GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF INTEREST

LONDON, September 27.—Billy Madden, the veteran pugilistic expert, being interviewed by your reporter delivered him-self thus: "My opinion is that Joe Mo-

Auliffe has not enough of the devil in him.

If he had only fought the second round as out, but then, you see, it wasn't in time."

The reporter ventured to express his opinion that American boxers must now take a back seat. Whereupon Madden smiled sarcastically and said: "Not a bit of it. I believes that in John L. Sullivan America possesses the cham-pion fighter of the world. Why Dick Fox is ready to match Sullivan against Slavin for $25.-

his success to his being able to last a bit longe than Joe, and he was dead beat himself at the finish. Why, I tell you, if McAuliffe had fought Slavin with the same spirit that Slavin showed he would have knocked him out, sure as eggs is eggs."

"Do you consider it was a fair fight, Mr. Madden?" "Fair? Course it was—fair and square, and the man who says it wasn't don't know much about the matter. Never was a fairer fight inside the ropes," and the pugilist departed muttering fair and square and no blooming shananagin about it. Richard K. Fox called at the cable agency and said:

"There is no doubt that the best man won. Joe was tired out after the first round and had no vim ever after. I'm sorry, but Joe has no chance in front of Slavin."

He fully agreed with what Madden had said about Sullivan and eventually wrote to the Dalziel agency as follows:

"GENTLEMEN—If John L. Sullivan will box Frank Slavin and allow himself to be trained by Billy Madden I will back him to win $25,000, Sullivan to take the winnings if victorious, this offer to remain open for two weeks from date and the money to be deposited with the Ceporteman or Sporting Life newspaper.

Mr. Crichton Temple, the proprietor of the Ormonde Club, being interviewed, axid that the policemen present were perfectly satisfied that everything was done decently and in order. Slavin was queetly confident and McAuliffe was cock sure. He thought Slavin would win in five rounds, but was surprised at the shortness of the fight. McAuliffe seemed to have it all his own way at the first round, but he could not stay; in fact there was a marked difference in the men. McAuliffe was a splendid sparrer but had no devilment, while Slavin was devil all over McAuliffe was full of good nature while Slavin was terribly in earnest. Slavin was nervous in the first round, but he is a superb infighter, and McAuliffe could not stand up to close work. He was not game enough, and seemed to lose heart when he found his blows took no effect. He had not the stuff in him to make a really great fighter. McAuliffe was very queer after the fight, and stayed at the club for a long t when asked for his opinion in regard to the result of the Slavin-McAuliffe fight, said: "I knew the fight would result as it did. I never saw McAuliffe put up his 'props,' and I never saw the Australian at all. McAuliffe is 6 feet 3½ inches tall, and that is too great a height for a first-clase fighter, in my opinion. So far as I can judge, from the reports I have seen when the men got at it, at close quarters, Slavin's right did great executi n. Of course, McAuliffe closed in, but when they broke away he was always worsted."

he was always worsted."

"Do you recognize Siavin as the champion of the world," asked the reporter.

"By no means." replied John L.

"He has only defeated a second class man. Of course I think he is a good man, but it does not take an extra good one to best McAuliffe,"

"Will you now make a match with Slavin?"

"No, sir; ouce for all, that is ont of the question. I have adopted the theatrical profession and left pugllism behind me forever. Nothing would induce me to enter the ring. I have been fighting for 13 years and have fought my last battle, and you may as well put down that I have never been defeated. When people talk about fighting for the championship of the world with gloves on I suddenly become very tired."

SAN FRANCISCO, September 27 .- Advices from Sydney, Mariposa, give an account of the fight between Billy Murphy, feather-weight champion, and young Griffo, which took place before the Sydney Amateur Gymnastic Club, three rounds by Murphy's fierce swinging blows, but whenever they came to close quarters Griffo administered severe punishment, and at the end of the eighth round both men were looking anxious.

In the fifteenth round Griffo assumed the aggressive, and by a well-directed blow on the jaw rendered Murphy groggy. At the end of the round Murphy retired to his chair in a limp condition. Before another round was called Murphy threw off the gloves and, walking to the center of the stage, said he gave the fight to Griffo. When asked his reason he asserted that the gloves had been fixed. Examination, however, showed that the gloves were new and had not been tampered with. Murphy afterward challenged Griffo to fight with bare knuckles for £100.

oghue, being the youngest of the brothers, is only II.

There was much interest in the race, because Carroll last year beat Donoghue out of sight in a similar race. To-day Donoghue turned the tables and left his man at the finish a block away. A good start on a strong ebb tide was effected, and Donoghue soon showed front. There he kept, rounding the stake ahead, and coming in a good winner in just 15 minutes. The boats used are 19-foot working boats, and the time given is not only very fast, but has not been heard of since the days of McKeel, Tuthill and other professionals of a score or more years ago. Little work is done at the mill. It is hard to get saw makers, as they are all union men. Financial aid is being given the strikers by other unions.

