Transactions Are Light, but There is a Little Shading of Prices.

A CHANGE NOW MUST BE UPWARD

The Market for the Manufactured Product

Continues Strong.

REPORTS FROM THE LEADING CENTERS

The iron and steel markets are practically the same as they were a week ago. Transactions have been light, but only those furnacemen whose necessity compels them to do so, are ready to make concessions. One of our leading iron brokers thus puts the situation: "Standard brands of mill iron are still selling at $15 25. I sold to one party within a few days 1,000 tons at this figure and was ready to duplicate bis order at the same price. Southern mill irons and other outside brands have been selling this week as low as $15, but I have sold none as low as that." Bessemer iron is quiet, but there is strong undertone of confidence in the future of markets. Prices are down to bed-rock and any future changes must be toward a higher level. The furnaceman's profit is almost wiped out unless he is very favorably located. Said one of our leading iron brokers: "Chances are that the average producer of raw iron is losing money at present production of the past year has sent the native cost of iron up from $2.50 to $3 per ton above the cost of a year ago. The lowest point which mill iron reached last lowest point which mill iron reached last spear work on their two Oxmoor furnices and will have them in blast again by October 15 or sooner. All six of this company's furnaces will then be in blast. materials, it is plain that the furnscemen is not in as good a position as he was a yea ago. Future changes must inevitably be upward or furnacemen will be forced to retire from the field:

THE MONETARY STRINGENCY

Is Reported to Have Affected the Market Is

Frecial Telegram to the Dispatch. CINCINNATI, September 26.—Rogers, Brown & Co. say: The stringency in money has exercised its influence on the market in spots since our last report. Some lots of iron have been pressed for sale for immediate delivery, and ash and prices realized were about 25 cents per ton under the understood minimum of the barket. Aside from this, furnaces have held truly, and at the close of the week large transcitions took place at regular prices. The argest Southern firm has sold this month note than twice the product of its furnace and eport that they will have all they can do be ween now and Christmas to fill their orders. Stocks of Iron are smaller and ores and colors. stocks of iron are smaller and ores and coke scarce and dearer in the South. In the Mahoning Valley a good deal of iron is being carried because its high cost will not admit of selling on the present market. An attempt is being made to get a reduction on Connellsyille coke, but so far without success. All the rolling mills and foundries continue as busy as ever and see no sign ahead as yet of slackening in demand.

The amount of plete within periods specified. The amount of iron now being melted is heavier than at any previous time, and indications all point to a continuance of activity in this direction. Lake Superior charcoals and Northern coke irons continue inactive, and few sales of any moment are being made. Southern coke irons are relatively weaker than other classes, but there is a strong disposition on the part of certain furnaces which have been cutting prices to now withdraw from the market for anything in the way of early deliveries, as heavy orders booked will take their product for several months.

FEATURES IN THE SOUTH Unusually Heavy Shipments of Pig Iron Just

Now to Western Markets. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.;

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., September 26.—The feature of the iron business in this district just now is heavy shipments of olg to Western markets. Coal and cotton transportation will soon require all the rolling stock of the railroads and the iron men have been invoicing their stock while they could get cars. Furnace men had a good many orders on hand for September delivery and for a week the bulk of the freight out of this city has been pig iron. A number of large shipments have been made to Louisville, Unicinnati, St. Louis and other Western markets. All the large orders on hand for immediate delivery will have been filled by October 1, when the rush of cotton and coal will require all available cars.

In prices there has been no change, but the condition of business is very satisfactory. Consumers are buying freely for their immediate needs, and enough orders are coming to keep all the furnaces going and to prevent any large accumulation of stock. Leading iron men say they do not anticipate much advance in price soon, but they are confident of continued good trade. The volume of business in this district is fully 25 per cent greater than at this time last year.

The De Bardeleben Company are now push-SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

as they were a week ago. Cool weather has retarded the growth of tomatoes, and prices are a shade firmer. In fruit lines grapes have the lead, and prices are at the lowest for the season. Concords are selling at 30c per 16-h basket in a wholesale way.

Choice grades of creamery butter are advanced, and fancy country rolls are in good demand at the highest price of the season. The upward movement of butter has brought large quantities of so-called butter, or olea, to the front. Anything in the line of butter that sells below 30c per pound may be put down either as below par or as an imitation of genuine dairy product.

Florists report an improved volume of trade this week over last, with no material change in prices. There seems to be a boom in wedding lines the past week or two, with a good outlook in the same line for the immediate future, and florists are almost as happy as brides and grooms.

Staple meats rarely change, no matter what the fluctuations of live stock may be. Our roasts and tenderloins are the same as two years ago, when beeves were 263c per pound higher than present rates.

Supply of ocean products is still short of demand. The oyster season is now fully on, and dealers have all they can do to fill orders for choice stock.

