PITTSBURG, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1890---TWELVE

May be handed in at the main advertising office of THE DISPATCH, corner Smithfield and Diamond streets, up to midnight.

FORTY-FIFTH YEAR.

Pittsburg's Great Natural Fuel and the Many Uses to Which It is Put

ASTONISH AND AMAZE ALL

An Excursion Up the Monongahela Participated in by Nearly All the Foreign Visitors.

ANDREW CARNEGIE WAS ON HAND.

The Edgar Thomsom Works Critically Inspected by a Host of People Who Knew Just How

IRON AND STEEL SHOULD BE HANDLED.

The Magnificent Gas Display at Haye' Station Metaphorically Knocks the Strangers Into a

ONE MORE DAY OF LONG EXCURSIONS AREAD

Pittsburg's visitors were surprised yesterday. They were made acquainted at once with the strength and with the intensity of our natural fuel, and marveled very much

They saw the big plant of Carnegie Brothers & Co., at Braddock, turning out rails at the rate of 30 feet of track a minute, and viewed with equal admiration the Homestead works producing huge plates of armor for Uncle Sam's ships, and beams and structural iron for everyday use.

On the return trip, and when the shades of night had closed in, a remarkable display of natural gas was witnessed. Gas bubbled up from beneath the river, surged forth from the sky, and spent itself in the night air in parti-colored flames for the edification of the trans-oceanic visitors.

Everybody as Pleased as Surprised. Very nearly a thousand people took advantage of the opportunity, and residents expressed themselves as much pleased with the trip as did the foreign folk. And to say that all the participants enjoyed themselves is to make a very mild statement of what was a very self-evident fact.

The trip made on the Mayflower occupied just seven hours, and as a matter of history, as many people returned to the Monongahela wharf at 9:30 o'clock as left it at 2:30

The old Monongahels wharf-that portion of it at the foot of Wood street-never be- visited. The terrific and resonant blast of fore bore such a cosmopolitan gathering noon its rough, very rough, cobble as it did yesterday. Travelers from the Continent, as Americans designate that portion of Europe remote from the home of their ancestors; visitors from Great Britain; from Australia; from India, and other foreign climes, crowded along the sloping wharf that confines the stream, and picked their way on board the Mayflower, the boat selected to carry them to the big mills and displays of nature's wonders of which they have heard so much.

A Scene Well Worth Studying.

It was a scene worth studying, that on the landing, shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Dainty dames and merry maid ens tripped their way over the wharf stones, and equally gay bachelors, and benedicts, too, with their wives, and with their over coats, crowded along the gangway as the hour for departure drew near. At 2 o'clock the stream of excursionists along the wharf became continuous. The Great Western Band, under Conductor Weiss, struck up the "Red, White and Blue;" took a breathing spell, and then played a selection, in which "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," was included. This tune, as everybody knows, is identical with that of "God Save the Queen," the British national refrain, and when its familiar notes rung out on the air, recalling to the Englishmen present their own national anthem, or mistaking it for such as a compliment to themselves, they raised thir bats. as is customary with them in their own land when the air is played.

A sharp blast from the whistle, prolonged and interfering somewhat with the rendition by the band of the "Red, White and Blue," was a suggestive hint to the laggards to "get a move on." But being foreign and unacquainted with the method of getting s move on, they didn't do it, and when the last file, presumably, had arrived and undergone the inspection of Detective Willjam Shore, it was past the bour set for Delayed by Late Arrivals.

A line of "maidens fair," with their escorts, now appeared 'way up on Water street, and Captain A. E. Hunt, espying them, gave orders to await them. The gallant Captain was silently voted the thanks he had provided a capital claret cup, which of the "voyageurs," for included in the late of the "voyageurs," for included in the late privals were some of the daintiest damsels called for it; which all did, and often. The that ever trod on the oft-used decks of the Mayflower.

Then a buggy, drawn by a pair of fast trotting horses, was seen to approach, and in another minute Andrew Carnegie and Sir James Kitson had alighted and made their way shoard. Then the gang plank was partly hauled on board, and another pull would have placed it there, when George Dilworth was observed hurrying down the levee. He ran up the steep plank and was safe. Johnny McTighe was nearly left, but as usual he got there. The boat swung up into midstream, and the excursion had commenced.

It was not forgotten that distinguished gentlemen from "t'other side" were on board. The Union Jack and the German Ensign were run up at the bow, and Prof.

the best advertising medium. All classes can be reached through its Classified Advertisement Columns. If you want anything you can get it by this method, Weiss gave the cue to his band, and "God erected. Every variety of form and shape Save the Queen" floated 'cross the waters turned out in the Bessemer department was Save the Queen" floated 'cross the waters and to the ears of the onlookers on shore, who responded with cheers. A glance around sufficed to show that there were very nearly 1,000 people on board. The skipper admitted to 980 and a small boy, but where he got the small boy no one could determine. Anyway, the Mayflower was crowded, and that, too, by as distinguished an assemblage as ever gathered within old Pittsburg's precincts for any similar affair.