Yesterday Martin & Thompson, attorneys for the strikers, filed their answer to the preliminary injunction served by Emerson. Smith & Co., and the case will be heard before Judge Wickham Monday, the 29th inst. The nonunion men are assailed each evening as they leave the works by a crowd of boys and women, who keep up a cry of "scab!" until the men are out of sight. Sheridan's stable of trotters from Glen Falls. N. Y., arrived yesterday, and the stables of Spian and Turner will arrive this morning. The balance will arrive to morrow. A special 2:20 pace has been arranged to take place on Wednesday. The meeting promises to be a good one in all respects.

Now that the Grand Circuit for 1890 is at an end an esti mate of the success of the trotting season i possible; for the Grand Circuit is the fina court of appeals to which the owner of the trotting horse makes application for judg The produce of Mambrino King, owned by C. J. Hamlin, of Buffalo, have won more races than the produce of any other sire, and the veteran James Goldsmith has proved th most successful driver, having held the rein over three of the seven who have won the most gioney. Mambrine Maid, by Mam brino Startle, has won the most money, $7,125; and Dallas, who stands next her in point of earnings, has made the fastest time,

2:11%, at Cleveland. A WEAK SPOT. The circuit of 1890 was made up of ten cities, but Albany, which has been a weal spot in the chain, dropped out after the dates had been arranged and those of New York and Philadelphia were moved up in consequence. These two cities had the only really bad streak of weather in the season, New York suffering especially and being able to pull off only two days' trotting The attendance in nearly every instance has been very good. The racing practically opened at Pittsburg. The track was good, but slow time was made, as all the fivers were at the blue ribbon meeting at Detroit, where Palo Alto and other attractions were beld out. The next link in the chain was Cleveland, and here 11 races were pulled off, with 47 heats trotted. The first sensational heat was the 2:111/2 of Adonis, in which that great son or Tom Hal, Hal Pointer, carried the Californian clear out to the wire and then beat him the last three heats. Leopard Rose was the surprise of the week, for this circus-looking mare beat a grand field in the 2:30 class, trotting three successive heats in 2:15%, 2:20% and 2:38%, in the 2:17 pace the California mare Cricket, by Steinway, forced out Dallas in 2:1134 and then won the last three heats in a five-heat contest in 2:16, 2:1434 and

2:14%. The Buffalo meeting was, as usual, a great success. Leopard Rose opened out with a three-straight-heat victory, 'the best race of the meeting was that won after nine heats had been trotted. It is was the second longest race of the circuit. Bailas turned the tables on Cricket here, for he let her pace two heats in 215% and 213% and beat her out the next three. KENTUCKY TROTTING GOSSIP

Great Interest Centered in the Big $10,000 Stake Event by Horsemen. PRPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. LEXINGTON, KY., September 27.—There has been no trotting in Kentucky this week, the interest centering in Cincinnati, where the last meeting of the Bluegrass Circuit was held. The work of preparation, however, for the coming meeting of the Trotting Horse Breeders' Association has been going steadily on, and good reports are coming from the numerous candidates for the various stakes. The conditions of the great $10,000 stake of this association, which The meeting at Poughkeepsie was marked by the grandest race of the year. This was the victory scored by Driver Ed Geers behind Stevie in a ten-heat race over ten competitors, of whom seven stayed to the finish. Here, too, Mamberno Mand got her first circuit defeat, and here Hal Pointer paced a great race in 2129, 216 and 216.

At Hartford the star event was the $10,000 stake, handly wen by Prince Regent from a good field. Summonolon won the $3,000 stake, and Dallas had an easy thing in the $4,000 pacing stake.

Sprinfield had a successful meeting, and the stakes were won well, Mamberno Maid was in fine fettle here, and defeated Prince Regen, in grand shape, winning the 2-22 class trot by trotting the three winning heats in 2196, 217% and 218. It was as much a victory for Goldsmith as for his mare. In the other $5,600 stake of this association, which were given to the public this week, have been tensively commented on by breeders and owners. The universal opinion is that the conditions are very favorable to a large field of starters, and the stake ought to fill with the get of the most famous stallions in the land. As the nominations do not close until December 1 of the present year, there will be ample opportunity for every breeder who wishes to take advantage of this great feature to do so, J. D. Creighton left here the first of this most provincing of promising youngsters. While there have been no large transactions in horsefiesh this week the market is still strong, and shows no sign of becoming weak. The small crop of colts foaled this year, owing to widespread "slipping" of foals last winter and spring, is largely responsible for the present strong tone of the market and added to this the wonderful of the market and added to this the wonderful of the market and added to this the wonderful of the market and added to this the wonderful of the market and added to this the wonderful of the market and added to this the wonderful of the market and added to this the wonderful of the market and added to this the w were given to the public this week, have been extensively commented on by breeders and

This seemed to be the public opinion. because there were only 439 people paid to see yesterday's game between the Brooklyn and home P. L. teams, at Exposition Park. It was the last championship game of the season between the clubs and it was not of the brilliant kind. The visitors won it with hands down and it was too much onesided to be of interest. When the game started the weather was wretched condition. Base running was out of the question and fielding was extremely diffi-cult. Hemming was a puzzle to the home players, and Morris was somewhat easy for the visitors.

