Some Newsy Chat Concerning of Interest to Exposition Goers.

EXCELLENT BAND PROGRAMME TO-DAY

A great number of delegates to the German Catholic Congress visited the Exposition yesterday. It is understood, however, that the really big crowd is to come to-night when an essentially German programme will be rendered. Mr. Innes has gone to the greatest vains to select a good programme and the grand fantasia "Melodies of the Fatherland" will doubtless an overwhelming success. The announcement that the Exposition was free to all orphans caused an amusing scene last evening. An old gentleman of about 60 years strolled up to the doorkeeper and demanded admission on the ground that he was an orphan, and had been one for 30 years. It took time to persuade him that he had been any under the category.

he hardly came under the category.

The Exposition Excursion Company has announced that on application by the management, the inmates of all charitable in-stitutions for children will be given a free trip on the steamer Nellie Hudson to Davis Island Dam. Arrangements can be made at the Exposition or 933 Penn avenue. Boat riding has become one of the features of a visit to the Exposition, and it is quite the thing to take a trip on the steamer or for a party of a few persons to skim down and up the river in Dart, the little steam

A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION. Yesterday's voting topic at THE DIS-PATCH headquarters, in the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co.'s space, was: "Should the Granting of Liquor Licenses be Placed in the Hands of a Commission?" The vote was, ares, 52; noes, 56, showing that there is a great divergence of opinion relative to such a change. A large number of persons said they did not want to express an opinion on the subject until they knew how the commissioners were to be placed in their official positions, how many there would be of them, something regarding the methods to be pursued, etc.

A study of the volings in the "remarks" column is interesting. Some of the affirmative voting reasons given were "providing the commission is non-political;" "Three heads are better than one," "Takes up too much time of the Court and will prevent political favoritism;" "If wisely selected by the critizens," and organs, or that other charming instru-ment, the self-playing Æolian.

Some of the negative reasons given were: Commissioners too easily fixed," "It is in good ands now." "A commission is easily comm

10. Galop- Champagne" (new) Tourneur THE EXHIBIT BEAUTIFUL.

Hopper Bres. & Co., 307 Wood St.

Everybody knows where this is, they don't need to be told that it is in north gal-lery. Where is the Hopper display was sked the writer. The only reply necessary was to point to a dense mass of people pushing, crowding and jostling to reach one spot, and that spot was the Hopper exhibit. No use trying to get to it, the people who had made their way through the throng stoutly maintained their positions, for they vere enjoying, as every one else has done, the beauty and charm of this display, with its infi, ite variety and incomparable taste. No one can pretend that they don't know the latest s'yles in furniture after looking at this exhibit, for there is an array of elegant, pew and fashionable styles that s stupendons, and one, too, that must delight the most fastidious. If you cannot get near the exhibit go to the store at 307 Wood street, where they have four big floors, and you will have a chance to see their fine goods without trouble.

J. F. Mneder, 135 Fifth Avenue,

Visitors to the Exposition have taken need of the fuvitations extended by Mr. Maeder, to come and examine his fine stock of materials for fall and winter suits, for nen and boys, and the result is a large acrease in this already large business. People appreciate clothes that are handsome to look at, and comfortable to wear, and for chich they have paid most moderate prices-three points of advantage not easily et by rival competitors. This is the time to make your selections before others more prompt than yourself have secured the very hings you would have preferred. I tis well, too to get your orders in ahead, so as not to have to wait unduly before getting them filled, for there is no doubt about it, that when you have selected the materials and have seen how well they are going to fit, you will be impatient to don them and make your triends a trifle envious. Therefore, se no time; be first in the field, or as nearly erst as you can, considering that others have been before you and secure your share of the fine custom work done by Mr. J. F.

THE CHURCH PIPE ORGAN.

