NO ACTION YET TAKEN IN THE KENNEDY CASE

Langston, the colored man from Virrinia, does not yet occupy a seat in the House of Representatives. Speaker Reed made a vigorous effort to secure the necessary quorum, but he was baffled at every acting with the Democrats in the contest

INPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, September 19 .- Again the Democrats succeeded in wasting the day's session of the House completely, and "Tom" Reed's so-called tyrannical rules could no more avail to keep them indoors than if the walls of the Capitot were made of cardboard. The Speaker was successful in catching and caging a quorum, after repeated and amusing trials, upon the questions of the approval of the journal, the calling of the previous question on the Langston-Venable contested election case and the resolution of the minority declaring in favor of Venable's election, and the Republicans were led for a little while to believe the Democrats had tired of their obstruction. That this conclusion was ridiculous was soon proven.

Playing With the Big Speaker.

The Democrats were merely toying with upon the resolution of the majority declaring Langston to be the legally elected Representative of the Fourth Virginia district, the quorum disappeared as though by

Of course a call of the House followed and the invisible Democrats became suddealy visible, entering voluntarily, or at the request of some one of the officers of the House. This was all very nice and easy, but to hold the birds after they were caught was different. The moment the roll call began nearly all of the Democrats left the hall, and they were not compelled to kick down the doors to get out.

The Doors Were Not Locked.

The latch string hung in a convenient place on the inside. Repeated calls of the House were followed by the disappearance of a quorum almost as soon as it was formed, and when the time was still far short of the usual hour of adjournment everybody agreed to a cessation of the formal nonsense, and a recess was taken till the evening session, which was devoted to private pension bills.

Many amusing incidents occurred during the roll calls. If a Democrat stuck his nose inside the doors of the House Speaker Reed would count him before he could get away. Thus Objector Holman peeped once, and he was counted in a loud voice by Reed, and great laughter and guying of Holman fol-

The Speaker attempted to take a very cute twitch on the Democrats on one call by declaring 164 a quorum, which is now a majority of the living membership of the House. He quietly remarked that distinguished Speakers of the House had established this precedent, and among them no less a personage than Mr. Raudall.

An Appenl in the Nick of Time. The Democrats were paralyzed for moment, and then protested and appealed. The Speaker was unable to show up his precedent. In the words of Kilgore, of Texas, "Tom's bluff didn't work. He was called, and had to forfeit the pot." Had the Democrats hesitated a moment longer than they did the point would have been decided and out of the way, and an important precedent established. Reed got out of it by remarking that he could not at once place his hand on his authority, and, therefore, as he himself was really of the opinion that a majority of all the members originally elected should constitute a quorum, he would make no decision.

In the course of Crisp's argument upon the point of order he referred to the decisions made at the beginning of the war. whereupon the Speaker suggested sotto voce that there was a necessity for similar decisions now. Mr. Crisp retorted that he was arguing a serious matter and would not notice side-bar and undignified remarks.

Calls It a Second Secession. Mr. Honk, of Tennessee, referring to the desertion of the Democratic side, said that it was a familiar repetition of secession. Mr. Crisp said he would not go into the question of secession with the gentleman from Tennessee. That was a long way be hind him. Mr. Houk retorted that he was referring to the present secession reply that the absent members believed that NOT MAKING A FIGHT when the majority had given notice that it was going to unsent an elected member the majority must have a quorum. The point of order was also discussed by Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, Mr. Holman, o Indiana, and Mr. Reilly, of Pennsylvania. Representative Walker, of Massachusetts, believing that the picture of the PLAN OF A COLORED DELEGATE. House in its present condition of Democratic depletion would form a good Republican campaign document, to-day secured the services of two photographers to reproduce in counterfeit presentment both sides of the chamber.

The photographer in the gallery above the Democratic side looked down upon an array McDowell Again Indeesed by the Mercer County Repubof empty seats, while the artist on the majority side directed his camera upon a goodly proportion of Republican Representatives The balf-dozen Democrats present were upaware that their portraits were being taken, and the Republicans were careful to withdraw from the Democratic side all the pages and doorkeepers who might tend to swell the Democratic representation. It is not probable that a quorum of Republicans will be together to-morrow, as only two or three additions have arrived today, but it is held to be quite certain that the absent Republicans will be here by Monday, and it is expected that on that day Langston will be scated, though Cheadle, of Indiana, and Coleman, of Louisiana, the two Republicans who voted against Langston to-day, claim they will have other Republican votes with them on the final roll call. FINANCIAL PLANS. THE BILL TO INCREASE NATIONAL BANK CIRCULATION.