The home players never looked like win-ners because they could not hit the are nome players never looked like winners because they could not hit the ball. Only one of their runs was earned and that was secured in the sixth inning on Beckley's three-bagger to right field, and Carroll's sacrifice hit. The other two runs were made after the side should have been out. Joyce's fumble, Fields' sacrifice and singles by Visner and Beckley gained the runs. and Beckley gained the runs.

The visitors got their first run on a single by Joyce and two sacrifice hits. Errors by Fields, Corcoran and Beckley and a sacrifice by Co-k scored three more in the fourth. Fields and Kuehne got Joyce between third base and home and when Jocke made a rush to touch Joyce he, Jocke, missed him and he fell down. He threw the hall wild while lying on his back and Joyce and Hemming scored. A corking three-bagger by Bauer, Orr's single, McGeachy's double and Joyce's single, all straight off the reel, in the eighth, earned three more runs. The score:

Managers Haulon and Ward have definitel arranged for their clubs to play a series of ex-hibition games at the close of the championship season. One or two games will be played in this city, two in Wheeling and two in Altoona. Other dates will likely be fixed. The teams are to receive 85 per cent of the receipts at Wheel-Players' League Record. The following table shows the standing up to late of the clubs in the Players' League. The Bostons have won the pennant, but there is still an argument for second place between the Brooklyns and the New Yorks. The former have the best of it, however. states he was offered a good contract to sign, but he thinks he knows when he has a sure and good enough thing, and will remain with Columbus next season. National Lengue Record. Brooklyn has the National League pennan safe for this season, but there is a desperate safe for this season, but there is a desperate race going on between Chicago, Philadelphia and Hoston for second place. On paper Phila-delphia has much the best of it, as that club's games are with the two weakest clubs in the League. The New Yorks are playing strong and they may give Anson a tough argument at the windup and this reduces Chicago's chances Parson Davies, the well-known Chicago sporting man, it is stated, wagered rather beavily on McAuliffe. Some seemed to regard the news as unreliable, but although McAuliffe would naturally appear to be the favorite in betting circles here, owing to his being a San Francisco man, there were large numbers of sporting men in the city who wagered a considerable amount on Slavin. The betting in this city was pretty evenly divided, and considerable money changed hands on the result.

Poritan Club. PRPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. BOSTON, September 27.—All objections have seen bridged over, and Johnnie Murphy and George Dixon are to fight. New York sporting men will have the bulge on Boston sports, for he battle will take place at the Puritan Club There was a long wrangle at the final meet There was a long wrangle at the final meeting to-day before the men came to an agreement. Jere Dunn and Al Smith were each proposed for referee, but each was objected to by one side or the other. Finally they agreed on a Roston newspaper man, and the final deposits of $500 stake money were made on each side, making a total of $7,500 a side. Both men will at once begin active training for the great fight, which will take place about October 25.

There will be 20 events in all. The prizes to be contested for will be very valuable and unique in design, contributed by the leading business men of Homestead. The above will be given under the auspices of the Homestead Athletic Association. If the weather is fine there will, no doubt, be some exciting contests, as Homestead is quite a lively sporting center.

Gerhardt has been laid off in order to save salary SAYS Anson: "If $45,000 has been offered for the Chneinnati club, that's a meetry good price. It take it if I were in Stern's place, the way basebal is going nowadays. Mind yor, the selling of the National League club by no means confers monopoly of the games there. There is nothing to prevent the National League from putting an other club there and that will take out about al the rew there are in the business." Ewing in sists that the Cincinnati deal will go through to certainty. LIEUTENANT ROCAP, in a letter to a friend, says: "I expect to compete in a special class this year at the boxing championships, as I have grown too heavy for the feather-weight class since I recovered from my filmess." The exfeather-weight champion is quietly confident that he will be victorious, but his clubmates in the Athletic Club of the Schuylkil Navy are not so sanguine, as the increase in the array of promising boxing talent has been more marked within the past few years than in any other branch of sport.

A DISPATCH from Calumbas Do You Chew? vinced:

an the big catcher of the Philadelphia Players' League team, stopped off here to-day to try to induce Eiton Chamberiain to jump to the Brotherhood. The mission was a fruitiess one, however, as Chamberiain signed a two years' contract with the Columbus management when his release was purchased from St. Louis last June. Millican is enthusiastic concerning the prospects of the Brotherhood, and says that the Cincinnati National League team has been purchased, all reports to the contrary, notwithstanding. Manager Frazier, of the Syracuse Stara, who are playing a series here, has about concluded the sale of second baseman Childs to the Cleveland National League team.
