Judging from local indications already apparent the National Encampment at Detroit next year is going to eclipse even the one at Boston. Comrades who were at Boston will hardly believe this possible so successful was it. But the comrades here are already actively engaged in preparing for the trip by organizing "Detroit Clubs" and is other ways making arrangements. Post 157's Eventsion Association is increasing at every meeting and much interest is manifested. The reception and hop to be given at Turner Hall by the association on Halloween promises to be a very enjoyable affair. The arrangements are well under way. Tickets can be procured from Comrade H. L. Hoburg, No. 362 Fifth avenue. The membership in Post 157's association is not confined to members of the post and their families, but is open to comrades of any other post and their families.

A movement is on foot in Post 3 to go to Detroit in strong numbers. The Entertainment Committee now has charge of the movement. At to-morrow night's meeting the committee, of which Comrade W. W. Scott is Chairman, will report on a plan. A special committee will likely be appointed to have charge of the arrangements. It is expected that 150 members of the post will take the trip.

Post 44 will likely be in line very soon. A latter number of the comrades are desirous of going and the result will likely be a Detroit club. The post adopted the plan of organizing long ahead before the Columbus encampment two years ago and were very much pleased with it. At that time the post made the best showing in its history. Others will likely be party long soon. The couraging in the saylors. end of the department are not behind and the Detroit clubs there are flourishing and increas-

They have not by any means and the hope is largely existent among them that before long their pet desire may be accomplished. Many of the "Reserves" live here, principally the Ninth and Tenth, but more especially the former. It was the "Reserves' ! intention to use the $1,500, which the State allowed each regiment for a monument, for the purpose of building a beautiful Memorial Hall of stone. The "Re-erves" were composed of bregiments, 13 of infantry, including the "Bucktaits" (-harpshooters), one of cavalry and one of artillery. All of these regiments was to throw its $1,500 into one fund and build the hall in which the history of each would be recorded on stone. EIGHT new recruits were mustered into Post 162 at the meeting last night a week, making a total of 20 during the quarter ending September 30. Since the first of the year 38 have been mustered, and the post now has 10 applicants to muster. The total membership is 230. This is encouraging, very; let the good

THE comrades of Post 41 are already looking about for good material for the post com-mandership next year. They intend that the best man shall be elected. So far the present commander, J. B. Ross, seems to be ahead in preference. He has made an excellent com-mander, has filled the office with great satisfac-tion to the comrades and many are desirous that he succeed himself.

THE reunion of the Fourth Pennsylvania Cavalry on Wednesday was a grand success. About 175 members came together. In the evening a banquet was held at the Seventh Avenue Hotel, W. N. Collingwood received a gold headed cane from his comrades. Major J. B. Maitland, of Oil City, made the presentation speech. It was a pleasant surprise to Mr. Collingwood.

DEPARTMENT COMMANDER DENNISTON will spend to-morrow at Department Head-quarters in Philadelphia, and probably Tuesday. To-morrow he will attend the reception tendered by the military order of the Loyal Legion to the Count of Paris at the parlors of the Union League Club. How Pittsburgers Manage to Handle All the Business of the City.

SCENES IN STREET AND STORE. Members of the Exchange Vote by a Large Majority to Sell the Building.

THE NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE CITY

Those who witnessed the crowded condi tion of the streets vesterday must have been mpressed with the fact that Pittsburg is a busy place. Liberty, Smithfield, Fifth avenue, Fourth avenue and Wood, at different times during the day, were literally jammed with all kinds of vehicles struggling for right of way, while pedestrians watched for breaks in the long procession to enable them to cross, which was eiten at great personal risk.

Mr. George Hetzel, the artist, witnessing blockade on Smithfield street, remarked: "It beats all. It is plain there is not enough street capacity in Pittsburg for the business. We need more streets."