Everybody Aboard the Boat. Everybody was there. The city's promient residents were on board, with their wives and daughters; Pittsburg's guests took advantage of the oppertunity to further increase their stock of experiences of "New Britain" and its people, as they sometimes call these United States; and the man or woman who could have been there and wasn't, missed an excursion that was one among many as a successful and pleasurable one.

As the Mayflower made her way up stream the mills on either bank tooted their welcome to the visitors in shrill blasts. Passing the Linden Steel Works William J. Lewis waved a salute to the "vovagers," while the mill whistle sent a blast into the air that reverberated again and again along the valley and through the hills. Passing under the American Iron Works' bridge, Frederick Siemons and Windsor Richards, with a party of the gentlemen, were espied high above, and received as hearty a salute as they waved to their friends. Then the steam launch Gwendoline with George Westinghouse and a party of some half a dozen hove in sight and roa alongside the Mayflower for some time.

During all this time the party on board bestowed themselves to the best advantage for seeing what was to be seen on the trip. Great interest was evinced in the plants and mines as they were passed, and at 4:15 o'clock Braddock was reached, and the first stop made.

SHOWED THEM SOMETHING THE LIKE OF WHICH THEY HAD NE'ER

Details of the Visit to the Edgar Thomson Steel Works-Many Appliances That Caused Much Admiration-The Work and Extent of the Mills.

At Braddock it was at once seen that the approach of the visitors had been heralded. The Edgar Thomson Steel Works Band. stationed on a platform abutting on the river bank, played a welcoming air. Many of the workmen, with their womenfolkthe standpipes, creating a mighty glare in | and very good-looking womenfolk they were -lined the bank, and bestowed a welcome, though an undemonstrative one upon the guests. The firm had prepared for the disembarkation of the visitors, and an easy mode of ascent from the water's edge was afforded.

Inspection of the works commenced at Furnace I, the latest erected of the Braddock furnaces. Many peeps were obtained through the spyholes, especially by the ladies, who all expressed similar views of their appreciation of what they didn't see by ejaculating, "Oh, my!" "-at the bosh inside. Then the party filed through the immense plant, taking cognizance of the order and grandeur of scale that became evident at every stey. Many of the Visitors Nonplussed. The converting mill, with its bowls of boiling steel, its ladles and molds, was next air from the converters seemed to nonplus some of the visitors—especially the ladiesbut the pouring of the molten steel from the ladie into the molds was watched with in-

Superintendent Schwab took charge of Sir James Kitson; A. Thielen was the particular care of John G. A. Leishman, Vice Chairman of Carnegie Brothers & Co., and Sir Lowthian Bell was shown the rounds by H. C. Frick.

From the annealing mill a visit was made to the blooming mill, and thence to the rail mill. Here surprise centered. The visitors, as they afterward admitted, were unprepared to see such perfection of appliances as existed here. They gazed at the steam charger and drawer with wonder as it drew an ingot from the heating furnace in a second or two and dropped it on to a small car, which was at once hauled away by the small locomotive which had backed down

Many Objects of Admiration.

They regarded the newly-devised tripping table-invented by Mr. Schwab-'or receiving the ingots, while their predecessors were going through the mill, where 60-teet of rail was made in less than one minute, with much interest. Next a visit was made to the straightening department, where a device, also invented by Mr. Schwab, for moving the rails very rapidly into the position desired by the straightener, was also examined.

The weather, which up to this time had been a reflex of the summer variety, now changed round to the Pittsburg unaccountess, and rained water in thin showers. But by this time everything had been seen Thomson Band played a lively tune, and at 5:30 o'clock the return down stream was

GREAT IS THE GAS. UNANIMOUS VERDICT OF THOSE WHO CAME TO SEE IT WORK.

A Hurried Visit to the Homestead Mills-The Inner Man Not Neglected-Grand Exhibition of the Natural Fuel That Adds to Pittsburg's Greatness.

While on the way to Homestead, the next point to be visited. Mine Host John B. Schlosser and his myrmidons gave thought to the inward condition of the sightseers, and prepared a substantial supper. By way of telling what the menu consisted, it will be sufficient to say that John Schlosser had charge of affairs, and that, in consequence, had for discussion appetizing delicacies of every variety. During the day old rule of "place sux dames" prevailed, and the ladies were afforded an opportunity of "picking something." Homestead was reached at 6 o'clock.

With creditable forethought the management had provided excellent landing accommodations. The banks had been trimmed and a flight of wooden steps gave the visitors easy ascent from the timbered platform on which they landed to the level

To indicate at a glance the nature of the output of the works, a trophy composed of sections of beams and structural iron, sur-mounted by a Federal flag, had been raised.

Darkness Cuts Short a Visit. Owing to the increasing gloom, but hurried visit was paid to the mills. Th plate mill and the armor mill, with their Titanic trains of machinery, were duly inspected, and the open-hearth plant came in Chairman W. L. Abbott, of Carnegie, Phipps & Co., showed Sir James Kitson through the works, and Superintendent John Potter also paid his devoirs to the visitors. In the plate mill a trophy showing the entire product of the plant had been ple as possible."

shown. Surmounting it was an inscription na followss: 119 inch piate: "We Are the People." October, '89, 4,029 tons. January, '90, 4,140 tons. September, '90, 4,259 tons.

