still remains. It is a matter of conjecture as to which feeling prevails more strongly, that of bitter hatred or that of loving forgiveness. Every once in a while the and things that were better forgot are brought to mind. These instances are chronicled over the country, and then it is that the rising generation is tempted to doubt that the people are at heart really united. But an instance showing the better feeling of the two is here to be told:

A short time ago an appeal for contributions for the "Old North State Soldiers' Home" of North Carolina was made to the Posts of the North Carolina was made to the Posts of the Grand Army. The proposed home is to be built in some quiet snot in the State where the old Confederate soldiers of North Carolina who have neither family nor friends to care for them may go for shelter and food. Among those who responded was Post löl, of this city, which sent a $5 subscription. In acknowledging the contribution John T. Patrick, of Raieigh, trustee for the Home, wrote to Adjutant D. A. Jones, of Post löl, as follows "You have the heartfelt thanks of the old Confeds" for your kind donation. I not only expected your aid but knew it would be given in the spirit which has characterized all those drit which has characterized all those of true men from General Grant down numblest private in the fighting ranks to the humblest private in the fighting ranks of the Union army. Some have tried to keep the war fires burning; but not those who faced the front during the deadly struggle.

The grit that you send is almost as sacred as the manna from heaven and the noble spirit that caused you to contribute is unexcelled in any nation. May God in his merry and goodness return to the contribute is unexcelled in lessings for every penny contributed. When the opening of the "Old North State Soldiers' Home is arranged you will be invited to send down a delegation and I hope you will give the boys who wore the gray the pleasure of meeting you, and this gray the pleasure of meeting you, and this time with the white-winged dove of love and peace hovering over you amid the gentle breezes of our beautiful Southland."

CHATS ABOUT TRADE.

Street Cars and Inclines Wanted to Help Out Southside Wards.

THE TREND OF SPECULATION.

Confidence the Basis of Activity in Real Estate Here and Hereabouts.

A BIG TRANSACTION AT HOMESTEAD

A great blessing would be conferred on the Thirty-second and Thirty-fifth wards if the street cars and inclines were kept running all night. These wards are in close proximity to the center of the city-closer than any of the other suburban wards-but their development has been retarded by slow communication and expense of travel. Street car and bridge companies would be greatly benefited by making low fares and ncreasing their accommodations. This would increase their patronage. The com-panies might lose money at first, but they would more than make it up in the end. There is no good reasen why the Thirty-sec-ond and Thirty-fifth wards should not be built inducements of rapid transit by day and night and low fares were held out. As it is, they are improving rapidly, as cheap property is attracting many home-seekers. These wards are only 20 to 25 minutes from the business and manufacturing centers of both cities.

Landmarks Disappearing.

Improvements in and around Pittsburg are being made so rapidly that the antiquarian will have to bestir himself or he will soon have nothing to explore. Landmarks are vanishing Reconstruction is the order of the day. This is not vandalism. It is necessary to keep the city in line with the demands of the times and to develop her resources. Changes and innovations are numerous in the eastern suburbs, where street improvements are in full swing. Some of these entail considerable discomfort and annoyance. At Roup a number of handsome places have been marred by an embankment 15 or 20 feet high. Hereafter Mr. Zug will have to mount a ladder whenever he wants to look beyond his lawn in the direction of East Liberty. Many other elegant grounds are disfigured by piles of rubbish, fills or cuts. Trees and shrubbery have been slaughtered by wholesale. Pittsburg is growing and street and other improvements must go on. Owners and builders should look ahead so as to avoid baving their plans upset and their places laid waste by the insentimental contractor.

A Big Deal at Homestead.

During the week a transaction in real estate of considerable magnitude was consummated at Homestead. It was the sale of the Plummer estate, the only large piece of vacant land in the borough, lying between Third avenue and the river, and including the old Dickson man-sion and the Kenney brickyard property in the Second ward. John F. Cox, Esq., and Thomas F. Cain were the purchasers, and the consideration was $75,000.

Each tract contains 11 acres, making 22 in all, with a number of buildings. The property will be surveyed at once, then sub divided and put on the market. This deal and its outcome will no doubt give a strong impetus to improve-ment of all kinds in Homestead, already prosperous and growing.

Confidence at the Bottom.

