New Bellefield Church Dedication Attended by Thousands.

A HISTORY OF THE CONGREGATION.

Short and Timely Talks From the Pasters Present at the Services.

GIST OF OTHER SUNDAY SERMONS

The formal opening and dedication of the new Bellefield Presbyterian Church took place yesterday. Church dedications, as a general rule, are not especially interesting affairs, but that of vesterday was so far out of the ordinary run of things that those who witnessed the ceremonies felt a pleasure in the event, and threw off the reserve akin to such exercises. The hand of good fellowship and whole-souled congeniality extended everyone by the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. J. Holland, was like the warmth of the September sun shining through the manycolored and rosy-hued stained glass win-

The ceremonies began at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon with the singing of the Doxology, after a burst of melody from the new pipe organ by Charles Moeller, the well-known organist. At the conclusion of the announcements by the pastor, Rev. Dr. George T. Purves, pastor of the First Church, delivered a sermon that was a touching flow of eloquence, in which the speaker referred to the new place of worship Rev. John H. Prugh is pastor, was reand called down the divine blessing on the Pastor for Seventeen Years. congregation. The church was packed to the doors with the members of the congregation and their friends, and the sermon was occupied. Chairs had to be placed in the affiles for the people, and even this additional accommodation did not seat all. After a short reading of the Scriptures, Rev. Mr. Ross, of the U. P. Chapel, Oakland, Mr. D. M. Bullock sang a touching solo, "Palm Branches." A historical sketch of the church was then read by Dr. Holland, in which he said:

sweet communion we have had here, and the sweet communion God assures we yet with the sweet communion God assures we yet with the sweet communion God assures we yet what had here, and the sweet communion God assures we yet what had here, and the sweet communion God assures we yet what had here, and the sweet communion God assures we yet what have, our blood leaps through our veins, and tingles with gladness, as we come again into the house of the Lord."

The cheir, composed of Prof. John Pritchard, organist; Mrs. Ada Thomas, soprano; Miss McCrery, contralto; Mrs. A. Thomas, soprano; Miss McCrery, contralto; Mrs. A. Thomas, soprano; Miss McCrery, contralto; Mrs. E. N. Prugh, basso, was could be a sure of the Lord."

Holland, in which he said:

The first settlement of that portion of our city embraced within the direct sphere of the influence of this church was made by persons who were identified with the Third Presbytewho were identified with the Third Presbyte-rian Church, and Oakland was known in the 32s and 49s as the "Third Church Colony." The first settlers of Oakland, true to their re-ligious convictions, established a Sabbath school, as far hack as the year 1837. This met in a miner's shanty upon the property of D. Bushnell, now the property of Mrs. Madison Bailey. In the year 1838 the school was removed to a small house crected for its accommoda-tion at the corner of Fifth avenue and Darragh street, upon the Eichbaum property, now bestreet, upon the Eichbaum property, now be-longing to the estate of John Moorhead, de-ceased. Here it remained until 1851, when the ceased. Here it remained until 1851, when the place was purchased by the Rev. Dr. Loman, the rector of Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church, who caused it to be removed to Atwood street. Here it continued to do service as a schoolbouse, in which a Sabbath school was maintained until 1869, when it was merged into and consolidated with the Sabbath school of this church.

The first steps leading to the organization of a church in this locality are found in the efforts.

church in this locality are found in the efforts made by Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Fralich to furnish instruction upon the Lord's Day to the chilforen of the neighborhood, whom, in the sum-mer of 1862, they gathered into a Sabbath school at their home, on the eastern side of the Four Mile Run.

GREW WITH THE CITY.

