Whatever hope there may have been of a foot race between E. C. McClelland and Peter Priddy has to a very great extent banished and instead of a race the public will probably be treated to a great amount of talking. The pair have failed to come to terms relative to a race and each has issued a very sweeping challenge. Priddy declines to run sooner than five weeks from signing articles, claiming that he cannot possibly get into good condition before that time. On the other hand McClelland insists that the race be run in three weeks from signing the articles, that is Saturday two weeks. McClelland claims that when the weather begins to get cold he cannot run in his best style. He, however, offered to run Priddy in a rink in five or six weeks from signing articles. To this Priddy replied that he would run McClelland a five-mile race in five week's time for $500 or $1,000 a side. None of the above offers were accepted, and

Priddy put up $50 forteit, accompanied by the ollowing challenge:
"I will run any man in the world a three-mile or a five-mile race, five weeks after signing articles, for $500, open for $1,000 a side. I mean business, and five weeks is certainly only a modest request, as a man cannot well get into condition in less time. My challenge will re-main open for a week or two. "Peter Pridde," "Champion Five-Mile Runner of the World."

McClelland and his party are none behind hand and have deposited $100 torfeit in this office, accompanied by the following challenge: "I will ron any man in the world a three-mile or a five-mile race, in three weeks' time, for $500 or $1,000 a side. The time allowed for training is quite sufficient and is just as fair to one as another. I am not inclined to talk, but prefer running, and I trust some of the flyers will accept my challenge. I mean business.

"E. C. McClelland," is no doubt whatever about the earnestness of the two runners in question. They are anxious to run, and it is a pity that they cannot fix on a date suitable to both parties. They are wonderful pedestrians, and it is not too much to say that the better of the two is champion of the world. It will be a great pity if they are wonderful properties. if they do not some together under fair con-ditions, so as to prove who is the champion. Each has good backing, and it is to be hoped that the backers will get together at once and make arrangements for a race.

A Very Good Iden.

Speaking of the proposed five-mile race at Brooklyn for a purse of $500, E. C. McClelland, Brooklyn for a purse of $500, E. C. McClelland, the famous pedestrian, makes the following business-like proposition: "If the Brooklyn parties who are trying to arrange a race will give $500, I would suggest that each runner who enters for the race put up $500 or $500 and make a sweepstage, the winner taking all. This would make a prize worth running for. I am willing to go in a sweepstake of the kind."

Will Have Running Races. The enterprising directors of Homewood Driving Park have arranged to have two runming races per day during the approaching meeting. It is some time since the runners were here and, doubtless, their reappearance will be a great attraction. A purse of $150 will be offered for each race, and the races will be a mile, three-quarters and a half mile. Some good entries are expected.

The Bridgevilles in Line. Manager Mayer, of the Bridgeville ball club, has deposited $10 at this office for his club to play the Scottdales on September 20 for $25 or $50 a side. Mr. Mayer has also deposited $10 for his club to play Manager Gwillin's Mansfield team for $50 a side. Mr. Mayer will meet Mr. Gwillin at this office this evening at 5 o'clock.

Sporting Notes.

It is not likely that there will be a local regatta MORRIS may be given another try against the Clevelands to-day.

THE local National League club has five games to play in Cleveland. TEREAU, of the St. Louis Club, has been fined $300 and indefinitely suspended.

COMISKEY denies that he is going to manage the Philadelphia Players' League club. COONEY once more emphatically denies that he is going to be a P. L. player next year, COMISERY was in Cincinnati Saturday trying to sign Denny Lyons, of the Athletics, but failed. PUGILIST: Cal McCarthy has not defeated Dixon. As far as we know the latter has not been beaten.

CLEVELAND baseball patrons will have enough of Pittsburg to-day. Both our teams are in the Forest City. IT is stated that Dave Foutz, of the Brooklyn (N. L.) club, will play with the Cleveland (P. L.) team next season.

ALF MITCHELL and Toff Wall are each anxious to fight Johnuy Reagan a limited number of rounds or to a finish. THE backers of Gillen and Bissell will meet this evening to make arrangements for the fight between the two men named.

