CAMPAIGN ECHOES FROM VARIOUS POINTS

All was harmonious at the Republican League Convention in Philadelphia. The platform, after dwelling on matters of national importance, touched the scheme of a canal from the rivers in Western Pennsylvania to the lakes. The documents which it is believed Senator Emery intends to bring out in his charge against Delamater have been made public.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. PHILADELPHIA, September 23.-This morning long before the hour appointed for calling the Republican League Convention to order the delegates began crowding sent in the lower part of the house and balcony was filled.

The Athletic Band, led by Harry W. Gramlick, opened the ceremonies by the rendition of Sousa's march, "The High School Cadet," and then President Stuart walked to the front of the stage and was greeted with round after round of applause. He delivered his annual address, speaking in substance as follows:

Booming Delamater. The object of our meeting is the adoption of such measures as will insure the success of Re- ard Oil Company. That the said company was publican principles in the November election. It is for you to determine how that purpose shall best be secured. That the clubs are a great aid to the party is admitted; that they about 40, under charge of R. B. Burns, will work in harmony with party organization begun work the morning of the day of its understood, and that the results will be satistic.

During the speech the Pittsburg delegation took three banners up to the stage amid great applause. The banners contained the following inscriptions: "The State of Allegheny is married to the Republican party. and is true to her marriage vow. For 36 years we have furnished the majorities for Eastern candidates. What will you do for our favorite son of the West? Allegheny County is good for 15,000 majority for Hon. George W. Delamater and the whole State ticket."

After some unimportant routine business, a recess was agreed to until 2 o'clock. After the band had discoursed a few popular airs, of $5; that said money was given to afpreliminary to the afternoon proceedings, the Pittsburg Glee Club, a sextet of songsters who were delegates to the convention, was introduced by "Bob" Lindsay, the Secretary of the League, and proceeded to warble a campaign ditty.

A Burst of Music. The song, which recited the prophecy that the Republican party would triumph in thusiasm, and especially the chorus which

"Won't we have a time, Oh, won't we have with a brass band blowing march away. We'll march around the blocks, put our ballots in the box

For Delamater on election day." President Stuart called the meeting to order after the Glee had responded to a couple of encores. It was then announced that the Committee on Resolutions was will be driven out of his head by the time the ready to report and M. J. O'Callaghan read next Legislature adjourns. The Republicans the result of their deliberations. The resolotions heartily ratified the National and State platforms of the party, and indorsed the national and State administrations. The Republican nominees for State offices were enlogized as gentlemen well fitted to perform the duties of the offices for which they have been named, while the alleged campaign of abuse carried on by the Democracy was condemned. The league was especially complimented for the fact that the entire State ticket is made up of members of Scoring the Democrats. The platform goes on to way: While heartily indorsing the general work of the Hepublican members of both branches of Congress, we desire to give special commendation to the genius and courage of Speaker Reed which rescued the House from the control of Democratic filibusterers whose only purpose was obstruction. The action of the two Houses of Congress which made it possible to reach, despite Democratic obstruction, the McKinley bill, should at the proper time be applied, and if necessary strength used, to the end that the Federal elections bill may be speedily passed. The document concludes by calling the attention of Congress to the importance of the State with the lakes by means of a canal and inviting the attention of the State Legislature to the proposition to make pro-vision for the care of volunteer firemen disabled in the line of their duty, and for the families of those who lose their lives in such Pitteburgers Chosen. Edwin S. Stuart was unanimously reelected President. Three Vice Presidents were elected, John B. Robinson, of Delaware county; F. J. R. Jones, of Philadelphia, and John S. Rehm, of Lancaster. Robert H. Lindsay, of Pittsburg, the Recording Secretary, was renominated and reelected by acclamation, as was also Captain William Thornton, of Philadelphia, as Treasurer. Delegates at large to the National League were chosen in the person of William H. McCleary, of Pittsburg, and Receiver of Taxes John Taylor, of this city.