The population began to increase on this into the neighborhood, and in the summer of 1863 it was decided by the residents of Beliefield that it would be best to organize a Sabbath school in their immediate vicinity, On June 7, 1863, the Bellefield Union Sabbath June 7, 1863, the Bellefield Union Sabbath School was organized in the unfluished parlor of Colonel D. B. Norris upon Dithridge street. Mr. John S. Davison and Mr. J. D. Carlisle were the principal promoters of the enterprise. Mr. Davison was chosen superintendent. The school numbered 10 teachers and 40 scholars, and rapidly increased. On July 31 the school was transferred to Henry street, to a building provided largely by the generactive of Merry reasterred to Henry street, to a building pro-vided largely by the generosity of Messra, Henry Lloyd and John S. Davison, who pur-chased the lot and placed upon it a carpenter shop, which was remodeled and converted into a schoolroom. Mr. Frailch, at this time, brought over into the school the scholars who had been gathering at his house. The new building soon proved too small. The Bible classes met at the ouse of Colonel Norris, and the infant departing upon the lawn.

The success of this enterprise proved the need of stated ministrations of the gospel upon the Sabbath. Accordingly the services, first of Rev. A. E. Lowes and then of Rev. David McKinney, D. D., were secured as stated sup-plies. These public religious services were commenced early in the summer of the year 1898, and were the first stated ministrations of 1900, and were the first stated ministrations of the gospel had in this region. Accordingly a petition was sent to the Presbytery of Ohio, signed by 80 persons, requesting the organiza-tion of a church in this place.

THE CHURCH ORGANIZED.

The request was granted, and on the 9th day of September, 1866, the Bellefield Presbyterian Church was organized, and for nearly a year was the only church organization existing between the city limits and East Liberty. Mr. John S. Davison, who had been a roline Mr. John S. Davison, who has been a ruling elder in the Central Presbyterian Church, then under the pastoral care of Rev. Dr. M. W. Jacobus, and Mr. John McCurday, who had been an elder in the Second Presbyterian Church, then under the pastoral care of the Rev. Dr. William D. Howard, were chosen as the first elders of the new church, and Mr. J. D. Carlisle and Hon. George Wilson were chosen deacons. Meanwhile, Mr. Henry Lloyd had donated as the site of a new church the sect

Henry Lloyd had donated as the site of a new church the spot where we are to-day assembled, and had caused to be erected, almost entirely at his own expense, a beautiful chapel. This building was occupied for the first time, the first Sabbath of June, 1885.

In June, 1857, Rev. D. T. Carnahan became the stated supply of the church, and on the 20th day of September, 1878, was formally installed as pastor. Upon December 20, following, the new church was destroyed by fire, and the Sabbath school and congregation resumed their old quarters in the carpenter shop on Henry street. The church was immediately rebuilt upon an enlarged scale, at a cost of about $20,000. The second edifice was thrown open Lor divine services August 22, 1809, Rev. Dr. William H. Paxton, of New York City, preaching the dedicatory sermon. On September 18, 1871, Samuel H. Baird and a number of his Methodist friends, who had up to this time worshiped with this church, withdrew in order to organize a Methodist Episconal Church and Sabbath school in Oakland.

A LONG PASTORATE.

In June, 1873, the pastorate relation of Rev. D. T. Carnahan with this church was dissolved by the Presbytery of Pittsburg at Mr. Carnahan's request. On June 18, 1874, the present pastor, who had been called in November, of the previous year, was installed. the previous year, was installed.

The present membership is nearly 400 souls. In the spring of the year, 1877, it became evident that the rapid increase in the population of the neighborhood called for an effort to enlarge the church. On the 6th of October, 1877, a congregational meeting was held, at which the trustees were authorized to contract for the building of the new church, provided, the necessary funds should be subscribed, and in the winter following efforts were made to socure subscriptions, which resulted in piedges amounting to $38,000 being obtained. On October 24, 1888, a Building Committee was appointed, consisting of Mr. James Milholland, Mr. Henry Lloyd, Jr., Mr. Charles Zug, Mr. William Gardner and Mr. Charles R. Dallas, and an Advisory Committee in addition, consisting of the pastor and Mr. Thomas Wightman. Ground for the new building was broken in April, and on the 19th of June 1889, the corner-stone was laid.

