The Iron and Steel Markets Are in a Healthy Condition, Muck Bar Steel Having the Call

Consumers of Coke Cannot Get an Adequate Supply and Throw the Blame On the Railroads.

PRODUCTION STEADILY INCREASING.

A Brisf Glance at the Happenings of the Week in the Labor World.

Muck bar continues to be the special featmanufacturers are still doing a lively business, and their demands for muck bar tend to keep prices at the present high figure-$30 f0 and $30 75 ruled during the week, and it is possible that $31 was paid for prompt delivery. According to the last reports on pig iron stocks the consumption for August was in excess of production by 35,000 tons. If this continues during the present month foundrymen may begin to think about advancing the price a little. So far there has been no change, Bessemer ranging from $18 to $18 25, and gray forge ruling at $15 25. Steel billets and blooms experienced no change, selling at $31.

The number of 110n workers in the dis trict was depleted during the week by 57, who were hired here to work in the Birmingham rolling mill, Ala. These were mostly Amalgamated men. On this day week the puddlers employed by the Pittsburg Forge and Iron Company at Woods' Run were discharged by the firm. They went on strike the previous day, in what was claimed to be an irregular manner, and the firm became incensed at such questionable treatment. They have advertised for

CARS ARE STILL SCARCE.

The demand for coke continues to be as large as ever, with prospects it will grow larger. The same old cry is again sent up. Operators unable to get off supplies to the customers through the scarcity of ears, and consumers complaining they cannot get coke to operate their furnaces. In the coal trade, both river and road, there has been no change of note. The Southern markets are better stocked than the river men desire to see them. Railroad men still complain against the inadequacy of the transportation tacilities,

Window glass manufacturers transacted some important business at Chicago during the week. Conflicting reports circulated as to the actual amount of business done, and all that officials will assent to is in a reaffirmation of existing prices, and to an understanding that "something should be done" to drive foreign glass from the country and keep individuals from underselling each other. The business was adjourned to another meeting in October. GLASS TRADE GOOD.

A mass meeting will be held this evening in Hibernian Hall. The Amalgamated Association have recently established a lodge in the mill. Canlkers and others working along the river proffered demand during the week for increased pay. Some were successful. Operators are not expecting any strike among the miners in this district, and the men not believe there will be any cessation of work during the winter. At Irwin the struggle between the United Mine Workers and the companies still continue. Reports are to the effect that the men brought down there to work are induced by representa-

The Canucks Will Try to Compete With England in Hammered Iron.

An iron and steel company has been incorporated at St. John, New Brunswick, with a capital of $500,000, for the purpose of erecting and working mills for the manufacture of all kinds of iron goods. These mills are to be built and equipped in the most modern way. That an effort will be de to compete with English imports is shown by the fact that the promoters lay stress on 40,000 tons of rolled and hammered iron being imported yearly into the Domin-ion, and further point out that the duty payable on this material is large enough to allow a favorable margin to Canadian manu-

The company proposes to use scrap iron from abroad until Canadian pig iron can be produced cheaply enough to compete with cost of scrap iron. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick coal will be used to produce the motive power.

CHANGING THE TURNS

At Wharton's Mill Causes Disantisfaction Among the Puddlers.

The scarcity of gas at Wharton's Iron Mills, at the foot of South Twenty-fifth street, is causing some dissatisfaction between the members of the firm and puddlers just at present. Since a shortage has occurred in the natural gas supply the company have been forced to close the mill dur-ing the day and run it only at night. In doing so, and in order to accommodate both the day turn and night turn men, the company have assued orders that the day turn men go to work at 6 P. M., and the night turn men at midnight. The publiers are not at all pleased with the arrangement, and in all probability will refuse to work it some further arrangement is not made soon.

RAILROAD MEN DISSATISFIED.

Illinois Central Trainmen Demand an Advance in Wages. CHICAGO, September 19 .- The committee representing the trainmen employed on the entire system of the Illinois Central Railroad waited on General Maragers Beck and Sullivan to-day in pursuance of an agreeure of the iron and steel market. Pipe | ment made a few weeks ago, at which time a number of grievances of the men were presented. At to-day's conference the result was hardly of a nature to please the committee, and it may require all of next week before an adjustment of the differences can be arrived at. The men demand an advance in the scale of wages now paid of about 33 per cent.

The advance requested affects only the trainmen, these including the conductors and brakemen on both freight and passenger trains, and baggagemen. The conference will be called together again to-morrow. There is little or no apprehension felt by the railroad people, apparently, that any trouble will result on the line after the conference is brought to a close.