W. A. NIMICK has prepared his defense in the case brought against him by A. G. Pratt, Director O'Neil wants the case settled. SECRETARY MCCRACKEN, of the Homewood Driving Park, will be in Cleveland this week se-curing entries for the Homewood races. A LOCAL sporting man is willing to enter Nikirk in a sweepstake race with Nikirk, Priddy and Mc-Clelland, the distance to be a half mile.

E. RIDLEY, the promising local swimmer, will contest in the next heat for the challenge medal. His chances of victory are considered very good. A CONSTANT Beader: Sullivan and Ryan fought for the championship on February 7, 1882. Mischell and Mace Jought four rounds in Glasgow, Scotland. It is stated that the Puritan Athletic Club has offered $5,000 for a fight between Dempsey and Fitzsimmons and that Dempsey is willing to fight for that amount.

mati Commercial-Garette.

The statement that Whistler and Clarke had signed New York (N. L.) contracts for next season is true. Manager Mutrie says that whoever says they had not must know more about the business than he does. Although the National agreement provides that no player shall be signed until after the season closes, yet this phase of the agreement is not being lived up to this year. The object is plain. Players who have but one-year contracts are receiving offers from the Players' Leauge, and the National League will, of course, sign all its old plaers as fast as it can for next season.

OVER 8,000 BARRELS

The Production of the Wildwood Field for a Single Day.

UNFAVORABLE STATE OF AFFAIRS

Butler Oil Men. NOTES OF VARIOUS OPERATIONS

ISPECIAL TRINGRAM TO THE DISPATCHA WILDWOOD, September 14.-The acquiition of several large wells in the Wildwood territory during the past week has given the field a wide reputation and is attracting considerable attention from the trade in general. While the boundary of prolific territory has not been extended to any great degree one important fact has been developed, and that is the large increase of production that is reasonably sure to follow with the completion of wells now drilling within defined limits. The Young well coming in as it did was a surprise to many, as the proximity of the venture to the diminutive Simpson farm producer naturally led to the conclusion that it would be safe to class it in the same category. Others, however, were firm in their faith of the location and from the first asserted the Young would be a good well. The production of the well has receded from its first output, and Saturday noon, when THE DISPATCH scout took a gauge, it was making at the rate of 400 barrels a day. It is claimed that the well is not deep enough in the sand, and that when the drill is again set in motion the production will be increased. The Ice Pond well, owned by Greenlee & The Ice Pond well, owned by Greenlee & Forst, too, is not following in the footsteps of its predecessors, the drill having reached a different geological formation. This well, by a majority of Wildwood operators, has been counted on as a duster, and at best would only make a small pumper. Late Saturday afternoon, when the reporter was at the well, it was 12 feet in the sand, had made two or three small flows, and the hole made two or three small flows, and the hole full of oil, but very little gas. Mr. Forst expressed great surprise at the condition of the well, and had not expected to find oil until the rock had been penetrated to a depth of 35 or 40 feet. While the indications are not flattering for a big well, the prediction that it will be a good one is reasonably sure unless all signs fail.

AN INTERESTING POINT.

The Patterson, Griffith & Miller well on the Menke is now one of the interesting points of the field. This well has been reorted in the sand and showing oil, through the sand and dry, while another report was current that it was drilled below the level of the Wildwood oil horizon, and no evidence whatever of sand was found. THE DISPATCH, upon investigation, learned that both the drillers and owners are at sea as to the correct geological location of the drill, but one of the interested parties, who that the drill is just on top of the sand, which conclusion is supported by the record of other wells drilled in this immediate locality. By Tuesday the drill will tell the story. The Burke & McBride well, on the "Doe" Moon them struck the sand Sarre. story. The Burke & McBride well, on the "Doc" Moon tarm, struck the sand Saturday afternoon, but at this writing is not far enough in for the pay. On the A. Moon farm Barnsdall & Co. are still fishing for lost tools at 1,800 feet.