S. Hamilton, Nos. 91 and 93 Fifth Avenue. The eagerly looked-for church pipe organ has maily been placed in the center of Hamilton's splendid stand. Owing to the vast erowd yesterday and the consequent noise and ustle, it was not possible to voice or tune this noble instrument. Lovers of music will, however, be able to enjoy the concerts to be given upon it this afternoon and even-ing, as the workmen were prepared to work all last night, if necessary, to get it in readiness. Later a full description of this atest achievement of Mr. Hamilton in making it a matter of course that all musical instruments can be supplied by him, will follow in these columns.

In Public Favor.

Not only the beautiful wire exhibit in main hall, of Taylor & Dean, Nos. 201, 203 and 205 Market street, but the solid manufactures for which they are noted. The list of these intter is immense-fire escapes and iron shutters, store fixtures, bank work, jail work, iron shutters and doors, vases and stable fittings and fencing, railing and grills for every possible place and purpose.

EXPOSITION PEOPLE LEAVE. And Call at K'eber Bros.'

After viewing the splendid sights at the Exposition most of the visitors (who mean business) call at H. Kleber & Bro.'s, 506 Wood street, and select one of their superior pianos and organs. They know in their hearts that to make a fine show is one thing and to give people the very finest instru-ments at the price of the common second-class goods is quite another thing. The Messrs. Kleber & Bro. enjoy the fullest con-fidence of the public, and whether they ex-hibit or not, whether they hold forth on the principal business street of Pittsburg, Wood street, or in Diamond or Virgin alley, the public will seek them out and congratu-late themselves that they have found out the place which is utterly safe and reliable, and above the sharp tricks of new houses which have come in at the eleventh hour, and which have to rely upon the credulity of the public to get rid of their goods—using clubs and other knock-down arguments to bull-doze their callers into buying their inferior wares—articles which the Kleber Bros. had long since rejected as unworthy of being associated with their honorable record and name. Such pianos as Steinway's Conover's, Opera, Gabler, Emerson, and organs such as the great Vocalions, Earhuff dust-proof and Burdett, cannot be duplicated in this country. Klebers' give an 8-year warrantee and sell on easy time payments. Mellor & Hoene's Grand Display of Planes and Organs.

When you speak of the splendid instruments carried by this firm, established in 1831, everybody knows what you are talking about, for the thousands of pianos and organs which have been placed by Mellor & Hoene in homes, churches and lodges, have given such unqualified satisfaction that it is an open scaret that they are the people to deal with if you want the very best the market affords. Take for instance the Hardman pianos that have played them-selves right into the hearts of the people, wonderful instruments of great power and tone and phenomenal durability, and from their peculiar construction a perfect action that is perforce lasting. Then there are the Krakauer Bros.' planos, noted for their beautiful singing tone, elegant cases, great durability and ex-quisite touch; surely recommendations to make any piano popular. Besides these there are the other high-grade pianos made by Vose & Sons, with their pure, rich and sympathetic tone, combined with great power; and there are still others. Mr. Hoene has been a lifelong practical piano maker, and Mr. Mellor's reputation as judge and critic in matters musical is too widespread to require comment, but they are good and sufficient reasons for their handling only the best whether it be pianos

UPRIGHT PIANO, ETC. BY THE HENRY AUCTION COMPANY,

BY THE HENRY AUCTION COMPANY,

311 Market Street,

FRIDAY MORNING, September 26,

At 10 o'clock.

Why these sales hurt complaining dealers. Because we have received one of the largest and finest stocks of parlor goods ever offered in Pittsburg, to be closed out at once for cash at your own price. The goods are all strictly first-class in every particular, and embrace suites in brocatelle, tapestry, rugs and hair cloth of the latest designs and best makes. These goods have just been received, and are new and fresh; what you do not find in the old-time stores, who complain about this sale. We have also a fine line of sideboards, upright piano, bookcases, desks, wardrobes, chiffoniers, chamber suites in oak, walnut and mahegany; bureaus, washstands, chairs, rockers, tables, bedding, hair and husk mattresses. These goods will be on exhibition for two days, and sold positively to the highest bidder on FRIDAY. So, if you are thinking of buying a suite, or any furniture, get prices from some of the old-time stores, and call and compare goods, then attend the sale on FRIDAY, and you can use your own judgment and make your own price.
