The baseball championship season of 1890 was brought to a termination in Pittsburg yesterday by two games between the home and Boston P. L. clubs at Exposition Park The weather was excellent, and that fact had an influence in inducing 2,300 people to see the windup. The contests were not of a very high standard, but at times there was considerable enthusiasm displayed, and a very large amount of kicking by the players against the umpires. Tom Brown was prominent in this respect, and he used some very strong language to Umpire Holbertlanguage that in the haleyon days of baseball would not have been tolerated. Some hoodlums among the spectators also yelled out some very ugly epithets to the umpires.

The first game was a victory for the home players and it was won on its merits. Hanlon was still too indisposed to play and Fields played in center field. Daly was in the box for the visitors and he was touched up at quite a merry rate. The local talent thumped the ball in all directions and at one time Nash, the third baseman, remeved Daly and pitched three or four balls. In the seventh inning Murphy was injured while trying to put Quinn out at the plate. The injured catcher was replaced by Swett, but the latter's work did not at all figure in the score. The game was, indeed, an exciting one up to the seventh inning when the home players made six runs. Four hits were made, including Visner's home run to left field, Quinn's triple to right and singles by Beckley and Kuchne. There were also three bases on balls in the inning, a sacrifice bit by Fields, two errors by Murphy and one by Gumbert. This inning settled the game. In the minth inning Carroll made a splendid three-bagger to left but he failed to touch second base and was declared out. Maul was also hit quite lively, but the his were not long ones.

The second game was close up to the fifth inning, when the champions let themselves loose and walked off with the lead. Tener and Gumbert, the two East Enders, were the pitchers. Secretary John was not in his best form, being very unsteady. Gumbert pitched very well, but had very poor support. In the fifth inning, after two men were out, Richardson and Nash each made a three-bagger, and Quinn followed with a double. Outside of this inning there were no special features. The was injured while trying to put Quinn out at the

THE DALLAS-HAL POINTER RACE OFF

They tied up the bell rope out at Homewood Park yesterday afternoon after the finish of the 2:40 trot, and furled the banners until the season of 1891.

The fact that the Creator had sorted out rain for the week virtually ruined the meeting which would have been one of the greatest ever held in this country during the fall of the year had it remained clear.

Just how the association will come out financially cannot be stated, but it is thought that the losses will fall inside of $1,000, and may be within $500. Most of the stables remaining were shipped away yesterday afternoon and late last night, and the track is stables remaining were shipped away yesterday afternoon and late last night, and the track is now almost deserted.

Nearly 10,000 people went out to the park yesterday afternoon to see the finish. They found the track heavy with mud in spots and soft and sticky in others, causing the horses to dwell, as it were, in their attempted flights. Miss Agnes was made the favorite in the betting at the start at about even money against the field. She was a "dead card," however, not being in it. Before the horses were called out Mr. Thubron, of Allegheny, went to the Judges' stand and protested her. He claimed that her right name was Electric, and that she had a record of about 2:25½. It was also alleged that she has been doing Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio in a most barefaced manner, having trotted at Wellsville, Tarentum, Punxsutawney, Du Bots, Altoona, and other places under this assumed name, and in all manner of slow classes. Watson Taylor, the colored driver, handled the ribbons at all of the meetings except Altoona, where she was driven by a man named Collins. Heretofore she has not been questioned. It is also alleged that she is owned by a well-known ex-member of Councils of this city. In case these charges are substantiated the drivers mentioned will both be subject to suspension. The alleged owner is beyond the reach of the National Trotting Association, having transacted business with that body last year.

WISE MEN HAD THE TIP. The tip that Agnes was very fast and had the race at her mercy was quietly circulated among certain of the knowing ones, and they accord-ingly plunged on her for sure money before the winter sets in, but she could not trot a little bit, being the tamest kind of an alleged ringer, and another sure thing went under, to the chagrin of the knowing ones.