Showing the increasing capacity of the works. Three-quarters round steel was twisted into a "lover's knot," and the perforation of some plates was also perfectly accomplished without sign of strain.

The majority of the ladies had decided to remain on board during their visit, and they had chosen wisely, in view of the rain that still fell at intervals. Immediately on return on heard a rush was made for turn on board a rush was made for supper. The accommodations were rather limited, but eventually everyone was satisfied, as much by the quantity and quality of the food as by the flow of the liquid requirements.

When about the last man had come aboard, Andrew Carnegie, with sev-eral friends, advanced into the saloon, and was greeted by an outburst of of applause.

Dinner in Democratic Fashion. Mr. Schlosser soon found room for them at a table, and he, James Burden, of Troy; Superintendent John Porter and two others sat down in an essentially democratic sat down in an essentially democratic fashion to what was set before them. Shortly after Mr. W. L. Abbott and Sir James Kitson came on deck. The learned baronet was obliged to take things as he found them, and content himself with a plate and glass of wine on the taffrail, which, being an old traveler and a gentleman, he did very cheerfully. In this he was assisted by John H. Ricketson. Ricketson.
At Hays station a capital illustration of the value, power and effectiveness of nat-ural gas was given by the Philadelphia Gas Company. Four standpipes had been erected, and in addition a single pipe for display purposes. The pipe leading across the river, and under it, at this point had the river, and under it, at this point had also been arranged for a display.

The exhibition, which lasted half an hour, consisted of display from the single pipe, the gas from it being colored by Messrs. James O. Handy and George N. Kirby, chemists connected with Captain A. E. Hunt's laboratory; a display from the pipe under the river, which sent the gas hubbling up in waves with a most were. bubbling up in waves with a most weird effect, and displays from the four stand-

Something That Couldn't be Equaled. "This is what we came to see," said one old gentleman.

"Isn't it superb?" exclaimed a lady. "I wouldn't have missed it for worlds, exclaimed another. exclaimed another.

The visitors expressed the greatest admira-tion for the wonderful fluid, and the display was the theme of conversation from there into the harbor. On arrival at the wharf the Great West-ern Band played the "Wacht am Rhein," the German contingent singing the well known battle song of the Vaterland. Following it came "God Save the Queen" in bonor of the Englishmen and "Hail Co-lumbin" and "Yankee Doodle" brought a pleasant, profitable and entertaining ex-

SIGHT-SEEING AND MUSIC.

Two Long Excursions on the Bill for To.Day -Complimentary Concert in Carnegie Hall To-Night-A Supurb Collection of Vocal Talent on the Programmo.

To-day will be entirely devoted to sightseeing, and in addition to the short excursions around and out of the city, the visitors will have their choice of two long trips. One will be via the Pennsylvania Railroad to Greensburg, and thence on the Southwest Branch through the Connells ville coke region. The train will leave Union station at 8:40, and Superintendent

Robert Pitcairn will be with the party. Another train will leave the West Penn cheny at th reture via the Allegheny Valley. The first stop will be made at the Isabella furnaces at Etna and from there the party will go to Parentum and inspect the plate glast p The train will then run around the valley loop and coming back will stop at the Ke stone Bridge Work: Crescent Steel Work Lucy Furnaces, Carbo : Iron Company's Pittsburg Reduction Company aluminum plant, and return to the Union station. Lunch will be served on both trains. A complimentary concert will be given for the benefit of the visitors in Carnegie Music Hall this evening and it will be without doubt a collection of the cream of local talent. The persons whose names are on the programme will try to acquit them-selves, and it goes without saying that the visitors will go away with the knowledge that Pittsburg has other things besides iron nills. The following is the programme of the concert: PART I. Chorus-Daybreak (Poeta by Longfel-Organ - a. Romance Salom.

b. Offertoire Batiste
Mr. J. H. Gittings.

PART II. Chorus—from Cinderella...... Mozart Club. Song-Die Bekehrte..... Miss May Beesley

Chores-Bridal Chorus, Mozart Club.

Organ-National Airs. Mr. J. H. Gittings. Visitors intending to take special trains, or trains outside the itenerary, are requested to have their baggage ready for expressage by 12 o'clock noon Sunday. Those going on the itenerary should have their baggage ready for the American Express Company by 1 o'clock on Monday for the 2:30 P. M. train for Chicago on the same day. HOWARD FIELDING, the popular hu-morist, will tell the story of a town that is living on the expectations of a railroad in to-morrow's 20-Page issue of THE DIS-

BROOKLYN'S NEW CENSUS

The Municipal Authorities Decide to Take One of Their Own.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, October 10 .- The police uthorities of Brooklyn will begin a census in that city just as soon as the necessary blanks have been obtained. The count will be made by election districts, of which there are 648. About 250 of the most suitable men on the force will be assigned to the work. Commissioner Hayden said to-day: "Mayor Chapin is responsible for the taking of the new census. I had never thought of following the example of New York until the Mayor summoned me to his office on Thurs day and asked me if I thought the police could take a census of Brooklyn. I said yes, and he told me to get it as soon as pos-sible. I think the work can be done in

WOLFE'S BOLD STAND.