Archibald Mackarel, of Pittsburg, and

Charles F. Ettla, of Dauphin county, were chosen alternates. Scranton was named as the place for holding the next convention. This virtually ended the business of the convention. President Stuart introduced Senator Delamater who made a short address to the delegates. Senator Watres and Colonel Stewart also made brief speeches, after which the convention adjourned sine die. Following were the delegates from Allegheny county:

A Meeting at Night. Albert J. Edwards, William J. McCleary, Deputy Sheriffs John Doyle and William Dietrich, Superintendent Gamble Weir, Chief J. O. Brown, Assistant Controller V. G. Adams, Colonel Brady, of the Tariff Club; Colonel W. H. Reed, of the Americus Club; John S. Neeb, John Murphy, of Allegheny City, and Robert H. Lindsey.

A very large and very enthusiastic mass meeting was held at the Academy of Music to-night, at which President Stuart presided. Speeches were made by John M. Thomson, President of the League of Republican Clubs of the United States; Senator Delamater, General Hastings, Thomas J. Stewart, J. H. Dolliver, of Iowa, and Speaker

I think it was in a Meadville gas company. Quay told me all about it but I have forgotten the facts, but remember the amount was $85,000. Quay came who frantically declared it would ruin him, if the bill passed and gave Quay the actual facts as to his interest; that, and a dispatch from McManes induced Quay to change his mind. I voted against the bill because Joshua Rhodes and nearly every manufacturer in my district petitioned me to do so, and no one asked me to support it. Oil Producers Not in Line for Delamater-A Republican Pattison Club in the Oil Regions-Influential Men Sign a Mani-

BRADFORD, September 23.-Ex-Senator Lewis Emery, Jr., last night sent out a manifesto to the press in answer to charges made against him in some of the papers which support Delamster. It was claimed that Mr. Emery always looked out for his own interest and a number of influential oil men were supporting Delamater. Mr. Emery, in response, denies that the names mentioned as supporting Delamater carry any influence to speak of beyond their own vote, and cites a list of about 250 prominent Republicans of Bradford and vicinity who, though prepared to vote for the Republican Congressional and local

Mr. Emery further claims in his address that seven-tenths of the oil producers will vote for Pattison; that two-tenths will not seated. vote at all, and that one-tenth will probably support Delamater. He submits the following paper, with the names, as proof of the correctness of his position.

In view of the fact that the nominee of the Republican party for Governor, during his entire public career, has shown no disposition to accede to the rights and wishes of the people of the discountry, but tire public career, has shown no disposition to accede to the rights and wishes of the people of the old country, but on the contrary took special interest in opposing all measures that they wanted; and in view of the fact that he was the champion of the Standard Oil Company in its fight against the "Billingsley bill" and was solely responsible for the defeat of that measure; and while we are ardent adherents to the principles of the Republican party, we now deem it to be our duty, by all honorable means, to prevent his election to the Executive chair of this Commonwealth. Having the utmost faith in ex-Governor Robert E. Pattison, inspired by his manly and upright course while serving the people as their Governor, during which term of office he persistently fought all efforts of corporate power to usurp the rights of the people, we, the subscribers hereto, are ready and willing to form ourselves into a "Republican Pattison Club." and pledge ourselves to do all in our power, by honorable means, to accomplish his election:

CONFIDENCE IN DELAMATER

Expressed in an Address Issued by His Friends and Neighbors.

PERCIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. MEADVILLE, September 23 .- In an address which will be issued to-morrow morning by several hundred Republican voters of this city, the following language occurs: As an answer to all inquirers, and as our reply to all detractors, the undersigned citizens of Meadville, neighbors and acquaintances of enator Delamater, hereby unite in commending him to our fellow citizens as in all respects worthy of the high office of Governor. He has the sterling, manly virtues which give stability to character and rectitude to life. He will to character and rectitude to life. He will prove a worthy successor of that noble line of Pennsylvanians who have lent dignity and grace to that office. Recognizing the responsibility cast upon us by this nomination, the undersigned hereby pledge to our fellow citizens of other parts of the Commonwealth such an endorsement of Senator Delamater at the polls as shall fittingly evidence our confidence to the man and our supregistion of his select. n the man, and our appreciation of his selection as the candidate of the Republican party IFROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.) WASHINGTON, September 23. - After thirteen wasted days the Republicans of the House have at last succeeded in securing a use to which they put it was to seat two negro Congressmen, Langston, of Virginia, and Miller, of South Carolina.