HIGH VALUES WEST

Real Estate Sky High, but Imputations of a Boom Resented.

THEY CALL IT A HEALTHY GROWTH

a Sable Financial System. THE NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE CITY

The following letter, dated New York, September 24, was received yesterday by Messrs. Black & Baird from Mr. A. W. Adair, formerly a salesman in their employ, and well known to the business men of

Pittsburg: "We have settled in New York after splendid trip of four weeks through the for $1,050. great West, by way of diversion, Yellowstone Park and the Yosemite Valley, either of which is worth a trip across the continent to see. Property is tremendously high in Denver, Salt Lake City, Helena and the whole country round, but especially in Tacoms and Seattle. With my knowledge of values, I was rather astonished at the prices of improved and unimproved property in cities with populations of less than one-fifth of that of Pittsburg. In Tacoma we met a man who less than ten years ago gave $1,500 for a lot in that city which he now values at $125,000. The buildings are worth about $25,000. "They call this a gradual, steady and healthy growth, and feel insulted if one says anything about a boom. Southern California really did have a boom in 1887, and, as the bottom has dropped out, the people have to acknowledge it, but that is the only place where it was cknowledged."

Best Financiers at Sen. In this busy country it is nobody's special province to look after business at large. Each ndividual, urm and corporation looks after its own concerns, and in the general effort and struggle every thing comes out right. We have State Legislatures to pass State laws, and National Legislature to look after national interests; we have associations and organizations of one kind or another, protecting this, that and the other interest; but, as a people with similar business interests, we have no organization, no combination, no concert of action. Yet our success and prosperity are intimately connected with certain fundamental conditions. It seems to be no one's business to determine what the volume of circulating me-dium of this country shall be; further than that, it seems to be no one's business to determine whether or not we shall have any specific financial policy. The debates upon the ilver question in Congress demonstrated that our best men are all at sea; that opinions are as diverse as individualities; that theories are entertained where experience and practice alone should dictate. It is necessary that certain broad principles should be enunciated and established. It is as necessary to successful business management that the country be provided with a sufficient supply of good money, as it is necessary that there shall be a sufficient rainfall. The weak spot in our financial and industrial system is, that the working bees of the nation do not understand this truth. The sources of money supply seem so remote from them and so mysterious that they leave the whole question to others. The result is a multitude of opposing ideas and no settled policy. Fixity is the one thing needed in our financial system. This would render panies practically impossible

Business News and Goselp. The death of Henry A. Weaver yesterday afternoon was the occasion for many express-ions of regret on Fourth avenue. Tennyson's characterization of Lord Wellington applies with equal force to Mr. Weaver: "He stood foursquare to every wind that blew."

It is to be hoped that the block of 40 houses soon to be begun on Herron Hill is the first of many others as large or larger. There is not a city in the United States that needs houses as badly as Pittsburg. A member of the San Carlos Silver Mining Company said yesterday that work was progress ing favorably. Surveys are being made for a railroad through the property. Half of the stock of this company is held in Pittsburg. Local stocks are being quietly absorbed by far-seeing investors in anticipation of large profits. Street railways, natural gassers and electric are the favorites.

Thirty-five mortgages were received by the Recorder yesterday, of which six were for purchase money. The largest was for $10,000. The number recorded this year to date approximates there are fewer empty houses in Pittsburg than at any previous time in her history. Home capital could not be better employed than in add-ing to the supply. The fact that many houses are sold long before completion shows they are active stock.

Mr. C. B. Coleman, of Blairsville, stopped over in Pittsburg yesterday on his way home from Seattle. He reports that place fairly booming. He was so impressed with the possibilities of real estate there that he invested in several corner lots.

QUIET AND EASY.

New Fentures Scarce at the Banks-Good Supply and Demand.

The local money market yesterday was quiet and easy. Loans were freely made on good ing to length of time.

After next week a freer movement of funds may be looked for as a result of quarterly dis-bursements and the removal of the Controller's wet blanket in the shape of bank statements. Exchanges were $2,421,784 22, and balances $403,809 91.

Visitors to the Exposition and other strangers have scattered enough small notes through the city to keep the supply almost up to the demand.

The Controller of the Currency in his forthcoming report will recommend the passage of an act authorizing the issue of bank direculation up to the par value of the bonds deposited to secure the same.

Money on call at New York yesterday was easy, ranging from 3 to 4 per cent; last loan, 3%; closed offered at 3%. Prime mercantile paper, 6@7%. Sterling excharge quiet and steady at $4 80% for 60-day bills and $4 84% for

BROKERS DISCOURAGED

The Oil Crowd Losing Confidence in the Revival of Business. Oil trading was again below zero yesterday. Four thousand barrels of cash changed hands at 79%. Regular sales, amounting to 10,000 or at 79%. Regular sales, amounting to 10,000 or 15,000 barrels, were at 80. Oil City led the selling contingent, and closed at 79%—the lowest point touched this year.

