PARNELL THE FATHER OF THE SORE.

NEW YORK, October 12.—Thomas Patrick Gill, a young Irish journalist who represents the Southern division of the County South in the British Parliament, arrived here to-day on the steamship Alaska. He is the vanguard of the Irish Nationalists, who originally intended to come here in a body to tell the people all about the struggle of the Parliamentary party against the oppression of British landlordism.

Mr. Gill is one of the best workers and talkers of the party. He was once an editor of United Ireland. He has spent several years in this country, part of the time as editor of the Catholic World. While here he was elected to Parliament, and went back to assume the duties of his office. He is a graduate of Trinity College, and is 33 years old. In regard to the coming of O'Brien and Dillon, Mr. Gill said:

O'Brien and Dillon's Movements.

"I have not heard yet whether they succeeded in catching the French steamer at Havre on Saturday. I think it is rather improbable. They left Dublin, I understand, on the yacht belonging to Mr. William Murphy. It was the plan of the Irish party to send a number of its representative men together over here to talk for the 'sinews of war.' The arrest of Dillon and O'Brien frustrated this object, so they will have to come in installments. O'Brien and Dillon will be followed by Tim Harrington and T. D. Sullivan.

The object of O'Brien and Dillon is not to appeal for charity, but to state a case to the American people. A grant conspiracy is on foot to destroy the National party in Ireland in the interest of the Tory Government and the landlords. We come to tell about that and to appeal to the Americans for assistance. We appeal to no faction or clique, and we represent no faction or clique. Every class in this great country will be solicited to aid us.

Thousands of Irishmen Imprisoned.

For four years the Tory power has been trying to crush out the National sentiment in Ireland. During this period 5,000 Irish people and a third of their Parliament representatives have been put into jail. The prosecution is still going on and the power behind it is stronger than ever.

"It is not proper to speak of Dillon and O'Brien as if they were fugitives from justice. They fled merely to fulfil their engagements in America, and when they get through here they will return to Ireland and cheerfully submit to trial and the imprisonment which will necessarily follow. The programme at first was to have them submit to trial and then appeal the case. Pending the decision of the appeal they were to come here. On last Friday a week ago we heard through one of our Government sources that they were open to us that Dillon's object was to prolong the trial until Christmas, so that Dillon and O'Brien could not come to America.

Parnell the Leader.

"We also learned that the Crown intended to proceed against Dillon and O'Brien under the act of Edward III., which precludes the right of appeal. Then the leaders of the party determined to checkmate Dillon and O'Brien. It was arranged to bring Dillon and O'Brien to America.

It had been instigated in newspapers that Parnell had not taken an active interest in the prospect of sending the leaders of the party here. This is false. Parnell is the inspiration of the whole movement. It was he who summoned the convention that decided to send them, and every act of that convention was performed only after consultation with Parnell. He is the guiding spirit of the idea. The enthusiasm for and loyalty to Parnell among the rank and file of the party has never been greater than it is now. Parnell was not at the convention because he was in delicate health. He delegated Justin McCarthy to act for him.

Reports of Famine True.

"The Irish party and the Irish people would be more disappointed if Parnell had risked his health to attend the convention than they are now. When the Irish take an active part in it. When the English Government and a Napoleon, they are not going to risk him to the inclemencies of the weather."

Mr. Gill said the extent of the famine in the West, Southwest and Northwest of Ireland had not been exaggerated in the reports from the other side. He wanted it distinctly understood that the Irish orators do not come here to plead for charity for the sufferers from the famine. They are in it. It is the duty of the English Government to take care of the sufferers because it had assumed the right to take the administration of Irish affairs out of the hands of the Irish people. In '79, when America sent millions to Ireland, the bulk of the money went into the landlords' pockets.

RESIGNATIONS DEMANDED.

GOVERNOR CAMPBELL'S MOVE AGAINST THE CINCINNATI BOARD.

His Excellency and Montgomery Step Out No Extra Session Will be Held—Brief Enclosures of the Accused Say.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. COLUMBUS, October 12.—Several members of the Legislature arrived to-night for the extra session Tuesday to consider the alleged corruption in the boards at Cincinnati. A number of prominent Democrats have been in conference with Governor Campbell during the day. An effort is being made to have Reemelin and Montgomery, of the Board of Improvements at Cincinnati, resign. In this event, Campbell substantially states in an interview prepared by himself and printed to-day, that should the resignations of these two members reach him to-morrow noon he will revoke his call for the Legislative session.

Some very pointed telegraphic correspondence has passed between Campbell and Senator Brice at Lima to-day. On a matter so important to the party, Brice thinks that Campbell might have consulted him as chairman of the National Committee and Senator-elect about his course, but he did not do so. The result of the work to-day is that Brice is to be at Cincinnati to-morrow morning. A conference has been called here at the Democratic county and city officials and heads of departments elected by the people. Brice will suggest that they join in a petition to Reemelin and Montgomery to resign at once and that will be presented in such a manner, it is believed, that they will do so, and the resignations will be in the hands of the Governor by noon.