Although Inle won the first heat of the race easily on Thursday, she was overlooked. They began scoring about 2 o'clock and did not get the word until everyone was weary. First Agnes would come tearing under the wire on a run and then Lamartine would do likewise. Finally Judge Van Osten, after trying every expedient, and after giving repeated warnings, sent them away. Agnes running. When she did get settled, however, she could not go a bit. Inie, well behaved, got away in the lead and was never headed. She had them strum out all the way, four or five lengths apart, in Indian file. Lucy was second to the stretch, when Ashby took the place and made a very good finish, landing less than two lengths to the bad. J. G. W. was presented with red bandages. The time was 2:41%.

SHE HAD THEM GUESSING.

SHE HAD THEM GUESSING. The second heat found the wise men guessin a little. Inie was the favorite for a while. Then the field took first place and Inie sold out. Finally confidence became restored in out. Finally confidence became restored in Agnes again, and it was field $25, Agnes $13, and these quotations prevailed when the word was given. This heat was even more of a procession than the other one. Inie fairly spreadeagled the field. Although she passed the draw bar nearly eight lengths ahead of her nearest competitor at the finish, her pilot was driving as if pursued by fifty demons. He could have won in a walk just as well, but he did not propose to let a good thing go, and so drove it out. The time was 237%. best, but the Phillies dropped two games at Cleveland. Manager Wright went for chances and had he won the two games he would have finished ahead of Chicago. Cincinnati has done well toward the finish and defeated Boston. Following is the standing of the clubs at the windun:

SUMMARY-2:40 TROT, $400.

W. J. Thubron, Allegheny, g. g., J. G. W., 6 dis Time, 2:365, 2:418, 2:37.5.

In case the protest against Miss Agnes is sustained she will not get second money here, and the associations that have paid her owner first money will have to pay the money all over to the others. For instance, a horse having been paid second money when she was first will be entitled to the difference between that and first, and so on down the line.

The Dallas-Hal Pointer race is off. Ed Geers said yesterday: "We were anxious to meet Dallas, and were ready to go on Monday. The association offered us $1,200, the winner to get $1,000 and the loser $200, but the Dallas party wanted to divide it even. We would not consent to this. They could have picked up $1,000 very easily if they could have picked to Pointer horse, but they declined, so we shipped our horse away."

This sum, it is stated, was outside of the $2,500 a side, for which the horses were matched.

Inie, winner of the race, is a handsome and exceedingly well behaved little bay mare, and can trot in 2:30 or better sure pop on a good track. Her sire was Ridgeway, be by Iron Duke, and her dam was very well bred. She was reared on Mr. Stoffal's farm, at Carrack, and last summer did considerable duty on a mowing machine. A granger who lives near Mr. Stoffal said yesterday that she was just as good at drawing a corn cultivator as she was drawing a sulky, and the people out that way are very proud of her.

He said yesterday that he would sooner have lost $50,000 than the horse, as he might have regained the money, but Duquesne never. The splendid big fellow would have netted his owner $16,000 next season, having been booked for that amount.

Mr. Hacke finds some solace, however, in the fact that he has a few good colts and fillies by Duquesne that bid fair to perpetuate his fame. One of the fillies, a 2-year-old, paced a mile a few days age in 235. Mr. Hacke also has a 2-year-old colt by Prince Belmont that showed a trial mile the same day in 236%. The genial Mike McConnell, of baseball fame, will hereafter direct his attention to the running turf instead of the green diamond, as of yore, the will not purchase any animals with records, but will raise his own flyers. Mr. McConnell owns at present two valuable fillies royally bred from thoroughbred Kentucky stock.

SWIFES, the newsboy, has gotten on a match at last. Jack Darcy, the Baltimore spider, colored, has agreed to meet the bloodthirsty Swipes for a gi50 purse. A suburban sporting man has agreed to furnish the purse and the battle ground. The men will fight with skin-tight gioves in less than ten days.

to furnish the purse and the battle ground. The men will fight with skin-tight gioves in less than ten days.