Instructions. WASHINGTON, September 19 .- The dispatch from Salvador announcing that President Ezeta had been informed by United States Minister Mizner that he (Mizner) had received cable instructions to formally recognize Ezeta's election as President of Salvador was shown to Acting Secretary of State Wharton by a reporter this evening. Mr. Wharton said he was very much surprised at the news, as the department had not sent any telegram to Minister Mizner authorizing him to officially recognize Ezeta's Government. Mr. Wharton added, however, that steps would undoubtedly nize Ezeta. Mr. Wharton has received from Minister to operate their furnaces. The railroads succeeded in getting away larger shipments tending the shooting of General Barrundia, last week than in the previous one, and but says he is not yet prepared to make its

His body was brought into Chloride vesterday. The same day Fred Baubach was shot and killed at Silver Mountain Mine, 12 miles from Chloride, also, it is presumed, by Indians. Moccasin trails were traced in the vicinity. A posse has left Chloride to warn the miners and get information as to the killing of both men.

THE DEAD, OR LIVING.

A Vote at the Exposition on the Right of Way for Funerals.

SENTIMENT AGAINST A STOPPAGE.

Large Crowds From All Sections a Regular Thing at the Point Show.

MANY OUTSIDERS ENJOY THE SIGHTS

If the opinion of the masses, as they think at the present time, is taken as a basis for settlement of the question as to whether funerals should have the right of way over street cars, the latter will have to stop when a funeral passes. Whether by argument the mass of the people could be made to change their views is a question that is open for discussion, but sure it is that there is now a strong sentiment in favor of funerals not being disturbed en route to the cem-

Whether this is sentiment without a view of the practical side of the question is also left to the reader. It is only known that a large majority of the people yesterday voted yes on the question at THE DISPATCH headquarters at the Exposition. It is true that the vote was not large, but it was observed that the voters were of such a mixed class that it is fair to assume that they rep-resented the larger mass of humanity that urged adown the aisles.

The question as worded was "Should funerals have right of way over street cars?"
There were just 137 votes cast, 108 yeas and

GIVE THE DEAD A SHOW. Among the affirmative reasons given were:
"Let the dead have the right of way for once, even if it be the last." "Respect for the dead as of old." "As it is the last respect we can show the dead." "Because it is right that they should." "For the sake of civility." One man wrote "No," and "Honor your friends while living." Another was wrote next to it "Yes, but respect all man wro's next to it "Yes; but respect all dead, both friend and toe." "If there is anything sacred, it is the dead."

Some of the negative reasons were "Pub-lic business should not be retarded for a sentiment;" "'A living dog is better than a dead lion;' "'No, except at crossings;" "Give the living a chance;" "Of what benefit is it to the dead?-they are dead and their souls flown;" "There is room on the side of tracks."

ALWAYS A CROWD. To one who stays at the Exposition all the time the days are now all about the same
—some days there are more visitors present, some days less, but there is always a crowd. Each visitor chatted with, and each attraction added but augments the pile of evidence of what a great thing for Pittsville, Ky., Ebb Goodin, charged with the that will accrue. Pittsburgers have daily tors that may justly cause them to feel proud of Pittsburg and the Exposition of 1890. To-day is "People's Day," the band selections being popular and old-time airs, including Stephen C. Foster's melodies, The oil well is down 80 feet. The electric ountain continues to delight all. All is interesting, bright and new to one who has not visited this big show, but there has been so much printed already regarding the features that a repetition would be a disregard of a professional idea of news. Following is this afternoon's band pro-

AN INSTRUCTIVE AND ELEGANT DIS-PLAY.

S. Hamilton, Nos. 91 and 93 Fifth Avenue.

Mr. Hamilton certainly believes in education in general, and musical education in particular, if one may judge by the elegant display in main hall. One cannot listen to such instruments as are found there and not have his tastes cultivated and elevated.
"No more indifferent pianes, organs or small musical instruments for us," the people say, "and we'll go to Hamilton's, where all the things are so beautiful to look at, and, even better, have such delicious tones, and where they don't stick a fellow with fancy prices." There is a world of truth in it all, for whether you are choosing a mouthorgan or church pipe organ, you enjoy the consciousness that you are the lucky holder of the biggest prize about, and what is more, there it has been as a second or the prize about, and what is more, there is the pleasing sensation that every-body else knows it, too. One reason why the terms are so reasonable at Hamilton's is secause he buys so largely that he gets the best terms himself and gives the benefit to his patrons. It is a sound business principle, and brings quick returns. They are always busy at the store, people often finding it hard to choose, where all the stock is desirable. Drop in as you pass by, and look at the pianos, organs and band instru-ments, and the pretty adjuncts in the way of music racks, piano stools and stylis novelties in piano draperies.
