.... 2,201 Totals ... There wasn't much fault to find about yesterday's P. L. game at Exposition Park. We won, of course, but the victory was won because the home players were superior to those who tackled them. The aggregation that Manager Buffinton takes around the country with him may be good, bad or indifferent, but they are not in with our fellows when the latter are out in their Sunday clothes and Staley on deck. Yesterday's contest settled this part of the argument,

The game was; a good one because the cus-tomary blunders made by the home players didn't amount to much inasmuch as the visitors were at the mercy of Staley. The latter contlemun nitched an excellent came, and that really tells the story. The men from Philadelphia couldn't touch him, and the only run they got was the result of a blunder of Robinson. On the other hand, the home talent found the

On the other hand, the home talent found the measure of little Kneil to a very great extent. He was hit hard at times, and the litting earned six of the eight runs. Staley, indeed, gave another proof that he is one of the best pitchers in the country to-day. Carroll fielded admirably. Visner hit well and Staley caused excitement by making a double and a single. The umpires gave satisfaction and Mr. Ferguson gave Mr. Farrar a great and wise call down. The visiting first baseman was inclined to do a little talking, and Uncle Robert told him that if he meant to talk he would have to remain on the bench. That settled Mr. Farrar. The weather was fine and the grounds excellent. The score:

Batch of Errors All in a Row Causes the Downfall of the Local Team-The Phillies Found a Saap-Other Scores.

The cause of yesterday's wall of woe emana ing from Recreation Park might be called blunders. If ever there was a rocky game of ball that was yesterday. Whether there were bumps on the ground or whether the players fell over their own shadows will perhaps never be learned, but something was certainly wrong. There is some good material in the team, but the surest way to lose a reputation as a player is to sign with the local Leaguers. Anderson pitched winning ball, but his yellow support caused him to think he had accidentally gotten aused film to think he had accused by the first inning with a ase on oalls, a single, a sacrifice, and with Wilhas on balls, asingle, a sacrifice, and with Wilson's wild throw a run was scored. In the second Schriver singled and got second on a wild throw by Decker. Allen quit at first. Gleason got a base on balls. Hamilton flew out Smiley secured first on Wilson's drop of a thrown ball, Schriver scoring and Gleason getting third. Sales fumbled Myers' grounder, giving him a base and scoring Gleason and Sunday. Myers stole second and scored on Thompson's single, who got second on the play. A passed ball sent him to third. Clements got first on balls and stole second. A wild throw by Decker scored Thompson. Mayers struck out. Five unearned runs was the result. Pittsburg's runs were made in about the same out. Five unearned runs was the result.

Pittsburg's runs wero made in about the same manner. In the first Miller singled, went to third on a passed ball and scored on LaRoque's sacrifice. In the sixth Wilson got a base on balls, took second on a sacrifice and scored on Miller's single. Attendance, $21. Score:

HOMEWOOD RACES TO-DAY. John Splan Says the Meeting is Sure to be n Grent Onr.

The Homewood race meeting will comme to-day, and in the language of John Solan, the "track will be a dandy." All the horses are here, including Hai Pointer, who is to do battle with Dallas on Thursday. Speaking of the meeting last evening, Mr. Splan said: "Unmeeting last evening, Mr. Splan said: "Undoubtedly the meeting will be a good one, as the track is fast and the horses are all in excellent condition. The race between Hal Pointer and Dallas is sure to be a great event, as the best horse will win. Let me tell you that Hal Pointer will not do all the pacing that day. Dallas will be in the argument. There will be other good races, and I expect the attendance will be big if the weather is fine."

Racing will start this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The continental press generally is indignantly discussing the measure and clamoring for retaliatory action by the States, while Germany is considering the policy of prohibiting the importance. Continental Hotel. Mr. Jarrett arrived from Liverpool on the Servia on Sunday. He is now United States Consul at Birmingham, England. He is booked to re-States, while Germany is considering the policy of prohibiting the importation of American beef. The Vienna New Preie Press alone seems to comprehend the arguments of American protectionists, and admits that Europe is only reaping what she has sown. In alluding to the opinion expressed by Mr. Chamberlain, that the temporary loss of the American market will ultimately inure to the benefit of British trade, it says that this view is in accordance with common sense, and adds: "It is perhaps being too sanguine to hope that the passage of the McKinley bill may fore-shadow a better political configuration of civilized Europe, isolated Russia on the one hand and isolated America on the other. The European powers, including France, ought by this time be convinced of the community of their vital interests and to allow other differences to sink into insignificance." urn on the Etruria, which sails on November 8. But then, you see, I like the sea.