JOHN OWEN, of the Detroit Athletic Club, who is credited by Westerners with covering 100 yards in 9% seconds, is of medium height and build. Latterly he has not approached his 9% seconds, although he covers the ground in marvelously swift fashion. He will compete at the champion-ships at Washington.

It is whispered that Salvator has become so thin as to be unit for a bruising race, and that is given as the reason for his withdrawal from the Manhattan Handicap. Mr. Mackey, manager of the Rancho del Paso breeding establishment, intends to take him to California carly this month. So the turf has probably seen the last of the famous son of Prince Charlie and Salina.

ZJIMMY MCLAUGHLIN'S return to the saddle was mainly induced by the fact that, quite to his surprise, he found that his average weight was running much less than last season. Then it required heroic work on his part to get down to about 120 pounds, whereas this year he hardly went above 125 pounds at any time. This led him to conclude he was safe in signing a contract that did not require him to reduce below 120 pounds.

THE Acme Baseball Club to hereby challenge the Gakland, Homestead or Tarentum ball clubs to a match game of baseball on Wednesday, October 8, 1899, for twenty-five (25) dollars or fifty (30) dollars per side and the amateur championship of Allepheny county. Game to be played at Recreation Park, Allegheny. The manager of the Acmes will be at THE DISPATCH office Monday, October 8, at 7:30 o'clock P. M., to leave forfeit.

It is said that the management of the Syracuse club has telegraphed to the different clubs in the country offering any or all of its players for sale. The directors declare that they are willing to continue a bail clubs in the linerational League or a similar organization, but will not remain in the American Association. There are several good men in the Syracuse club, but none equal to Childs, who is a heavy hi who is a heavy hitter and one of the best fielders in the club.

At a recent, sale of thoroughbred yearlings at Doncaster, England, a filly by Hermit sold for 720,000, a filly by Scottish Chief brought $10,000, a colt by Roalerucian $11,000, a colt by Macgregor $12,000. The prices realized for the youngaters averaged from $5,000 upward. Fifty yearlings disposed of in one ring sold for $55,000 and in another string of $0, $90,775 was realized for the lot, which was the largest sum ever realized on one day at any previous Doncaster sale.

A WELL-KNOWN American sporting man (John Mackey) who is esteemed an authority, has lately been to England to look at our sires, says an English exchange, and after a careful examination has come to the conclusion that Baraddine and St. Simon are the pick of the lot, an idea which seems to be in a great measure confidence by the result of the yearling sales. His final verdict is rather purpling, for he says of Barcaldine, "He's the best I ever saw in my life." These two utterances do not quite fit; for if Barcaldine is the best of them all. "and of St. Simon, "He's the best I ever saw in my life." These two utterances do not quite fit; for if Barcaldine is the best of them all. where does St. Simon on the life, where would he place Barcaldine? Opposite Gusky's, CINCINNATI, October 4.—Cincinati has truck its colors. The deal has been completed in all save a few minor details and the advance guard of the Brotherhood have surrendered the purse which has served to make Messrs. Stern and Sterne march into retirement. The deal which commenced in a spirit of bluff of Ward of threatened invasion of the Cincinnati's territory by the Brotherhood resulted in an end that certainly proved surprising to half the Cincinnati enthusiasts. It was like pulling teeth to get three players in line. McPhee was under personal contract President Stern for three years, but he balked and wanted a slice of the $40,000 in the way of President Stern for three years, but he balked and wanted a slice of the $40,000 in the way of additional salary to consent to a transfer of that obligation to the Brotherhood. He was offered $500 to consent, but he took his own time to consider. Reilly and Mullane were also obdurate, and the morning session was fruitless. It rained hard in the afternoon and the last League game couldn't be played. That gave the missionaries more time to read tracts to the true of players. Everything seemed all right, and Secretary Stern was signing Reilly. Then the little President of the Cincinnatis exclaimed: "Nicht schreiben." The contract was jerked from Reilly's hand and the official declared: "Come on: I am tired of fooling; the deal is off."