The corner policemen were kept busy straightening out things. One of them took time to say: "People who think we have a pudding are badly mistaken, and if they were to stand here a few minutes they would admit it It's hard work, to say nothing of the re-

"Let us dodge into this store to escape the crush," said a gentleman who wanted to de-velop a bit of news. It was like jumping out of the frying-pan into the fire. The store was so full of buyers that standing room was at a premium. And so all through. Tradesmen of every sort had as much, and often more, custom than they could conveniently attend to. saturday is always a big day in Pittsburg, as searly everywhere else, which in part accounts for yesterday's congestion of space, but practically the same thing occurs every day in the week, showing that the city is full of business and running over. The suburbs are catching the overflow. In all other directions evidences of thrift were not wanting. Manufacturers were on the jump getting out orders and arranging new ones, builders were busy from cellar to roof, the markets were thronged-everything betokened a degree of prosperity rarely vouchsafed to any community. If Thackery were living he would postpone indefinitely the time for the New Zealander to weep over the ruins of Pittsburg.

At the Clearing House substantial proof was obtained of the correctness of the optimistic picture, or, rather, silhoueitte, drawn in the foregoing the week's clearings of the banks showing considerable gain over the previous week and also over the corresponding week of 1889. The gain this year to date over the same period of last year is nearly $112,000,000. This should be satisfactory. The outlook for the present quarter is favorable to an improvement on the one just ended.

Will Sell the Exchange. At a meeting of members of the Pittsburg Petroleum, Stock and Metal Exchange yesterday it was decided by a large majority to sell the property. I There was a large attendance and much interest was manifested. The tickets voted were: "In favor of selling the real estate," and "Against selling the real estate." Voting closed at 8 o'clock. When the result was announced it was found that 1,200 shares had been voted in the affirmative and $5 in the negative. The directors are empowered to sell the property at public or private sale at a price not less than $150,000. A bid of $160,000 was received soon after the polls were closed. The sale of the property will not disrupt the organization, which will remain intact, charter and all, ready with a big surplus to prosecute business in other and less expensive quarters, where a new element will be admitted in the hope_of interesting investors in home securi ties as in the halcyon days of old.

Points on the Oneer.

The following, furnished by a local banker, this city: All United States Treasury notes the local stock market and the sales were bet-issued prior to 1869 were printed on plain banknote paper. All issued since, commencing with the series of 1869, are printed on fiber paper. Most of the old issues were counterfeited, as stared them in the face. They wanted a sure the paper used had no special distinctive feat- thing or nothing. ure, engraving being mainly relied on by the Government to prevent imitation. As numer ous counterfeits appeared on the issues, the Government was obliged to adopt, in 1809, a special paper, the distinctive feature of which was a narrow localized tint of short blue fiber running the entire length of the strength or interfere with the printing. When examined under the microscope these fibers have the appearance of coarse black hairs of different lengths and shapes, scattered promis-cuously, regardless of regularity, over the entire surface. This paper is known as the Wil cox patent. In 1878 another feature of fiber paper was adopted, somewhat similar, with two silk threads running lengthwise throughout the note. This is known as the Crane patent. This paper is still in use. The threads are quite distinct under the microscope, They cannot be seen in the counterfeits.

Saved by a Key. A veteran bank officer, who has had a hab itat on Fourth avenue for 40 years or more, told the following story yesterday: "The safe we used when we opened up for business, and for a long time afterward, had a ponderous door and was considered absolutely burglar-proof. Perhaps it was, but a modern cracksman could open such a thing in about two minutes. The key was about two feet long, and weighed nearly four pounds, and it was part of my duty to carry it. I lived in Allegheny City. Going home one dark night after a hard day's work at the bank, I was stopped by a big burly fellow, who wanted to know the time. Instead of pulling out my watch I drew and leveled the big key at the man, who no doubt thinking it it was a horse pistol, turned on his beel and made off as fast as his legs could carry him. I thought more of the key after that." News of the Street. All the big buildings under way are being hustled up as fast as possible. The two most oackward are on Fourth avenue, George Cole, a Neville Island gardener, re turning home from the city yesterday with a wagon load of goods, drove so near the edge of the road at the bridge that his horses fell into the giver and were drowned. A local financier yesterday solved the mystery of the money panic. It was not caused by peculation, said he, but by the outflow of copey West and South to move the crops, Wilkinsburg Council having passed an ordinance giving three street car lines rights of way, citizens of the borough are at a loss where Mortgages dropped to 32 yesterday, of which Il were for purchase money. The largest was for $7,000. Ten were for less than $1,000. ## NEW YORK STOCKS.