How do I like England? So well that I shall serve only one term and positively no more. Not that I would not hold an office, for Governnent offices are easy to hold. The people, at least those whom I meet, are so stiff and reserved they are decidedly insular. I came here on private business. There is considerable excitement at Antwerp over an election for members of the City Council that will occur on October 19. The chief issue is whether American live beef shall be admitted without being subjected to the be admitted without being subjected to the present quarantine of 45 days. The Protectionists and Clericals secured the enactment of this regulation which makes high prices mevitable. The public demands, in its own interest, that the importation of American beef be conducted without any restriction, although the business is conducted by Englishmen.

me this, and I say itemphatically, that if I was a strong protectionist before I went to England I am now doubly a dyed-in-the-wool high tariff man. My experience in England has increased my ardency for high tariff. I have seen both sides, and I know what I am talking about. Those people who assert that the cost of living is cheaper in England than here make a tremendous blunder. Here we have better living at a less cost in this country than England ever had. I am thoroughly convinced that the system of protection is not only a beneficial one, but that it is doubly essential to the well-being and interest of the American people.

The feeling of the English merchants toward the McKinley bill is one of the bitterest animosity. They seem to act as if their business was American instead of English. Why, after the Sheffield meeting, the feeling manifested was so incense that the arrangement of fur her meetings was stopped. I would like to read to the American people some of the editorials from the English press." The Berlin police officially warn the public against the man who, calling himself Count Dion in Vienna, attempted to decoy a bank messenger into his room to rob him, and last messenger into his room to roo him, and last week endeavored to treat a postman, having valuable registered letters in his bag, in similar fashion. They say that the swindler, who took the name of Lane at Aix and pretended to be an Englishman, has a long, paie face and dark brown hair and a false mustache. He speaks English with a German accent.

They have had their eyes opened; and if they clearly see that the issue in this State is the tariff Iknow that they will rally round the Republican flag and vote the whole ticket. And if I go on the stump I shall take the English newspaper's with me and read them. That will be enough to show the laboring classes where their best interests lie.

What do I think of the ticket? Pattison is no friend of labor; that has often been proven. Delamater and the men on the ticket with him I know personally, and heartily indorse, and I am sure the whole ticket will be elected. Senator Emery I know, but can pay no attention to his charges, for they are based upon personal animosity, and when personal enmity enters into a matter of this kind it should be absolutely ignored.

A BLOW AT SPEAKER REED.

Blaine Secures the Appointment of the Collector at Portland.

· [FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] WASHINGTON, September 29. - The nomnation to-day of Mr. Dow, to be Collecto for the District of Portland and Falmouth Me., is a direct blow at Speaker Reed in his own town. Mr. Dow is the selection of the Senators from Maine, and was also indorsed by Secretary Blaine, Speaker Reed has asked for the nomination of a man named Milliken. Perhaps President Harrison thinks that Mr. Reed is getting to be too dangerously popular to suit his own desires for another term. Anyway his action in this case is exactly opposite to that taken by him in the case of the Chicago Collector some months ago.

In that case, he said that the Senators from Illinois had no right to dictate the nomination to the Chicago collectorship, which properly belonged to the Representatives from that city. In the Portland case, however, the Senators have been given recognition to the complete discomfiture to Speaker Reed, who represents that district in the Lower House

He May Not be the Next Postmaster of Corry After All. [FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, September 29 .- The appointment of Mr. Button, postmaster at Corry, Erie county, a few days ago, has raised a tremendous breeze there, and telegrams and letters are pouring in from that town and county addressed to the Pennsylvania Senators and others, asking some that the appointment be held up till after election and others that it be not made at all, and everybody agreeing that if it be made many Republican votes will be lost to the party.

One shrewd politician sounds the note of warning that absolutely no further appointments should be made until after the elections, as nobody could be appointed without making mad somebody else and his friends. It is probable this advice will be taken to a considerable extent, and possibly Mr. Button may have to wait at least until after the