Pittsburg bought a few small lots in the forencon, and sold later in the day. The fluctuation was only 1/6c. Opening and highest 80, lowest and closing 79½, with 79½ bid. Clearings were 8,000. Buckeye was not even mentioned.

Brokers were very much discouraged. There is likely to be very little opposition to the sale of the Exchange property to be discussed at the meeting next Saturday. Features of Ye-terday's Oil Market. Quiet to Dull for the General List-Rather Mixed Feeling-Strong Undertone-Encouraging News of the Day -Few Stocks Weak.

NEW YORK, September 26.-The stock market to-day was, as usual of late, quiet to dull for the general list, but active and weak for the few stocks in which the bears are making special efforts with a hope of starting liquida-tion in the rest of the list. The feeling to-day was rather mixed, and it is undeniable that some of the weak-kneed bulls lost courage from the readiness with which such stocks as four rooms, hall, etc.

The undertone is undoubtedly strong, and prices show a disposition to seek a higher level whenever the bear pressure is removed. The news of the day was rather of an encouraging nature, the signing of the Colorado Mid-The news of the day was rather of an encour-aging nature, the signing of the Colorado Mid-iand deal, and the practical completion of the tariff bill being most influential factors. The opening was lower all around, with sugar down 1% per cent, and while that stock was advanced 2 per cent, after a fractional further decline it failed to reach its last night's price at any time during the day, and also failed to hold its re-covery, and closed with a material loss for the day.

covery, and closed with a material loss for the day.

The general list was pressed for sale in the forenoon, with Atchison and Louisville leading, but the losses were generally for small fractions up and later in the day there was not only pressure of any account but considerable buying for the abort account and for a raily. Pacific Mail is the weakest point, dropping 1%, but, while it recovered partially, later went back to she lowest point again.

The market finally closed dull and steady to firm, generally at about the level of the opening prices, and final changes, therefore, are generally for slight losses. Pacific Mail is down 1%; Sugar Refineries and Louisville and Nashville, each 1%, and Union Pacific, I per cent.

Railroad honds were again dull and through.

Railroad bonds were again dull, and through-Railroad bonds were again dull, and through-out the day sympathized closely with the tone of the share list, a heavy feeling prevailing most of the time. The sales amounted to $859,-000, and the Atchison issues were again promi-nent in the trading, the incomes furnishing $135,000 to the total, and while they were weak neither issue scored a fractional loss. The changes in the rest of the list were on the usual small scale. Government bonds have been dull and steady. State bonds have been dull, barely steady.

usual smail scale. Government bonus nave been dull, barely steady.

The Post says: "The advance in the rate of discount to-day by the Imperial Bank of Germany is understood to be mainly a precautionary measure to prevent gold going from this to London. There is, however, no doubt that money is still light all over the Continent; it has been so for the last four months, but is not so much so now as a few months ago. The immediate cause of the advance in the Bank of England rate of discount yesterday was the movement of gold to Lisbon, and so far as the general financial prospect is concerned it is somewhat reassuring to know that the movement of gold to Lisbon is due to a political rather than a commercial cause. This leaves room for the presumption that there has been no inflation of commercial credits and no intervalue of real estate.

Wheat Opens at the Top and Closes at the Bottom - December Shrinks Below the Dollar Line-Other Staples

Quiet and Fentureless. CHICAGO-Wheat-The tables were turned to a certain extent to-day. Instead of the marchicago—Wheat—The tables were turned to a certain extent to-day. Instead of the market opening I we and advancing, as was the case yesterday, it opened near the top and sold off to bottom prices. The $1 00 mark for December was again passed on the down turn, and the feeling was rather weak again. The opening was about the same as yesterday's closing and prices were advanced 3%c, influenced by good local buying. But later a raft of selling orders came on the market from different outside sources, under which prices broke off 11%c 11%c, but recovered %c under good buying by a local trader, the market closing %c lower than yesterday. The selling was reported to be largely on account of Northwestern and Eastern parties.

Corn was only moderately active, the market ruiling very quiet, at times fluctuations being limited to a %c range. There was nothing new to the situation and operations were mainly local. The feeling developed was easier, first transactions being at a slight advance, and under fair purchases sold up ½c, became weaker, selling off %6%c, rallied and closed with %c gain.

Oats—There was only a moderate business in May, within %c range. The near deliveries were neglected. An easier feeling prevailed, but the declines were unimportant.

Mess Pork—Only a moderate business was reported. A weak feeling existed and prices receded 5%7%c and closed at about the inside figures.