Friends of Reemelin and Montgomery say the two can resign, ostensibly for the good of the party, without reflecting on themselves. They are in the hands of the Board and may resign at any time. The two men are appointed to the vacancies by Campbell. In taking this course it is proposed to put Mr. Brice in a position to select his own court or jury; that all service be waived and they take their differences directly to the Governor. The friends of Reemelin believe the Governor cannot fail to accept such a proposition, and should Reemelin come out of the investigation in good form, they agree, he will be removed in the ranks of the Democracy of Ohio.

Peter Schwab, the personal friend and adviser of Governor Campbell, is here to-night, and says those now in the management at Cincinnati must get out. Lewis G. Bernard, who is making strenuous efforts in behalf of the retention of the Board, states that the resignation of the Board will not be abolished by the Legislature.

A MYSTERIOUS SCHEME

TO REDUCE THE PATISSON VOTE IN PHILADELPHIA.

The Plans Hatched at a Recent Conference—The Modus Operandi a Secret—Judicial Interference Sought—The Ex-Governor never has been informed.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, October 12.—Information has reached here from Pittsburgh that at the Quay-Cameron-Cooper-Andrews conference held on last Thursday, a scheme was hatched, the purpose of which is to cut down the Pattison vote of this city on November 4. It was intended to have the matter kept secret on account of the severe penalties prescribed by law for interfering with votes or voters, but it has leaked out and a letter has been sent to Judge Gordon, of Court of Common Pleas No. 3, in order that the Judges of the court may act upon the matter. The method of operation is not known, except to those who are on the inside.

What aroused seriously is the statement that the proposed scheme can be carried out without actual violation of the law. What it may be, or how it may be carried out, has not been divulged to the public, but it may be looked for in a few days, the intention of Judge Gordon being to submit it to ex-Governor Pattison. Judge Gordon, when asked by a reporter this evening to make known the contents of the letter which had been received by him, expressed his surprise at it being known that he had received such a letter. Judge Gordon said: "It is true that I have received a letter containing reference to the matter you speak of. Beyond that, at this time, I cannot say anything upon the subject. It may not, upon investigation, turn out to be as grave a matter as it first appears. The charges contained in the letter will be made known to Governor Pattison and his friends, and will, through the proper channels, no doubt, be made public should there be found anything in them."

KANSAS TEMPERANCE PEOPLE RISE TO WARN THE GOVERNOR.

It Was Said He Tried to Turn Over Leavenworth Offices to Re-Submissionists—Prohibitionists Wire Him to Drop His Scheme.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. LEAVENWORTH, October 12.—The visit of Secretary of State Higgins to this city a couple of days ago was the signal to those who were watching the progress of political events that a "hen was on." "What was it?" As prohibition is the leading factor in the campaign in this State it was plain that it referred in some way to the dropping of the prohibitionists here; it was to bring a message of greeting from the great Temperance Governor nominated on a ringing prohibition platform and exalted on the stump and in the press as the champion of temperance?

A JURIST KILLED.

Judge DeWitt, of Ohio, Run Over by a Lake Shore Engine.

SANDUSKY, October 12.—On Saturday afternoon Hon. J. L. DeWitt, resident Judge of Common Pleas, this district, was struck by a Lake Shore engine on the Shore Railroad and instantly killed. He had been shooting snipe in the marsh east of this city, and started home on the railroad track. He stepped from one track to the other to avoid the east-bound freight, and did not see the west-bound locomotive. The engine ran about 700 feet, the wheels keeping the track. The first man to arrive was the engineer, who was carrying a lantern to flag the vestible train No. 8, which was due in a few minutes. The passenger car was struck at the east-bound freight, and the driver was killed. The body of the engine on the forehead and killed instantly.

Ex-Senator Emery Admits that the Identity of X and Z HAS BEEN CORRECTLY DETERMINED.

Chairman Andrews' Political Fences Demanded His Attention.

A NEW MOVE IN THE 21ST DISTRICT.

Expense of a Secret Plot to Lower the Vote for the Ex-Governor.

In view of the great interest aroused by the publication in yesterday's DISPATCH of the names of the three witnesses whom Senator Emery cloaked behind the mystical characters of X, Y and Z in his charges against Delamater, a telegram was sent to Senator Emery, which elicited the following reply:

BRADFOOT, October 12. To the Editor of the Dispatch: Replying to your inquiry, will say that when the testimony was furnished me, directly concerning the suppression of the memorial of bribery, soon afterwards those giving me the information requested that their names be kept from the public until such time as prosecution was begun, when they were willing to come into court and swear to the evidence, which has been given to the public, showing the direct use of money by Mr. Delamater. Conforming to their wishes, I withheld the names of those giving me the information, using instead the letters X and Y. The person represented by Z never has been informed.