He Makes Two Speeches on the Same Platform With Pattison.

KHONE CONFIDENT OF VICTORY.

The Popular Campaigning Party Has New Traveled 2,000 Miles.

RUTAN READY TO PROVE HIS CHARGES.

rts That He Has Important Letters Written by

REPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR. WILLIAMSPORT, October 10 .- Ex-Governor Pattison and party left Tyrone, where the night was spent in a Pullman sleeper, early this morning, and by way of Bellefonte, reached the Democratic stronghold of Center county, Center Hall, where the first meeting of the day was held. Center Hall is the home of Leonard Rhone, the Master of the Pennsylvania State Grange, and is situated in one of the seven townships which always give a Democratic majority of 1,200. Candidates Pattison and Black gave the grangers a wholesome talk, and they evinced great interest, particularly in the discussion of the tax question. The speakers were in-troduced by Mr. Rhone, RHONE CONFIDENT OF VICTORY. At the conclusion of the meeting Mr. Rhone said that the outlook for the election of Pattison is of the most encouraging kind, and that the great mass of the grangers will give him their heartiest support. Pattison, he says, will get the vote of 30,000 Republicans outside the counties of Philadelphia and Allegheny. "He will receive 300 majority in Huntingdon," said Mr. Rhone, "150 in Blair, 300 in Bedlord, 500 in Mifflin, 300 in Union and 200 in Snyder, and the other interior counties will contribute their share."

At the towns of Rising Springs, Coburn and Mifflinsburg crowds of people welcomed the tourists and at Lewisburg, where Union county's annual fair is being held the crowd was as large as that which attends the Grangers' pionics at Williams' Grove. The visitors were escorted to the fair grounds where a scene not down on the programme was enacted to the apparent delight of the

WOLFE HELPING PATTISON.

A wiry built man of ordinary stature, wearing gold rimmed glasses and a black mustache, took particular pains to make the ex-Governor acquainted with the prominent people on the grand stand. Everybody recognized him as Charles S. Wolfe, the In-dependent Republican of eight years ago. Mr. Wolfe took a seat near ex-Governor Pattison, and when the latter had made a calm, impassioned and logical address for the purification of our political system, and Chauncey F. Black had spoken, cries of "Wolfe, Wolfe, Wolfe," came from all

Mr. Wolfe responded to the call and as he began to speak a big cheer went up. He struck out from the start, expressing his mind in the freest sort of manner. He congratulated the Democratic party on having secured as its candidate for Governor, one who was made such in response to the popu-

"I congratulate the Republican party," said be, "to the extent that there are those within it, who appreciate the value of nonlar government, who if they cannot have a candidate of their own, can have one offered candidate of their own, can have one observed them by the opposite party who is well worthy of their suffrage. The man who spoke to you this afternoon so entertainingly on agricultural matters, and who modestly abstained from any reference to politics has

FAITHFUL TO EVERY TRUST that has been placed in his hands. As Controller of the city of Philadelphia he cleared out the nest of seoundrels who had been fattening upon the substance of the axpayers of that city. The people of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania then sald 'Well one, thou good and faithful servant, come up higher. Because of his fidelity and re spect for the popular will and moral courage that defied the army of cor-ruptionists he has again been honored y being made the standard-bearer of his Eight years ago some of you entertained hard feelings against me for the part you conceived I had in bringing about the election of Mr. Pattison at that time. Much as I regretted not having your approval I have not the slightest regret now as to my course at that time. It has been clearly jus-tified by the result." Raising his voice to its highest pitch and giving emphasis to his remarks by striking gesticulations, the speaker went on: "Would to God, and I say it reverently, I had it in my sole power to say whether Mr. Pattison Mr. Delamater should be Governor o this State. My choice would be emphatically and unequivocally, Robert E, Patti-son, the honest, faithful official and courageous champion of the people." RECEIVED WITH ENTHUSIASM. Mr. Wolfe was loudly cheered at the conclusion of his speech, and encouraged perhaps by the expression of sentiment in favor of honest men and measures, he accompanied the Pattison party to Milton, where he again spoke. From Milton the Democratic candidates and their companons came to Williamsport, and were driven to the Hotel Crawford. After supper they were escorted to the Court House amid cenes of the most enthusiastic kind. The big court room where the meeting ras held could not accommodate the crowd that sought admittance. Clarence Sprout was President of the meeting. To-morrow meetings will be held at-Sunbury and Selins Grove, and the present trip will wind up at Philadelphia to-morrow night. Al-most 2,000 miles have been traversed thus

RECRUITS TO THE RANKS.

