POLITICS IN THE STATE AND NATION

The Buckeye Democrats are pot so hopeful of carrying the State as a few weeks ago. They still claim that McKinley will be defeated, however. The next Congress will contain at least 100 new members.

IFRON & STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, October 4 .- A prominent Democrat, who has just returned from Ohio, is quoted to-day as saying that he did not think the prospects looked as bright there month ago. Instead of electing 15 members of the next House, as they had calculated upon as a result of the gerrymander, he thought that they would elect only 12. The reason for this is, he says, that they have had some trouble at some of the district conventions which will weaken the candidates.

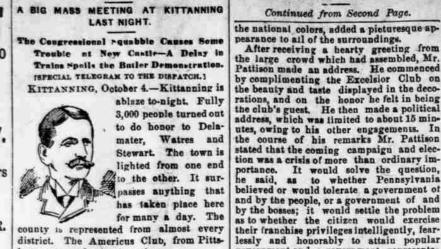

Besides, he says, the municipal scandal at Cincinnati may hurt the Democrats some notwithstanding the prompt and vigorous action of Governor Campbell, and if an extra session of the Legislature is called it will hurt the party a little. As to the matter of Storrs township being left out in the redistricting, he says that there is no trouble.

M'KINLEY'S FIGHT.

In McKinley's district the fight will be hard on both sides, but he thinks that the Democrats will win, but in Seney's district ex-Governor Foster is apt to be elected. From one cause and another there will be an unusually large number of new faces in the next Congress. Some of those who will serve their last term at the coming session in December retire on account of bad health. Others, like Ben Butterworth, of Ohio, and Peters, of Kansas, go out because they believe they can do better pecuaiarly in private life.

Some retire to take positions on the judicial bench or to serve in other official capacities, while in the great majority of cases the retirements have been altogether involuntary on the part of the victims. There are about 80 cases of the latter class, one-third of them being Democrats and the remainder Republicans. These figures do not, of course, include any cases of a speculative nature, as, for instance, the possibility of the deleat of a nominee of either party in close districts, but merely those whose Congressional days have actually been numbered.

ONE HUNDRED NEW MEMBERS. It would not be too much to state that the total number of new men in the Fifty-second Congress will nearly approach 100, or almost a third of the entire House. This to work with, and the Speaker of the next House, no matter who he may be, will have a difficult task in the formation of the com-In the long list of retiring members are some who are known all over the country for one reason or another, favorably or otherwise. One of the brightest of the young men on the Democratic side, and Speaker Reed's dearest enemy, John R. Eogers, of Arkansas, declined a proffered renomination. George T. Barnes, of Georgia, the big fat 400 pounder, who was always pointed out as the "weighty member" of the House, fell before the attacks of the Alliance. Frank Lawler, the big-hearted but badly educated Irishman, whose pet scheme was a revision of the spelling books, retired to run for the office of Sheriff of Cook county, III. Then Joseph B. Cheadle, of Indiana the man with the red and yellow whiskers, is also among the stay-at-bomes. He was defeated for renomination principally because he on several occasions manifested a decided tendency during the session just closed to kick over the party traces and place his own opinion in opposition to the burial bill. mandates of Speaker Reed and the other Republican leaders.

ALLEGED INTIMIDATION. The Howard Glass Company Proceeding Against Its Strikers on This Account. A very important step has been taken by the Howard Plate Glass Company, at Du quesne, against some of their striking em Yesterday it filed a bill in equity against Victor Laurent, Leonard Cordier, Arthur Lovet, Joseph Marshall, Adam Borbouse Frank Gorean, G. Gevasse, A. Gevasse Frank Dupont and others, all employes of the firm, to compel them to cease their alleged intimidation of the men now in the employ of the firm in Miffla township. It is stated by the plaintiffs that they have 350 employes, and that on the 27th of last month the defendants named conspired to compel their employee to become members of the Knights of Labor This the employes refused to do, and it is alleged the defendants are intimidating the men now at work and are threatening to

The meeting of the Central Trades Coupcil last night was very short. When the matter of the McGaw investigation was brought up, Mr. Wyatt, Chairman of the committee, made a few remarks, and Mr. McNamee, the Secretary, began to read a report. He was interrupted by Joseph L. Evans, who moved that in view of the limited ttendance, owing to the political meetings, the reading of the report be postponed until the next regular meeting. Hugh D. Mc-Gaw, a brother of Homer L. McGaw, sec-onded the motion, and it was unanimously adopted. The council then adjourned. One of the matters to have been brought

VISITING A SAW WORKS.

Mr. Horace Disston went to New York last night in order to accompany the visitors to Philadelphia, and meanwhile Messra. Thomas Disston and Hamilton Disston had been perfecting details at this end. The Tarony Saw Works is an establishment which cannot be seen to be understood in a brief visit and with a degree of executive detail which reflected great credit on the firm. The confusion incident to the incur-sion of a great crowd of ladies and gentlemen was provided for and mitigated as much as possible. The Mesars, Disston had appointed five committees, composed of foremen of differ-ent departments, the duties of which committees were to escort the visitors over the vorks. The entire works were divided into five sections for this purpose. The time allotted to the visit to the saw works was necessarily limited, but it was sufficient to show the party the magnitude and importance of Tacony's great industrial establishment. To most of the visitors, the technique of what was shown them pos-sessed much interest and the marvelous improvements in mechanical contrivances and rapid production and the bustling practical demonstration of what the works were capable of accomplishing, brought forth expressions of wonder and surprise from everyone. In the latter coupty 1,200 Republicans scratched his name from the ticket at the recent primaries, and in the opinion of prominent members of that party he can be beaten in the county at the election next month. Mayor Fritchey is very popular here.

He resides in a heavy Republican ward, but has always carried it by large majori-ties. Three years ago he was elected Mayor by 473 majority, and last February he de-feated a popular man for the same office by 611 majority.

The Sixth Massachusetis is Minus a Dem crat to Run Against Him.

BOSTON, October 4 .- The Sixth Congress sional District Democratic Convention this afternoon was remarkable from the fact that it took its candidate from outside its own district-D. William Everett, of Quincy, being nominated by acclamation. The reason for this action was, as practically stated by Chairman Morgan, that there was no available Democrat in the district who could be pitted against Mr. Lodge.