Greenlee & Forst No. 4, Rolshouse, which Greenlee & Forst No. 4, Rolshouse, which came in Friday, made 75 barrels an hour on the go off, and Saturday was making 50 barrels an hour. The same parties tapped the sand at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and at one bit in the sand was spraying five barrels an hour and increasing as the drill went down. Their No. 5, Rolshouse, will be due Monday, and No. 7, same farm, is expected in about the middle of the week. Gibson & Giles No. 1, Scott, is on top the sand, and the result will be known in a short time. The Roth Oil Company No. 2, Kreutzer farm, are Hoking for the sand. Tuesday or Wednesday, and Gailey Bros., on the Blyle farm, are 14 feet in the sand. The Smith Oil Company on the Smith farm, will bring in both Nos. 2 and 3 Monday or Tuesday. These are important wells, and the owners are looking for somewells, and the owners are looking for som thing big. The Roth Oil Company expect another well in about the middle of the

Griffith & Miller, on the Ringeisen farm, are down 1,350 leet with their No. 1. Finegan & Downing have a rig up on the Wallace farm, one-half mile southwest from the Har-bush wells. The burning gas well was exbush wells. The burning gas well was ea-tinguished Friday by running a two-inch line to the easing and turning on a high pressure of steam. There are now 20 pro-ducing wells in the field, the aggregate production of which for the 24 hours end-ing Saturday night at 6 o'clock was 8,286 errels. Following is a list of the wells, 8,286 This is an average of over 414 barrels to the well, which is a record that but few, if any, fields in the southwest can show. The pipel line people are enlarging their capac ity, and are now prepared to handle 10,000 barrels a day. During the recent rush the boys had a lively time, but they got there in good shape, and not a well in the field was shut in for want of tank room.

Producers Ge ting Weary.

BUTLER-The unfavorable condition of the oil business affects different persons differently. Some of the producers are discouraged and say they will not begin any new work until the situation clears up, as they have no assurance what the price of oil may be in a month. Others are in for a fight with the Standard, and are doing what line project. It is already evident, how-ever, that there will from this time on be a very material decrease in the number of new wells. One operator said that he very much preferred to have his oil remain in the ground the market regains its normal condition. The roads are almost impassable, and this losses so long as that state of affairs lasted.

The production is gradually declining and at present approximately is 2,500 barrels a day. The best well in the field is not doing over 140 barrels in 24 hours. Fred Lausand and rated at 60 barrels a day. Arbuckle No. I, Arbuckle farm, has been drilled through and is good for 40 barrels. Deeper drilling in the McKee gasses has not improved the quantity of oil and there is but little hope of making a producer of it. Meiarkey & Co.'s well, on the John D. Scully farm, has declined to 40 barrels a day.

The Bear Creek Refining Company's well on the McKee farm, has stimulated considerable new work in this quarter of the field, which has been extended a third of a mile by it coming in good. Five locations have been made in the vicinity of the well and three or four rigs are under way. The Fisher Oil Company's No. 2, Dickson, is doing 140 barrels a day; Bear Creek Refining Company's No. 1, McKee, 140 barrels a day, and Arbuckle No. 6 40 barrels per day.

VENANGO COUNTY-The long-looked for epoch in the heavy oil district has at less arrived and the heavy oil producers are a happy, jubilant set in consequence of the new order of things. The price of heavy oil has remained stationary at $3 65 at the wells for the past five or six years, but last week was advanced 20 cents on the barrel, making the market price $3 85 a barrel. At presen operations are conducted on a limited scale, but the recent advance will most likely act as an incentive to new work. The bulk of operations is located in the Frank district and recently several wells of more than ordinary caliber have been completed. On the Mooney farm Galbraith & Lytle, a few days ago, finished a 15-barrel well, and Nesbit & Co, had the good luck to score a 60 barreler on the Henry Snyder farm on the start off. Sheasly & Grant also were rewarded with a good pumper on the Eichenor farm. Jacob Sheasly has a well on the Thomas Carter farm nearing the sand, and is drilling another on the Eichenor. Robert Nesbit is also drilling a well on the Henry Snyder and the Standard people on the Smith farm will soon complete a well, while Algeo, on the Redman farm, Patchell Run, recently completed a fair producer, as did also Mar-tin O'Connor on his own land, Cooperstown