One of the best features of the real estate market is the caution exercised by buyers. They want to know all about the property, whether it be a cheap lot or a business block before shelling out their cash. They are not rilling to accept agents' or owners' word "that willing to accept agents' or owners' word that it is all right," but insist on seeing for themselves. It takes considerable time to make a Union National Bank.

Union National Bank. selves. It takes considerable time to make a sale, as everything must be made clear. Agents earn their commissions.

This is in gratifying contrast with the booming times along in the seventies, when hundreds of lots were purchased without examination and in many cases with no distinct conception of their location and surroundings. They were Allegheny Gas Co. (illum.).... wanted for speculation, and it made little dif-ference to the buyers what they were or where they were. Now they are wanted for improve-ment and must possess intrinsic merit. "A pig in a poke," reduced to realty, is a hard thing to

This caution on the part of buyers is the basis of the confidence so generally felt and expressed in the continued activity in real estate and in the permanency of values, and so long as it exists there can be no reaction. This is so well recognized that the most conservative business men in the city are unhesitatingly putting large amounts of money into lands and houses, whereas, if there were danger ahead, they would be the first to take alarm and stay

THE WEEK IN OIL

Buckeye Completely Knocked Out-Movements in the Pennsylvania Product. The local oil crowd had a nice, easy time yes terday. Business interfered very little with their diversions. There was no lobby to inspire the traders to exertion.

The market opened about 10 o'clock. There was only one fluctuation. As on the previous day, the close was at the top, a large fraction better than the openiog. New York was the best buyer, but sold some at the highest. The advance in refined was the principal factor on the bull side. Fluctuations for the day and week were:

Markets Weak and Declining-Bears Go Into Cover When the Secretary of the Treasury Arrives on the Scene-

Apprehensions on the Street. NEW YORK, September 13.-The stock market to-day was again weak and declining, with further liquidation of small long accounts, but treer short selling. The general expectati that there was to be a further increase in the deficit shown by the banks from the require ments of the 25 per cent rule gave the bearish traders an opportunity to continue their ham-mering operations, especially as London was found to be a seller of its specialties at the opening. First prices were generally but slightly changed from those of last evening. but the pressure was brought to bear first upon North American, which has since its appearance on the list been a drawing bear card, and ance on the list been a drawing bear card, and it retired rapidly from 43 to 41, and afterward to 40% Chicago Gas followed with a drop from 45% to 42%, and then the Grangers and Sugar Reineries vielded from 1 per cent to 1%. At about 11 o'clock it became known that the Secretary of the Treasury was in town, and would hold a conference with some of the leading bankers with a view to coming to some final solution of the problem of how to relieve the monetary stringency, and the bears went into cover on the intelligency. the monetary stringency, and the bears went into cover on the intelligency, with the result of rallying Chicago Gas 1% and the rest of the list generally small fractions. The trading in the inst half hour presented no new features, and the market finally closed quiet and barely steady, generally at small fractions better than the lowest prices of the day.

and the market finally closed quiet and barely steady, generally at small fractions better than the lowest prices of the day.

The final changes are almost invariably frac-tional losses, and North American is down 2 per cent. Chicago Gas 1% and Northern Pacific preferred 1%.

Railroad bonds were duit, the sales of all sames reaching only $508,000 and the decliner. Railroad bonds were dull, the sales of all issues reaching only $308,000, and the dealings were barren of features of any kind, and the movements insignificant in every case. State bonds have been dull and rather heavy. Railroad bonds have been dull and beavy.

The exports of specie from the port of New York during the past week amounted to $1.144.325, of which $37,727 was in gold and $1,105,598 silver. The imports of specie during the week amounted to $439,815, of which $4,794 was in gold and $435,021 silver.

The Post says: "As to the causes of the weakness in the stock market there is but the one most important explanation, viz.: that it is apness in the stock market there is but the one most important explanation, viz.: that it is apprehension of what may be rather than any realization of anything that is. Money would be tight anyhow, even if the new tarriff were not to go into effect, because there has been an unusual demand for money all over the country for earlier moving of crops and for the prosecution of larger industrial enterprises than usual, and especially also for the speculation in grain, which ever since the bad news about the crops, has been absorbing speculative capital especially in the West. But the immediate thing which in this situation has the most effect to unsettle confidence and makes all the money lenders refuse to lend except they have unusual inducements, is the apprehension that there is going to be a crisis in connection with the withdrawal of goods from United States bonded warehouses in order to escape the advance in the tariff. It does not make much difference that the amount which the importers would have to pay if the

