Citizens Expected to Subscribe for Bonds to Pay for Room for

MORE EXHIBITS AND A CONSERVATORY

The doubting gentlemen who pooh-poohed the idea of Pittsburg enjoying a second successful Exposition have retired to hide their diminished heads, and sanguine citizens who believe in the city's extended growth and increased business are already looking forward to the third annual show. The managers are more than pleased with the attendance so far, and though as yet the numbers on any one day this year have not reached the highest figures on any one day last year, the receipts have been 40 per cent greater than during the same period last year. These figures have a roseate bue to the eyes of the directors. It must not be forgotten that the Exposition stands for a bonded debt of $100,000, and this sum must be paid off at the end of the year. At any rate, the directors earnestly hope that they will be able to clear it; and they think they

The directors have already had under discussion plans for next year. They have full confidence in the growing and continued popularity of the Exposition, and they believe that every year will see it becoming more of a necessity and more looked for by citizens.

MUST COME FORWARD. But they claim that only the citizens can make of the Exposition an annual success, and that only by coming forward and subscribing for bonds to enable additions and improvements to be made for the larger space required by the increasing number of exhib-itors. Any question of the value of such bonds from a commercial point of view must be set at rest by the undoubted success of the Venture.

"Citizens," said a director last evening, "must take the matter into their own hands. They must now be fully satisfied of the utility, advantage and desirability from an educational standboint, as well as an advertising medium, of the yearly show, and they cannot neglect to raise funds for the necessary improvements. The present board must not be understood as wedded to their work bere. They will have accomplished their mission at the close of the year, and will be in a position to clear off the dest, or nearly all of it. Others can take their delt, or nearly all of it. Others can take their place if it is so desired and carry on the work."

"We had not room to accommodate some of our best customers this year," said Manager Johnston, "and additional room is required. A feature of next year's show will be a handsome conservatory at the west end at a cost of $50,000. This will be a great attraction. Let THE DISPATCH form itself into a committee of suc." he continued "to stir up citizens to one," he continued, "to stir up citizens to ow up the good work now well under way. hundred thousand dollars at least will be required to enlarge and improve the buildings, and this sum citizens should have no difficulty in raising. The Pittsburg Exposition should, and I trust will, be a yearly show seco none in the country. But it rests with citizens to make or mar it."

to make or marit."

To-night the fourth symphonic concert will be given, and toward the middle of next week the Irish and Scottish nights will be held. It has been suggested to Mr. Innes that he have a colored jubilee concert, and it is probable he

LADIES' HATS IN THEATERS. The result of last night's balloting at the headquarters of THE DISPATCH, in the main illding of the Exposition, was interesting, and a surprise in some respects. The question was, Should ladies remove their hats or bonnets in heaters?" When the count was made it was found that 207 had voted aye and only 41 was found that 207 had voted aye and only 41 ho. This result would not be so surprising if the vote had only been open to gentlemen, but ladies, too, were given a chance to answer the question. Of the total number of votes nearly haif were cast by ladies, and of the 41 "no" voters only 16 were ladies, showing that out of fully 100 ladies who voted, only 16 said nay. Another fact relative to the vote enhances the value of the result as a criterion of public opinion. It was learned to the vote enhances the value of the result as a criterion of public opinion. It was learned from the conversation of the voters that nearly, if not all, were ardent patrons of the theaters, and voted without hesitation relative to the answer to be given.

There was a good deal of humor in the notings in the "Remarks" column. Some of the affirmative remarks were: "When they wear hats with brims one yard wide;" "Hat off and hair low;" "Yes. All it needs is a leader among the society people; "H crowns are high: "Give all little men a chance;" "If it becomes a gentleman, so it would a lady;" "When they hats are over eight-stories high;" "If you have a place to put them;" "Put them noder the seat;" "It's time for a change;" "Because I am a little man;" Some of the negative reasons were: "Make the seats so you can see over them;" "If they make them smaller the same regult will be accommended." nake them smaller the same regult will be ac-complished;" "Should wear a narrower brim;"
"Men should not be so particular, a hat is a thing of beauty if worn by a woman;" "Too much trouble to put them on;" "They add to beauty and should allways be worn," To-day's voting topic is, "Should railroad crossings at grade be abolished?"

A TEXT FOR A SERMON Can be Obtained by Studying One of the Features of the Expo. "Do you know that in that heathen god there is a text for a sermon?" said a visitor at the Exposition vesterday when shown the He-No Tea exhibit.

"How is that?" was asked.

The worshipers of this idol representing Buddha believe that in proportion to their devotion and regard of the teachings of Buddha, will they be like Buddha in personal appearance. And as devout Buddhists grow old it is claimed by the heathers that they reit is claimed by the heathens that they resemble Buddhas. What a next application of this heathen belief could be made by a llower of Christ, and in its latter application is it not true in a spiritual sense?

much money?" was asked.
"Well, I will tell you. They are the originators and most ardent workers in the later-day protest against adulterations in food. They were the first to bring to sell only pure, uncolored and unadulterated tes, and demand of the Eastern tea growers that the adulterations be stopped. They now want to introduce this ten in this section of the country, and in order to bring it to peo-pie's attention, must needs spend money.

AUCTION SALES.

FINE FURNITURE

FRIDAY MORNING, September 26,
At 10 o'clock.
Why these sales hurt complaining dealers. Because we have received one of the largest and finest stocks of parlor goods ever offered in Pittsburg, to be closed out at once for cash at your own price. The goods are all strictly first-class in every particular, and embrace suites in brocatelle, tapestry, rugs and hair cloth of the latest designs and best makes. These goods have just been received, and are new and fresh; what you do not find in the old-time stores, who complain about this sale. We have also a fine line of sideboards, upright piano, bookcases, desks, wardrobes, chiffoniers, chamber suites in oak, walent and mahogany; bureaus, washstands, chairs, rockers, tables, bedding, hair and husk mattresses. These goods will be on exhibition for two days, and sold positively to the highest bidder on FRIDAY. So, if you are thinking of buying a suite, or any furniture, get prices from some of the old-time stores, and call and compare goods, then attend the sale on FRIDAY, and you can use your own judgment and make your own price.

think will suit you. It is well built-when we say this we mean it-we mean that particular attention was paid to every detail: that there is no shoddy work in or about it; it is convenient to rapid transit lines; is on asphaltum paved street, in a locality healthy, beautiful and fashionable, in one of the nicest parts of the East End. It is a new brick house, has nine rooms, bath and all modern conveniences and luxuries. The price, $7,500, is below what it would cost you to build such a house -the builder has facilities others do not possess, and he is selling at cost for good business reasons-he built to improve his other propertyhe has other houses just as good, some larger, some smaller, in same neighborhood for sale. When these houses are sold to good parties his remaining lots will double in value. We can show you photographs at our office, or will be glad to take you to the houses-we keep our own carriages for this purpose. If you drop us a postal, we will have a representative call.
