The details have already been published in THE DISPATCH. The manufacturers will, life had seen her a reigning belle in society, it is believed, to-day effect an organization the same inmate of an insane asylum, the which will have for its aim a uniformity of rates; the production of a better quality of glass; the displacing of foreign glass from the market, and other arrangements looking to a better result from the manufacture of the product than it has yet yielded. There is yet a doubt as to the complete unanimity of the trade on the proposition. Mr. James C. ## SENDING IN THEIR ORDERS.

Mills are Contracting Ahead for Ties and Steel Rails. This is about the time of year when iron and steel men begin to book extensive orders in their respective lines. It is understood that about one-fourth of the entire stock of cotton ties to be used in next year's crop has already been placed here. J. Painter & Sons generally take the lead here in the output of cotton ties. Two trains of rolls are now on double turn, producing about 20 tons from two turns. The Solar Iron Works are also understood to have enough orders booked to keep one train of rolls on double turn for the year.

Orders for steel rails are also generally placed about this time. Contracts for de-liveries a year ahead, subject to certain con ditions as to future prices, are made by the railroads, who evince a disposition to scatter their orders more than formerly. Carnegie Bros. & Co. are said to be about to close contracts for 50,000 tons of standard gauge, heavy sections, with some of the eading roads. The Union Pacific is an extensive customer of Pittsburg. Their supplies run from 30,000 to 50,000 tons annual y. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy is another heavy buyer here, but mostly in The light-weight rail with which the Western roads commenced business are being replaced with heavier sections. This is owing to the increasing heavy traffic, and nothing below 85 pounds to the yard is now used. The Eastern roads are using 90-pound rails. The first of these were put down on the Ft. Wayne road at Sewickley. The Pennsylvania Railroad people are credited with contemplating the use of a rail weighing 100 pounds to the yard.

THE MARKET PINCHED BY IMPORTERS.

Bonds of Small Towns With the Improvement Fever

Floating Around. The stringency in the money market continues and appears to be general all over the country. Yesterday there was quite a flurry in New York, but local bankers continue to take a hope ul view of the situation, though there is a strong demand for money and not enough to supply the calls made. Bankers are always loth to talk on financial subjects, particularly at a time when confidence is shaken slightly and a break might cause a panic. It is not hard to get at in private what they think are the causes of the present stringency, but under no circumstances will they be publicly quoted. Some hold that the tightness is the result of over-speculation in all parts of the country. The spirit is not confined to any particular place, but overrides the land rough shod. The announcement of the failure of the crops by the Government made capitalists more careful, and they have since held on to their money bags. These causes w-rking together have resulted in a scarci'v of the circulating medium. Of the bankers seen vesterday. the firm of Robinson Bros, was the most communicative. One of the brothers in an exhaustive view of the situation, said: MANY CAUSES CONTRIBUTED. "It is not an easy matter to say what has produced the present scarcity, but there are $25,234.61. a number of causes. The New York flurry this morning may have been the result of a combination of Eastern capitalists who locked up the funds. A man worth a fortune could easily go to some of the big Eastern trust companies on Friday or Saturday, and borrow a large amount of money on stocks and bonds. He doesn't use it, but locks it up for four or five days, When the banks open on Monday morning they haven't the money to loan. I am told that money was bringing 6 per cent in New York to-day, and that funds were pouring into the city at a lively rate. It won't be long before there will be a surfeit and the rates will fall again. The money then will have to go back to the various places from which it came to supply the local business. "One or the main causes of the stringency I think, is the vindictive and partisan legislation of our Congressmen on questions of grave importance. I am a Republican, but I do not approve of the snap judgment Mr. McKinley and his co-adjutators are trying to take on the importers by shutting down on the tariff October 1, and compelling them to take their goods out of the bonded warehouses at a moment's notice. CASH NEEDED IN A HURRY. "To go this I am told would require the can't produce the money on such short notice. Mr. McKinley would punish then for pursuing a legitimate business which is not in violation of any laws. No one can blame these importers for filling up their bonded warehouses when they anticipate an advance in the tariff. "I can't see either that the passage of the silver bill has helped any one but the silver mine owners, if they can realize on the advance. It certainly hasn't relieved the circulation. A man takes his silver to the Treasury and receives in return for it silver certificates or other forms of money. He deposits it in banks, and the next day not needed to run the business of the day is put into the Treasury again. It doesn't get into circulation at all. It is surprising how far-reaching some transactions are in their effects. The passage of the silver bill here stopped the exportation of wheat in India by putting up the price of Indian silver.

