strously callous as to an pear to some generous minds quite incredible. But here is one proof from hundreds which might be cited. At the last meeting of the poor-law guardians of Dromore the following pitiful motion, which explains itself, was passed unanimously.

That it is with the deepest regret and disappointment we have to place on record that the Chief Secretary merely acknowledged the receipt of the resolution forwarded without a single encouraging word. We would again most respectfully impress upon the Right Honorable gentleman the urgent necessity of taking into his serious consideration the hopeless plight of so many of Her Majesty's subjects, owing to the destruction of the potate crop, that he might see his way to immediately setting works of public utility on foot in order to ward off the impending danger. We also wish to give timely warning that we have no funds to meet the exceptional destitution.

Clergy Deplore the Situation.

On Wednesday the clergy of Eanis Deanery assembled in conference at Eonis, under the presidency of the Lord Bishop, and passed this resolution:

That we deplore the widespread failure of the potato crop, which falls far short of an average yield, and in large areas of this county is almost worthless; and we tender our profound sympathy to our people in this severe visitation of Providence, and in the hardship and sufferings which necessarily fall upon many among them unless speedy and efficient She appears to open her eyes very slightly measures be taken to avert those calamities; that we call upon the Government to recognize, promptly and honestly, the serious character of the crisis that has arisen, and to ward off poverty and want by instituting in the distressed districts remunerative works of perma-nent and public advantage, and thus prove that they are prepared to act up to the fundamenial principle of all government, salus popultaup emit lex; that we express the earns hope that the landlords of the county will deal induigently with their tenants, and not unduly press for their rents at this critical period.

A Demand for Public Works,

The same day the Bishop of Kilfenora presided over a conference of the clergy of his diocese, at which it was resolved:

First-That, seeing the ravages of the blight on the potate crop in this diocese, fully a moiety of the tubers having long since rotted away and the residue being in large measure unfit for human food, and looking forward with uncasiness to the coming winter and spring as likely to be fraught with distress and want for our poor people;

ond-That we feel satisfied the laborers and small farmers among us will have ex-hausted their slender store of potatoes, their sole resource, before next Christmas, and that the boards of guardians will be unequal to the task of affording them adequate relief until the advent of the new crop; Third-That the outlook being so gloomy and discouraging, we earnestly but respectfully urge the Government to come to the rescue while there is yet time, and institute public works of a useful and reproductive character, thus affording remunerative employment to the needy and at the same time taking most effective means to avert the widespread destitution that appears imminent.

No Heed Given the Appe 1. Similar resolutions by similar competent public bodies are being passed every day in Ireland. They do not demand charity, but merely work, by which the State would reap a permanent benefit. But neither Balfour nor his officers at Dublin Castle appear to heed them.
