heavy increase in the war budget.

General Du Vernois, believing that the Emperor would assent, announced in the committee of the Reichstag last session the Scharnhorst schedule as adopted, Herr liquel's calculations proved that the carrying out of Scharnhorst's plan and a budget o 550,000,000 marks would render the Kaiser's aims in the direction of social amelioration hopeless. Despite the popularity of the Scharnhorst scheme in the mil-itary circle, the Chancellor has thrown the whole weight of his influence against ad-ding to the war budget.

A SILENT PRESS.

The Emperor's definitive approval of the nel ideas made the retirement of General Verdy Du Vernois and General Count Von Waldersee inevitable.

The semi-official press maintains silence in regard to the renewal of the triple alliance. A communication published in the Posther Lloyd announced that an agreement had been obtained. The scope o the agreement is in the meantitue withheld from the public. The communication adds that the strengthening of the alliance has been zully achieved.

The preparations against Socialist manifestations on October 1 are equal to the con-tingencies of civil war. The police have been ordered to act on a mobilized system, and have been reinforced in every populous center where it is supposed they will bequired. The troops will be kept in readiness in their barracks. The committees of the Socialists ridicule the expectation of an outbreak, knowing the pacific character of the arrangements.

SOCIALISTIC PROCEEDINGS.

There will be no public mass demonstration. Delegates from the Berlin committee will await the arrival at the stations of ; umber of the Socialists who were expelled, 26 of whom have signified their intention of were expelled. They will be conducted to a reception room, where they will be welcomed and a banquet given to them. number of congratulatory speeches will be mude.

Several extremists will be excluded from the proceedings in order to prevent the police having any excuse to interfere and to avoid subsequent prosecution under the common law. Those taking part in the celebration will wear medals that have been struck off in commemoration of the expiration of the repression law. Great assemblies will gather here, in Leipsic, Hamburg and Frank ort, but everywhere they will be organized to proclude disorder or a breach ruhe, where Lord Roseberry has been so-journing for several days. He obtained from Prince Bismarck a promise that he would visit Scotland in the spring if the political situation permitted. In letters to several members of the Herrenhaus, Bismark states his intention to attend all de-bates on questions of national importance. The Breslauer Zeitung, in the report an interview with the ex-Chancellor, made him say that he is still Vice President of the Stantsrath, holding an unmovable posiion. Semi-official communications affirm that the office in question was held by virtae of his official unctions, and that it ceased on the day his resignation from the Chancellery was accepted. The point debatable is whether Bismarck's honorary rank qualifies him for the Staatsrath.

DECAYED NOBILITY.

The recent scandals involving members of the aristocracy are gravely discussed by the press and are the theme of guarded pulpit allusions. The Kreuse Zeitung mourns the decadence of the nobility and warns its members that they must lead a better life if they do not wish to provoke the masses to revolution. The Germania, on the other turn and submit his ideas to Chief Bigehand, protests against charging the aristoc-racy with general corruption, holding that the location of the entrances.

E. C. Godfrey, of Godfrey & Clarke, paper manufacturers, went East vesterday. Mr. Godfrey claims that the paper combination has cheapened prices. The profits are less than formerly, but the volume of business is larger, and makes up the difference. The little fellows in the business are the ones that suffer the most. Much of the paper made in America is produced from wood pulp, and not much dependence is placed on the jute supply. There are about 1,300 paper mills in the coustry, and Mr. Godfrey says that 300 were built last year. About 13,000,000 pounds of pulp and paper are made in America every day, and of this amount 1,250,000 pounds is Pennsylvania's share of the output. the output.

THE SOUTH SATISFIED. "An interesting point in this connection, and one, I think, which proves the absolute non-partisan character of the eleventh cen sus, is that almost no complaints at all have been received from the South, only a iew of minor character. Nashville, I believe, was dissatisfied with our count and took a police census of her own, which resulted in showing 3,000 less than the Census office figures. If the Census office were engaged in making a partisan census, the Democratic States of the South would be the first to learn of the fact, and they would not besitate to inform the country of it.