MARKETS BY WIRE. Jack Frost Stirs Up the Grain Pit-Almost s Panic in Corn-May Option the Center of Interest-Top Prices

Not Sustained. CHICAGO-Wheat-Trading was fairly active to-day and prices irregular, ruling higher at the opening, but immediately declined, and closed 11/2011/20 lower than yesterday. An unn-sualty nervous and feverish feeling existed during the earlier part of the season, occasioned by the bad weather in the Northwest; also in sympathy with the advance in corn and to the failure of an operator who had been largely short of wheat at lower prices. The opening short of wheat at lower prices. The opening was 1/2 11/2 higher than yesterday's closing. Some stop loss orders were executed, as the reported failure alluded to led some to believe that prices would be advanced thereby under a pressure to cover. But the offerings became very heavy, and then it also became known that the party in question, as well as others, had covered most of their short wheat yesterday. This left the market without any support, and under large offerings a rapid decline followed. Prices receding about 2½c, recovered slightly, eased off again, and closed about 1½© 1½c lower.

Corn—The sensational weather news was the all-absorbing topic this morning before the opening, and on the tap of the bell a scene of the wildest confusion occurred. The opening was the most excited and irregular for years, prices varying 3c in different parts of the pit. The cause of the nervous feeling was due to reports of frosts throughout the entire corn belt as far south as Kansas and Missouri. The failure of a local house tended to create a very uncertain feeling in the minds of many operators, and the opening was a scene of seminarie. The trade was all in May, other months being neglected, and first trades were from 15% 26% very few at the extreme, only scattering trades being reported. The bulk of business being between 54% 54%. After the wild opening the market immediately sold off, there being immense quantities of long property for sale, a good deal of which was unsoid at the limits given, so rapid was the decline. The market finally cloved with a gain of 36% of one are months, and 36% for mear months, and 36% for mear months, and 36% for mear months, and 36% for May.

Oats were fairly active and unsettled, with prices confined to a moderate range. The opening was firmer and higher in sympathy with corn, first sales being 36% c advance. May receded 36c, but the other deliveries held steadily. Final sales were at a slight gain over yesterday. Gorn—The sensational weather news was the RIVER INTELLIGENCE. Plenty of Water Already, and More Comin. Down From Above.

The additional rise predicted on the previous day came yesterday, and the great volume of water swelled the rivers to a height never before reached in the month of September Reports from the headwaters show the storm to have ceased in some sections, but at other that by to-day the rain will stop falling, and colder weather will follow in all sectious in which the rain fell so heavily. Most of the which the rain fell so heavily. Most of the water came from the headwaters of the Allegheny yesterday, the Monongahela being mostly back water. The rain at Morgantown and other points has not affected it very much so far, but rivermen expect a high stage from above to-day. At Industry, on the Ohio, 28 feet was reported posterday afternoon, and the water is doing great damage in that section. The rise was unexpected, and no preparations were made for so much water. It was generally known that a rise was coming, but it was not counted upon being so heavy, and as a result much valuable immer lying on the banks was swept away. During the day unsawed logs and portions of rafts came down the Allegheny and struck the bridge piers, shattering the hings logs in splinters.

Boats on the Monongahela were enabled to take large tows of empties to the upper pools on account of the high stage covering the dam, which allowed them to pass into the upper waters without going through the locks. A riverman said yesterday: "Any just body of men in any corporation would not exact tollage from boats when the water permits them to cross the dam, but the Slackwater Company do not lock at the question in this light. We are compelled to pay tolls whether we tun our boats threugh the locks or over the dam, it makes no difference. This is a striking example how this corporation wrings the money from us, and I think that it is very unjust and should be abolished, considering the tribute we have to pay to this monopoly during the low water season for going through their locks. They are not content with that large revenue, but make us pay for running our boats through the open passage. The company pays a dividend larger than the Government allows, and in all farmess no tolls should be charged when boats can navigate the stream without the aid of their locks."

Preparations were being made yesterday to send out coal to-day, if the water recedes enough. When the shipments of this present rise are made the total will fall little short of 4,000,000 bushels.

THE Bedford is due here to-morrow morning from Wheeling, and the Alian in the afternoon.