Mr. O'Ferrall, of Virginia, represented he Democratic party of the House to-day. being the only member on the right side of the aisle during the whole of the proceedings on the two election cases. Before the House met the Republican leaders were counting upon having a quorum if Mr. Sweeney, of Iowa, returned, as he had announced he would. When the prayer was over the question passed from mouth to mouth, "Is Sweeney here?" Sweeney was not there. The roll call on the approval of Friday's journal was long drawn out. One hundred and fifty-five Republicans voted in the affirmative and one Democrat voted in the negative. There was no quorum. Sweeney had not come.

CHEERED THE PRODIGAL. A call of the House was ordered. Just as the roll call was begun someone cried: "Sweeney comes." There was a burst of applause. The prodigal walked down the sisle. Four Republicans threw their arms about his neck at the same time. Others tried to hug him, but could not. If they could have killed a fatted calf, they would have called it O'Ferrall. One member shouted to another: "Sweeney has come." They put a ring upon his finger and shoes on his feet, so to speak, but Sweeney did not make a quorum.

A little later Milliken came in for the first time since the Maine election, and there was an evident disposition to reprove him for staving away so long. This was manifested by the hisses with which he was greeted as he walked down the aisle. But his advent made the quorum, and he was forgiven a moment later for that reason. The work of unseating Venable was then quickly performed, and the negro Langston was led down the aisle by Mr. Haugen, of Wisconsin, amid prolonged cheering, and

MILLER IS SEATED.

Then came a chorus from the Republican side, "Call up another case," and, in re-aponse, the Miller-Elliott case of South Carolina was taken up. There was no debate; the resolution declaring Miller entitled to the seat was adopted without a division, and the whole thing accomplished, in just 13 minutes. During the roll call the vacant Democratic seats were again photographed. Miller was not present to take his seat, being now in South Carolina trying to have himself elected chairman of the State Republican Committee. There will be no other election case brought up this session. There are four still unacted upon by the House. These are the Alderson case in West Virginia, one case in Florida and two in Mississippi. In the two latter cases the Democratic con-testees will hold their seats, and in the two former the Republican contestants will be seated. They will be disposed of next ses-

ON THE SCHEDULE. The Louisiana Delegation Asks for a Hearing in the Big Fight-They Are Refused, According to Rule-Iron and Steel Men Satisfied. TIPROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. 1

WASHINGTON, September 23 .- The Republican conferees on the tariff bill have not yet concluded their labors. They were still in session to-night. All the schedules in the bill have been passed upon and parversy, the sugar schedule and free binding twine. The duty on steel rails of all sizes has been fixed at $13 44 per ton; structural steel, $20 16 per ton. The steel manufacturers here are satisfied. The minimum rate on iron and steel plates when valued at 1 cent per pound or less has been fixed at half of 1 cent per pound. Between 1 cent and 1 4-10 cents per pound in value the rate is six and a half tenths cents per pound. Between one and four-tenths cents and two cents in value the rate is eight-tenths cents per pound, while above two cents in value the original House rates have been preserved. The paragraph relating to billets, slabs, etc., is not so satisfactory. The minimum rate is four-tenths cents per pound on these articles when valued at one cent per pound or less. Valued above one cent and not above one and four-tenths cents, the rate s half of one cent per pound. The House rate of three-quarters of a own canoe. cent per pound extra on the galvanized sheets has been retained, as has also the House rate of two and a half cents per pound on anvils. The Senate amendments to the hoop and cotton tie schedule have been adopted. Colonel Bayne said to-night that he should make an effort to have the steel billet provisions changed so as to make them less injurious to that branch of industry. In the glass schedules it is understood that the rates in the House bill have been that the rates in the House bill have been retained in nearly every instance. There is talk that a new classification in window glass has been adopted, but is impossible to obtain the particulars to-night.