But it was not. Secretary Brunell met the charges that were hurled at him by warm retorts. The storm of words did not last long. From the Burnett House the whole delegations, armed with umbrellas, proceeded to the office to Vice President Louis Cramer, where the legal transfer was made. Ex-Assistant United States District Attorney John E. Bruce acted as counselor for the Brotherhood, and he has been installed as their attorney in Cincinnati, Director Talcott and Johnson represented the Players' League at the transfer, while the President and Secretary took care of their own interests.

Manager Loftus will continue in charge of the team, and the present intention is to make him business manager as well. Only two of the Brotherhood teams are to be run in here for exhibition games, the Clevelands and the Philadelphias. There is a possibility of Pitteburg being sent on later. It is too soon to speak of changes for 1891, but Hoy and Mack are two men who are promised. Eight of the old Reds have been signed. They are: Harrington, Rhines, Reilly, McPhee, Mullane, Marr, Holliday and Latham. The new club at once organized by electing A. L. Johnson President; E. B. Talcott, Vice President: F. H. Soon my nose ecame raw and sore-on both sides-and it be "Finally, after suffering for about three years, i took typhoid pneumonia, and from that time I rapidly grew worse. My lungs became very weak and I felt a tight, oppressive feeling in my chest; my breath became short and a cough set in. My appetite failed, I had a full, uncomfortable feeling after eating, and my stomach felt very sore and tender. I could not sleep well and I had a weary, tired feeling. Every change of weather would cause me to take cold, night sweats weakened me and I lost flesh.

AN IRON-WORKER'S TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF DR. BYERS'METHOD OF TREAT-MENT-A DESCRIPTION OF THE ANTISES. TIC SPRAY APPARATUS.

Mr. Haus is employed at Jones & Laughlins' American Iron Works. For three years he had been troubled with his stomach and shortness of breath. Never had any sickness before. Trouble began with weakness and loss of appetite. When he came to Dr. Byers' office he was losing flesh rapidly, had cough morning and evening, night sweats and the usual dyspeptic trouble which follows such a train of symptoms, ceated tongue, bad taste in the mouth in morning, bleating and beiching up of gas after eating, palpitation of the heart, dizziness, etc., etc.

He was induced to try Dr. Byers through the testimony of a fellow workman in same mill, Mr. John Lawis, and was entirely relieved of all the troubles after thorough and systematic courses of treatment of five months. The only unpleasant symptom he has left is an occasional palpitation when he gets a bad cold, caused by an unusually irritable heart.

DR. BYERS' METHOD OF TREATMENT. Mr. Fred Haus, Sylvian Street, City

DR. BYERS' METHOD OF TREATMENT.

DR. BYEHS' METHOD OF TREATMENT.

A porcelain-lined cylinder, filled with purified condensed air, by which the Doctor treaty catarrh of the nose, throat and unper air passages. This air passess through a flexible tube, at the end of which there is a spray generator, formed of two glass tubes, one of which turns downward, and is inserted into a medicated fluid, which the air sucks up in minute quantities and trajects out into the form of an atomized vapor. With a pressure of 20 pounds to the square inch, it will throw a spray of four feet in length and of considerable volume. This spray not only cleaness the inflamed membrane of the viscid exerction which collects on its surface, but deposits remedial agents upon the irritated membrane, reduces the inflammation and soothes it. This renders a cure much more speedy than can be effected by any other means, and leaves the parts fresh and clean after each application, thereby prosnoting the comfort of the patient during the progress of oure.

DR. BYERS' CHEDENTIALS.

Dr. W. C. Byers is a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, 1872, as his diploma in office will show, and is regularly registered in the Allegheny County Medical Record. He treats each patient locally once per weak, and furnishes all necessary medicine for home use for the uniform fee of 55 a month. For those patients who cannot visit his office he has devised a small instrument by which they can use his "Antisoptic Spray Treatment" at home.

Office of Dr. Byers, No. 471 Penn avenue, Specialties, catarru, all nervous, blood and skin diseases; all chrome diseases.