Now, in view of the fact that the press of the county has in some way found out the names of the persons represented by X, Y and Z, I am sorry to hear that the names made public are those of the persons represented in my speech by the letters X, Y and Z. Conforming to their wishes, I withheld the names of those giving me the information, using instead the letters X and Y. The person represented by Z never has been informed.

HOW THE CRIME WAS COMMITTED.

The Victim of the Washington Tollgate Affair Breathes Her Last.

TWO OTHER EXPLOITS OF THE CULPRITS.

A Complete Story of the Manner in Which the Crime Was Committed.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) WASHINGTON, Pa., October 12.—Mrs. Elizabeth Saunders, the tollgate keeper and postmistress who was attacked by masked ruffians at the door of her house in Toledo, two miles from the Washington tollgate, and shot in the abdomen, is dead. She passed away without apparent pain at 7:30 o'clock this evening, surrounded by her three children and the physician. There were present also District Attorney Parker, Squire D. M. Donohoe and others, who had obtained a few moments previous to her death a statement concerning the identity of the assailants.

Mr. Parker refused to make public the substance of this statement, but said the Commonwealth had sufficient evidence to justify the conclusion that the three persons now under arrest here were the perpetrators of the dastardly crime. A postmortem examination will be held over the remains of Mrs. Saunders at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning, conducted by Dr. Craney, assisted by Dr. Thomas McKeen, T. D. Wilson, W. E. Thompson and G. W. Kelly.

ANOTHER ARREST.

Shortly after last midnight Constable James S. Hammond arrived in Washington, from Canonsburg, with Edward Durr, the supposed third party to the crime. He is about 16 years of age. He was immediately taken to the Sheriff's office, where he made a confession in the presence of a number of persons, in which he implicated the two persons arrested yesterday: Durr, Durr, his brother, and George E. Teaters, from Cassville, W. Va., and Wheeling Island, respectively.

Durr said in substance in his confession last night, that the three fellows had been coming along the pike near Toledo, when they came upon the man who was the buggy of Moses Bolden and Ambrose Nelson.

When the latter came up to take possession of their buggy, the fellows got over the fence and crawled under the corn shocks. Shortly after they saw the man who was to have the buggy, and stood under it until the door was open. Then Teaters and Ed. Durr went to the house.

Both Durr had been sick and refused to go, awaiting the return of the party to the haystack. Teaters knocked at the door of Mrs. Saunders' house, and when she opened it pushed the revolver into her hand, demanding her money or her life. The lady held in her hand a lamp, and being frightened, her hand trembled, knocking the chimney against the revolver in Teaters' hand, and breaking the chimney. The lamp went out, leaving the party in total darkness. Teaters tried to strike a match, but was unsuccessful.

MRS. SAUNDERS' FLOCK.

By this time Mrs. Saunders had propped her revolver and opened fire on the ruffians. The lad who made the confession hastily left, and went to the haystack, and after the first shot had been fired the ruffians joined him. The three fellows left immediately after the passage of the McKinley tariff bill.

For example, the States now called Republican, and in this category are placed Virginia, West Virginia, the Democrats would have to carry all four of these to elect a President, while the Republicans need only carry one of them. Do I think the appointment will be passed as introduced? I certainly do. A great deal of figuring was done before it was finally agreed upon, and nothing that can happen is likely to cause the appointment to be rejected.

A LOCOMOTIVE EXPLOSION.

The Wounded Engineer on Hands and Feet Saved Following Train.

HUNTINGTON, IND., October 12.—An engine freight train broke down at West Point last night and engine 69, manned by Edward Murphy, engineer, and George Kirby, fireman, was sent out from here to take the train on to Chicago. When in a deep cut about two miles west of this city the engine exploded. The front boiler burst and blew a hole about 400 feet long. Engineer Murphy was badly scalded, but jumped off, his leg being broken by the fall. Fireman Kirby was blown from the engine car over the top of the track. He is badly burned and scalded that recovery is doubtful.

The engine ran about 700 feet, the wheels keeping the track. The first man to arrive was the engineer, who was carrying a lantern to flag the vestible train No. 8, which was due in a few minutes. The passenger car was struck at the east-bound freight, and the driver was killed. The body of the engine on the forehead and killed instantly.