'As civilization goes higher there is a greater demand for credit. It is a debatable question whether or not the present cir-culating medium is sufficient to meet all requirements of trade. There is a vast amount of raw material in the country. The cotton erop is large, even if the cereals have failed n a measure, but in the latter case the price has gone up. GRANGERS WANT GREENBACKS.

"The planters and farmers always want the cash for their products, and as soon as the crops begin to move a big lot of money is tied up. This is one of the numerous ways in which the circulation is reduced, and may for the time being produce a scarcity. "Another thing I have noticed is that almost every small town in the land has the improvement fever. They all want water, electric lights, or something else. They or-ganize companies, and expect to see their nds placed without trouble. People have been encouraged by the low rates of interest, but anyone can see that this thing could not last forever. There are any number of bonds on the market in Pittsburg, and you can't get takers for them. Only a few days ago a man from an Ohio bank offered me some excellent bonds that I could have had at a bargain. They needed the money and two months ago counted these securities as as-sets. This is only a sample of what is going on in the country. Even in that interior Ohio fown they were hard up. "I don't think there has been any inflation of values-not in real estate in Pittsburg at least. The industries are active and prices are fair. I don't believe that this will be as good a business year as the last With the railroads their gross earnings have been increasing, but earnings have been de-The volume of business has been immense, but the operating ex-penses are larger. The cost of labor, for example, has gone up, strikes have been prevalent, and all these things should be taken into consideration. It is hard to tell what the outcome will be. I have been in business 37 years, and have seen panies drop out of a clear sky. PESSIMISTS AND OPTIMISTS.

Another banker stated that not less than $28,000,000 are invested in bonds in various enterprises in Pittsburg. He didn't know who held the money, whether Eastern or local people, but he thought that if a con-siderable block were to be put on the market now it would precipitate a crash.

Colonel W. P. Rend, the Chicago coal man, stated that there was no scarcity of money in the West, that the stringency was confined to the East, and principally to New York. He thought that any business man would have no trouble in getting it at good security to supply his immediate wants. At this time, he added, the money is going West every year to commence the move-ment of crops, and there is always a tightness in the market each season, but this year it happens to press a little harder than formerly. The Colonel was in an ele-need of funds that Chicago could loan it. Upon the whole, he did not take a serious view of the situation, and he thought there was no cause for alarm. Ex-Postmaster Larkin, in speaking yesterday of Pattison's chances of success, in-cidentally referred to the financial conditions prevailing, and he remarked that it was ridiculous and characteristic of a Re publican administration to have a President off at a mountain resort instructing his Sec retary of the Treasury what to do to avert s Mr. Larkin can see pothing dangerous in the money market, and he says it is the result of an attempt on the part of the New York importers to pinch somebody and etaliate on the Government.

AMONG THE MILL MEN

Mr. Delamater Takes a Tour Through Homestead and Braddock.

A RECEPTION AND MASS MEETING.

dress a Small Crowd.

HE IS SATISFIED WITH THE OUTLOOK Hon. George W. Delamater, accompanied by Al Edwards, Harry English and David Collingwood, made another tour yesterday

through a portion of Allegheny county, and met thousands of men at their work in the shops. The party left at 9 o'clock for Braddock, where they were met by a large crowd of prominent citizens, and after a few moments of hand-shaking the Senator and party proceeded to the Edgar Thomson Steel Works.