The big fight between the House and Senate is on the sugar schedule. No positive action has yet been taken on this matter, although, as a compromise, the suggestion that sugars up to No. 14 Dutch standard shall be admitted free and that the date for the schedules to go into effect be changed from March 1, 1891, to April 1, is

WEDNESDAY. receiving the attention of the committees. Such a compromise would have no practical effect, but would be a Senate victory and a clear defeat to the free sugar men of the House. The Senate's proposition, it will be remembered, was to place on the free list sugars up to No. 13 Dutch standard, which includes only uurefined sugars. The House proposition makes sugars free up to No. 16 Dutch standard, which includes refined sugars for table use. To make the free limit No. 14 would still shut out refined sugars, and would be a compromise only on paper. The Louisiana delegation in Congress this afternoon attempted to obtain a hearing before the committee to explain that settling the date at mittee to explain that settling the date at March 1 would cause a loss to the Louisiana planters of from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 in the marketing of the present crop, but it was met with the statement that no hearings had been granted to any interest, and no excep-tion could be made to the rule.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] LEBANON, September 23 .- A very daring attempt to rob the People's Bank here was neatly frustrated by the shrewdness and prompt action of an observing young lady who lives just opposite the bank. Cashier Woomer had just left, and Assistant Cashier Elmer F. Hauer was alone behind the desk in charge. His first visitor was a short, thick set, strange man with a dark beard, who asked a number of green questions about sending a draft to some neighboring town. The next man to enter was a tall person, also a stranger, who, seeing that the assistant eashier was engaged and apparently being in no hurry, stood in the middle of the floor, opened wide a large newspaper, and seemed to be reading something from its inside pages. The third man of the party, who had also come in, was a slightly built young fellow with a smooth face. The latter's movements were completely hidden from the cashier's sight by the tall man who stood up holding the newspaper. Suddenly the young man, unseen, dropped upon his hands and knees, and erept around the counter toward the open vault of the bank and to where Assist ant Cashier Hauer was sitting. The young man had a sand club in his hand, probably to knock Mr. Hauer unconscious, but before he got near enough a young woman briskly entered the bank. The tall man with the newspaper turned sharply around, still holding the sheet so that the lady could not see in the direction of the cashier.

"What do you think of this picture?" he boldly asked, and then quickly added: "Some one is calling you from the opposite side of the street." The young woman quickly stepped away from the man and newspaper, shricking "They are robbers! There's one sneaking on his hands and knees; look out, Elmer, they mean to kill you!" Cashier Hauer quickly turned, seized his pistol, and the next mo-ment the three would-be burglars boldly dashed for the door and escaped, since which time nothing has been seen of them. The bank.

A Pretty Denver Girl Locked Up, but She Managed to Escape.

REPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. DENVER. September 23 .- Mr. Sykes. wealthy and highly respected insurance man of Kansas City, fell in love at first sight with Miss Minnie Richards, a very beautiful and highly accomplished young lady of this city. There seemed nothing in the way of a most happy marriage but the girl's stern uncle and an obdurate mother. They had chosen James Cameron, a minister's gay son, for the young lady, whom she did not like. Failing to turn the girl's mind from her Kansas City adorer, they locked her in her room an took her clothes from her. She is said to have been a prisoner of this kind for the past two months, until last Wednesday night. In some was she managed to kee up a correspondence with her lover. He guardians discovered this, and, after taking away the treasured epistles, were more strict than ever in watching the girl.

Last Wednesday Miss Richards, slightly clothed, managed to escape from her room. She ran to the home of a friend, where she is now safely ensconseed. Her relatives secured the services of a detective, whose efforts to locate her were without avail. She notified her lover, but he was sick in bed in Kansas City and has just recovered enough to respond to his sweetheart's appeal, being now on his way to Denver, and when he gets there will immediately marry the girl.