A Woman of 33 Returns to Her Native State to Seek Her Father.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.) BOSTON, October 12.—Mrs. Day, 55 years old, is in Cambridge searching for her father, from whom she had been separated 52 years. A romantic story is told by this long-lost daughter: "I am positive that I was born in Massachusetts, but in what portion of the State I do not know. My father married a widow with four children, and I was the youngest. My mother and father quarreled about my rights as one of the heirs to my father's estate. He maintained that, as I was his child, I should have the lion's share, but my mother was determined that her other children by her first husband should be cut off, and although I was her own child she concluded to sacrifice me for the sake of the others. Accordingly, when I could not have possibly been over seven years old, I was abducted by a man and woman, who carried me away in a basket. I was taken to New York State, and for several years was taken from place to place, being given into the custody of different hands. I never could forget my father or home, and cried repeatedly to be taken back. For this I was frequently and cruelly punished and subjected to the greatest hardships, but I would not, and could not, be separated from my mother. I was 20 years old, when I married Isaac W. Day, a farmer. We settled in Pennsylvania, where we lived and prospered for 12 years, when we moved to Livingston county, Ill."

Mrs. Day says that her father, although she still believes him alive, appeared to her in a dream and disclosed to her many things in regard to her early life.

STILL A SENSATION.

POLICE WONDERING OVER THE ESCAPE OF DILLON AND O'BRIEN.

Vain Search of all Ships for the Fugitives—Success of an American Singer in Germany—Notes of Interesting Old World Events.

(BY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.) QUEENSTOWN, October 12.—The sensation produced by the disappearance of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien shows no sign of abating. The police are on the qui vive, but they regard the reported flight of the Irish fugitives to America as a ruse. They throw them off their guard, and thus allow the fugitives to escape unnoticed.

To-day extraordinary measures were adopted to prevent their escape by the Umbria or the Wisconsin, which, on their arrival, were boarded by detectives, who searched the ships and scrutinized each passenger in their endeavor to find them.

All the outlets of the harbor were guarded by policemen in private clothes, as it was feared that the fugitives would try to embark by other than the regular methods. All the trains that arrived were met by detectives, and the passengers closely inspected. Some policemen were sent off in the tenders which took the passengers to the steamer, while others roved round in small boats and acted on the sides of the ocean liners till they were ready to depart.

JOHN BULL BALKED.

English Manufacturers Feel the Effect of the New Tariff.

(BY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.) LONDON, October 12.—Already the English manufacturing districts are beginning to feel the effects of the McKinley tariff bill. In Sheffield especially the change just now is marked. Formerly this place exported 300,000 pounds in cutlery annually. It is feared at present that the greater part of this trade may be lost. Birmingham will also suffer severely, and almost every other English manufacturing town. This is declared to be no idle fright, but is unmistakably prophesied by the orders that have been countermanded and the advice that have already been received. English steel goods will be necessarily raised to a figure that will make them prohibitory in the American market, and until the consumer in the United States consents to buy them at the advanced prices, many branches of the steel industry will be seriously affected.

Cutlery trade here will be for a time at a standstill. The first result will probably be the dismissal of some 2,000 of the men employed in this industry and who will be rendered unnecessary when the anticipated great drop takes place in the business. Smuggling will also be very likely revived, and, doubtless, on such an extensive scale as will require the entire American army to protect the 3,000 miles of frontier between the United States and Canada.

Berlin Music Lovers Delighted With Mrs. Caperton's Singing.

(BY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.) BERLIN, October 12.—Mrs. Emma Batcliff Caperton, of Philadelphia, appeared at a concert at the Singing Academy on Wednesday last, and achieved an immediate success. She is a pupil of Lamperli, who enjoys the reputation of being the greatest tone builder in Europe, and her German song learned from the celebrated artist, Joseph Groesen, in Dresden. Mrs. Caperton is a soprano of a rich alto voice of great strength and of that quality which seems to rise from the heart and appeal direct to the sympathy of the hearer.

There was a general burst of enthusiasm from the audience, flowers were handed over the footlights by admirers, and the debutante obtained a genuine furore of applause. Among the numerous assemblage were Princess Frederick Charles, Prince and Princess Leopold, Mr. Henry Willard, Minister Phelps, and nearly everybody who is anybody in the Angli-American colony of Berlin. Mrs. Batcliff Caperton returns to America on November 20.

An Actress Thrown Into the Street Fifty Feet Below.

(BY DUNLAP'S CABLE COMPANY.) LONDON, 12.—A man named George Gibbs was charged in the Marylebone Police Court on Saturday with throwing Gertrude Cooper, an actress engaged in the Empire, the Drury Lane and the Alhambra theaters, out of her window in the middle of the night. It seems from the story told in court that Miss Cooper and her mother lodged in the prisoner's house, and having frequent cause to complain recently of missing letters, some of them containing money, indulged in the suspicion that Gibbs had appropriated them.

On the same night that Miss Cooper had expressed this suspicion Gibbs entered her room and, after a severe struggle, carried her to the window and threw her from it head foremost to the ground, 50 feet below. In falling she grasped the rail of the balcony and clung tenaciously to it, striking her head, until the police attracted by her cries rescued her. The prisoner was committed for trial.
