POOLS AT THE RACES.

An Interesting Question Voted Upon by Exposition Visitors.

A MAJORITY BALLOT FOR SELLING.

THE CHILDREN'S RAID ON POPCORN

It is mamma this, and mamma, that at the Exposition. It is mamma in every conceivable tone and mamma with every conceivon every corner, in every aisle and at every papeorn booth especially, for the little ones are out in force and they are very fond of popcorn as many of the older visitors at the Exposition could feelingly testify, having frequently run into a sticky brigade, with which discretion is the better part of valor. As a rule, however, in spite of the popeorn they themselves form a pleasing feature of the big show, and it is only occasionally that some especially daring youth calls forth the wrath of the exhibitors by decamping with laden armsful of their samples.

Considerable complaint is made by the patrons of the Exposition regarding the inadequate and inferior street car service granted by the companies running to and near the buildings. Nothing but praise, however, is given to the Exposition proper, and the praise becomes strong regarding the music and the genial musical director, Mr. F. N. Innes. A trombone solo rendered by that gentleman vesterday afternoon was raptprously applanded until an encore was granted of a familiar sacred hymn, during which the entire andience was hushed as if in a eathedral.

THIS AFTERNOON'S PROGRAMME. Following is to-day's programme:

PART L Commencing at 2 o'clock.

The revival of the Homewood races the last season brought to public notice again the question as to whether pool selling should be permitted on the grounds. Last night The DISPATCH gave the public a chance to cast their vote for or against pool selling in order to try and find out, as near as possible, what the majority of people thought about it. EVERYBODY INTERESTED. On the register were the names of ministers, awyers, business men, workingmen and those coresepting all phases of the voting population of a large city. It was easy to guess how a minister would vote and "anti-race" people. It was also easy to judge of the decision of those known as patrons of races. The former two would rote "no" and the latter "yes." It was then a matter of strength between the two It was found also that there was a third class It was found also that there was a unit can of people who, while if they voted their senti-ments, they might swell the yes column; still they took the stand that they did not attend races and had nothing to say about the actions of others. They only looked out for number one and remained neutral, so the question secured and remained neutral so the question secured be between those who would put forth an fort to prevent pool-selling, and those who are either patrons of the pool men or saw no "res" by a majority of 94 to 42 the burs a chance to lose," "Might as well gam-ble on horses as Presidents," "Yes; if you have no pool-selling you have no races and those who like neither need not attend; therefore, it should be a matter for the patrons to decide," "Races without pool-selling would be as solemn

Some of the negative answers were, "It is noralizing." "Immoral." "Have no use for others." "Its influence on the forming of a ing man's character is not good." "It is high to this thing was ended, but it will kill itself ime." The solution of this momentous estion should be prayerfully considered.

strolled into the He-No-Tea Hong at the Exposition, and, after sipping two or three cups of tea and smacking his lips, made the remarks quoted. John Hong, for such was his name, was asked to give an explanation of his utterances by a DISPATCH reporter who stood near. John said that in China the first thing that a Chanaman did the first tiling that a chanaman did after dressing and washing his hands and face in the morning was to sip two or three cups of tea. He said that this warmed the body, set the blood in circulation and kept the person in good health.

His statements appeared reasonable in regard to the good effect of drinking tea beere breaklast. The warm water treatment before meals is used all over the world by physicians, and the addition of good and pure tea, beside warming the stomach, would not as a stimulant in stirring into action the dormant organs. The effect of using impure, improperly cured or adulterated tea would be right the opposite of that stated. It takes a Chinaman to know good, pure tea

CARPETS THAT SHOULD BE FRAMED.

E. Groetzinger, 627-629 Penn Avenue. The carpets in this magnificent exhibit in vestibule seem really too beauti ul and val-nable to be trodden under foot. The soft, yielding fabric is certainly agreeable to the feet, but the injustice would be to the carpets, which are each the best of their kinds, nd those kinds o the best. No wonder the display is of surpassing richness, when such materials are used and so skillfully ar-ranged. The plan of this display is certainly novel, yet one is never surprised when a man of Mr. Groetzinger's taste and judgment places before the public just the things they would have if they knew how to get them. How tamiliar he has made Pitts-burgers with all that is most valued in floor

It would be superfluous to give the exhibit in detail, for it has been so thoroughly inspected that all know it well and have given it a gracious reception. They can't know, however, all the goods at the store, for the stock is so huge that fully two days would be consumed in looking at the more well together and bake at once in gem pans.

Mr. Maeder is always supplied with a full stock able expression. It is the one word heard of standard and novelty goods, keeping right up with the times. His custom work (the nly kind he handles) is or the best, fit and finish are entirely satisfactory and the goods reliable. This merchant tailoring establishment is conveniently located on Fifth avenue, not far from Smithfield st., so easy of access that even a stranger could not miss it. A cordial invitation is extended to all by Mr. Maeder to call upon him at his store.

WIRE AND SOLID IRON WORK.

Taylor & Donn. Nos. 201-3-5 Market St. The wonderful conceits in wire shown at this exhibit would lead strangers to suppose that these were the chief manufactures of this firm, whereas their specialties lie in solid iron and brass. These can be seen at Market street, and comprise such matters as fire escapes of all descriptions, fire shutters, stairways, balconies, jail work and ele-vator inclosures, with a further list too large to be given in detail.

The Pittsburg and Allegheny Protestant Orphan Asylum

WILL INCREASE ITS FACILITIES By Erecting a Large Addition to Its Present

Building.

Not exactly a new home, but a very much more commodious one than is at present occupied, will in the near future delight the bearts of the little wards within the walls of the Pittsburg and Allegheny Protestant Orphan Asylum. The ladies constituting the Board of Managers have for some time contemplated the disposal of the property at the corner of Ridge and Grant avenues, Allegheny, and the purchase of less valuable ground upon which to erect a larger building, but at a recent meeting the vote taken by those present resulted in 10 to 8 for retaining the property and securing the necessary accommo dations by building a handsome addition.

The decision once reached, the matter was placed in the hands of an architect, and the plans submitted will, with few alterations, be accepted. They outline a three-story addition to be erected on the west end of the present building, facing Ridge avenue and extending back to Lincoln avenue, to be connected with the main building by covered plate glass passage ways on the second and third stories and by an uninclosed basement passageway. The passageways will be of usual dimensions and are designed as play courts for the little ones in cold or inclement weather and for the use of little invalids.

The proposed addition is to conform in style and building material with the main building and to be supplied with all the modern improvements in plumbing, lighting and heating. The additional wards that it will supply are saily needed by the institution, which at present has 175 immates, and consequently in a saily crowded condition, but in a surprisingly healthy

CHOICE PROPERTIES.

Is the coming residence. We have three for sale that we believe are better than any others now in the market.

We know they are well built-they were built under our supervision-by day work (no shoddy contract work). Of course, they are on as-phaltum streets, two in East End, one at Roup; all convenient to the different rapid transit lines and P. R. R.; and again, of course, they have every possible modern convenience and luxury, such as sanitary plumbing, electric light and the thousand and one new things such a house should have. They are necessarily in choice neighborhoods -it would not pay to build them in any locality but the best. They vary in size from 12 to 15 rooms, and, of course, in price; but the prices are the only things about them that are cheap-$16,000 to $20,000.

Come to the office and see photographs, or drop us a postal and our representative will call in one of our carriages, that we keep for this purpose, and take you to the houses: it's no trouble: it's business.