Arrested on a Charge of Obtaining Money by False Pretenses.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] LOCKPORT, N. Y., September 23 .- Cliford Allen, son of the well known broker, Norman O. Allen, was arrested here to-day charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Young Allen, who is but a boy of 18, astonished the social world hereabouts on August 31, by eloping with Adah Boggs a young lady 15 years his senior and daughter of a well known citizen of Allegheny, Pa. The scene of young Allen's escapade was Olcott, a lakeside resort, and his landlady, Mrs. Humphrey, is the complainant in the case noted. She claims that Allen borrowed money from her while stopping there, promising to send a money order which has never materialized. A constable came up and nabbed Allen here to-day, taking him back to Olcott to night. He has separated from his wife after a stormy time of it in Buffalo, where Mrs. Allen upbraided him and called him very naughty names. It is thought that Allen's father, who is wealthy, will settle the young man's debta and help him out of his troubles. Allen, senior, says he has disowned the boy, and he must paddle his

Mr. Morley's course is in marked contrast with the reckless ignorance of Mr. Balfour and the heartless carelessness of the Castle people and the Tory officials. England will be very glad to listen to his report and to receive some unbiased and reliable information, as distinguished from the purely Irish reports, which Tories persist in doubting and the malicious misrepresentation of the Conservative authorities and newspapers.

Mr. Parnell desires to wait until after the trial of Dillon and O'Brien to see whether it will still be possible for them to go to America, believing that delay will not affect the object of their mission. His health will not permit him to make a personal visit to America. Mr. O'Brien has nade what sounds like a sensational statenent, but may be true, to the effect that he has reason to believe on good English authority that the life sentence of John Daly for connection with a dynamite plot was the result of a police conspiracy in Ireland. He believes that the confession of the chief constable who was concerned in the affair has been sent to Mr. Matthews, the inefficient and bungling Home Secretary of Lord Salisbury's Cabinet.

THE FORMER CONVENTION'S ACTION

Declared to Have Been Fraudulent, and Therefore Utterly Void.

CANDIDATE'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE

Thomas W. Phillips was nominated for ongress at the convention at Harmony terday. All the counties of the Twentydistrict sent full delegations except McDowell's nomination was deold. Mr. Phillips has accepted.

H. Y. PA., September 23.—The most dishing feature of the convention call ominate a candidate for Congress in to ,, the Twenty-fifth district, was the harmonious action which characterized its deliberations from beginning to end. There was not a discordant sound in or out of the convention, and the enthusiasm which was manifested at every mention of T. W.

Phillips' name was unbounded. It was half-past 1 o'clock when the delegates assembled in the school building. As soon as the audience was seated D. B. Douthett, Esq., of the Butler delegation, nominated Judge Benry Hice, of Beaver, for Chairman, and he was unanimously elected. He made a brief speech on taking the chair and then proceeded with the business of the hour.

ALL THE COUNTIES REPRESENTED. The organization was completed by the report published here to-day with regard to | electing of one secretary from each county of the district, as follows; Beaver, S. P. Stone; Butler, W. Watson: Lawrence, Dr. J. K. Pollock; Mercer, L. L. Keck. There were full delegations from Butler, Beaver and Lawrence, and one representative from Mercer county, ia the person of L. L. Keck, a prominent merchant from Greenville, who, in his own language, was "the lone star from Major McDowell's county."

The delegations from the other three counties were composed of the following: Beaver-Hon. Henry Hice, A. Tomlinson, W. H. Craig, A. F. Smith, J. H. Williams, S. B. Stone, A. W. Brown, W. H. Witherspoon, C. L. Harrah, E. S. McCandless, F. W. Rawlins. PHILLIPS' NAME CHEERED. On motion, a Committee on Resolutions, composed of one member of each county, was appointed. Before the committee had left the room Mr. Moore, of Butler, moved that the convention proceed to the nomination of a candidate for Congress in this district. The motion was heartily seconded, and carried with a shout. A moment of silence prevailed, and then J. L. Galbraith, a young lawyer from Butler, arose and nominated T. W. Phillips in a brief and telling speech, which was received with round after round of applause. The nomination was seconded in a clever DUBLIN-Patrick O'Brien, M. P., has speech by W. M.