ore Coke Region Republicans Who Have

Declared for Pattison. PETECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 SCOTTDALE, PA., October 10 .- The disaffection in the Republican ranks in the coke regions is steadily increasing. Of all previous names mentioned of Republicans who would support Pattison, that given out to-day has created the greatest surprise. George Richards, boss carpenter in the rolling mills here, has come out boldly for Pattison. He wields great influence in this place, which will be made fully manifest at the November polls. He has been a lifelong Republican, and will continue in that line, out he says he cannot digost Delamater. Jack Pitcairn, of Pittsburg, dropped off the Yough express this morning long enough to tell the boys that he was for Pattison in preference to Delamater. Dan Sailor, a workman in the rolling mill here, There are 30 Republicans other than these who will cut Delamater in this district alone, but, on account of business, desire their names withheld. Grant Again in the Field. NEW YORK, October 10 .- Tammany Hall inations for Congress. Utah-John T. Caine (Mormon) re-nom

Seventh Ohio-James M. Ash (Rep).

o-night renominated Hugh J. Grant for

RUTAN AGAIN LOOSE. AN ANSWER TO THE ATTACK MADE ON

HIM AT BRADFORD. He Asserts That He Has Letters From Delamater Which Prove All His Charges-The Missive Used by Emery Was Strictly

When Senstor Rutan read what Delalater said about him at Bradford he decided to strike back. The following telegram was received in Pittsburg yesterday: WASHINGTON, October 10.—Secator Delamater is reported as stating at Bradford last night that I am not responsible for the statements contained in my letter to Colonel Dick. His statement is false, as he well knows. I am responsible in every way for every word contained in that letter. Every line and word written is true, and I challenge him to put me to the proofs.

Last version the following more lengthy.

Last evening the following more lengthy lessage came over the wires: WASHINGTON, October 10.

To the Editor of the Dispatch.

I am prepared to prove all that I stated in my afternoon dispatch. My letter to Dick, although confidential, bears evidence of honesty and good sense and therefore requires no explanation. I served with Delamater's father in the Senate for three years. As everyone knew, he paid $30,000 for his seat in order to defeat Hou. George K. Anderson. I was Speaker of the Senate during his term, and as every member of the Senate knows, I always cast the mantle of charity over his weakness. His son has the effrontery now to ask charity for me, well knowing how easily and completely I can pierce his armor. I have his own letters to prove that he is a demagogue, a faisifier and the holder of stolen goods, I sincerely hope he will prosecute for libel in order to enable me to justify myself. His organized body of liars and thieves cannot in the end shield him from the punishment he so recklessly invites. My 30 years' service for his maker will not prevent me from telling the whole truth, now that he has forced the way.

J. S. RUTAN. To the Editor of the Dispatch.

MARY WALKER FOR CONGRESS.

Her Nomination, However, is Officially De clared to be Irregular.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. ALBANY, October 10 .- This unique epistle was received at the Secretary of State's office this morning:

At a regular meeting in Weedsport, N. Y. called in the parlors of the Willard House, Dr. Mary E. Walker, of Oswego, N. Y., was nominated as an independent candidate for member of the United States Congress for the Twenty-MRS. W. STRUGE, President, MISS B. BARNES, Secretary.

Unfortunately for Dr. Mary and her adherents, this certificate of nomination was deemed irregular if not irrelevant by the Secretary of State, insomuch as it failed to specify whether Dr. Walker's party was a regular organization which at some previous election cast a 1 per cent vote of its district or a new aspirant for political recognition consisting of 250 electors. And, moreover, it was irregular because neither president nor secretary sent their postoffice address. No tickets will be printed by the State this year for Dr. Mary Walker.

ENTHUSIASM FOR DELAMATER. The Tour of the Republican Ticket See

be Very Successful. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., October 10.-The rip of the Delamater party through this region has been very successful. At Ridge-way and Emporium they were enthusiastically received, while at this place the miners and business men turned out by the hundreds to welcome the Republican can-didate for Governor. The weather was very uniquiting and spoiled the parade, though the hall was crowded when the speeches were delivered.

THE TOLD WATER CAMPAIGN

Opened at the State Capital Under Rather

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 HARRISBURG, October 10,-The Prohibitionists opened their campaign in this city to-night under discouraging circumstances. The attractions were John D. Gill and Colonel Hyatt their candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor respectively, and C. H. Nicholas, of Illinois, and yet less than 100 people attended the meeting.

The old parties were scored without mercy for alleged pandering to the liquor traffic. HOWARD FIELDING, the popular norist, will tell the story of a town that is living on the expectations of a railroad in to-morrow's 20-Page issue of THE DIS-

ROBBERY AND MURDER. IGHWAYMEN ATTACK A WASHINGTON

COUNTY TOLLKEEPER. The Plucky Woman, Who is the Widow of a Veteran, Fights for Her Life-Many Shots Fired-A Posse Now Scouring the Country.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, PA., October 10.-Mrs. Saunders, a widow of a veteran of the late war, keeps the second toll gate on the plank road, five miles from town. She lives alone with one young son in a little frame cottage by the roadside. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock it was dark, and the heavy rain of an hour before had made travelers scarce at that hour. Mrs. Saunders heard a knock at the door and when she opened she saw the figures of two men, one tall, with a black beard, and the other short and stout and with a smooth, round face.