Senators Sherman and Plumb for Once Nearly Come to an Agreement-A Proposition to Pass the Measure in an Amended Form.

WASHINGTON, September 19 .- House bill to reduce the amount of United States bonds to be required of national banks, and to restore to the channals of trade the turn. No attempt was made to lock the excessive accumulations of lawful money in doors. Several Republican kickers are the Treasury, having been reached on the Senate calendar, Mr. Sherman said that he believed its passage would tend very much to quiet even the present agitation in the money market. The second section would allow an increase of national bank notes to the amount of $11,000,000 or $12,000,000 by authorizing circulation to the full face value (instead of 90 per cent) of the bonds deposited to secure circulation. He could not tell, however, what the effect of the first section would be, which reduces the compulsory requirement of bond de-posits in order to have the right to carry on business to $1,000, because if the bonds to he withdrawn were sold that would tend to reduce circulation. But, as the banks had now the right to retire circulation and sell their bonds, it seemed to him that that process had been going on, and that the passage of the bill would tend to check it and would induce the National banks to issue circulation to the full amount of their onds deposited.

Mr. Plumb said the bill had to a certain extent merit, but he feared that it would finally result in a contraction of the currency. While he agreed that the national banking system, as a system of discount and deposit, was wise, and oughtto be continued, it was plain to be seen that it was not long the Democrats were merely toying with the Speaker and his party. All the votes taken were merely formal and entirely untimportant. When it came to the test vote, upon the resolution of the majority declarates the business of the country was in greater peril than it had been for years from the lack of a sufficient circulating medium. Disaster might be avoided, but the country continue so until it had a larger volume of

Mr. Power moved to strike out the first section (reducing to $1,000 the deposit of bonds to retain charters). Mr. Sherman said he had no objection to having the first section struck out, and to passing the bill with the second section alone, which would add 10 per cent to the bank circulation. After further discussion the bill went over till to-morrow, retaining its place on the

Trying to Reach a Compromise on the Meta l. Glass and Pottery Dutles. IFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT, 1

WASHINGTON, September 19 .- With rec iprocity agreed to, with a promise in sight on the sugar schedule, binding twine and other minor matters, it would seem that the conferees on the tariff bill were well on their way to the time when a report can be made to the House. There is much in dispute yet, however, and two or three days may elapse before the Republicans of the mmittee can adjust all their differences and go through the formality of considering the bill in full committee. There is a warm contest over the metal and glass schedules and pottery is still unsettled. The Senate conferces insist on the Senate rates, especially as to steel manufactured, and the House conferees hold well together for the House rates, Messrs. Burrows and Dingley feel ing that they cannot, even if they so dego against their colleagues, Bayne and McKinley, who so fully and competently represent the great and wealthy regions where these manufacturers rule supreme. An inclination has been shown to compromise upon the most important items by granting something near the Senate figures on billets and structural steel, and a close approximation of the House rates upon steel rail and plates, but nothing is finally decided. Among gentlemen interested in the adjustment of the medal schedule in the interests of manufacturers, instead of the re lection of Western Senators, who are here to-day, are Mr. Harry Oliver, of Pittsburg, and Mr. James M. Swank, of Philadelphia. and the glass and pottery interests are also represented by the manufacturers, who have been here for several days anxiously using all the influence they can and impatiently

European Sensation Caused by the Tariff Bill Continues

IBY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY, 1 . LONDON, September 19 .- Patrick O'Brien and Mr. Davis Dalton, Members of Parliament, and John Cullinene were arrested this evening at Kingstown, on the warrants issued at the same time as those for William O'Brien and John Dillon. Mr. Parnell is making arrongements for an early meeting of his followers in London. Mr. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., and Mr. James O'Kelly, M. P., will probably take the berths on the steamer Teutonic, which Mr Dillon and Mr. O'Brien had secured for their passage to the United States.

The eviction of 16 tenants on the Pononby estates (who were left undisturbed during the evictions which took place last April owing to their illness) was commenced o-day by the Sheriff, who was protected by posse of 30 soldiers and as many police nen. Two tenants, John Treachy and Maurice Murray, were evicted and possession was at once taken of their lands and outhouses. Three other tenants were left in possession of their dwelling houses owing to the illness of several members of their families. Mrs. Murray had been under medical treatment for two months, as she had been suffering from heart disease. On being evicted she was placed in a sitting posture in the yard attached to her house.

After the Sheriff's party had left she fainted. An army surgeon was sent for, who, after examining her, advised the landlord's agent to allow her to return to the house. She was therefore carried back and the rest of her family permitted to return with her, and she remained insensible for over an hour. There was no resistance anywhere, and the evictions will be continued to-morrow.

