

'TIS A GREAT SHOW.

So Say the Iron and Steel Delegates Who Visited the Expo.

MANY THINGS OF INTEREST SEEN.

Chats With Some of the Foreigners on Their Visit to Pittsburgh.

COBBLE-STONE PAVEMENTS DOOMED.

"May I occupy one of your chairs a few moments? This tiresome, you know, walking about, and the heat don't leave for some time."

The speaker was a bright little English lady, wearing one of the distinctive badges of the Iron and Steel Institute, and her question was addressed to the young man in charge of THE DISPATCH Exposition headquarters.

Soon several other of the delegates strolled up to THE DISPATCH headquarters and chattered together for some little time.

"Indeed," said one, "you have an excellent Exposition, and we have seen so much to interest, but do you know I can't get a tab on myself—I don't understand what the meeting place is for the excursion."

"And the three held a discussion, and after burying their faces in a guide book, started away to meet another of their countrymen."

"You know we are so interested in your natural gas," said the little lady. "We can't have such in Sheffield. And we have had such a delightful time ever here. We were given the most interesting information."

Two indignation meetings a day are held by suburban patrons of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad these days, one in the morning and the other in the evening. The cause is the detention of trains caused by the immense freight business of the company.

At the meeting last evening, Mr. Dally, of the Stoops' Ferry circle, reported that he understood the cause of detention to be that instructions had been issued that all north-bound trains were to have right of way, and that the evening lighting system was to be switched, if not out of the program; further, that Train Dispatcher Yoho had special instructions to shove out freight cars and to let the passenger trains pass.

NO PINK-EYE HERE YET.

Pittsburgh Doctors Don't Think the Disease Has Struck the City—Symptoms of the Disagreeable Epidemic—What Are Its Supposed Causes.

Catarhal ophthalmia, or pink-eye, is reported to have broken out in Philadelphia, and Dr. Lawrence Turnbull is quoted as attributing it to dampness, electricity and bad gas.

The disease is described as affecting both the ball of the eye and the lid. Its presence is announced by a soreness and redness of the lids, followed by swelling of the former and severe pains in the latter. The congestion is great and the patient spends most of his time rubbing his eyes.

Doctors in this city do not know of any cases, so far as could be learned yesterday afternoon. Some cases of the disease were "not at home," etc.; but Drs. R. E. Warner, Snively and Chevalier J. Jackson were encountered. The first two simply stated that they knew of no cases in the city and Dr. Snively said he did not know that the local conditions were favorable for the generation of the disease.

Dr. Jackson stated that it was a contagious disease and that it spread indefinitely. It is disseminated by germs and attacks the mucous membrane covering the interior of the eye and lid.

It is not probable, that it may pay this city a visit and that there may be more who will have redness of the eye than those who tarry long at the mine. This city enjoys an immense degree of financial prosperity lately and it may be that we need a thorn in the flesh to remind us of our mortality and that ophthalmia may be the thorn.

AT THE HARDEST POINT.

The Revision Committee on Chapters 6 and 7—Rev. Dr. Booth and M. H. Stratton to Fill Vacancies From New York and New Jersey.

The revisionists of the Presbyterian Confession of Faith continued their work yesterday, by discussing the sixth and seventh chapters of the work. There are 53 chapters, and the two on which they worked yesterday are the most important. Many of the other chapters are very short and can be passed over quite rapidly.

The committee yesterday selected the gentlemen to fill vacancies. Rev. Dr. R. Booth will represent the Synod of New York, and Elder M. H. Stratton will act for the Synod of New Jersey.

On invitation of Judge Strong, it was resolved that the next meeting of the committee would be held in Washington, D. C., in the parlors of the Church of the Covenant. This meeting will begin on February 4. It has not yet been decided when this meeting will be adjourned, but on account of the many synods meeting next week it is probably that the conference will remain in this city longer than until next Monday.

There was some talk of adjourning to-day, and then began work again next Monday, and then began work again next Monday, and then began work again next Monday.

While the committee did not get along so rapidly as they expected before, they are now in the hardest part of their work. One of the divines said yesterday that he did not expect to meet the matter so slowly as that the old confession of faith had stood for 250 years and they want the new one to stand as good a test as the old one.

THEA, DAUGHTER OF CAMELIA. Some Facts That Will Interest All Her Many Admirers.

CHAPTER V. The costume worn by Thea Seneca is composed of panels of tulle and tulle, overlapping each other so completely that the whole form garment is but a dream of beauty.

The illustration given herewith will show the veneration of the leaf (or panel) as we have chosen to call it. Now, in nearly all other leaves of the side veils, branching out from the center edge, or in some rare instances, very near the edge, or in some rare instances, very near the edge, or in some rare instances, very near the edge.

This leaf can be recognized from others, if a piece large enough can be obtained to show this distinctive venation, and this can be done by the process of cutting the leaves are broken up too much.

The next chapter will be some interesting facts relative to the climate necessary to Thea's health and also to her good diet.
