NOT A PLEASURE TRIP

An Allegheny Physician's Experience on a European Tour.

And He Chased All Over the Continent Trying to Get it Cashed.

HIS MONEY BOUND UP IN A DRAFT.

STOWAWAY IN THE FULDA'S STEERAGE There is probably one physician in Allegheny who would rather spend a lifetime in the practice of his profession than take another European trip if he were sure of having as much trouble as he had on his last one. Dr. B. Burns, of Federal street, had an experience a short time ago that combined pleasure, amusement, disappointment, discouragement and real downright hardships at one and the same time. He had been booked to read a paper at the Berlin Medical College early in August, and sailed from New York on the Normania after having had all his money converted into a draft, which the New York agent told him would be payable on the ship. After he was about two days out the doctor had occasion to use some cash and going to the purser to get his draft cashed was informed that he would not be able to secure the amount short of Hamburg. Dr. Burns stuck to the old ship and at last anded, with the thought that his troubles lin to secure his ducats. He was to have been in Berlin the next day to read his pa-

Fulda was gone. But he had to come home, so he bribed a sailor to take his baggage there himself. He managed to do so, and board. The Fulda has accommodations for 600 passengers, and 1,100 were aboard that trip. Dr. Burns was compelled to pay $110 for accommodations in the steerage, and says he was glad to get home at that.