The Excitement in Europe Caused by the New Tariff Measure.

In referring to the subject, the Berlin Frerndenblatt in a scathing article. dwells on what it calls "American ego tism,"and says that if Kalnoky and Caprivi have been discussing measures of retaliation as announced, and contemplate united action by members of the dreibund, there is no doubt that any practical plan for securing the end in view would be heartily welcomed by the manufacturers and commercial classes of all sections.

STUPID COWARDS Four Persons to Burn When They

[BY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.] BERLIN, September 19 .- To-day it would seem that the entire population of this city was crowding and crushing round the magnificent house, No. 134 Friedrichstrasse, the residence of the retired merchant, Herr Funchs, in which four young lives were lost this morning through abject cowardice and official stupidity. At 3 o'clock this morning fire broke out on the first floor. The governess of Funchs' two daughters, Irma, aged 14, and Crete, aged 10, gave the first alarm to the father and his four sons, who were sleeping on the same floor, but in another wing of the flat. The father, governess and sons made their escape and ran for the fire brigade, leaving the two children and the servants in the blazing house. The gallant fire brigade arrived at the scene of action in about 20 minutes, and the first action of the commander was to order some gentlemen who volunteered to rescue the children from the fiery furnace to desist from their brave efforts until he had sent to the engine house for some non-inflammable suits of clothing, whereby eight more

When the valiant firemen were fully equipped in their safety coats they ventured to bring out the children and Augus Domske and Louis Graeger, servants, all of whom were covered with dreadful burns and in fact charred to the very bones. Surgeons were sent for and arrived at 4:15, but the victims were dead before their arrival. Berlin is wild with indignation at the cowardice of four stalwart men allowing their little sisters to be a whole hour in the burning house without an effort to save them, and also at the stupid dilatoriness of the commander of the fire brigade.

Three Young Recruits Court-Martialed for the Murder of a Quartermaster.

[BY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.] PARIS, September 19 .- From Warsaw in Poland, comes a very distressing case of misearriage of justice which occurred there. A quartermaster of a dragoon regiment quartered at Sielce, was found dead in the streets, with his skull cleft. Three young recruits of the regiment were arrested near the spot and as the quartermaster, who had the reputation of being a martinet, had often reported them for punishment drill, they were suspected of the murder, tried by courtnartial and sentenced to death. The parents of the lads tried to procure a reprieve with a view to reopening the case, and offered heavy bail. The father of on of them. M. Pupon, a millionaire of Moscow, undertook to deposit 100,000 roubles for that purpose, but all their entreaties were unavailing, and the three recruits were executed by order of the Governor General without even the delay necessary to receive

Two days after the execution the wife of a furrier of Sielce informed the military authorities that the real murderer was her husband, who had discovered that she had intimate relations with the quartermaster. This shameful miscarrirge of justice has created a great sensation throughout the country.

A CROWDED TRAIN.

Several extra cars had to be added to the already well-filled coaches, which all in all caused a delay of some 15 minutes. The train pulled out with its human freight, and when she was once beyond the numerous side tracks about a mile north of the city the engineer began making up lost time, and on the train sped and in a few seconds was running at lightning speed. Everything went along all right and every one on board was happy, and glad to get home after a tiresome day spent in sight

Suddenly the scene was changed into one of a terrible railroad wreck, and there was a crash, a rumbling of the passenger coaches over the ties, and down went the engine, tank, baggage, express, parlor and two passenger coaches into the creek which borders the road at that point. The sight was a heartrending one, the escaping added to the horror, and but for the two baggage and express cars which preceded the passenger coaches, hundreds would have been literally cooked affive. FLOCKING TO THE SCENE. The crash was heard for a great distance, and hundreds of people from the village and the corrounding country were soon at the scene of the wreck. The cause of the accident, it has been learned, was by a number of wrecked coal cars, which had been thrown in the way of the passenger train. This first wreck was caused by a collision between a freight and coal train. The coal train had pulled on past the station at Shoemakersville going south and was running at a moderate speed, part of her train having torn loose, when suddenly a freight which followed, came thundering around a curve, and before the engineer could stop his train it crashed into the rear of the coal train and threw a number of loaded coal ears across the northbound track.

The cannon ball express was then due, and before the danger signal could be given she came in sight and the engineer. John White, did all he could to avert the accident, but without avail, and when the engine struck the wrecked coal cars she left the track and carried the cars as above mentioned down a steep embankment, and precipitated them into the creek 30 feet below.