They wore masks. The tall man flashed the muzzle of a revolver into the woman's face and demanded her money. clared that she had no money and offered to show the men through the house. They accepted her invitation and entered the house. Caimly walking to the bureau she threw open the drawer and quietly tossed up the contents with her fingers in an apparently careless manner. The men looked on fiercely and cursed her. Suddenly she turned toward the big man, and before he could recover from his astonishment, fired a shot at him. She had gotten her hand on a revolver in the drawer and knew how to use it. With an oath the big man struck with his fist at the delicate woman and his companion drew a revolver and opened fire. After a dozen shots were exchanged, of which the plucky woman fired three, the men retreated through the door and left their victim prostrated in her own blood. The shots attracted the attention her son who was in an adjoining field. He found his mother bruised about the face and unconscious. He summoned the neighbors and they procured physicians.

It was then ascertained that Mrs. Saunders had been shot through the abdomen and that the wound was probably fatal. She rallied, however, and was able to give in a whisper a description of the highwaymen and story of her encounter. It was several hours later when the news of the probable murder was brought to town. Judge Stowe was just giving a charge to the jury in the case of the negro West, on charge for the brutal slaughter the Crouch family of three helpless invalids, when Sheriff Lockhout was informed of the deed. A posse was hastily summone and the country is being scoured by horse

RALEIGH, October 10,-Steve Jacobs, notorious negro criminal and desperado, was executed to-day at Lumberton, Robeson county, for the murder of three women

DELEGATE CAINE, of Utah, has beinterviewed by Frank G. Carpenter for THE DISPATCH, and his views on Mormonism will be published to-morrow. A JOKE ON BALFOUR.

All of Ireland Now Indulging in a Hearty Laugh Because of the ESCAPE OF THE PATRIOTS.

Dillon and O'Brien Jump Their Bail and Are Now on the Ocean

BOUND FOR THE UNITED STATES.

Number of Other Home Rule Leaders Will Soon Follow Them.

THE TORY COURT OBLIGED TO ADJOURN

[BY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.] TIPPERARY, October 10 .- The non-apearance of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien at the hearing held this morning was treated as a huge joke by the people of this place. At the noon adjournment the spectators trooped forth from the courtroom laughing and joking.

The proceedings during the morning session were very exciting and interesting. When the court assembled all the defendants were found to be present excepting Dillon and O'Brien. When their names were called there was no response. The Bench asked whether any one appeared for of a tremendous cannonade was heard, followed by a column of white smoke in the them, and Mr. Ronan asked if the Court intended to wait for the gentlemen to put in their appearance, or if there was any applieation in reference to them. The magistrates replied that they had received none. JOHN BEDMOND'S PLACID SMILE.

A solemn silence reigned in the room for some minutes. The defendants who were present, and Mr. Healy, their counsel, looked straight before them without a change of countenance, when all others were in a feverish excitement. John Redmond sat with folded arms and smiled placidly as he looked around.

In a few words Mr. Ropan asked that the sureties be called upon to make good the bond, and Mr. Healy, after asking to examine the warrant whereon the arrests were originally made, entered an objection. This cursory examination and the excitement of the spectators served to consume the morning hours rapidly and the noon recess was tified the rest were reduced to ashes. Fifty greeted in the hilarious manner already re-

When court reassembled the clerk called by the imprudence of a workman who on the sureties, Cahill and R. Burke, to pro- pounded some liquid melanite into an imduce the bodies of Dillon and O'Brien, or forfeit their recognizances. Upon this Mr. Healy argued that the sureties had already fulfilled the obligations of their bond, which was simply to see that the two defendants were present to answer certain charges.

A FINE TECHNICAL POINT. They had been present at the examination when these charges were made they were duly preferred and new charges were made by the Government, upon which no bail had been demanded, and the defendants had the newly married couple during their sureties be released. Mr. Ronan, replying to this, said that he admired the ingenuity of Mr. Healy, but he brought up an argument that would of necessity have to be referred to the Superior Court. After an extended legal argument the magistrates held that the charge upon which the sureties were now responsible was the same charge as that upon which the arrests were made and therefore the Bench felt bound to com ply with the application of the

Mr. Ronan then asked the Court to adjourn until to-morrow, complaining that there had been no motive given that morning for the absence of Messrs, Dillon and

THE SPECTATORS PLEASED. At this stage the prosecutor was interrupted by loud laughter, which caused him to pause for a few moments. When it subsided he continued, saying that an undertaking had been issued on the previous day of the hearing for all the defendants to be present to-day. Mr. Healy, replying, maintained that the other defendants had nothing to do with the change of venue which the two defendants had selected, and the adjournment should be longer than that proposed by the Crown. Mr. Hart, for the Crown, did not think the experience of this week's adjournment had been such as to encourage the Crown in favoring a longer adjournment. It was out of his power to say what | visions of the tariff, and failing to attain might happen if there was an adjournment ven until Monday. This remark uttered in involuntarily sad tones, was the signal for another out- chants. burst of laughter. The Bench expressed itself as sensitive to the embarrassment felt by the Crown counsel, but also felt that the adjournment asked was not unreasonable and was granted. The Court thereupon adourned. Shortly after it reassembled for he purpose of issuing Bench warrants for the arrest of both Dillon and O'Brien,

