The rivers fell somewhat, and will go below the boating stage in a day or two. The rise is running out very fast, as the marks showed a fall of nearly a foot in one hour. At 6 o'clock it was below the eight-foot mark. The harbor boat owners are complaining of the dangerous condition of the Allegheny between the Union and Suspension bridges, made so by the gravel boats, which have been working there during low water season. One of the job boat owners stated yesuerday that he would call the attention of Colonel Merrill to the matter.