FINANCES OF THE CHURCH. Dr. Holland also read a statement of the finances of the church. The new building, furniture, grounds, etc., cost $65,736 81; $34 735 has been paid in subscriptions to detray the cost, and $3,327 25 is subscribed for, and although not paid in, is sure; $41,574 26 has been paid so far, and yesterday's collections and subscriptions amounted to shout $17,000. c about $17,000. Following Dr. Holland, Dr. Cowan, o the Third Church, made an address. Short talks were also delivered by Rev. Dr. Kummler, of the East Liberty church; Rev. Dr. Holmes, Rev. Dr. Riddie, Rev. Mr. Benham, Rev. Mr. Ross and Rev. Mr.

In the evening vocal music was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McCutcheon, Miss Amy Davis and Mr. Harry Brockett. A description of the new building was printed in THE DISPATCH in January, 1889. The auditorium is 80 by 80 feet, and the tower, 100 feet high, is at the intersection of Fifth and Bellefield avenues. The church will comfortably seat 850 people.

GRACE CHURCH REOPENED.

After Being Closed for Some Time for Elaborate and Extensive Repairs.

Grace Reformed Church, corner Grant street and Webster avenue, of which the opened yesterday morning after being closed for several weeks for repairs. The church was built 35 years ago, and the last extensive repairs were made in the spring of 1880, when the Rev. Mr. Prugh began his pastorate. Ten new stained windows have replaced the old ones. Two of these, more beautiful than the others, are memorials of the late T. J. Craig, President of the Hazelwood Oil Company, and the late R. C. Schmertz, the glass manufacturer, both of whom were officers of the congregation for 30 years. The window in memory of Mr. Craig was given by Mrs. T. J. Craig; that to Mr. Schmertz by his sons, four of whom are members of Grace Church. The church has been handsomely trescoed and repainted and recarpeted. The congregation of 400 members was happy yesterday in once more being reunited. Mr. Prugh's morning discourse was on the text from Psalms exxii., 1: "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go up to the House of the Lord." In the course of his sermon he said: "It is with very great gladness we have come here to-day. If we dwelt long upon some of the incidents of dwelt long upon some of the incidents of our life during the past summer, our hearts would be filled with sadness. The disappointments; how keen they were! The losses, how heavy they were! The bereavements, how crushing! But we purposely, religiously abstain from thinking of these things too much. Any man who will continually dwell upon life's sorrows, life's bafflings, life's disappointments, will eventually be in a frame of mind to fline himself anywhere out of the attentively listened to.

HISTORY OF THE CHURCH.

The afternoon services began at 3 o'clock, and every seat in the beautiful edifice was occupied. Chairs had to be placed in the sweet communion we have had here, and the sweet communion Cod assured.

equal yesterday to the occasion. Their opening selection, "The Festival Te Deum," was well rendered. The old corner of Grant and Webster has been greatly improved by what has been done to Grace Church.

WHAT UNITARIANS BELIEVE.

Sermon by the Rev. J. G. Townsend, D.D. of the Unitarian Church.

In the course of his remarks yesterday morning, Dr. Townsend said: "Unitarians believe, first and foremost, that character is higher than creed; that being is greater than believing. Not that they do not consider that exact thinking and right believing are essential, but, knowing that nothing is more common than for good men to have beliefs esteemed irregular, and for bad men to hold those considered regular and ortho-dox. Unitarians believe that goodness must be the test of manhood. To be industrious, to be kind, to speak the truth - these are the things which make for salvation. Unitarians also believe that the final appeal, the divinest authority is our reason; that this solemn prerogative nothing in heaven or earth can take away, No Synod, or Conference, or church, or side of the ravine, owing to an immigration into the neighborhood, and in the summer of glow-worm's light, but it is the best we have. Unitarians breathe no treason against the human intellect, but affirm that it can be trusted, and that no subject is too sacred > "Unitarians believe in God, and that re-"Unitarians believe in God, and that re-ligion furnishes the highest moral motive, but they stead astly refuse to be bound by a definition of the Deity. Nor do they say nature and God are two things. They ba-lieve in the unity of God, and the immi-nence of God. There is no disconnection, no gulf, no interregnum of the law or its divine order. All things, however diverse, are strung upon its thread of a vest diverse, are strung upon its thread of a vast spiritual unity. Unitarians believe in the soundness of human nature; that our passions are as divine as our aspirations; that there is no faculty of the mind or limb of the body but is sacred and holy. They be-lieve that what is needed is not the elimi-nation of our nature, but its right educacation. They also believe in the dignity of human life; that life is sound to the core and that if a man lives reasonably that life becomes sweet and noble to him. Unitari-ans differ as to Christianity, the Bible, Jesus and the Atonement; but almost all believe that Christianity grew as naturally as a flower, and that Jesus was entirely human—the world's great brother, and brother to them is a higher name than Saviour.