Comparative Activity in the Market-Bears Make an Effort to Shake Out Long Stocks-The Cry of a Bad Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, October 4.-The stock market o-day was comparatively active, but the activity was of the usual sort made entirely by the operations for a decline and the weakness was most pronounced, approaching nearly to complete demoralization, and the losses incurred during the short session of only two day of recent date. The bears made what would seem to be one final effort to shake out long stocks, and no doubt but that considerable liquidation was accomplished in all portions of the list with the single exception of Lacka-wanna, which was the only stock which rewanna, which was the only stock which received any support whatever. The cry was "A bad bank statement," and after the issue of the statement, which was made unusually early, the most determined drive of the day was made and in the downward movement, which had been heavy throughout, was perceptibly accelerated.

The opening was made at lower figures, the losses from la-t night's prices extending generally to ½ per cent, but Kansas and Texas was exceptional, with a loss of ½ per cent. The downward movement went but little farther for the time being, the trading element starting in to cover, but the movement lacked vim and later all those stocks were thrown over and the bears crowded the market with an avalanche of short stocks which broke the market badly, especially in the grangers, Southwesterns and the stocks of the Pacific roads. There was no cessation of the pressure, which lasted right to the close, and, although there was a slight reaction in the final dealings, the close was active and weak, practically at the lowest figures.

The ex-essive weakness in the prices of railroad stocks continues to be out of keeping with the actual values as shown by the earnings reported. Those for the month of September just in show, as compared with the corresponding month of last year, great improvements,

Raiiroad bonds were moderately active, and while the tone of the market was heavy-there was no sympathy with the demoralization which marked the dealings in stocks. The final changes of importance are few, as usual, and on a business of $421,000. Reading second incomes lost barely steady.

by the United States Treasury in the month of September have put the question of money stringency at rest, except as the market may be affected by the hoarding of money owing to the apprehensions above referred to. This morning traders sold stocks because they declined yesterday, and nartly because they declined yesterday, and nartly because they declined yesterday, and nartly because they expected a decrease in the reserve in the bank statement. And yet neither of these things was any legitimate reason for a decline in stocks under the present circumstances; first, because stocks had already had such a great decline that they must be nearer the inevitable turning point, and next, because money was still freely offered for loan on call on stocks this morning at 3 per cent. The declining prices have undoubtedly caused further and in their liquidation, and the liquidation has caused further decline. It is, of course, apparent that this cannot go on always without a sharp reaction. There have as yet been no failures in connection with the stock market and none rumored.

Sharp Upturn In the Grain Pit-Everything Active and Higher-Corn Said to be Turning Out Poorly-

CHICAGO-Wheat-There was more life to he market to-day, and a higher range of prices was established. The feeling was decidedly stronger. In the oversold condition of the market was the sharp advance of to-day no market was the sharp advance of to-day no doubt attributable. Many of the dealers who were buyers the past day or two were sellers, and sellers of the past few days were buyers. The unexpected happened, and operators felt a little nervous over the situation. Some parties thought the merket a healthy one. Others were rather doubtful and thought it only a scare to force in some large traders. The opening was 1½ e higher than yesterday's closing, and there was some excitement attending first sales; then eased off 5½c for December and ½c for May, advanced, and closed 1½@2c higher than yesterday.

Mc for May, advanced, and closed 12@2c higher than yesterday.

Corn attracted more than usual attention, a large volume of business being transacted within a broader range than any day this week. The feeling developed was much stronger, and higher prices were the rule on all futures. The advance was due largely to the purchases of May by several large local houses, two of whom took in all about 100,000 bushels. Reports were received from the West stripe. received from the West stating that corn was husking ont poorly. First trades were at an advance of 1,8%c, the market selling up another 1/c, reacted 1/c, then sold up ic, eased up 3/c, ruled firmer and closed with a 11/2011/c gain.