M. the Monongahela was on the 14-foot mark, and raised to 15% by 2r. m., still rising at that hour. The Allegheny was 17 feet at 5 F. M., rising. Fifteen feet three was reported at Davis Island Dam.

TALKING TO TEACHERS. AN ADDRESS BY EX-SUPERINTENDENT NEWELL, OF MARYLAND.

Dr. M. A. Newell, ex-Superintendent of Closing quotations of Philadelphia stocks, fur-nished by Whitney & Stephenson, brokers, No. & Fourth avenue. Members New York Stock Exthe public schools of Maryland, in an address full of witty anecdote and philosophic points, entertained an audience of over 300 teachers at the first regular meeting of the Teachers' Institute at the Raiston school yesterday morning. His subject was "The Essential Qualifications of a Teacher." Dr. Newell said that he had asked Superintendent Luckey what subject he would talk to the teachers about, but Mr. Luckey told him he could not tell anything new to the Pittsburg teachers, for they had heard everybody from Colonel Parker upward. This sally at the great apostle of the new education created much laughter. The most important qualification the doctor impressed on his hearers is that of good head. "There would be ringing and buzzing noises bealth. But in the most flattering manner possible he added: "I see every evidence of this merit in the Pittsburg teachers now before me, with their fine physical forms, bright eyes and rosy cheeks." As he used the last pleasing adjective, a pretty school-ma'am said, sotto voce: "Now he is mak-

"Some people think," he continued, "that teaching is the easiest and best paying posi-tion one can have, but there is none so trying to the nerves, so exasperating to the in-tellectual, and so wearying to the physical constitution as that of teaching. Were teachers trebly paid it would not pay for the general wear to the system they endure. Teachers must have nerves, brain and body that nothing can tire or break down."

Good temper was the second requisite commented upon, and the speaker said that one cannot keep a good school unless the temper is under control, and one can have his temper under control if he so wills it. Right knowledge of things to be taught and a thorough knowledge of the persons one is to teach were the next points dwelt on. As regards the latter qualification he said the same sun that softened wax hardened clay, so the teacher should study the individuality of the pupils and govern them accord-ingly. Lastly, there should be sympathy between pupil and teacher, and the latter should always have esprit de corps for his

THE GRAHAM CASE.

The recent election at Ewing's Mills, one of the suburbs of Pittsburg, was interesting as developing the popularity of one of the candidates, Mr. John M. Graham. Out of all the votes cast for the office of Justice of the Peace Mr. Graham received the entire number with five exceptions. Mr. Graham's good fortune extends to other fields than political ones. The news has recently been received that he has struck an oil well on his premises that runs 75 barrels a day. This will net him at least $18 a day.

Mr. John M. Graham, Ewing's Mills, Alle gheny county, Pa.

But still another piece of good fortune has befallen Mr. Graham, upon which he is to be congratulated. How this came about is best shown by his own statement. He says: "I had suffered for a good while from catarrhal trouble. It began in my head. My nostrils would close up, first one side and then the other. There would be frequent pains in my head.

"There would be ringing and buzzing noises in my ears. I feared that my hearing was becoming impaired. My throat would fill up with mucus, I could feel the phlegm dropping back from my head. Sometimes my throat would feel sore and inflamed.

"After awhile I began to have sharp, stabbing pains in my chest. My heart would beat hard and fast. This would be followed by slow, irregular beating and a sensation of faintness. "My appetite became affected. There would be a feeling of discomfort at my stomach after eating, and sometimes a nausea and vomiting, My sleep was broken, and I would get up in the morning tired and unrefreshed. Indeed, my entire system was broken down from the effects of the disease.

"I began treatment with Drs. Copeland and Blair and improved from the start. The symptoms of the catarrh gradually disappeared, and I feel strong and well now. I will cheerfully corroborate this statement to anyone who will call upon me."

HOME TREATMENT. HOME TREATMENT.

Mrs. Robert Ramsey, of Washington, Pa, speaking of her successful treatment with Drs. Copeland & Blair, says: Every fall for the past five years I have been troubled with chronic dyspepsia. Have tried countless remedies and various physicians without any relief. I could not get case from pain in any position! would assume. Every breath I drew was like a knife cutting me. I became weak and pale, losing greatly in weight.

I began treatment by mail with Drs. Copeland & Blair. All these symptoms have disappeared, and I now feel as well as I ever did.