OTHER LEADERS COMING. Messrs, T. D. Sullivan, T. Harrington and T. P. O'Connor will sail for America on the 19th. T. P. Gill left on the 5th. The sudden departure of Messrs. Dillon and

O'Brien, although it causes some sensation among the general public, was expected by the Nationalists and was, in fact, foreshadowed by a cablegram from this office on September 24. The starting of the American famine relief fund has caused them to somewhat hasten matters, as it is not expected that the receipts this year from the tenant defense fund will be half as large as those of a year ago, owing to reduced subscriptions, through the though the Star says that the fugitives have really sailed from Londonderry, Glasgow,

THEY ESCAPED IN DISGUISE. Until definite information is obtained by he Castle authorities no steps can be taken or Havre, probably the latter.

toward the execution of warrants or any other action. It is now thought that Dillon and O'Brien, if they have really gone, have escaped in disguise. The authorities are greatly annoyed, although, unless the dis- and the senior suffragan bishop of each guise theory be true, they have only themselves to blame in the matter. A week ago it was publicly stated in court that the two suffragan should be unable to undertake the centlemen were to sail on the 9th.

STILL THE LIST GROWS.

Murderers' Row in the County Jail is full of thing startling was pending, and also that a

Dublin journalist had sailed to America to report specially the doings of the two mem-pers of Parliament. The police jealously vatched all these movements, which fact is

They will be rearrested on their treland or to Parliament, and the daring their trial.

A CARELESS WORKMAN

are Sacrificed.

FBY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.]

PARIS, October 10 .- A terrible explosion took place to-day at Bourges. A sound as direction of the pyrotechnic school. At first it was thought that some scientific experiment was in progress, but the evil tidings soon spread and crowds hurried to the spot. Military measures were at once taken to maintain order, the church bells were set a-ringing and none were allowed inside the precincts of the school but the relations and friends of those inside. The scene was agonizing, as stretcher after stretcher passed by the distracted by standers

The people tried to lift up the sheets that covered the bodies, only to be met by the sight of shapeless remenants of flesh or severed arms and legs, General Keruhe, the commander of the Eighth army corps his presence had a good effect. Inquiry showed ten dead, five of whom were inden-human feet were found 100 metres (108 yards) away. The explosion was caused perfectly prepared shell which exploded

TREATED AS A KING.

Triumphal Tour of Henry M. Stanley

Through Continental Europe.

IBY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.

the learned societies could shower on notables of the city vied with each other in calling on him and doing him honor at his hotel as soon as it was known he had ar-

At Ostend, where he went on the invitation of the King, he was received with special honors by the municipality and at once proceeded to the royal chalet, where he had an interview with King Leopold, their talk lasting over two hours and in the evening

Mr. Stanley dined at the royal table. The date for his departure to America has not

A COUNCIL CALLED

To Enter a Remonstrance Against the New

IBY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.

BERLIN, October 10 .- In compliance with the representations of many German merchants who are affected by the new tariff, the Government has resolved to consult with the Cabinets of London and Paris respecting combined diplomatic remon-

It is hoped that these steps will induce

America to abandon the more rigorous pro-

the desired end by these means, the German Government will propose international measures to protect the interests of the mer-

HIS DAUGHTER'S DANGER

May Shorten the American Trip of the

the Count of Paris.

PARIS, October 10 .- The Comtesse de

Paris is said to be so alarmed at the condition of political affairs in Portugal, and the danger to which her daughter, Queen

Amelie, is exposed, that she has sent an urgent telegram to her husband in America.

which will very likely considerably shorten

FBT DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.

strance at Washington against the commeryet been definitely announced.

cial policy of America.

his visit.

rived.

LONDON, October 10 .- As the time draws and caused others to do likewise.

bearing the dead.

n favor of the disguise theory.

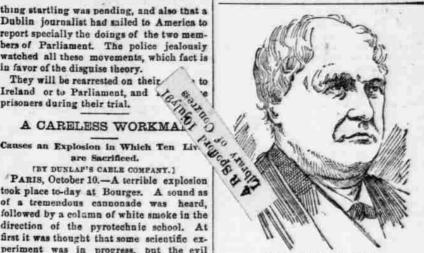

risoners, but the hangman has nothing to do,

Work in the Capitol.

The Unprecedented Rapidity of His Progress in Legal

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) WASHINGTON, October 10 .- The entire

Capital City was shocked this evening by the intelligence that Justice Samuel F. Miller, of the Supreme Court, had been stricken with paralysis, and that it was more than feared the shock would result Justice Miller, who was apparently in the best of health, was returning from the Supreme Court room to his residence. About 2:35 o'clock he was on the west side of library Circle, within sight of his residence, 1415 Massachusetts avenue.