THE fatigue cap now in use in the regular army and in most of the States is being put through a course of very severe criticism, and it is probable a change will soon be made, as a it is probable a change will soon be made, as a covering for the head it is certainly neither useful nor ornamental. CORPORAL SAMUEL BOYD, a well-known the non-commissioned roll of Battery B at present, which will be filled by Captain Hunt shortly. Sergeant Kimmel, who has been connected with the organization for a number of years, has gone to Bethany College to study for the ministry. THE Army and Navy Register, the officia organ of the regular service, rather severely criticises the New York Guard on the quarrels and courts martial that are going on in almost every regiment in that State. It suggest that if a vigorous stop is not soon put in the affairs, a commission should be sent to Pennsylvania to find out how an efficient body of State troops should be managed. THE Gray Invincibles, of the First Brigade, have lodged a complaint with General Deckert on account of the alleged treatment the organ zation received in connection with the Mt.

cation received in connection with the Mt.

that his company is not allowed to enter a team because the organization is composed of colored men. He thinks that if his command is enough to be represented in the State matches.

JOHN GOLL, a member of Company C, Sixteenth Regiment at Bradford, was shot in the leg by Lieutenant Frank Bradley, while at rifls practice last Friday afternoon, and died three hours later under the surgeon's knife. Goll was attending the target and stepped out from behind it without raising the danger signal. Licutenant Bradley is well known throughout the Guard as being one of the finest shots in the State, being a member of the Pennsylvania team at Creedmoor last fall.

THE time for the contest for the Brown & Birth medals has been finally set for October 18 at 11 A. M., on the range of the Fourteenth Regiment at Saltworks. Ten shots each at the 200 and 500 yard ranges will be allowed each man, but any man making a total of less than man, but any man making a total of less than 30 points at the 200 yard range will be dropped. Contestants are limited to qualified marksmen belonging to the three local organizations, entries to be made in writing to Lieutenant W. S. Brown not later than October 18. Blunt's rules will govern the match and contestants must furnish their own ammunition. Considerable interest is felt in the sport, and better scores than last year may be expected. ores than last year may be expected.

GENERAL SNOWDEN, in conversation a gentleman recently relative to the Mt. Grates contests, at which he was an interested spectator last month, made the statement that he intended next season limiting the teams from the different organizations to enlisted men only, and that hereafter officers would be prohibited from taking part in any of the State matches. His reason for taking such a step is that the rifle is the particular weapon of the enlisted man, and that in the contests it would give more incentive to the rank and file should such restrictions be made. From another source it was learned that the Adjutant General's Office considers the annual contests entirely too expensive, as many of the teams are nilled up with officers who draw their full pay for the trip. General Snowden has in view a scheme to arrange for pistol contests for officers, as he desires them to become proficient in that arm. Should General Snowden's scheme be carried out, many of the crack teams of the State would be placed in the shade, and the "Sharp pains like the stab of a knife would take me in the region of the heart and through the chest night sweats came on and weakened me terribly; my nights were restless, and I would arise in the morning all worn out. I was always hungry, but feared to eat, dreading the consequences; no matter how little I would take on my stomach it would cause me a miserable feeling of mausea and distress there.

"In spite of all I could do to retard the progress of this disgusting disease I grew constantly worse. I had been reading the numerous statements of natients who had been cured by Drs. Copeland & Blair's methods and resolved that I would try them.
"It was the best resolution I ever made," concluded Mr. Henneman, "for they have made a new man of me. I feel as well now as I ever did."

BEWARE OF IMITATORS.

BEWARE OF IMITATORS. Drs. Copeland & Blair, the Originators, Still at the Head.

A short time since the attention of the public was called to the remarkable success Drs. Copeland & Biair were having in the treatment of catarris and all its various complications. Although imitators of their methods of treatment and mode of advertising have sprung up in various sections of the city, their feeble efforts have met with no success. Drs. Copeland & Biair still remain at the head, and their success is unanated. Dr. W. H. Copeland is personally in charge of his extensive practice. To his skillful treatment and close attention to the various changes in the cases under his care are due the wonderful results reached.