FEAST OF HARVEST.

The Pretty Ceremony Observed Yesterday at the Trinity Latheran Church. The time-honored Feast of Harvest was observed yesterday at the Trinity Lutheran Church, Arch street and Stockton avenue, Allegheny. This custom was introduced by Martin Luther during the Reformation, and has been handed down by the Lutheran Church ever since. At the sides and in front of the pulpit were massed all the fruits, grains, flowers, vegetables, etc. There were great baskets of grapes, apples, prunes, etc., and beside them grapes, apples, prunes, etc., and beside them stood stalks of waving corn.

In the morning the Rev. Dr. J. G. Goettman preached on the subject, "God Gives and Man Gathera." A service for the children was held in the afternoon, and $2.50 was taken up at the collection. In the evening there was a pretty responsive exer-cise. The Rev. W. E. Main made the only address. He spoke of what men owe to God. His most powerful utterance was, "Men are ofttimes liberal that they may bribe their own consciences.

PROSPERITY PROVEN The Character of Mortgages Now Being Filed a Guarantee That

PITTSBURG IS IN GOOD SHAPE.

Money Raised for Building Operations and Improvements.

VERY HEALTHY STATE OF AFFAIRS

The statement that there were 449 mortgages recorded during the past two weeks, for nearly a million of dollars ($959,003), is calculated to startle some people, and is not productive of good, as it is ex parte. An examination was made into the matter in the Recorder's office, and instead of seeing white caps, as one might expect after hearing that nearly $1,000,000 recorded indebt edness had been assumed in two weeks, it was found that on the whole the records of the office so far show a healthy state of affairs. As publications weekly show that mortgages in a year run well up to $30,000,000 some people have gotten the idea that the county is being carried on margin. The trouble with such publication is that it is one sided. No record is published of the satisfaction of mortgages, an average of some 20 a day, or nearly half as many as the new ones recorded.

STILL MORE PROOF.

Then there is another feature, or rather there are two of them, which show that the movement is in the direction of improvement. An official who knows whereof he speaks states that more than two-thirds of all the mortgages recorded these times are of the purchase-money kind, indicating great activity in real estate transactions, and a considerable portion of the remainder are what might be termed renewals. Mortare what might be termed renewals. Mortgagees want their money, and the mortgager makes a new one in place to some one else who has money to loan. Very frequently, also, the second mortgage is for a smaller amount than the first, the borrower having been able to extinguish a part of his debt.

It is suggested that both sides of the account should be published, so that students of finance could at any time make out a halof finance could at any time make out a bal-ance sheet. It is said there are compara-tively few people hypothecating their real estate for means to live. It is usually for the purpose of making betterments, or for the building of houses on lots already paid

TESTIFY TO PROSPERITY. Building and loan associations are placing many mortgages on record, and these tes-tify to prosperity on the part of the people who work for a living, and are the best security against anarchy that can be devised. Anarchy can get no foothold worth speaking of where the people sit under their own vine and figtree. Their stake in the com-munity increases their attachment to the cause of law and order. An observer who notes critically remarks that though the time is not especially notable for railway building, the activity of the iron industry shows that expansion is great in other directions, and will continue to give impetus for some time to come. While short crops are to be deplored, they do not work especial harm so long as labor is well employed. A political economist cites figures to prove that farmers at large get more money in years of shortage than in abundant ones, so long as people are em-ployed and able to buy, and the extra money that the farmer gets soon finds its way back into the channels of trade. This doesn't form an argument in favor of agricultura restriction, as the aforesaid economist would have one believe, but it shows that a comortable salvage is extra ctable.