John Woodford, his servant, who was ferlug man in it and had him borne to his Dr. Cook, who resides in the neighborhood, and Dr. Lincoln, who fortunately was passing at the time, were soon in attendance

he was still able to recognize Well known as Justice Miller is all over Kentucky, April 5, 1816, and consequ

For eight years he was a country practithe great explorer. As a consequence he tioner, and then he made up his mind to brings home a sheaf of addresses from them. become a lawyer. He had a wife and two in Brussels last week he was the hero of the children when he decided to change his hour, and the Ministers of State and other original occupation. There are not many men who could safely change from one pro-fession to another after having passed the first period of manhood. He was more successful in law than in medicine. In the latter profession with his sensitive sympa-thetic nature, he suffered more than his patients did, and the wear upon his mind was more than he could bear. Several years after being admitted to the bar, Miller removed to Keokuk, In. Here he took an active part in politics. an enthusiastic admirer of Henry Clay, and considers him and Alexander Hamilton the two greatest statesmen America has produced. In 1862 was nominated by President Lincoln to be Justice of the Supreme Court His nomination went over to the Senate at 9 o'clock in the evening before the final adjournment, and he was instantly member of the Senate. PHENOMENAL PROGRESS. Court, and this was the first authoritative exposition of the amendments. Scarcely any public man at the capital has been obliged to devote so much time to the demands of society. No dinner of the White House, foreign Ministers or Cabinet officers was considered complete without the popular Justice, and he was counted as one of the after-dinner speakers. The result his present attack will be awaited with the

TO-MORROW'S Big 20-Page DISPATCH will hold 160 Columns. It is the largest and best newspaper in Pennsylvania.

It is added that the Comtesse has sent an argent message to the Queen pleading with her to leave Portugal until the present agitation has subsided. ALL FOR RECIPROCITY. Spain Anxious to Effect an Arran

[BY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.] MADRID, October 10 .- The Governme is greatly concerned at the probable effects partial failure of the potate crop. Al- of the McKinley tariff bill on trade with Cuba. It was decided to suspend all operaone to New York by way of Queenstown it | tion of the new tariff bill which was to come s understood that the statement is made to into force in the island on the lat of Janu mislead the officials, and that they have ary. It is feared that America may retaliate for the excessive custom duties by prohibition measures, and should America prohibit the importation of sugar, the trade of Cubs would be ruined. The Cabinet is in favor of a mutual arrangement.

With the United States.

Irish Bishops Summoned to Rome (BY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.)

ROME, October 10 .- His Holiness the Pope, has summoned the four Archbishops province of Ireland to attend him at Rome on the 1st of November. If the senior journey another bishop is directed to take preover it was common talk that some his place.

A PARALYTIC STROKE

Fells Justice Miller, of the Supreme Court, to the Ground.

THREE CENTS.

THE LEARNED JURIST ATTACKED

While Walking Home From His Regular

CONSCIOUS BUT IN A SERIOUS STATE.

Justice Samuel F. Miller.

standing in the doorway of the house, saw the Justice approaching. FELL ON THE CAR TRACK. Then he was startted at seeing him sudlenly raise his hand to his heart, then reel and full on the car tracks, which he was crossing at the time. Wood ord hastened crossing at the time. Woodford hastened to the spot and found the Justice speechless implored the excited crowd to be calm and and apparently in a stupor. He at once se-cured a coupe from the neighboring back stand and, with assistance, placed the sufat the bedside. They found that the whole left side of the Justice was paralyzed, but the country, but comparatively few people are aware that he was 30 years old before he began the study of law. He was born in he was eligible for retirement upon full pay some years ago. The first 12 years of his near for the departure of Henry M. Stanley life was spent on a farm, and there he underwent all the hardships and toil incident to a life of this kind. At an early age he was for his American lecturing tour the interest by the Government, upon which no bail the newly married couple during their taxels on the couple during their or two, and here by mere accident he got a chance to study medicine. After graduating nizances. In view of this and the circum-stances connected with it he asked that the and was marked by all the honors the practice of his profession.

FROM MEDICINE TO LAW.

confirmed unanimously, without reference to a committee. This compliment is rarely paid to anyone who has not formerly been a

So that it was within a dozen of years after being admitted to the bar, this newly fledged lawyer had reached one of the high est places in his profession. During his 24 years upon the bench he has probably written more opinions on constitutional questions than any of his associates, and throughout the country he stands among the very high-est of constitutional lawyers. The first case to come before the Supreme Court, involving the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution, was given Justice Miller to prepare the opinion of the most intense solicitude.

ALL THE WRINGERS GOING.

Many Machine Works Will Sell to an English-American Syndicate. WOONSOCKET, October 10 .- Next Thursday the stockholders of the Bailey Wringing Machine Company, of this city, will vote on the proposition agreed to by the directors for the sale of the works to an English and American syndicate.

The Empire Wringing Machine Works, at Asburn, N. Y.; F. F. Adams Works, of Cleveland, and the Metropolitan Works, of New York, have already agreed to sell, and these, with the Bailey Company, make 93 per cent of the wringing machines sold in the country.

EMPRESS EUGENIE and her English home will be described in to-morrow's DIS-PATCH. The article is from the facile pen

Death of an Old Soldier. MT. PLEASANT, IA., October 10 .- Captain Peter Foster, the oldest member of the Grand Army of the Republic in the United States, died here last night, 96 years of age. He lought in the war of 1812, the Mexican War and the Civil War. WANTS of all kinds are quickly answered through THE DISPATCH. Investors, artisans, bargain hunters, buyers and sellers closely scan its Classified Advertising