After lunch with Manager Porter, of the Homestead mill, the party went through the Homestead Steel Works and the Windsor and Brice, Higbee & Co.'s glass houses, shaking the hand of each employe of the establishments. At the Homestead Hotel supper was served to a large party, and the Senator held an informal reception in the parlor. At about 7:30 a line of march was formed, and headed by a band of music proceeded to the rink. The crowd filled the hall very comfortably, but there was no crowding, and not more than 500 people were present to hear the Republican statesmen discuss the issues of the day. L. L. Davis, Esq., was elected Chairman, and in his introduction of Mr. Delamater, said: "I appreciate the honor you have given me to-night. This campaign is being waged hotly and I can assure you that you will lead on to victory on the day of the election. In looking over these forces I see a few strikers-rather I might say guerillas. It is the independent Republican voter who pretends to be a Republican and on election day votes with the opposition. Did you ever hear of an independent Democrat? With two parties whose issues are so diametrically opposed, a man can't be a member of one party and vote with the other. Democrats come out and say they have flopped when they vote the Republican ticket. It would be better if the Republicans would do this that for them to try to AN ODIOUS COMPARISON. "Independent Republicans are like mules -they kick the hay from their manger and

The man I introduce to you to-night is the next Governor of Pennsylvania. We will have no independents or soreheads. I now have the pleasure of introducing to you the Hon. George W. Delamater.' Mr. Delamater said: "The five days I have spent in Allegheny county have been very pleasant, and I take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation of your most to you bearing with me the credentials of a great party, and I know that the welcome is as much to me as a representative of that party as an individual. Homestead! What spleudid name for a Republican town!

The Senator here reviewed the Republican position on the tariff, and declared that he wanted to see the workingmen of America placed on a higher level than those across the Atlantic. He also stated that the tarmer would be protected under the McKinley bill, which puts on a duty that practically prohibits the importation ballot system, and declared that the Republicans would pass the Federal election law, giving equal rights of suffrage to the colored men of the South. The question of pensions and the care for the soldier was next taken up by the speaker. He reviewed President Cleve-land's vetoes of pension bills and scored him roundly for the acts.

At this juncture, J. S. Hoover, a wellknown painter of Homestead, arose and asked: "It you so much love the soldier why didn't the one-legged soldier get the postoffice." This question caused an out-break of cheers and hisses and for a few moments it looked dangerous for the Demos crat who dared to invade the meeting and ask questions. At last, when quiet was restored, Mr. Delemater replied that if he were running the postoffices he might answer. The Senator closed his address by again asking the voters to enlist for war and prepare for the battle at the polls in November.

A. J. Edwards, assistant postmaster of Pittsburg, followed Mr. Delamater in a short address, full of Republican logic and calling on the voters to stand firm in the cause against the Democracy.

After the close of the speeches, Mr. Delamater held an informal reception on the stage in the rink, and several hundred men were introduced to him. The party was escorted to the depot, and after an hour aboard the train arrived in Pittsburg. Mr. Delamater left at 3:20 for Chester county, after having expressed himself as highly pleased with his reception in Alle-

There are 17 clubs in the county, and each will send three delegates and three alternates. The Tariff Club will probably send the largest delegation from this city. GONE TO READING

Democrats Feel Confident that Pattison Will be Elected. The Democracy of Pittsburg had the Union depot all to themselves last night. During the day and evening about 150 delegates started for Reading to attend the State meeting of clubs. There were 80 representatives from the County Democracy, 50 from the Randall Club, 18 from the Grover Cleveland Club, and the balance belonged to the George B. McClellan crowd. First and foremost in the party was 'Squire Herman Handel, who will make a speech for the benefit of the farmer. BLAINE MAY BE HERE,

Programme of Future Republican Saturday Campaign Meetings. The Executive Committee of the County Republican Committee held a meeting yesterday afternoon and further outlined the work of the campaign. It was decided to extend an invitation to Secretary Blaine, Senator Sherman, Congressman McKinley, Speaker Reed and other notables to address the weekly meetings. The last one will be a big demonstration at Exposition Park on November 1, when the campaign will be closed with a bang.

