A STUPENDOUS FRAUD

ALL THE DEFENDANTS CONVICTED.

District Attorney Johnston Quotes Shakespeare With Effect.

ONE DAY IN THE COURTS OF THE COUNTY

The trial of Sefton, Dunn, Gannon, Butler, Phillips and Harrison, the agents of the National Capital Savings and Loan Association, charged with sonspiracy, was concluded yesterday.

Attorneys R. P. Wallace, L. K. Porter and A. C. Robertson argued for the defendants. They were followed by F. M. Marshall, Jr., and District Attorney Johnston for the prosecution. During his address to the jury District Attorney Johnston, irritated by the broad smile that Sefton wore during the entire trial, bappened to glance at him and catching a broader grin than usual, said, quoting from Hamlet: "Smile on. One can smile, and smile, and smile, and be the villain still." The court smiled all round, and Mr.

Johnston continued his address. Judge White followed with a careful charge to the jury. He reviewed the evidence and the law covering the charge of conspiracy. In the course of his charge be said that from its literature and the paper it issued, etc., he had no hesitation in saying that the association the men had acted for was a stupendous fraud. In the matter of agents for such corporations, he said that legally under the laws of Pennsylvania the prisoners were not the agents of the associa-tion. Foreign corporations must publish the names and the addresses of their agent or agents in the cities in this State. The agent who appointed Sefton and Dunn to the agency here had been appointed as the agent in Philadelphia, and had no power to act here. Consequently Sefton and Dunn were not legally the agents of the associa-

The jury retired at the conclusion of the charge and were out but a short time, re-turning with a verdict of guilty as indicted. Richard Butler was recommended to the mercy of the Court.

The prisoners were remanded to jail, and their attorneys at once entered a motion for

THE COURT'S POWER DENIED.

An Assertion That It Cannot Revoke

Wholesnle Liquor License. Attorney Davis yesterday filed the answer of James Tuite, the wholesale liquor dealer at Smallman and Thirty-first street, to the petition of the Springfield School Board to have his license revoked. Tuite denied the allegations made by the school board and claims that his house is quiet and orderly and that he had not violated the law. His attorney also claims that the court had no power to revoke a wholesale liquor license. He asserted that the act of 1872 governed the revocation of wholesale licenses and under it there had to be two convictions for violations of the law before the license could be revoked. Judge Magee took the papers in the case and reserved his decision

The Rule to Compel Him to Furnish Another Bondsmnn.

W. D. Moore, Esq., yesterday appeared before Judge Magee to answer the rule on Alderman Doughty to show cause why a process should not be issued for his arrest on account of the death of his bondsman.

Mr. Moore claimed that the court had no jurisdiction in the case. The bond had been given for Alderman Doughty's appearance before the Supreme Court and the application for a process should have been made to that court. Judge Magee took the papers in the case and reserved his decision.

Says His Wife Was a Shrew. Henry Schindebutte yesterday filed an answer to the suit for divorce brought by his wife, Wilhelmina J. Schindebutte. He denied her charges of cruel treatment and that she was compelled to leave. Instead, he said, he treated her kindly, but she by her violent temper embittered his whole life.

THE OPENING OF OUR WINTER SEASON IN CLOAKS, WRAPS, JACKETS AND FURS will take place this week, and we are prepared for it in every sense of the word. You who read the daily papers may have noticed that we only advertise goods that are seasonable. We have refrained from advertising Plush goods and Furs for the simple reason that we had no old stock to palm off on the public as new and desirable. We had new Fall Wraps and Jackets, and impressed that on your mind (and still have some left at reduced prices). But Winter Wraps were not complete, and we have waited until we could show you an assortment second to none in the country, and now ask your inspection and approval of our efforts.

Now, we don't want to be understood to say that other houses don't keep good Boys' Clothing, for some of them do. But we do wish to say (and are ready and willing to give a written guarantee to that effect) that our Boys' Suits at $3 out-last those for which you pay $4 elsewhere, and our $5 goods will look neat and tidy when the $7 goods of other dealers are ready to be relegated into the rag closet.

THE INCREASING POPULARITY

Custom Tailoring Department

Is due solely and entirely to the very modest prices at which we turn out the finest garments. Of course, we buy our cloths direct from the European looms. And, as we buy in big quantities and pay spot cash for everything, we can easily undersell every other first-class merchant tailor in Pittsburg. We say "first-class" tailors, because we don't come in competition with any others. Slop shop work, misfits and old styles are things foreign to our custom department. Our fine Ready-made Clothing is far preferable to the "Cheap John" made-to-order work turned out by half of Pitts-burg's merchant tailors.

Now, then, if you want to leave your measure for a FIRST-CLASS Suit, a Spring Overcoat or Pair of Trousers at a small outlay of money, call and see us.