AN AWFUL SIGHT. Then came the most awful sight ever witnessed at that small village. Women screamed, children cried and men moaned Willing hands at once set to work, and within a short time some 40 injured had been removed and several killed were also taken out.

The railroad officials at once sent a special train from here to the scene of the wreck with a dozen physicians and couches for the relief of the injured. This train arrived at the wreck about half an hour after it happened, and the injured who had been taken out before the special arrived were first at-tended to and placed in the baggage coaches brought for the purpose. One after another wes taken from under the wrecked cars bleeding and mangled until the scene resembled a battlefield upon which many had been killed and injured by flying bul

The attention of the wreckers who arrived half an hour afterward was attracted hoisting the wrecked cars out of the Schuylkill river, into which they had been thrown, and then the work of rescuing those pinione fast in the wreckage was begun. Cries from many quarters came for help, especially extricate t'emselves with babes in their arms. "Oh, my God, have mercy upon me," came from dozens, and the sight was too awful to look upon. KILLED AND INJURED.

A reporter was permitted this afternoon by the officials to take a look through the jail around which so much interest seems to center now. The reporter caught a glimpse of Burchell as he was passing downstairs with Turn-key Forbes to enjoy a half hour's exercise in the yards. The prisoner wore a black suit of clothes, had a clean shave, and was took the ground that the convention had a splendid opportunity to do something to show to the people of the State that the Reenjoying his after-dinner smoke as he sauntered through the hall. MERCER, September 19 .- The Republican County Committee met in this city to-day in response to the call of Chairman Perry When the Investigating Committee made their report on the charges of alleged bribery it was accepted by the committee. The report was the same as that adopted at New Castle last Tuesday, embodying the result of their investigation. The com-mittee was thanked and discharged, and the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, That we commend the action of the members of the committee from Lawrence and Mercer counties as expressed in their report, and deplore the action of the members from Butler and Beaver counties in calling a new convention for the purpose of making a new nomination and calling primaries to elect delegates for that purpose, as being unwarranted and not in accordance with the rules governing nominations in this district, nor in accordance with the will of the people.

Resolved, That we hereby express our full confidence in the integrity of Major McDowell and pledge him our earnest support.

Resolved, That no primaries were held, nor authorized to be held, in Mercer county by the direction of this committee for the election of and Mercer counties as expressed in their re direction of this committee for the election of delegates to the so-called Congressional con-ference, which is reported to be convened at Harmony, Butler county, on September 23, 1890, and we deny the right of any self-consti-tuted delegate to represent the Republicans of Mercer county in said convention. In the case of C. J. Law, Republican candidate for Recorder, who is charged with bribery, the accused made a statement to the committee in which he said that on be ing repeatedly urged to pay the legitimate uses that had been incurred during his canvass, he finally consented to do so, and Stewart withdrew, and that he (Law) did not know of the criminal nature of the transaction, and was willing to abide by the decision of the committee. A committee of five was appointed to investigate and re

IN THE COAL REGIONS. Delamater Well Received at a Number of the Principal Towns.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. POTTSVILLE, September 19. - Senator Delamater spent to-day among the mining towns of Schuylkill county. He left Reading at 7:30 this morning and crossed the county line half an hour later. At Port Clinton he was met by Chairman Phillips, of the Republican County Committee Claude G. Whetstone and State Senator Luther R. Keener. From there the party went to Tamaqua, where 400 persons had assembled to meet the Senator. A short reception was given, after which the party started for Mahanoy City. At the latter place the Young Republican Club entertained the visitors and threw its doors open to the public. Many persons called to see Mr. Delamater, who made a speech, stating that he was no man's candidate and that the campaign was a fight for protection and other Republican principles. From here they went to Ashland, where they were again entertained, dining at the Miners' Hospital, From Ashland the party was driven to the fair grounds at Lavelle. There a large crowd was in attendance, and Mr. Delamater was warmly greeted. a general hand-shaking the candidate mounted the platform and made a speech lasting just 20 minutes.

Several other speeches were made by members of the party. After driving back to Ashland a Lehigh Valley train was boarded for Girardville. Then an hour was spent in the office of the Girard estate and a largely attended reception was held. Then the cars were again boarded, and the run made to Shenandouh, which place was reached at 8 o'clock. Six hundred enthusiastic Republicans met the party at the depot. They were headed by a full band and a procession was promptly formed, which escorted the visitors to the Opera House, while a fine display of fireworks was made all along the line. At the Opera House fully 2,000 peo-ple listened to Mr. Delamater's address, which lasted about 30 minutes. At its con-clusion there was a banquet, followed by a clusion there was a banquet, followed by a public reception which did not end until after midnight. Mr. Delamater took the 2