It is expected that Senator Sherman will be here on October 4, and a meeting will be held in the Opera House if it can be secured. On the following Saturday Blaine or Mc-Kinley will be the attraction. On the 18th the meeting will be held in the East Ead or at McKeesport, and will be addressed by Secretary Blaine in case he is unable to appear at the meeting the preceding week. In case he is here on the 11th, Mr. McKinley will be the star on the 18th. On the 25th another meeting will be held, but it is not known yet who will be the prominent speak-er. The Saturday following, the meeting will be held at Exposition Park, when Speaker Reed is expected. Last week he stated he would be pleased to come later in the season, when he found he could not attend Saturday night's meeting. SLASHED WITH A RAZOR. A Colored Man Uses His Weapon With the Usual Result.

for goodness. Realizing that his estates would soon vanish were they left to his sons, the father left everything to his daughter except the entailed estates. Besides this the sons were given a small annuity. Mar-garet still remembered them, and gave them a double allowance.
Naturally she had many suitors. Adolph Seigford won her love and the promise of her hand. The brothers opposed the match, for were their sister married, then ended all their hopes of regaining their lost inher-itance. The girl was firm, and the preparations were being made for the marriage.

Three weeks before the wedding day her lover disappeared. Suspicions were lodged against the brothers, but nothing could be proven. The sudden blotting out of her bright visions placed Margaret Van Vetter in a bad state of sickness where she law for months. For days condition her brothers had her placed in the Heppenheim Insane Asylum at Sterenberg.

The horrors of the place so wore on her that in scarce a year she was but as those round about her, and the years that followed were almost a blank to her. Finally she began to recover somewhat, and the brothers, fearing she might some day claim the estate, she was taken from the insane asylum and sent to a distant relative, Henry Schwartz, in Noblestown, Pa. She sailed on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm, and arrived in New York on September 6. She got a ticket for Noblestown, and then went o Hoboken, N. Y. While there she was robbed of all her money. She, however, found her train, and arrived safely in Noblestown four days ago.

Soon Mr. Schwartz discovered she was still insane at times. He knew the story of of her he appealed yesterday to Chief Elliot, of the Department of Charities. The Chief listened to the story, but as it was outside of his jurisdiction he told the man the city could not take care of her. At the same time, however, he ordered Clerk Hoffmann to notify Secretary Windom of the case.

VISITORS TO PITTSBURG EXPOSITION

Can Make $50 Clear.

Last year it cost us upward of $2,000 to exhibit at the opening Exposition. We have been kept so terribly busy this summer, however, in selling our pianos and organs and banjos and mandolins and guitars and brass horns and sheet music, that we actually found no time to get up an exhibit for this year's show. However, we propose to give our customers the benefit of this great saving, so that any one who will buy a piano or organ, or any other instrument during the continuance of the fair, will get the benefit of an extra reduction in price of goods of 5 and 10 per cent. Visitors to the show can therefore make some $50 music store west of the mountains and the most reliable one, too. They give a full warrantee for eight and ten years, and sell on easy time payments. Ninety persons out of a hundred would rather trust to Mr. Kleber's choice than to run the risk of the sharp tricks practiced by so many music dealers. Kleber & Bro. have kept a music store for 50 years, and they had the first choice of all the pianes and organs in the country, leaving the indifferent and poor ones to be picked up by the other music dealers. They are the sole agents for the famous Steinway, Conover, Gabler, Opera and Emerson pianos, also for the wonderful Vocalion church organs, and the mouse and dust-proof Earhuff parlor organs. Auy-thing in the music line which you cannot get at Kleber's is not worth having. Don't tail to call at Kleber's, then, 506 Wood street, three doors above Fifth avenue, Pittsburg, Pa. Horses and Mules. The Arnheim Live Stock Company, Lim-ited, of 52 Second avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.,
